

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 22

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger March 10, 1988

Legal service helping students

By Alisa Chinlund
Staff Writer

Seven years ago, the Northern Bar Association set up a legal services program at Harper College with Attorney Tom Shannon as counsel. It is still running strong today.

The purpose of the program is to have an attorney available to students on a regular basis to offer advice on any type of matter involving legal issues, and to allow the attorney to refer students to other people if for any reason the attorney couldn't handle the problem himself," Shannon said.

The program currently runs once a week on Thursday during the Fall and Spring semesters. Appointments lasting 20 minutes are from 1 to 4:00 p.m. and continue on Thursday evenings from 5:15 to 7 p.m.

The program is funded through student activity fees. All current student activity cards are eligible for free legal services. Staff may receive legal advice by paying the normal fee of $5 per visit. Students and staff can make an appointment in the student activity office.

Each client is asked to fill out a questionnaire at the initial appointment. The questionnaire is confidential and asks statistical information which is used in assessing the usefulness of the program. All legal sessions are kept strictly confidential between the attorney and client.

The range of issues Shannon helps students address is vast. Past subjects of inquiry have included landlord/tenant matters, traffic tickets & accidents, child custody, divorce, domestic relations, as well as buying or selling a house or automobile. Shannon helps clients to understand what their rights are in all these situations.

Certain types of are excluded from the program, namely any situation which involves a conflict of interest such as a dispute between two Harper students, a student and a faculty member, or a student and an administrator. In cases involving conflict of interest, Shannon will refer the student to the Northern Bar Association at Mt. Prospect which will provide the student with a referral.

Shannon recommends that students consult with a lawyer whenever they are unsure what their rights are in a particular situation, especially before signing documents involving a substantial amount of money such as buying or selling a house.

On occasion, Shannon may be able to resolve the student's problem during the session with a phone call, such as in a case where "a student has a dispute with a local merchant about the quality of merchandise purchased." Other students may seek legal advice in more than one session.

Shannon's program does not include helping students draft legal documents or representing them in court. Shannon informs students what services his office would provide if retained, and offers other resources and referrals when necessary. Student fees for legal services are in accordance with the financial situation.

To provide students with additional information about their legal rights, Shannon is offering a one credit class through Continued Education called "Everyday Law." The class LLSO13-081 is located on D105 on Thursdays from March 13th to May 12th, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The course will provide students with "legal facts that every person needs to know about such things as personal liability, legal rights, traffic courts, divorce, will, adoption and other legal related problems."

Shannon would like students to be aware that legal services are one of the many services provided by Harper College without charge. "I think this is a very good program. It's one of relatively few legal programs in the state or country," Shannon said.

Total of twelve trophies won

Harper Speech team takes second in host tourney

By Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

Linda Lang led Harper's Speech Team to twelve trophies and a second place overall finish in the 9th annual Harper Speech Tournament.

North Central College won the team sweepstakes with 150 points to Harper's 137. Highly rated College of DuPage finished a distant third with 88 points.

In addition to Lane, who finished first in the individual sweepstakes with a 1st place trophy, two 2nd places, and a 4th, Scott Noell took home a 1st place trophy in prose, as well as a 5th.

Other Harper students to win trophies were: Marianne Bunch, a 2nd place, Yamen Mahmood, a 3rd place, and Cheryl Sceny and Connie Wolf, who both took home 4th place trophies.

The eleven-team tourney consisted of all "novice" events, that is, all the participants have to have had less than one year of experience in collegiate speech meets.

The meet was also unique because it was the first time a community college ran a tournament by computer. The program was written by Lou Luoma.

(Photo By Andrew Ballek)

Minority Affairs Task Force to raise enrollment

By Gloria Carr
Staff Writer

With community college leaders urging colleagues to try harder to recruit and retain minority students, Harper College has organized a Minority Affairs Task Force. The task force will make suggestions to be given to an implementation task force.

Some suggestions the task force will be looking at are minority role models, financial aid and scholarships, an outreach program, increase coordination with area high schools and four year colleges, support minority student clubs and organizations and hire more minority faculty and staff.

As of the fall of 1987, the percentage of minority students at Harper was 10.1%. "This is something we'll be working for for a long time. We have only just begun. We don't think it will be achieved by next year...it's a long term goal," said Dr. Bonnie Henry, Vice President of Student Affairs.

Nationwide colleges are also facing decreases in minority enrollment. The Urban Community College Commission, stated in a recent report that, "There is a strong awareness that attrition rates of black and Hispanic students remain high, and that degree attainment and transfer rates to (4-year) institutions remain low."

Responding to the need of increasing minority enrollment many student programs are being launched. Some colleges with programs include the University of Nebraska-Lincoln, Texas A&M University and the University of Texas at Austin.

The commission's report also said, "Community colleges should be concerned that the open door does not represent the revolving door."

In order to prevent the "revolving door" the task force has recognized the needs of minority students which include a faculty supportive campus climate, an orientation or goal setting period with a follow up with a mentor, role models and different high school environments.

INSIDE

Off Her Rocker
With Our Mom
By Liz Brousseau

Movie Review:
"Frantic" starring
Harrison Ford

The Happy
Travellers Guide
By Peder Sweeney

"A Night In The Life Of Jimmy
Reardon" Reviewed

Sports:
Kim Frye
Named MVP

Page 3

Page 4

Page 5

Page 7

Page 12

Features Automatic doors

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Director of Disabled Student Services (DSS) Tom Thompson showed me a map of the locations for the new power assisted and automatic entrances to be installed when the weather warms and the installations seem to service most of the important spots on campus.

Not only will the door installations alleviate problems encountered by non-handicapped persons (admit it, some of the doors on campus leave a great deal to be desired), but will also greatly help Harper's disabled students maneuvering.

The doors are planned for the following locations: M-Bldg, east door; A-Bldg, N-W, S-W (main) and East doors; T-Bldg, South door; F-Bldg, N-W door; D-Bldg, N-W and "kitchen" doors; J-Bldg, N-E door; G-Bldg, East door; and H-Bldg, North and S-W doors.

The eight automatic and eight power-assisted entrances will, hopes Thompson, bring disabled students the greater accessibility to campus buildings they need.

Besides the door installation, Thompson says the disabled Student Services has not many pressing problems, although he does mention the physical plant personnel's lack of foresight and preparedness when weather conditions prove a drag to students, by disabled students, especially.

Says Thompson, "We have had several students file grievances about the slippery sidewalks and so on in the mornings after snow storms." We have experienced some problems with the construction," continues Thompson, "but mainly the students are frustrated with the (snow and ice) on the sidewalks."

Thompson is not only Director of DSS, but is a newly-appointed, three-year member of the National Administration of Higher Education and Adult Training for the Handicapped (HEATH), part of the American Council on Education (ACE).

Since Fall of 1987, Thompson has served on HEATH by sharing developments in the field of education of the handicapped, suggesting options and resources and editing and reviewing booklets and other literature that deals with a handicapped person's education. As an editor, Thompson reads the material and sends his reviews to ACE, which then disseminates the final product, nationwide, in articles and books.

Disabled Student Services is also preparing for its summer orientation program. Structured like the program run by Student Development, DSS's orientation is a separate program, however, and includes some testing designed especially for the disabled students.

Special Staff Awards

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

The Board of Trustees approved the administrative merit awards of $1500 to each of the following administrators:

Director of Personnel Larry Biewla, Dean of Life Sciences/Human Services Patricia Binkner, Dean of Admissions and Registrar Steve Cahn, Director of the Physical Plant Don DeBuse, Dean of Continuing Ed/Program Services William Howard, Dean of Student Development Joan Knull, Dean of Special Programs/Services Elizabeth McKay, Dean of Liberal Arts Martin Ryan, and Director of College Relations Elaine Stoveres.

The administrators have fulfilled duties and responsibilities required of the position in an exemplary manner, represented the College in an extremely positive manner and have made a significant contribution to the College.

Congratulations to these administrators!

Photo By Andrew Baber
Nocturnal fashions at the Pajamarama, where a fun time was had by all

- Featuring
- Full Machine Circuits of Nautilus & Eagle (yhey)
 - Free Weights
 - Computerized Exercise Bikes
 - Cardiovascular Evaluations
 - Aerobic, Low Impact, and Exercise Classes
 - Water-Boiler Classes
 - Nutritional and Personalized Workout Programs
 - Tennis Courts
 - Swimming
 - Tanning Beds
 - No Cost Nursery Service
 - Fitness Assessment Test Administered By Exercise Physiologist

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

12 Month Student Special - $159

Take advantage of our super low student special. Only $159 gives you person 12 months of fitness. With no initiation fees or monthly dues required. Call today for a complimentary workout.

1 Woodfield Lake
Office Campus
1000 E. Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-4200

Editorial

The Harbinger March 10, 1988

Page 3

To the federal government, it's still "1984"

"Off Her Rocker" With our mom

By Liz Brunsen

Big Brother is indeed watching you. At least he is if you have any left-wing, commie radical ideas. Like world peace.

This week I came across an article from College Press Service (CPS) writer Mike O'Keefe that probably shouldn't have startled me, but did anyway.

It seems that a Stanford University student named Susan Poff came back from a 1984 trip to Nicaragua, and wanted to tell people that what she saw wasn't her. A news story appeared about Poff and what she saw, which in turn was seen by one Michael Boss across the country, who put Poff on his list of people who oppose the Reagan administration's policy in Central America. This list then made its way into the FBI files of dissenters who might bear watching. Still with me?

If not, reread the above paragraph. The rest of you may continue to read.

The CPS article goes on to describe the documents released by the FBI in late January under the Freedom of Information Act, revealing, among other things, FBI "monitoring" (official euphemism for spying) of students at Florida State, Wichita State, Tennessee State, and the universities of Oklahoma, Kansas, Minnesota, and Pennsylvania, including chapters of United Campus Against Nuclear War.

Most of the students being watched, however, were members of the Committee in Solidarity with the People of El Salvador (CISPES), a group opposed to U.S. policy in Central America.

According to the documents, in the four years CISPES members were followed, no wrongdoing was discovered. Oh, well, keep looking, guys; they're probably just laying low.

To me, the funniest line of all came from Boss, who heads a national student group called Young America's Foundation. Boss called Poff "nuts". I guess I must be nuts too, because I always figured that the right to freedom of speech came with no strings attached. Silly me.

Joseph McCarthy is alive and well and living in Washington, D.C.

After retelling this story to one of my writers, he told me a related anecdote: It seems that a couple of years ago, he and several hundred other activists were demonstrating on the campus of Ohio State in Columbus when they were arrested for disorderly conduct. After determining that they wouldn't be charged with anything, the local police chief threatened them with "... And you'll all be reported to the FBI for being dissenters..." And the crowd promptly erupted into applause.

There's a moral in that story somewhere, as there is in several others that politicians can't get away with. The Omtra Affair appears to be teaching us that it's okay to lie to and cheat the American people as long as it's in a "patriotic" cause. (Remember "I'm Marjorie".)

But this little news-anecdote, as well as thousands like it, scare me the most. What bills are in fact? How about you? Or your parents, children, or cousins?

Maybe I should just send this column to the FBI. At least then I'd know for sure. But whose attention should I send it to? Mrs. Larré, or Curly?

Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

Last night, Peter (that's my husband) and I were discussing what I should write in my column today. I always consult with Peter on everything I do because we follow the Medieval housewife's guide to better living in a 1980's marital relationship.

So Peter thought I should write an advice column. The only problem with that is, I have no credentials as an advice columnist. I told Peter so, and he reminded me of all my skills.

Like the time Peter was wearing his gray pants with the mid-cream completely ripped out. I said, "Peter, you ought to change those pants because I see London, I see France" (we always speak to one another in obviously unambiguous clichés because that is one of the marvelous things parenthood has done for our sophisticated marital relationship).

Peter realized that I was right after he was called a few hours later when he walked outside, and he came right in, took my advice, and changed his pants. That was good, sound advice.

Something was still nagging me though. Don't some people have deeper, more meaningful problems than the risk of exposing their underpants in public?

So I asked Peter (the wonderful lady who is brave enough to be the managing editor of the Harbinger) about I see because the (s-s-r) kids laugh heartily at most of the advice. I say, whether I am discerning of their motives, or the thought one needed to have more conventional than my own.

Peter thinks that it never would take marital advice from Ann Landers—a woman who is divorced, they would take advice from anyone. Well I could be anyone, but am I capable of giving advice with the same finesse that some exhibit? Why not give it a shot?

Dear Liz,
I am marrying a wonderful man from a wonderful family, and everyone who knows us says we are a wonderful couple. I used to be married to a horrible man from a horrible family and everyone who knew us thought we were in a horrible mess.

The problem is that my fiancé and I have to pay for the cost of the wedding on our own, and I cannot afford to buy a new gown. I would like to wear my original bridal trousseau to save the money. My fiancé thinks it is okay as long as I don't wear the same underwear. I am terribly distressed, what should I do?

Hand-me-down bride.

Dear Hand-me-down,
As long as you are so down and out, go ahead and wear the gown. As for the undergarments, why not try a little black and lewd, such as the wash cycle. Your hubby-as-be will never know the difference.

Dear Liz,
After wandering outside of public, telephone booth for twenty minutes while a young woman totally exacted my need to use the phone, continued to converse leisurely, would I have been wrong to gently tap on her shoulder and remind her that... was waiting to use the phone?

Patently waiting.

Dear Patient,
My advice in you would be to first consider the option of using another phone nearby.

If this is not an option, then you need to consider that after waiting twenty minutes, your need is not that urgent, and that the young woman should be using her own personal telephone.

Your first step would then be to scope the area in as inconspicuous a fashion as possible to be certain you are not being observed.

When you feel totally confident on this note, you must remove your handy folding cable scissors from your purse (which no woman should be without) and quickly cut the telephone line.

This gesture allows the young woman to know that she is not demonstrating socially acceptable telephone etiquette, as well as alleviating the heavy burden of stress that one might experience in this situation.

However, you must be prepared to travel in the nearest phone and call 911 to report the need for repair to the previous phone immediately. One should not inconvenience others any longer than necessary.

The previous letters are irritably, festively, any resemblance to a real life situation is merely coincidental. The major series in these columns letters need to be taken into account as I am obviously not qualified to give advice.

Harbinger

William Baines, Larry Paulin
1280 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-5288
(312) 336-0661

- Editor-in-Chief: Larry Paulin
- Managing Editor: Paul Brewster
- Business Manager: Ed Hill
- News Editor: Myrtle Rice
- Entertainment Editor: Kim Hopkins
- Features Editor: Scott Bopp
- Sports Editor: Justin Brown
- Photo Editor: Kenneth Lee
- Letter Editor: Kenna Lee
- Graphic: Jimmie Jones
- Computer Consultant: Kenneth Campbell
- Advisor: Matt Brown

The HARBINGER is the student publication of DePaul University, a campus community publication of the metropolitan Chicago area. All opinions expressed are those of the writer. Copyright © 1988 by the editor, and copyright is reserved. All rights reserved. No part of this column may be reproduced without the permission of the editor. Information call (312) 336-0661, ext. 2260 or 2261.

Health Corner

Breast cancer is still a frightening subject. But not as much as it used to be. Because progress is being made every day in early detection, diagnosis, treatment and breast reconstruction.

All women can take steps to detect breast cancer in the early stage when the prognosis is best and treatment can be most successful.

Mammography, a painless, low-exposure, x-ray test, can detect breast cancer years before you or your doctor can feel it. Usually while it's still localized and with a high chance of cure.

Women over 40 years of age should detect breast self-examination monthly and have a breast exam by a physician every three years. Mammography is recommended initially for women between the ages of 35-40, periodically every year or two between 40 and 50 years of age and annually after 50.

On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 23 to March 25 from 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. and on Saturday, March 26 from 8:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., an Early Detect-a-Mam assessment.

These tests are available to you, your family and community members at the reduced cost of $60.00 for each or $100.00 for both.

The Health Service staff, A.S.C., has additional information on the procedure and is available to answer your questions about mammography and breast self-examination.

If you wish to schedule the mammography or outcrops.

bone density assessment, call Diagnostic Services Incorporated at 438-2155.

Don't let fear hurt you chances for a long and healthy life. Remember, the earlier that breast cancer is detected, the better the outcome.

LUZAS IS THE GREAT AMERICAN LOW FAT FAT PIG OUT

Porky Pig promotes pigging out on produce, poultry, pasta and other palate pleasing preferences to palliate peri of cancer. This ain't no all-folk, low-fat, low-calorie diet.

Body fat calculations will be done today in the cafeteria from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. by Porky Pig's pals from the Dietetic Technician and Cardiac Rehab programs.

Georgia O'Keefe 1887-1986
 The Art Institute of Chicago
 March 5-June 19, 1988

Whether you are an art buff or simply an art amateur, you are sure to enjoy the Georgia O'Keefe 1887-1986 exhibit now open to the public at the Art Institute of Chicago. This centennial exhibition of her work will be on view March 5 through June 19.

The 125 works in Georgia O'Keefe's 1887-1986 focus on the most influential aspects of O'Keefe's career and present the best of her abstractions, flower paintings, figure studies, cityscapes, still lifes and landscapes. Rarely seen oil paintings, watercolors, pastels and drawings from the artist's estate provide the core of the exhibition.

Also included are major works from public and private collections in the U.S. and abroad. The Art Institute showing includes five works that will not be seen in other showings on the exhibition's national tour.

Public lectures on the O'Keefe exhibition will be given weekdays in the galleries at 12:15 p.m. on March 14, 21, April 8, 12, 28, May 10, 20, 25, June 14 and 19.

Evening lectures will be offered on Tuesdays at 6 p.m. beginning with Georgia O'Keefe by George Schneider, Associate Director of Museum Education, in Fullerton Hall. Laurel Bradley, Visiting Associate Professor at the School of the Art Institute will speak on Georgia O'Keefe: A Feminist Artist on April 12 in Price Auditorium, and Georgia O'Keefe and the American Landscape on May 10 in Fullerton Hall.

Greenways to the Sky: The Legacy of Georgia O'Keefe by Sarah Greenough, Research Curator, National Gallery of Art will conclude the evening series on June 14 in Arthur Kabbett Auditorium. In addition a film on Georgia O'Keefe will be shown throughout the exhibition on Tuesdays and Saturdays at 3 p.m. in Fullerton Hall.

Whether you just want to look around or you want to take advantage of the films and lectures as well, go see the exhibit. The Art Institute is offering plane tickets to your area on or weekend, with or without special exhibits.

By Larry Paulin

Crime at large

This movie was so close to being perfect. As it was at a good. But the sexual potential here left a nasty taste in my mouth nevertheless.

It makes my heart leap to think what a master of the thriller (like Alfred Hitchcock) would have done with this story, especially with Harrison Ford in the lead.

Ford is nothing less than magnificent as Dr. Walker, a San Francisco surgeon at a medical convention in Paris whose wife is kidnaped from their hotel room for no apparent reason.

Walker then tries to convince Parisian authorities that his wife has in fact been kidnaped, to little avail. So he has to try to track her down himself.

Looking more like a Jimmy Stewart/Hitchcock film than one by Polanski, Dr. Walker has one adventure after another, after teaming up with the female courier whose confusion at the airport is funny, has caused this whole mess.

This is where the movie and I parted amicably company. The whole supporting cast is solid, with the rather large exception of the female lead.

I was perplexed about why we were being "introduced" to newcomer Emmanuelle Seigner at all in a film of this magnitude, until I heard that Seigner is Polanski's girlfriend. As an actress, I'm sure Seigner is a fine girlfriend. She sleepwalks through the entire film.

The only other problem I had with the film I alluded to earlier, "Frantic" needs an editor. Polanski seems to have fallen in love with Polanski, as well as Seigner. Several scenes lasted just long enough to make the audience aware of it, which is a deadly sin in producing a thriller.

Several plot holes really didn't dampen my enthusiasm for "Frantic," simply because Ford dominates the screen so completely.

I wonder if he could get Brian DePalma to re-cut this movie?

DAYTONA PRIME

Enjoying Daytona's hottest Spring Break rates...
 DRIVING PACKAGE $109
 Full Package $177
 Full Package $167

THE BEST OF EVERYTHING TO INSURE YOU THE BEST SPRING BREAK!

- Best Hotel: Seasidefront
- Best Location in Daytona
- Shortest Distance from Everything
- Top of the Line Luxury Coaches
- Pool Deck Parties Every Day

To Sign Up Or For More Info CALL NICOLE at 313-8470 REPRESENTATIVES POSITIONS AVAILABLE EARN FREE TRIPS AND $5

Guardian Roommate Services

Our job is to find you a roommate, fast, to save you money.

REMEMBER, WE'RE WORKING FOR YOU!

916-8438

SPRING BREAK! VACATION

THE BEST OF THE BEST

DAVONIA BEACH

Search Padre Island...
 Call: Julie 526-7252 or Evette 439-3152

Not sponsored by Harper College

WINGS THAT DON'T FLAP

THE HAPPY TRAVELLER'S GUIDE TO GETTING YOUR NEXT TRIP OFF THE GROUND

By Peter Sweeney

It was a beautiful, sunny morning. A gentle breeze ruffled my curtains as birds twittered on my windowsill. The air was crisp and refreshing. I felt clearheaded and alive—a member of nature's community, at home in nature's house.

I hate that feeling.

I threw a magazine at the damn birds, shut the window and lit a cigarette. I kicked-started my coffee maker—which would see heavy action today—and fine-tuned its caffeine/octane ratio. It was gonna be a tough day, not fortis tough like a day in a Chilean prison or a burning skyscraper, real tough. I would be flying out of O'Hare.

Flying out of O'Hare is a treacherous double whammy; by the fact that it's been going on for years, and getting safely through O'Hare, which is, of course, a physical impossibility.

As when approaching any good peril-fraught fortress of doom, the darker the skies grew and the more menacing the wind howled as I neared O'Hare. Before actually entering O'Hare and a crash helmet. I pulled off the road and shipped into an asbestos body suit vehicular holocaust which is O'Hare traffic.

I have studied airport driving at great length and have come to the following conclusion: there is no convincing argument for keeping your eyes open. Some do and some don't and I haven't noticed that one enjoys any greater success than the other.

The roads in front of the terminals always manage to capture that quaint sense of post-nuclear mayhem. Delirious survivors stumbling into cars and speeding away as if the concussion of the blast were at their heels. Shellshocked cops, overwhelmed by the nightmarish burden of restoring order from chaos, warning the bomb is that, in the aftermath, the whole planet will have the sickly warm stink of an idling bus.

I entered the parking garage and smiled wistfully as the last glimmers of daylight faded through my rearview mirror. I was inside the beast now, circulating through its massive concrete and fluorescent digestive tract. Spinning upward, around and around, higher and higher, yet deeper all the while. Deeper into the belly of the beast.

I parked and bid adieu (not au revoir) to my car. I took three paces, turned, and it was gone. At least I had saved myself the trouble of looking for it when I returned. I stepped into an elevator and plummeted hellward. When I stepped out I found myself in a labyrinth of subterranean catacombs staring at a backlit plastic sign on the wall with a four foot picture of Larry Byrd's goofy face, chomping a candy bar with the unbridled orgasmic rapture that chocolate lovers expect for forty cents. The real hell could be no worse.

I needed time to collect myself and gather my reserves before trying to deal with the ticket agent, so I stopped for a coke, some fries and a hot dog (à la boque water, some soggy potato worms and an elasto-gambits). Before eating, I used the inside of the bus to give my fingernails a quick once-over. Some people might think that $400.00 is a lot for a hot dog, but if you stop to consider that three months later and I'm still chewing it, you'll see that the airport is the place to get the most for your hot dog dollar.

If I might inject a word about hot dogs here, just what the hell are they? Do we really want our food to glaze when we cook it? If the best hot dogs on the market are full of the most undesirable stuff in yow— and that's pretty undesirable—what do cheap hot dogs have in them? Just knowin' it was something from the animal kingdom, reasonably fresh when packaged would be a relief!

I had hoped that the "food" would fortify me for my encounter with the ticket agent, but I was soon reminded that the only thing that helps against ticket agents is garlic cloves and crucifixes. I stood face to face with the insidious miscreant in her red blazer and blue eye shadow. She smiled wickedly, a pink sheen on her teeth, "May I help you, sir?"

I knew what she meant by "help" . . . steal my baggage and ship me off to Venezuela or Argentina or some other place where hapless air travellers. Ticket agents aren't trained in the nipples of schooling facilities, they're shipped to deepest Louisiana where the same regimen as fighting dogs. They cut the backs of their toothless inbreds in overall and no underwear run them through hamstrings to make them orderly and keep them on a strict diet of squirrel blood. Graduation day comes when the half rabid humans can catch, kill and eat a chicken without using their hands . . . smiling.

"I'd like to go to New York," I said.

"Kennedy or LaGuardia?" she asked, humoring me.

"LaGuardia."

"First class or coach?"

"Do they both get there at the same time?"

"Yes sir," she answered, laughing as if amused. There is no use writing angry letters to corporate bigwigs protesting your lost luggage or your rude treatment. These letters are invariably diluted in a heavy solution of saliva and affixed to the mailroom wall with varying proximity to the "OUR CUSTOMERS COME FIRST" poster.

Should you manage to get a ticket for the right destination and today's date, buy lottery tickets immediately! Moving on, I arrived at the security gate where the Staatspolizei were waiting to detect people who have any business carrying weapons on planes or stand there emptying my pockets and chiselling out my fillings pail, yelling "Abdul! Abdul! You forgot your detonating mechanism!"

Next stop, the boarding gate. This is where you get the soles of your feet whacked with broom handles for believing what your ticket says. Don't inject a human element into the situation by stating your desired destination. Corporate wheels are turning here and you'll damn well go where you're told. Or maybe you have something against springtime in Beirut?

If you manage to get on a plane, you have much better things to worry about than where it's going anyway. For instance, is the pilot mentally sound? Probably not. In all likelihood he suffers from self-image problems. Usually a paunchy, chinless Nebraska Sky-Bronc. Don't insult him.

Pilots particularly in need of image reinforcement will strut down the aisle amid whispers of "God, I hope he's not the pilot," or fake slumber and generally making everyone hope that, modern bellowing bucolic bon mots at passengers lacking the sense to flee technology being what it is, these things really can fly themselves.

Even if you're on the right plane and your pilot is sane and your luggage is on board and Abdul isn't, your troubles are just beginning. There's still one more fact to consider. You're sitting in a metal tube weighing millions of pounds, several miles off the ground, held up by wings that don't flap! Now what kind of sense does that make? I know all about the Principle of Aeronautics, lift is derived from the vacuum created by air passing over the broader wing surface blah blah high . . . whai crap! I would place more faith in the Principle of Mary Poppins' Umbrella!

Ever see a Roadrunner cartoon where Wile E. Coyote runs off the edge of a cliff? He doesn't fall until he realizes he's off the edge of a cliff. Well, sooner or later, all the airplanes in the world are going to come to the startling realization that nothing is holding them up and down they'll come in a most unpleasant way.

Think . . . Boom!
Think . . . Boom!
Think . . . Boom!

That cat Jesus always hangin' round on living room walls when I was a kid
Like Elvis showing his stuff.

King Cat Jesus
come tumbling down and broke his crown of thorns and curds and whey.
Like evangelists on the cockhorse.

I at cat Jesus doing The Catholic Show headlining on Sundays, matinees in-between.
Like some blue light special on souls.
—Jerry Schwartz

Upcoming

Women's Program Offering Courses

"The Game" Rules

- *"The Game" will end with the March 31, 1988 issue.
- *Each week a photo of an object, or a particular site on campus will be published. (six photos in all)
- *When you have found all six locations, fill out the entry blank and put it in the box located in A Building and I Building.
- *All entries must be received no later than April 11, 1988. In event of a tie, there will be a drawing held.
- *The Harbinger staff and family members of the Harbinger staff will not be able to participate.
- *The winner will be announced in the Harbinger's April 14, 1988 issue.
- *The answers to the locations must be specific.

LOCATION

- #1 _____
- #2 _____
- #3 _____
- #4 _____
- #5 _____
- #6 _____

NAME _____
 ADDRESS _____
 PHONE () _____

'THE GAME'

The Harper College Women's Program will be offering several courses. For registers call the Continuing Education Office at 397-3000, ext. 2410.

Creative Writing I. designed to improve writing skills by allowing participants choice of form, informal instruction and supportive peer analysis of the work accomplished. The class will begin on March 16 from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. in Building A, Room 241. Tuition is $40.50 plus $4 fee.

The Peter Pan/Wendy Dilemma workshop will be offered by the Harper College Women's Program on Saturday, March 19 from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. in Building A, Room 242.

This seminar will help participants explore their relationships with men, whether they are sacrificing themselves for fear of rejection and in so doing, encouraging and perpetuating the immaturity of the men in their lives. Tuition is $25 and includes lunch.

Personal Awareness. Investigation into Identity I is designed to help people better understand themselves and others, to identify their own needs, and to examine their own lifestyles. The class will be held on Mondays beginning March 14 from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m. in Building A, Room 241a. Tuition is $40.50 plus a $2 fee.

Women in Management II is designed for women in current management positions who want to refine their current skills in order to increase their advancement potential. The course will begin on Wednesday, March 16 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. in Building A, Room 242. Tuition is $40.50 plus a $5 fee.

The Woman Entrepreneur: "Year One Boss" on Tuesdays beginning March 15 and ending May 10 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. in Building A, Room 241.

This individualized course is geared to help potential entrepreneurs prepare a plan for a small business. The course will cultivate personal entrepreneurial qualities and provide legal, financial and marketing and pricing background. Tax and legal ramifications of home businesses will be addressed. Tuition is $40.50 plus a $3 fee.

Friends at Harper College ANNOUNCE A NEWSPAPER DRIVE for Peter Sobu, Jr.

A special fundraiser for a special student who recently suffered a tragic accident which resulted in paralysis from the shoulders down. Proceeds from this newspaper and alumni can drive will help defray Peter's medical expenses.

- What: Newspapers - Brown bagged or tied please Aluminum Cans - Plastic Bags securely closed.
 - Where: Large Semi-Truck in Parking Lot # 3 off Route 24 Entrance
 - When: May be dropped off any time during the week or weekend.
 - Who: Student, Staff, Faculty, Friends
Anyone who wishes to help.
- Thank-you P.S. We care!

AIRLINE PASSENGER SCREENING AND SPECIAL SERVICES

Andy Frain Services has excellent opportunity for mature responsible individuals (students welcome to apply) to staff various passenger service and security related positions. Full time, part-time and weekend shifts available. Flexible schedules and free parking provided.

- Requirements:
- Minimum age 18
 - Legal U.S. resident
 - No criminal record
 - Provide phone numbers for references (past five years)
 - Three forms of ID

Applications and interviews conducted Saturday, March 19, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at

The Caravelle Motor Inn
 5400 N. River Road
 Rosemont, Illinois

Please no calls to hotel.
 For further information, or interest in working the Horizon call 266-6257.
 EOEMF

Buckle Up For Spring Break '88

"Reardon" Reviewed

by Sean Colbert
Entertainment Writer

Have you ever seen a movie studio press kit? It comes in a glossy folder and includes publicity photos, biographical data on the cast and crew and a synopsis of the film's plot. It's unfortunate that these kits never get as far as the paying customer. They can be very entertaining, sometimes more so than the movies that they support. This is the case with "A Night in the Life of Jimmy Reardon."

According to the press sheet, "Jimmy Reardon" is the threshold of adulthood who is abruptly forced to confront two of life's most awful truths: responsibility and commitment.

What "Jimmy Reardon" is really about is one young man's quest to raise enough money so that he may follow his college-bound girlfriend to Hawaii so he can deliver her without fear of being caught by her parents.

The press release then compares the film to such coming-of-age classics as "Risky Business" and "The Graduate," and further compares Jimmy himself to characters out of Twain and Dickens.

Actually, the film is an adaptation of director William Richert's novel "Aren't You Even Gonna Kiss Me Good-Bye?" which was written in 1963 when he was nineteen innocence? What innocence? Jimmy smokes, drinks, carnes like a sailor and slips in and out of bed with several partners before the film's release.

Richert claims that it was important to keep the story set in the early sixties "before the world lost its phony innocence."

As for the setting, apparently all Richert had to do was a few old cars and a few old songs. The hairstyles, the clothing, and just about everything else could have easily come from last month's issue of Vogue magazine.

"Jimmy Reardon" stars Rever Phoenix ("Stand By Me") who's claim he was attacked by the indie rock scene, he admired the characters. Beautiful intentions.

Everyone's entitled to their opinions, but would you let this young man and his beautiful intentions "near your daughter?"

The supporting cast includes such promising new talent as Chicago's Ann Magnuson and an unnamed actress, Meredith Salenger ("The Journey of Natty Gann"). Sadly, they have nothing to do here, but separate their careers.

In fact, there isn't anything about this film that I can recommend, but here's a bit of advice: when someone invites you to see this film, just tell them thanks anyways, but you'll have to be the press release.

By Larry Paulin

A funny thing happened sometime between the beginning and ending of "Some Things You Need To Know Before The World Ends - A Final Evening With The Illuminati." I really began to like it.

"Illuminati" is the brainchild of Lee Lee and Larry Larson. Authors as well as the centre cast and Rebecca Wakler (the Director of Atlanta's Southern Theatre Conspiracy).

"Illuminati" was an evening of ups and downs. The set, and to be a post-holocaust church, was a real eye-catcher, sort of a kitsch version of "Cats" needs. "The Road Warrior" I was psyched to enjoy myself before the first words were spoken. But, kind early on, I was quickly disappointed. The lines, though obviously well used and delivered, simply weren't that funny.

The Reverend Eddie Lee is working on his final sermon. He'll do a Basketball game, assisted by his hunchback and lame assistant, Brother Lawrence (Larson). Both performances, especially Larson's, seemed somewhat typical and forced.

But slowly, the edge of Lee and Larson's humor came more most parts, didn't get that much funnier (although the sight gag and one musical number called "Jesus Was A Liarbart" were very funny), but the characters of Reverend Eddie and Brother Lawrence both grew in stature, and I really began to care about them (much to my surprise).

The Reverend Eddie, a paranoid cross between Jimmy Swaggert and Captain Kangaroo, is determined to outwit the devil and his minions, the "Illuminati," who are everywhere.

Brother Lawrence, as I mentioned, is overplayed, but with purpose. The same of the simple, time-acidly ultimately becoming the minister, is handled with aplomb.

One of the best lines in the show has to do with Rev. Eddie's summation of Brother Lawrence (and this show): "You make a lovely incantator but a twisted human being."

PARTY with Campus Marketing YOUR BEST DEAL TO DAYTONA

YOU DRIVE $99.00

WE DRIVE $179.00

INCLUDES: [List of items included in the package]

SPEND A WEEK - NOT A FORTUNE FOR FURTHER INFORMATION AND SIGN UP

DAN 358-8038

AT THE TEXAN AND 701 SOUTH

Sponsored by Campus Marketing. Not sponsored by Harper College.

Advertisement for Northwest Suburbs Premier Video. Includes contact information for Susan Stone (981-5950) and a list of video titles such as "Platoon", "Dirty Dozing", "L2 Rambo", "Drapree", "Babo: Cop", "Royamer", and "Predator".

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50; 1-55 each additional line.

EmploymentHelp Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES
FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs. Include: DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone: 882-3800. Even and weekend appointments available. Law Offices of Becker & Becker, 600 N. Meacham, 3rd floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

INCOME SERVICES
Student Discount
1040A and Illinois 530
1040, Sch A.B. Child Care, Illinois 560
394-1040
Professional Tax Associates Inc.
121 S. Wilke, Suite 405
Arlington Heights, IL 60005

BODIES NEEDED
BUILD MUSCLES, MAKE MONEY, BUILD SKILLS.
I LIKE "WORKING OUT?" YOU'LL LIKE OUR JOBS.
• LOADING
• CONSTRUCTION
• WAREHOUSING • SHIPPING
• FACTORY
• ETC.
ALSO HIGHLY SKILLED TECHNICAL JOBS, EXCELLENT PAY, FLEXIBLE HOURS, TOP COMPANIES.
CALL PAULA @ INDUSTRIAL TEMPS. 303-6070.

CRUISE SHIPS
Now Hiring MF Summer & Career Opportunities (Will Train). Excellent pay plus world travel. Hawaii, Bahamas, Caribbean, etc.
CALL NOW: 206-736-0775 Ext. C295.

BE A NANNY!
We offer IMMEDIATE PLACEMENT in the New Jersey/New York area. Our agency's with our parents and children before you accept a position. Top salaries $180.00 - $300.00 weekly. Never a fee. Yearly employment only. NANNIES PLUS (licensed and bonded agency) Toll-Free 1-800-752-0078.

RETAIL
Full or part-time sales associate for updated traditional men's and women's clothing store. Experience preferred. Excellent opportunity for career advancement. Please contact Behr @ 991-6670.

HELP WANTED!
Fun, slow-paced work in cafe in major Retailer. $4/hrly. plus, based on exp. Benefits, emp. discount, health, pd. vacations. Contact: Trish @ 806-6105, ext. 68.

CASH FOR COLLEGE.
Billions available annually. Our computerized service locates sources of financial aid matched in student's individual interests and needs. Results guaranteed. For free information write American Academic Services, Dept. A, POB 4312, Northbrook, IL 60065-4312.

FREE CONSULTATION,
monthly Bookkeeping, Income Tax Returns; business or personal. Call for appl. Mary Alice Hess, CPA @ 529-2143.

Help WantedCar/Truck

SUMMER HELP!
Live in Babysitter needed to care for two small children. Ages 4 & 1, non-smoker $100 per wk plus room & board. Barrington area. Call: 540-8430.

ROLLING

ROLLING MEADOWS
Room in a 3 bdrm. house. Laundry & kitchen privileges. $300/mthly. Call: 255-9050 wk. or 392-4746.

ROOMMATE

To share Hoffman Estates township w/two males. Ten min. from Harper. $205/monthly plus 1/3 utilities. 519-1079 after 5 p.m.

For Sale

HOUSES FOR SALE
Government Homes from $1.00. "U" Repair. Also tax delinquent property. Call 805-644-9533. Ext. 354 for info.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA MK2. Red, excellent condition. Asking $9,500. Call: 815-344-2155.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA Hatchback. Air cond., rear def., autom. pwr steering, pwr. brakes, AM/FM stereo 69,000 miles. Asking $3,200. Excellent cond., no rust. Call: 541-8899.

1977 OLDS CUTLASS Brougham, 2 dr., V-8, Auto., A/C, PS, PB, PW, PL, Tilt, Cruise, R-Def., AM/FM plus many new items. Runs great! Asking $1,595, call: 359-3263.

1977 OLDS REGENCY Must sell, excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul @ 381-2409 ext. 2801 or 885-1942.

Black Bra for Nissan Pulsar NX. 3 yrs. old - gd cond. - all leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-5063.

AUTOS

Can you buy Jeeps, Cars, 4x4's served in drug raids for under $100,000? Call for facts today. 602-837-3401. Ext. 426.

83-84 Isenex Roadstar II, Brown/Sunburst. Hardly used, received as a gift 4 yrs. ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-5063.

1987 Ford Mustang LX Hatchback Stereo Cassette, AC, Pwr. warranty, $9,500 or assume 5.9% loan plus difference. Call 537-7343 evenings.

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers cars, boats, planes reprod. Surplus. Your Area. Boyers Guide. (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. 5-1053.

MUSIC ACCESSORIES

MARTIN STEEL STRING GUITAR
Eleven yrs. old, excellent condition. Asking $400. Call Mike @ 815-455-6590.

YARI CLASSICAL GUITAR
Nylon strings. Sixteen yrs. old. Asking $160. Call Mike @ 815-455-6590.

Gibson SC w/ase $490, Marshall 50 watt combo $490, Korg PME 40X modular effects $90, DOD stereo flanger $20, Reb Ibenex X bass guitar w/ case $250, Fender sidekick 50 watt bass amp $100, Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry @ 893-3273.

VIDEO EQUIPMENT
Panasonic video cassette player, Panasonic 19" color monitor both for $4200. Call Larry @ 893-3273.

FOR SALE
Queen sz Waterbed, floatationless mattress, mirrored hbrdr, leather guardrails. Asking $450.00. Non-matching mirrored dresser, chest & mistand, $750.00 takes all.

Call 843-8389.

MISCELLANEOUS

1988 NU'DE COED CALENDAR featuring color photos of nude Illinois College women. Mail $9.95 to Coed Calendar, POB 434H DeKalb, IL 60115. 1989 Models Wanted. Earn $300.

FEMALE MODELS WANTED. EARN $300
Pose nude or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to: COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, DeKalb, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $9.95.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD
No one refused. Regardless of credit history. Also ERASE bad credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-618-565-1522. Ext. C15481L 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?
I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz @ 255-8321.

To all my good friends at Harper College:
I wish to thank you for your kind wishes and support in difficult times! God Bless You All!
Nick Nicolaitikos & Family

TO SUE

The famous air-brush artist I would love to be alone with you and kiss those luscious lips of yours. But I'm too shy to ask you out! If you know who this is, let me know and we'll take it from there. Okay? Later, from "Slick"

Joe Pass!
Nice jacket. Who was that female I saw you yapping your jaws with on 3/7 in-between J and I building? Signed, You know who (ha! ha!).

Lynn M.
Good luck in your future life.

Linda H.
How are you doing in JNM? Why haven't you stopped by the Harbinger to at least say hello? You don't even say hi in the halls. What's the problem? Signed, "Some ex-friends"

To all Hawk Baseball team members
Do well this season. Harbinger Reporter.

Nik & Robyn
How's it going? Are you still counting the days until W. Day? Nik, you shouldn't look so gloomy, and Robyn when I see you you are somewhere else. I guess the problem is the both of you look lost without the other (smile). But then I guess that's all a part of L.O.V.E. Signed, "Auntie"

Attention all interested bidders:
The Harbinger needs you! We need, writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of the latest equipment for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper.

If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext. 2461 or 2460. Or just stop by.

To Joe Pass's friend
Remember that female you wanted to meet? Well guess what, she thinks you're a hunk of a fella and she wants to meet you. If interested contact Pearl at the Harbinger. P.S. Don't wait too long!

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE??$145 MILLION

IN FINANCIAL AID WRT UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR
WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED
J M EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
P.O. BOX 217
HOSPICT HEIGHTS, IL 60070
(312) 705-8527

WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

© 1987 by Billings

© 1987 by Billings

Newsmaker

JIMMY CARTER
© 1987 by Billings

Attention Harper students and alumni:

Are you looking for a job??

We have not stop on at the Harper Placement Office?

We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base, and we may be able to match you up with one of them.

For more information, call 307-2661 ext. 2730, or show up at the Placement Office, A347.

ACROSS

- 1 Prohibits
- 2 Dingo
- 8 South African
- 10 Dutch
- 12 Toward shelter
- 13 Devoured
- 14 Patience
- 15 Decayed
- 17 Come into view
- 18 Hinder
- 20 Unlucky
- 21 Grant use of
- 23 Sipper
- 24 Head
- 26 Sword
- 29 Timid
- 31 Greek letter
- 32 Carcase
- 33 Remote islands

- 34 Flip
- 36 Vapor
- 38 Wager
- 39 The swimming
- 41 Condescending
- 43 Essence
- 45 Undergarments
- 46 Engendered
- 50 Car
- 51 Negon
- 52 Free sell
- 54 Veil
- 55 German villa
- 56 Small child
- 57 Taw

DOWN

- 1 Poem
- 2 Latin conjunction
- 3 Irrigate
- 4 Mediterranean
- 5 Pagan
- 6 Latin conjunction
- 7 Pagan, e.g.

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

© 1987 by Billings

- 8 Strips of cloth
- 9 Warns
- 10 Turkish
- 11 Ancient musical instrument
- 16 Sea eagle
- 18 Fruit
- 22 Antics
- 23 Commemorative date
- 24 Liberty
- 25 By way of
- 27 Mass
- 29 Garden tool
- 30 Sift
- 35 Oak tree
- 36 Withered
- 37 Plateau
- 38 Part of harness
- 40 Turkey
- 41 Pagan
- 42 Church official
- 43 German nurse
- 44 Water
- 46 Scheme
- 47 Dispatch
- 49 Sower
- 50 Vessel
- 53 Proceed

1000

by JON CALDARA

YOU'RE INVITED!

OPEN HOUSE:
ROOSEVELT
UNIVERSITY
SUNDAY, MAR. 27
1-4 P.M.

Come to an Open House at Roosevelt University's Downtown Campus or Albert A. Robin Campus on Sunday, March 27 and learn why Roosevelt may be the place to earn your college degree or acquire additional college credits. Counselors will be available to discuss financial aid, admission requirements and career planning. Our deans and department heads can tell you about Roosevelt's many academic programs and answer your questions. No reservation is necessary. Just come and learn why Roosevelt is the university with the perfect learning environment.

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY WELLSPRING OF SUCCESS

Downtown Campus: 430 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605 • 341-2000
Albert A. Robin Campus: 2121 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights, IL 60005 • 437-9200

Defaulters beware

Springfield -- Enrollment in state universities has increased slightly during the last decade but is expected to decline through the year 2000, said, Roland W. Burris, comptroller, in a recent report.

In his last monthly report on state fiscal matters, Burris noted public higher education accounts for about 10 percent of appropriated spending from the state's General Funds. Higher education spending in fiscal 1987 was $1.772 billion, nearly double the $891 million spent in fiscal 1978.

Meanwhile, state university enrollment increased from 188,729 in fiscal 1979 to 195,681 in fiscal 1987.

Also, in Burris' report, he said Illinois' tourism budget of $15.5 million in fiscal 1987 was the highest travel budget of the 50 states. While Illinois spent more than any other state to attract tourists, it ranked seventh among the states in dollars spent by travelers.

Reporting on the status of higher education in Illinois, Burris quoted a state Board of Higher Education production that enrollment in Illinois colleges and universities should decline at least through the year 2000.

The anticipated decline is attributed to a population decrease in the 18-24 year-old age group, Burris said.

Average tuition and fees at state universities were $1,710 in fiscal 1987, more than double the $728 average in fiscal 1978. At the same time, community college tuition and fees almost doubled from $412 to $739.

Total spending among the four public university systems from appropriated funds in fiscal 1987 was $1.214 billion, up 53.80 million (85.3 percent) from the $655 million spent in fiscal 1978. The University of Illinois was the beneficiary of 46.9 percent of fiscal 1987 spending while the other three university systems divided the remainder of the appropriated funds in nearly equal proportions.

Southern Illinois University received 17.9 percent, the Board of Regents accounted for 51.71 percent and the Board of Governors received 16.3 percent.

IN MILLIONS $ REVENUES:

- Total General Funds revenues in the first seven months of fiscal 1988 were $313 million more than comparable revenues during fiscal 1987.
- Transfers in up $155
- Income tax receipts up $121
- Sales tax receipts up $91
- Public utility tax receipts down $21

- Federal sources down $31
EXPENDITURES:

- Total expenditures from the General Funds in the first seven months of fiscal 1988 were $234 million higher than comparable spending in fiscal 1987.
- Debt service up $114
- Refunds spending up $74
- Operations spending up $65
- All other grants up $30
- Transfers out up $20
- Public aid grants up $15
- Common School Fund spending down $73.

(CPS) -- Students who tend to default on their Guaranteed Student Loans aren't dishonorable, they're just poor, a General Accounting Office (GAO) report issued recently claimed.

The GAO -- which audits federal spending programs -- is trying to draw a "profile" of a typical GSI defaulter, agency official William Gainer told the House Postsecondary Education Subcommittee, and is finding so far that dropouts, students who support themselves and students who are stuck in lower-paying jobs make up the bulk of the nation's defaulters.

More than half -- 56 percent -- of the former students in default did not graduate, Gainer said. He added the GAO's "preliminary results" agreed with the testimony at a January loan default "summit" of student aid officials from around the country, organized by Rep. Pat Williams (D-Mont).

Many campus aid directors asserted defaulters were not deadbeats, but people who were simply unable to afford to repay their loans.

The GAO's emerging profile of the typical defaulter "raises than (get) grants" that don't have to be repaid, American Council on Education official Saunders said.

In its new budget proposal, released last week, the Reagan administration suggested raising the amount of money the government gives out on grants.

In its prior 7 proposals, the administration had sought to reduce students' reliance on grants -- which are much more expensive for the government -- in favor of loans.

College kidnappings continue

(CPS) -- One school got a campus icon back last week, but another college's was stolen.

The new victim: a 5x6 plywood picture of the character Beaver from the show "Leave It To Beaver."

The picture had been part of a 3-dimensional billboard on the University of Washington's Seattle campus, and a part of a campaign by ivation KTZZ to advertise the show, which KTZZ now airs every evening.

The station knew it was providing a tempting target for campus thieves, and so hired the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity to guard it, marketing Director Cathy Keller said.

The guards apparently failed. Keller was the picture back "I don't care how they do it, the Phi Gammas will be on a 2-week Beaver hunt."

But a bell that had been stolen from the Navy ROTC office at the University of Southern California's Physical Education Building Jan. 28 was mysteriously returned last week.

The bell, worth an estimated $1,000 just "showed up (outside) my house" one night, Navy Maj. Wilburn Moulder said.

Such is the way such kidnappings usually end. Last spring a 7 sculpture of Big Boy disappeared from outside and Big Boy Restaurant next to the Stanford University campus in Palo Alto, Ca. The restaurant owners got a note reading, "Mom, Dad, Don't worry about me, I just needed some space of my own for a while." The object was abruptly returned a month later.

Perhaps the most elaborate kidnapping took place at Notre Dame in 1982, when someone took a bust of legendary football coach Knute Rockne and proceeded to send Notre Dame officials notes demanding -- apparently facetiously -- various kinds of ransoms for its return.

One of the notes, explaining the bust was being well-tended during the ordeal, was accompanied by a grainy photo of "Knute" swimming in the surf at a Fort Lauderdale, FL, beach. Beaver hunt."

The notes stopped shortly thereafter. The bust was returned to its Indiana home -- unannounced and without warning -- in 1983, more than a year after its disappearance.

LSAT GMAT

#1

THE HIGHEST SCORE
IMPROVEMENTS IN
THE NATION

Call for free information package
800-777-7767 ext. 404 or 414
15700 W. 42nd St., Suite 100
Denver, CO 80231

(312) 855-1088

Classes offered at Harper College

MOVE UP
TO THE BEST

MUNDELEIN
COLLEGE

INTERNET U. M. I. BALLY SOL

- Small Classes
- Faculty of 1000+ hrs.
- 100% Pass Rate
- 277 Accredited Majors
- National Recognition

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

- One of the Best Colleges in the U.S.
- 200+ Majors from 100+ agencies
- Ranked in the Top 100
- Low Tuition
- Excellent Financial Aid

TRANSFER ADVANTAGES

- Scholarships & Grants
- Transfer Plan
- Transfer Advancing
- Career Planning

Call us at (312) 589-5406
15700 W. 42nd St., Suite 100, Denver, CO 80231

Just when he was proud he and his other something unexpected came up.

Vice Versa

The comedy you can't get your eyes off.

Columbia Pictures Presents a Columbia TriStar Production
Starring Judge Reinhold, Vice Versa, Fred Savage, Suzanne Avard, James Van Der Beek, Steve Buscemi, and Alan Ladd Jr.
Produced by Dick V. Brown & Alan Ladd Jr. Written by Brian Koppelman & Brian Koppelman

STARTS FRIDAY AT SELECT THEATRES.

Peter Soby: What Really Happened

By Ted Grudowski
Staff Writer

Sometimes, from the most innocuous circumstances, terrible incidents can occur. From the tranquil loopy, the traumatic, from the calm springs calamity, from happiness emerges havoc. Such is what happened on the night of August 14, 1987, the night my best friend, Peter Soby, a 23-year-old, achieving man of nineteen, became a quadriplegic.

Friday afternoon ended like any other Friday of this particular summer. I arrived home from working in the factory about four o'clock and received a call from Pete. His car, a blue mid-seventies model Dodge Dart, had a lot of sentimental value, had broken down, and he needed a ride to the party, some. Obliging him, his ride, I asked him if he wanted to help me out a pizza before we tried his car. We picked up the pizza, and ate it with my brother while watching a Cubs game and discussing any hope for the remainder of a living season. Afterwards, I took a shower to prepare for the evening's activities. When I got out, I found Pete crashed on my bed, and I couldn't hold back a snort laugh to myself. Pete was always on the go, day and night, and the least bit of sleep that he had from his previous night you could have probably guessed on one hand.

That night had promised to be fun. We had plans to see a concert in nearby Riprap Creek Mills. Theater Concerts, especially those of good dance music, always afforded opportunities to meet beautiful, exhibition young ladies; the type that we were attracted to. Pete and Scott, another good friend who was coming, were masters of the arts; complete, also-musical young ladies.

However, after taking a bit of Pete's car, we were informed the concert was cancelled. We had had a tremendous amount of rain recently, and the band was "trapped" at the airport. Disappointed Pete, Scott, and I along with Scott's girlfriend Ginny, and Katie, found an alternative in seeing a friend of ours, Steve, in a community theater presentation.

After seeing the play, we went to Scott's house in South Barrington. Scott's parents were out of town and it seemed like a logical place to go. Even though it was around eleven o'clock, it was still hot, and the high humidity from the rain did not allow for much relief. Pete suggested going for a swim in the neighborhood lake. Since Scott and Ginny were involved in a limo, they declined to go, and Katie chose to press also. So Pete and I proceeded to strip down to our underwear and walk outside. Pete was leaving me because I wore briefs while he wore boxer shorts.

Outside, we spent a moment jumping on the trampoline in the backyard. At this point Anne and Jenny, two friends of ours arrived, and after we exchanged greetings, they asked I don't know. He's floating around here somewhere. I fell around the water and found him, I lit him up again, I began "Pete."

"I don't let me go under. I can't breathe," I said loudly. "Not knowing what to think of this, I held him up under his armpits, and still he did not move. I didn't want to reject my friend's plea for help, if he really needed help, but I had always been a victim of his pranks. Meanwhile, Jimmy who also believed he was joking, went back to Scott's house in disgust.

I struggled to carry Pete's one hundred extra pounds through knee-high water stepping on the rocky bottom in the darkness to the shore. As I did, Pete screamed once again that he couldn't move. Still unconvinced, I did him to be questionable he would wake the people on whose property we were in question. I did him on my back, when Anne saw, her mouth wide open.

When I could no longer hold Anne, holding me, my arms and going into a toweling I saw Pete.

"Who cares?" Pete replied, trying to be brave. Without another thought, he ran and dove off the dock. I hesitated, in order to hear a report on the water temperature. Pete came up floating face down, unmoving.

Some he was notoriously one for practical jokes, I never suspected anything more than that. After waiting a while, I grew impatient and decided to discover the water temperature myself. Diving in I found it very shallow, and I saw that Pete had not moved, so I waded over to him as the water was no deeper than mid-thigh high. Lifting him up I said, "Pete, the joke's over now." When he did not make any attempt to stand on his own, I thought he wanted to float longer and I let him go. I was unaware that he broke his neck on the lake bottom.

About this time Anne and Jenny came down because they were leaving and wanted to say goodbye. "Where, Pete?" they asked. I don't know. He's floating around here somewhere. I fell around the water and found him, I lit him up again, I began "Pete."

"I don't let me go under. I can't breathe," I said loudly.

Not knowing what to think of this, I held him up under his armpits, and still he did not move. I didn't want to reject my friend's plea for help, if he really needed help, but I had always been a victim of his pranks. Meanwhile, Jimmy who also believed he was joking, went back to Scott's house in disgust.

I struggled to carry Pete's one hundred extra pounds through knee-high water stepping on the rocky bottom in the darkness to the shore. As I did, Pete screamed once again that he couldn't move. Still unconvinced, I did him to be questionable he would wake the people on whose property we were in question. I did him on my back, when Anne saw, her mouth wide open.

When I could no longer hold Anne, holding me, my arms and going into a toweling I saw Pete.

"Who cares?" Pete replied, trying to be brave.

Without another thought, he ran and dove off the dock. I hesitated, in order to hear a report on the water temperature. Pete came up floating face down, unmoving.

Some he was notoriously one for practical jokes, I never suspected anything more than that.

After waiting a while, I grew impatient and decided to discover the water temperature myself.

Diving in I found it very shallow, and I saw that Pete had not moved, so I waded over to him as the water was no deeper than mid-thigh high.

Lifting him up I said, "Pete, the joke's over now."

When he did not make any attempt to stand on his own, I thought he wanted to float longer and I let him go.

I was unaware that he broke his neck on the lake bottom.

Photo By Scott Engmann

Anne had to get Scott and the others. As this point realization and fear began to trickle into my veins, if Pete had been joking, he would have gotten up so that we could run away. Scott, Scott and the others drove down the lawn in Jenny's Jeep, and I explained what happened. Scott had already called the paramedics.

It's gonna be all right, buddy," Scott told Pete.

"I'm dead," I said myself.

I didn't want to spend months in a wheelchair. Pete said to me,

"In ignorance, I answered, 'You won't.'"

The two, or ten minutes that the paramedics took to arrive, seemed to be at least as many years. I repeated what happened to the paramedics.

One of them started asking Pete questions, trying to keep him conscious. She took the badge from one of the policemen and took it him, asking, "Does this hurt?"

Nothing below his mid-thigh could be felt anything. My own pain, wide with terror, his tears asked me to step back and let the paramedics handle him.

I looked at Scott, speaking out. I didn't know, he was strained. I don't know! as tears rolled down my face.

On February 3, 1988, Peter Soby, left the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago in a wheelchair, almost six months and plenty of trying times later, he can't move below his armpits, and while he has regained the use of his arms, his hands have not come back.

Of course the experience affects Pete so much more than I could ever imagine. However, it has not been without effect on me as of course, it has also affected his family and other friends. No drugs or alcohol were related to this incident. It was simply two guys cooling off from a hot summer day with a late night swim. And the tragedy that was the offspring of this simple notion could have been averted, we both could be dead.

But for the present, we are both alive and healthy. As says Sophocles King Oedipus, "Joy turns to sorrow, and again turns to joy."

Once Pete gets adjusted to his new situation, I'm sure he'll surmise us all in doing great things again. Nothing as simple as quadriplegia could ever stop this man.

Experience Excellence
Study Nursing or Medical Technology at Rush University

Make the move now! Applications being accepted for the Fall of 1988.

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Nursing _____ Medical Technology _____

Rush University
118 Schweppe Bldg. Suite 401
1743 W. Harrison Street
Chicago, IL 60612
312-942-3099

GRAND OPENING
2 1/2¢ COPIES

kinko's
Great copies. Great people.

120 EAST GOLF ROAD
SCAUMBURG
882-5532

Monday - Friday - 7am-10pm
Saturday - 8am - 6pm
Sunday - 10am - 5pm

Kim Frye Named Women's Basketball MVP

Harper's Kim Frye was both team MVP and conference MVP.

by Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

Kim Frye was named both Lady Hawk MVP and conference co-MVP.

Frye played excellent all-around basketball. She performed well on offense, averaging 17 points and 3.1 assists per game.

She played tough defense, 2.6 steals and 2.4 blocks per game.

She dominated the boards, grabbing 13.5 rebounds a game.

Frye broke the single-game rebound record when she grabbed 29 against Joliet.

Frye's determination, hustle and outstanding play were just enjoyed by Coach Tom Teacher's team.

1987-88 Lady Hawks basketball highlights include:

- Pascale O'Donoghue's 50 point performance vs Joliet, new school record.
- The team's 98 point output vs. Joliet, tied the school record.

- A five game winning streak, including conference victories over Joliet, Rock Valley, Thornton and Trion.
- Lalie Rowe's clutch free throw shots that allowed the lady Hawks to pull-off a thrilling 53-52 victory at DuPage.
- Natalie Simone's impressive three-point shooting, 10-for-13, 777 pts.
- A 9.5 conference record, good for a second place tie with Illinois Valley. The team's overall record was 14-12.

INDIVIDUAL STATISTICS

PLAYER	G	PTS	FGA	FTM	FTA	REB	AST	BLK	STL	TO	PF	MIN
ROWE	27	81	254	52	55	85	127	8	61	16	95	75
ROWE	24	82	261	51	53	66	199	8	40	21	85	136
ROWE	13	4	25	16	5	4	35	11	9	2	5	7
ROWE	22	10	46	22	2	8	33	22	1	16	15	16
ROWE	26	240	560	43	11	133	58	557	21	125	113	193
ROWE	6	25	48	54	4	5	80	54	9	20	18	22
ROWE	6	25	48	54	4	5	80	54	9	20	18	22
ROWE	23	15	54	35	11	18	81	41	2	16	81	80
ROWE	4	2	7	29	1	4	25	5	1	0	1	10
ROWE	4	2	7	29	1	4	25	5	1	0	1	10
ROWE	23	54	140	39	15	24	63	123	5	64	46	117

CHART BY TOM THUTTMANN

Baseball Team Selected

by Sandy Salvatore
Staff Writer

What? Your tired of NCAA Baseball? Well, look no further, the first game of the 1988 Harper Hawks Baseball season is just around the corner.

The team finished second among conference teams last year with a 20-13 record.

The team will face four major opponents this season, College of Lake County, Oakton Community College, Trion College and College of DuPage, said Coach Don Kene.

Harper will start their season with games against Lewis University and Clark College on Friday, March 25 in Godfrey, IL, at 1:00 p.m.

1988 Baseball Roster

- Rick Couley, OF
- John Barzawa, IF
- John Bauck, P, C
- Dean Van Doorn, 2B
- Dennis Kehler, 3B, SS
- John Kravos, OF
- Kurt Kram, OF
- Mark Kuffel, C
- Al Lewis, P
- Paul O'Callaghan, C
- Bobi O'Grady, P
- Stacey Olmick, P
- Scott Opler, SS
- Dave Perno, IF
- Dave Schneider, P
- Al Snyder, 3B, P
- Bill Syezzkowski, OF
- Dave Szarynski, P, 1B
- Todd Tesko, OF
- Jeff Totts, IF
- Tony Vada, P, 1B
- Returning Player

Next Week:

Find out who's going to win the NCAA Tournament

Attention Sports Fans! Get the inside scoop on sports, become a sports writer. If interested stop by the Harbinger Office, A367 and ask for Scott.

Sports Quiz

1. Daniel Griffith, currently with the NBA's Utah Jazz played college ball for Denny Crum at Louisville. Which one of the following players was not a Cardinal?
 - a. Jeff Hall
 - b. Lancaster Gordon
 - c. Dickey Hall
 - d. Mitch Wagner
2. Magic Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers played only two years of college ball at Michigan State. Which of the following NBA stars spent less time playing in the NCAA?
 - a. Isiah Thomas
 - b. Moses Malone
 - c. Mark Aguirre
 - d. Alex English
3. Name the player who the Portland Trailblazers chose ahead of the NBA leading scorer, Michael Jordan in the 1984 NBA draft. Also name the player the Bulls traded in exchange for the NBA leading rebounder, Charles Oakley.
 - a. Ron Gaudy
 - b. Mickey Locksh
 - c. Whitley Ford
 - d. Veldt Bue
4. America's Brian Boutan and Canada's Brian O'Shea (Silver) were pre-Olympic favorites to win medals at Calgary. Name the American and Canadian who are favored to win medals in the 100-meter dash at Seoul.
 - a. Jim McMahon
 - b. Jay Schroeder
 - c. Dan Marino
 - d. John Elway
5. Three current NFL quarterbacks were drafted ahead of Dave Matthews in the 1979 Major League Baseball free-agent draft. Which QB is not one of those?
 - a. Tom Brady
 - b. Jay Schroeder
 - c. Dan Marino
 - d. John Elway
6. Babe Ruth is one of only two left-handed pitchers in three-time shutouts in his 1916 season. Who is the other lefty who shares this record?
 - a. Ron Gaudy
 - b. Mickey Locksh
 - c. Whitley Ford
 - d. Veldt Bue
7. Mickey Mantle is the American League all-time leader in home runs hit by a switch-hitter (536). An active player holds the National League record (176). Name him.
 - a. Bill Smith
 - b. Ken Dryden
 - c. Glenn Hall
 - d. Jacques Plante
8. Jackie Robinson was the first black to play in the National League. Name the first black to play in the American League.
 - a. Bill Smith
 - b. Ken Dryden
 - c. Glenn Hall
 - d. Jacques Plante
9. Only once in the last 30 years has a goaltender been selected as the NHL's regular season MVP. Which goalie was it?
 - a. Bill Smith
 - b. Ken Dryden
 - c. Glenn Hall
 - d. Jacques Plante

Copyright © 1988 by The Harbinger Company, Inc. All rights reserved. Printed in the U.S.A.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 23

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger March 17, 1988

Search Committee shut-out:

Presidential finalists?

Read about it in the Herald

By Larry Padlin
Editor-in-Chief

Those of you who are veterans of labor may or may not have wondered why we won't print a fly here from usual.

It was not due to mechanical error, employee absence, or oversleeping. Rather, we took a chance that we could bring you a first page story that would really be news to the Harper community.

Much to our surprise, however, it turns out that the biggest obstacle to this story (not fact, as near as I can make out, is the ONLY obstacle) was the college itself. Or more precisely, the President's Search Advisory Committee (PSAC).

It all begins with a motion from Kevin Lewis and the Chairman of the Board of Trustees to the Harper community. It said, in part, that the PSAC is concluding its search and PSAC was at least several weeks behind their original timetable because of the sheer volume of applicants.

This past week the Harbinger had been flipped with photos, calls and walk-ins for Mike Bionke asked me about our press deadline, and I told her it was Wednesday at 9 AM. She said that it would be impossible to release that list as she still didn't have releases from all the candidates.

beginning on Monday.

Wouldn't it be nice, I thought, to know something about the candidates before meeting and questioning them on their qualifications.

And also, for perhaps the first time, the Harper community would be able to get that news about its campus from its own campus newspaper instead of the Daily Herald, Sun-Times, or Tribune. And then I woke up.

When I called Pat Bourke on Wednesday morning, I got the same answer, only (much to my surprise) for a different reason!

It seems that all the candidates their work and will be submitting the names of five finalists (to fill the vacant office) if the President of the college is to be elected during the week of March 14-18. This was obviously good inquiring if we knew anything about the list of finalists. So we decided to check it out.

Editorial

On Tuesday of this week I called Pat Bourke, chairman of the PSAC, to find out about the

So we decided to wait in publication for one day. It had been done before, and this seemed a worthwhile delay. After all, the college IS scheduling the finalists to appear on campus

Harper Swimmers

Make Nationals

By Gloria Carr
Staff Writer

Harper College will be represented by Mina Fitzsimons and Kim Jurezak at the National Junior College Athletic Association swim meet. The two swimmers will be competing at Fort Pierce, Florida, starting today through March 19th.

Fitzsimons will be competing in the 200, the 500 and the 1000 legs. Her best times have been 2:10, 5:44 and 19:55.

Jurezak will be competing in the 50, the 100 and the 100 breast stroke. Her best times have been 26.62, 59.82 and 1:22.

Fitzsimons, whose entire family are swimmers, began swimming at age 5 and was named MVP at Sacred Heart High School. "I'm very nervous but I'm anxious to swim," she said. "I'm lack she will be taking her own cap, goggles and towel but she will not be relying solely on luck, she will be doing her best."

"I'm hoping to do my best by getting close to my record time, maybe breaking one or two," she said. "I hope to make six and, hopefully, one all American."

Jurezak will be taking her Care Bear and Care Bear towel, which she takes to every meet. But for concentration, "I shut everybody out and try to myself up for the meet. I'm getting nervous but also excited," she said.

Fitzsimons and Jurezak have the entire team behind them, in addition to having the support and encouragement from their families. Fitzsimons said the team is pushing them. "They don't even have to practice but they come swim with us and help us," said Jurezak.

While Fitzsimons and Jurezak's training has been grueling, competing will be fun.

"They're having a ton of fun. It gives us a chance to talk with other swimmers. We will exchange gifts with other teams," said Fitzsimons.

Harper College swimmer Mina Fitzsimons
Photo courtesy of Harper College

Student Senate Offering Internship

Internship to encourage student participation and continuity in student government

By Gloria Carr
Staff Writer

The Student Senate will be offering five internships to current Harper College students and to next year's freshmen.

"This gives students a chance to see how the senate works and to develop some continuity in the senate," said Student Senate President, Bob Novak. "Never, to my knowledge, has there been an internship in the senate," said Elizabeth York, Student Senate secretary. One of the main goals she explains is to set a precedent to afford some continuity.

By having continuity the senate can realize long term goals and add some experienced members to every term, York added.

York said there are many people interested in student government who don't have the opportunity to get involved. "This gives them a chance to see it's not so scary," she said.

Interns will have such responsibility as serving two hours of senate office hours per week, attendance at all senate meetings at the April Board of Trustees meeting, of three Sub-Committee meetings and an essay due at the end of the internship.

Interns will have the following rights and privileges: an ex officio term membership at the Student Senate, a non-binding vote and a letter of recommendation for office from the Senate.

Candidates must be present at a special meeting nominally set for the first week in April. The senate will conduct interviews and elect interns through a secret ballot.

The program will end the first week of finals.

Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges

Page 2

Off Her Rocker
With Our Mom

By Liz Brousseau

Page 3

IXAS Concert
Review

By George Mueller

Page 4

Peder Sweeney Gets
A Special Invitation

Page 5

Who'll make the NCAA's Final
Four? Scott
Bordon makes his picks
Page 10

Who's Who

Seventeen join prestigious directory

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Taking the "one day at a time" while planning years into the future proves to yield great benefits, especially for seventeen harper students. These seventeen, through their hard work and perseverance, were recently nominated to join the annual publication, "Who's Who Among Students in American Junior Colleges."

"Who's Who" is a listing of those students in colleges who "have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders."

The publication will issue its 1988 edition, its fifty-fourth, after the nominees have submitted biographical material, information for student reference files and other pertinent data, writes Brooke Baggett, Associate Director of "Who's Who."

The seventeen Harper students are: Mr. Kenneth Carroll, of Palatine; Ms. Keri Ginger, of Rolling Meadows; Ms. Jordan Hansen, of Elk Grove Village; Mr. Wenzelyn

Henderson, of Hoffman Estates; Ms. Alexey Hoy, of Arlington Heights; Ms. Wanda Kravos, of Villa Park; Mr. Michael McAvoy, of Arlington Heights; Mr. Gregory Miller, of Hanover Park; Ms. Sandra Osio, of Schaumburg; Ms. Kimberly Donowski, of Des Plaines; Ms. Deanne Placek, of Rolling Meadows; Mr. John Rosenbuchler, of Schaumburg; Mr. Patrick Ryan, of Rolling Meadows; Mr. Timothy Szam, of Schaumburg; Mr. George Simonson, of Schaumburg; Ms.

Gwyn Smith, of Palatine; and Mr. Scott Sokolowski, of Hoffman Estates.

Harper faculty members and students selected by Director of Student Activities, Ms. Jeanne Pankanian, reviewed the nominees, evaluating them on the basis of academic standing, extracurricular involvement and community service.

The selection committee then made its recommendations to the National Headquarters of "Who's Who." The publication then certifies the nominees and makes public its decision, via a new release to Harper.

The seventeen will be honored at Harper College's annual awards banquet on May 6th.

The students will also "join" an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all fifty states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations" in the "Who's Who" annual directory. The directory, used by future employers and, often, graduate programs, for admissions reference.

About a corner of wilderness . . .

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor
and Wendie McGuire
ABJ Student

Many students have no idea that there is a forest preserve at Harper. Many, too, are pleasantly surprised when they discover this quiet place in the suburbs. We think it wonderful to have such a natural laboratory for Biology students and naturalists.

By using a little of the campus space to allow nature to breath presents us with an amazing thought; perhaps there is some hope for humans' existence.

We would like to describe to you what you saw, but first, an explanation of the ground on which our campus is built is in order.

All of the land in and around Harper College was once a swampy, A very large system of drainage has been set up to save the land for construction. An underground system of drains ushers run-off into the lakes around the campus. Fertilizer and pesticides also flow with the rain water, however unfortunate, and appear in the lakes. One can imagine what an impossible battle it can be to maintain our corner of wilderness.

It is too little of a space to stand all the abuse of people and winds. The winter makes mammals naked, and all of the trash lies uncovered between the blades of dormant grass. Once the snow melts, between the trash and the mud, our campus does not inspire much - indeed, it sometimes looks like a waste land. If one happens by the East path, take a look. The garbage is impossible to miss. Papers and containers of all kinds carpet the preserve's floor.

Why the mess? Wind blows Eastward, dumping students' litter among the trees and shrubs of the preserve.

The end result of this mess is that animals do not move as easily into the preserve as they might naturally. Some varieties of plants and animals which are very sensitive to chemical products may never come to populate our preserve, unless we all do something.

And it is not only Harper students that have a responsibility to this corner of wilderness, the residents of the surrounding homes should realize the benefits that an educational program like our preserve could bring to the community.

"It was clear to folks in Buchanan City that Clint was sweet on Ginny. But there he was, trying to get her married to somebody else, like his whole future depended on it."
...to be continued

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force Debbie Tempe

Shows Today
5:30-7:00
Timeslot 955

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas from Travel & General Office positions to Warehouse operations and more.

Debbie Tempe. We make it happen. Short & long term temporary assignments. Call today! 893-5556

Weekdays on ABC-TV
Local listings for time and channel. abc

Jules Feiffer

Author Lectures

The Harper College Cultural Arts Committee will present Jules Feiffer, the Pulitzer-Prize winning cartoonist, playwright, screenwriter and novelist speaking on the topic, "Life and the Political Cartoonist" on Monday, March 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Building 1 Theatre.

Jules Feiffer is a satirist whose strong point is compassion. Full of wit, his lectures stimulate a provocative vision of our times, whether about politics, the arm race, relationships, or the haunts of the sexes.

The author of seven plays, including the Obie Award-winning Grown Ups, Little Murders, and Knick, Knack, Feiffer has also enjoyed success with novels, TV plays, and screenplays including Carroll O'Connor and Boyz. His cartoons are internationally famous and have been collected into fourteen volumes. P.B.S. (national public TV) has twice run an hour length documentary on Feiffer and his work. His newest novel is to be released in April and his newest play, Ellen Love, will open in the fall.

Tickets for the lecture are available in advance from the Box Office and are $2 for Harper students with activity card, $3 for students, and $4 general admission.

A Big Bash

New that we have your attention!

The International Students Club is pleased to invite all members, prospective members, faculty, and friends to an:

Open House

Thursday March 17th
5-7 P.M.

Bldg. A - around the fireplace

Refreshments will be served

All international and American students welcome

The Washington Squares

Squares to perform at Harper

The Washington Squares will bring its new wave folk music to Harper on Friday, March 25. The Squares, with special guest Fred Hollisten, well-known Chicago folk artist, will appear in Building M at 8:00 p.m.

Since their first appearance in Greenwich Village in July 1963, the Squares have gone on to much critical acclaim. Ranked by Rolling Stone as "the hippest thing shaking in New York," they are at the head of a new wave of folk music. Their first album, "The Washington Squares," was ranked 18th on the College Chart by Rolling Stone magazine, and was nominated for a Grammy as Best Contemporary Folk Record.

One Chicago critic describes their music as a "clean, circular sound that is traditional best folk, but also contemporary cool."

The acoustic trio, Tom Goodkind, Lauren Agnelli and Bruce Parkov, have toured the country numerous times headlining concerts or appearing with the likes of Suzanne Vega, Marshall Crenshaw, and Billy Bragg.

They've built followings in New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles and Atlanta, Georgia, among other cities. The group has also performed at folk festivals coast to coast. Notably, the beak-nosed group (whose members have emerged from various New York new wave bands) have received recognition from major folk figures. Kingston trio founded Dave Guard, Peter, Paul and Mary's Peter Yarrow, beat poet Allen Ginsberg, Peter Seeger, Joan Baez, Donovan, Richie Havens and Bob Gibson are just a few of the folk era luminaries who've shared the stage with the Squares.

In addition, the Squares have the distinction of being the first folk group to be featured on MTV. They have been profiles in MTV's show "Liner Notes" and recently appeared on the channel with Paul Schaffer.

"It's really the concept of bringing folk music into the '80's," says Goodkind. "We're saying creating totally new sounds and saying something at the same time."

Tickets are $4 for Harper students and $6 for the public. For more information call the Box Office at 397-3000, ext. 2547.

Happy St. Patrick's Day

COMING SOON

Spring 1988 Student Development Offerings

- | | | |
|--------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| MARCH | 21 Career Interest Testing Part 1, 9-11 a.m. A347 | Testing Part 2, 9-11 a.m. A347 |
| | Food Service | Criminal Justice Info Session, 7-8 p.m., F132 |
| | Manag./Baking/Cooking and Hotel Management Info Session, 7-8 p.m., F132 | 29 Graduation Check, 6-7 p.m., A347 |
| | Study Skills Shape Up Seminar, 6-7 p.m., F139 | Career Change For Adults Seminar, 7-8 p.m. |
| | 22 Resume Writing Seminar, 7-8:30 p.m., A347 | 30 Math, Physics, Chemistry Majors (Transfer) Info Session, 7-8 p.m., F132 |
| | 24 Career Interest | |

Experience Excellence

Study Nursing or Medical Technology at Rush University

Make the move Now!
Applications being accepted for the Fall of 1988

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____

Nursing Medical Technology

Rush University
118 Schmiege Sprague Hall
1743 W. Harrison Street
Chicago, IL 60612
312-842-5099

HEALTH CARE CENTER, INC.

Continues to offer low cost, confidential care in all areas of women's health:

- Family Planning
- Pap Smears
- VD testing & treatment
- Pregnancy testing & referrals
- Pre-marital blood tests

WE DO PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR WORK, SCHOOL, SPORTS

For information and/or appointment call:
359-7575 553 N. Court, Suite 100, Palatine
Daytime Evening and Saturday Appointments

Photo Opinion:

Ronald Reagan's term as president is almost over. Do you think he had a positive influence on the country?

By John Sisson

Cliff Marx
Major: Liberal Arts

"He's a lame duck President. He may be a little senile. It's time for him to leave office."

Bill Mitchell
Major: Social Science

"He should have taken an approach that was more similar to Eisenhower's approach, which said that a nation's strength is based more on economic and national security rather than Military buildup."

Imtiaz Chughale
Major: Pre Med.

"I Don't think he has succeeded foreign policy enough. I don't believe the trickle down effect is working as well as he planned. For example, I don't like the approach he used to handling the Central American situation, and I believe he should take a firmer stand on what happened in Iran."

Florence Lind
Major: Dental Hygienist

"I voted for him, I like him, but I think he could be a little more aggressive in terms of foreign policy. I like Him Because He's a Christian."

"Gypsy" Opens Friday

(Photo By John Sisson)

Dress rehearsals began this week for the Harper College spring musical "Gypsy." The play opens this Friday, the 19th. Other performances are March 20, 25, 26 and 27. Tickets are still available. Contact the Box Office in Building J, ext. 2547.

Harper College's clean environment appreciated
(Photo By John Sisson)

GRAND OPENING

2 1/2¢ COPIES

kinko's

Great copies. Great people.

120 EAST GOLF ROAD
SCHAUMBURG
882-5532

Monday - Friday -- 7am-10pm
Saturday - 8am - 6pm
Sunday -- 11am - 5pm

"Echo" continued from page 4
"Laps Like Sugar," allowing Mac to go through his stream of consciousness. "I'm Van Gough chipping off my ear," intaked rambles.

Other high points were their covers of "Fame a Black by The Stones," "Soul Kitchen by the Doors," and "Twist and Shout by the Four Lovers." The Beatles.

10 years old, the mystic, still would like young girls to use. It was fun and really right on. It was grossness taken at stellar heights. It only you were there.

S	T	A	R	A	S	O	B	E	R	A	L	L
A	R	A	H	E	P	E	T	O	T	O
T	A	R	O	L	I	T	E	M	E	N	T	S
E	R	I	N
P	H	A	V	E	R	R	E	D	E	R
E	T	D	E	V	E	R	D	O	T	E
N	O	N	S	E	V	E	R	M	A	G
A	L	A	S	R	E	G	A	N
C	L	A	N	A
S	T	E	R	E	T
M	E	T	O	N
M	E	T	S
M	E	T	S

AIRLINE PASSENGER SCREENING AND SPECIAL SERVICES

Andy Fran Services has excellent opportunity for mature responsible individuals (students welcome to apply) to staff various passenger service and security related positions. Full-time, part-time and weekend shifts available. Flexible schedules and free parking provided.

- Requirements
- Minimum age 18
 - Legal U.S. resident
 - No criminal record
 - Provide phone numbers for references (past five years)
 - Three forms of ID

Applications and interviews conducted Saturday, March 19, 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at

The Caravelle Motor Inn
5400 N. River Road
Rosemont, Illinois

Please no calls to hotel
For further information, or interest in working the Horizon call 266-6257
LOEMF

Men's Track: Wheaton Open Approaches

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

Are you tired of sitting home and watching television? Do you feel you are missing out on what is happening in the world of sports? If so, mark Saturday, March 26 on your calendar.

Why you ask? The Men's Track and Field team will be competing at the Wheaton Open. Recently appointed Head Coach John Johnson said, "Wheaton will be like a practice meet. The guys can enter any event they want and see where they are."

Harper's arch rival, College of DuPage, will be the Hawks' main opponent this season.

If you are interested in becoming a member of the Harper College Men's Track & Field team, contact Coach Johnson in 'M building.

1988 Harper College Men's Track & Field Team

Mac Raker 200 meter dash Andy Lerman shot put discus
hammer

Pat Lindgren shot put discus
hammer

Frank Garath long jump
110 meter hurdles triple jump high jump
400 meter hurdles

Tim Davis shot put discus
hammer

Tony Larnme 400 meter dash mile relay javelin

Photo by John McVicker
Andy Lerman prepares to put the shot.

Softball Practice Underway

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

Despite the recent cold weather Harper's softball team is ready to play.

The women have been practicing since March 1. Practice had been held outside, but had to be moved indoors this week due to the bad weather.

Coach Myra Minick is expecting a good season. Minick, now in her third year at Harper, feels her team will finish among the top three in conference.

The coach believes the combination of new players and experienced softball players will make for a well balanced team.

First year Harper players Michele Theriault of Fremd High School and Jennifer Pytlarz of Cary Grove will take on the putting responsibilities.

"Both pitchers are consistent, they have good control," said Coach Minick.

The team has five returning players, including co-captains Kris Foster and Gail Kummernus. Foster was an All-Conference selection and team MVP last year.

Coach Minick added, "We will have good hitting this year."

Last year the team finished 10-15 and fifth in conference.

The team will open at home with a doubleheader against Lake County on Wednesday, March 23, at 2:00 pm.

1988 Softball Roster

Comte Angel C.
*Tony Baumgart, OF
Jennifer Blasky, SS/3B
Robin Drackley, 2B
*Kris Foster, 1B
Cheryl Fries, SS/3B
*Lynn Hayer, 1BC
*Linda Hubers, OF
*Gail Kummernus, 2BC/OF Jennifer Pytlarz, F
Julie Rowe, 1B/1B
Michele Theriault, P
*Returning Player

NCAA Basketball Tournament Time

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

Not even a NCAA expert will have much success in this year's tournament. There are many teams that have the potential to make the Final Four.

Rather than spend countless hours reading lineups and studying stats I decided to pick from the top of my head.

My picks are based on the teams that I have seen play and my gut feelings. By the way, here is a betting tip. Never bet on someone else's gut feelings. I am skipping over the first and second rounds. Most people normally pick the favorites and that is basically what I did.

I'll start with the Regionals:

Midwest: Purdue over DePaul. Pin over N.C. State. East: Syracuse over Duke. Georgetown over Indiana. West: Michigan over North Carolina. UNLV over Arizona. Southwest: Oklahoma over Louisville. Kentucky over Illinois.

Second Round Picks: East: Georgetown will beat Temple or set up a real shock by Perry. Midwest: Southlake, Oklahoma will beat Bradley. West: Michigan will beat North Carolina. UNLV will beat Hersey Hawkins.

Semi-Finals: Midwest: Purdue over Pin East: Syracuse over

Georgetown. West: Michigan over UNLV. Southeast: Kentucky over Oklahoma.

Final Four: Syracuse over Purdue, Michigan over Kentucky.

Championship Game: Syracuse over Michigan.

I am not positive Purdue will make it. Pitt will give them a tough game. Who knows maybe DePaul will beat them, but I doubt it.

I have been told Syracuse can't shoot free throws. However, Derrick Coleman, Sherman Douglas, Rony Sekaly and Coach Jim Boheim have all been to the big game before and this year they are going to win it.

Marshall to Skins?

McMahon and Perry to Taco Bell

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

I wrote this article on Tuesday afternoon, I had to meet a Tuesday night deadline.

By today, the Bears have probably have not matched the Redskins six million dollar offer to linebacker Wilber Marshall. I wonder what the Bears are saying. It's a big loss.

Bear President Michael McCaskey: "I don't want to give Marshall six million dollars. Sure he is good, but it I pay him that much I will have to pay guys like Gus Wilson and Richard Tison, at least that much. Heck, I have to give the Dallas kids some 17 million or so for their share of the team. Maybe I should make Mike Tomczak pay to play."

Coach Mike Ditka: "Let's let sign the guy. By the way is Chunky a soup or a meal."

Walter really sure?"

Matt Sabej: "I should have retired instead of Walter."

William Perry: "Where's McMahon? He promised me he'd take me to Taco Bell."

Gary Feneck: "I forgot how dull that lady say you play Dick Foy?"

Dennis McKinnon: "Feneck sure is stupid. I thought the guy went to Yale."

Bob Avallini: "Good thing I retired. If it was still playing they would probably make me pay twice as much as Tomczak is going to have to pay."

Mike Singletary: "We better sign Wilber, because if we don't we will need obvious Gus."

Defensive Coordinator Vince Tobin: "If we loose Marshall I am going to end up leaving my job."

Wille Gault: "Maybe they will let me compete in the Summer Olympics."

Ditka: "Taco Bell probably made the Super Taco test for that punk Dick McMahon's big fat mouth. I swear the next time he sneezes I'll am going to sock him one. And another thing, Perry better lose some weight."

McMahon: "Sorry I can't late Fridge. Now remember I can have all the Taco Salads I want as long as you promise me on Dick if he handles me."

Perry: "Okay Jim."

McMahon: "Fridge is need to gain some weight."

Wilber Marshall: I'm sure going to be making some big bucks. Hopefully I'll play for the Redskins, that way I can nail the white boy, Tomczak."

Dent and Wilson: "I think Wilber's being a little greedy, we'd only ask for ten million and we're the stars."

Jim McMahon: "Should I get a Steak Eagle or the new Super Taco. Oh no! I forgot to pack my Fridge."

Tomczak: "If we sign Marshall I wonder how much it is going to cost me to play."

Walter Payton: "Did I really retire?"

Neal Anderson: "Did

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50; $5.55 each additional line.

Employment

Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES
FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs: Include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-3800. Even- and weekend appointments. Law Offices of Becker & Becker, 600 N. Meacham, 3rd. floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195

TYPING SERVICE
Students and teachers: Can and will type anything and everything. Fast and accurate work on an IBM office machine (19 yrs. exp.). Reasonable rates. Call Jeri @ 398-2313.

INCOME SERVICES
Student Discount
1040A and Illinois $30
1040, Sch A,B, Child
Care, Illinois $60
394-1040
Professional Tax Associates Inc.
121 S Wilke - Suite 405
Arlington Heights, IL
60005

BODIES NEEDED
BUILD MUSCLES,
MAKE MONEY. BUILD SKILLS
LIKE "WORKING OUT"
YOU'LL LIKE OUR JOBS:
• LOADING
• CONSTRUCTION
• WAREHOUSING • SHIPPING
• FACTORY
• ETC.
ALSO HIGHLY SKILLED TECHNICAL JOBS,
EXCELLENT PAY.

FLEXIBLE HOURS, TOP COMPANIES
CALL PAULA @ INDUSTRIAL TEMPS. 303-6070.

SITUATION WANTED
Reliable and professional secretarial service. Resumes, term papers, letters, etc. Call Diane @ 459-1485.

CRUISE SHIPS
Now Hiring, M/F Summer & Career Opportunities (Will Train) Excellent pay plus world travel. Hawaii, Bahamas, Caribbean, etc. Call NOW 206-736-0775 Ext. C295.

BE A NANNY!

Help Wanted

We offer IMMEDIATE PLACEMENT in the New Jersey/New York area. Our agency's with our parents and children before you accept a position. Top salaries $150.00 - $300.00 weekly. Never a fee. Yearly employment only. NANNIES PLUS (licensed and bonded agency). Toll-Free 1-800-752-0878.

SALES
Full-time Sales Associate, 30-40 hrs. per wk. Excellent room for advancement. Contact Chuck @ 330-1386, Games by James - Woodfield Mall.

RETAIL
Full or part-time sales associate for updated traditional men's and women's clothing store. Experience preferred; excellent opportunity for career advancement. Please contact Beth @ 991-6670.

FREE CONSULTATION, monthly Bookkeeping, Income Tax, Returns, business or personal. Call for appt. Mary Alice Hess, CPA @ 529-2043.

Help Wanted Part-time

SUMMER HELP!
Live in Babysitter needed to care for two small children. Ages 3 & 1, non-smoker. $100 per wk. plus room & board. Barrington area. Call: 540-8430.

CLERICAL
Design contract firm looking for office clerical help. Hrs. 1:30 to 5:00 p.m. M-F. Call 766-3300 for appt. and ask for Tom or Laurie.

FOR RENT
ROLLING MEADOWS
Room in a 3 bdrm house. Laundry & kitchen privileges. $400/monthly. Call: 255-0050 wk. or 392-4746.

ROOMMATE
To share Hoffman Estates townhome w/ two mates. Ten min. from Harper. $205/monthly plus 17% utilities. 539-1079 after 5 p.m.

For Sale

HOMES FOR SALE
Government Homes from $1.00 - 1.5 Repairs. Also tax delinquent property. Call 805-644-9553. Ext. 354 for info.

Queen sz Waterbed, floatationless mattress.

For Sale

mirrored hdbrd, leather guardrails. Asking $450.00. Non-matching mirrored dresser, chest & nitestand; $75 takes all. Call 843-8389.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA MR2. Red, excellent condition. Asking $9,500. Call: 815-344-2155.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA Hatchback, Air cond, rear def, autom, pwr steering; pwr brakes, AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $3,200. Excellent cond. no rust. Call: 541-8099.

1977 OLDS CUTLASS Brougham, 2 dr., V-8, Auto, AC, PS, PB, PW, PL, Tilt, Cruise, R-Def., AM/FM plus many new items. Runs great! Asking $1,595. call: 359-3263.

1977 OLDS REGENCY Must. sell, excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul @ 381-2400 ext. 2801 or 885-1942.

Black Bra for Nissan Pulsar NX. 3 yrs. old. gd. cond. all leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-5063.

AUTOS
Can you buy Jeeps, Cars, 4x4's seized in drug raids for under $1000.00? Call for facts today. 802-837-3401. Ext. 426.

1984 HONDA ATC 200S with trailer, asking $1,000. Call Scott after 6:30 p.m. @ 885-2571.

87-84' Ibanez Roadstar II. Brown/Sunburst. Hardly used, received as a gift 4 yrs. ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-5063

1987 Ford Mustang LX Hatchback Stereo Cassette, AC, Ext warranty, $9,900 or assume $995. loan plus difference. Call 537-7343 evenings

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers cars, boats, planes reprod. Surplus. Your Area. Buyers Guide #1 805-687-0080 Ext. 8-1055.

MUSICAL ACCESSORIES

MARTIN STEEL STRING GUITAR Eleven yrs. old, excellent condition, Asking $400. Call Mike @ 815-455-6590.

Classifieds

YARI CLASSICAL GUITAR
Nylon strings. Sixteen yrs. old. Asking $160. Call Mike @ 815-455-6590.

Gibson SC w/case $490, Marshall 50 watt combo $490, Kirg PME 40X modular effects $90, DOD stereo flanger $20, Rebirth X bass guitar w/ case $250, Fender sidekick 50 watt bass amp $100, Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry @ 893-3273.

MISCELLANEOUS

1988 NUDE COED CALENDAR
featuring color photos of nude Illinois College women. Mail $9.95 to Coed Calendar, POB 434H DeKalb, IL 60115. 1989 Models Wanted. Earn $300.

FEMALE MODELS WANTED, EARN $300
Pose nude or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to: COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, DeKalb, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $9.95.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD
No one refused. Regardless of credit history. Also FRASE bad credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-619-565-1522. Ext. C158811, 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?
I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz @ 255-8521

Personals

Attention Harper students and alumni:
Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base, and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 397-3000 ext. 2720, or stop in at the Placement Office, A347.

Attention all interested bodies:
The Harbinger needs you. We need, writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of its latest equipment for desktop publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper. If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext. 2461 or 2466. Or just stop by.

ENTERTAINMENT
Entertainers looking for new entertainment booked for agency and recording studio. Rock/Country bands, clowns, magicians, dancers, models, escort and solo acts encouraged to apply. All hrs. open, full or part-time. MF, all races (Join our video dating service). Call Creative Video Productions @ 312-803-6666. Ask for Charlie or Rich. Or please stop by @ 3414 Milwaukee Ave. in Northbrook - Sanders Rd. at Milwaukee Ave. (Also needed, private instructors).

To Nancy S.!
Hey now! How's NIU? R U ready 2 B beaten at pool? Wish U could stay longer than one week, but, oh well! Be see'n in later! Signed, A strange friend

Happy St. Patrick's Day

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE ??
$45 MILLION
FINANCIAL AID WILL UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR
WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED
J.M. EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
P.O. BOX 217
IMPERIAL HEIGHTS, IL 60070
(312) 705-8527
WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 34²⁵ William Rainey Harper College The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Presidential finalists meeting Harper community

By Larry Paulin
Information Staff

The Presidential Search Advisory Committee (PSAC) revealed its list of recommended finalists for the next President of Harper College last Friday.

The list of candidates, originally numbering five, was whittled down to four with the withdrawal of Dr. Donald Harper, the PSAC announced Tuesday.

Harper's son, Dr. David Williams, Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dr. Donald Bradford, President of Ontario College, Dr. Terry De-

Sarna, President of Pan Am College, and Dr. Paul Harrison, President of Bellevue Community College, were the candidates chosen as unranked semi-finalists to the Board of Trustees.

The four candidates met a hard week of appointments of Harper. The daily schedule, six weeks to fulfill a part of the campaign, a lecture on anything, some representatives of all employee groups, a reception and open forum at 7:00 p.m. in the central office with faculty representatives, and an interview and dinner with the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Paul Harrison speaks to trustees during a meeting on Monday.

Dr. Thompson was the first guest to appear, coming to Harper on Monday. Dr. Williams had his turn at the open forum on Tuesday, and Dr. DeSarna and Dr. Bradford will be here today and tomorrow, respectively.

Felice Avila, Executive Assistant to the President and member of the PSAC, said that the committee's charge was to "bring to the Board three to five highly qualified candidates, unranked." She added it was "very important that the candidates be unranked, to give the Board the freedom it needs to make a sound decision."

Three vie for Student Trustee

Candidates state their goals as election day nears

By Gloria Carr
Staff Writer

Three student representatives will be elected to the Student Trustee Board on March 29th and May 10th, 1988. The candidates are Laura Jacobsen, Patrick Ryan and Johnny Walker.

Jacobsen, a communications major, has been elected to the Student Trustee Board for the past two years. She is currently serving as the Student Trustee for the 1987-88 year.

Ryan, a communications major, has been elected to the Student Trustee Board for the past two years. He is currently serving as the Student Trustee for the 1987-88 year.

Walker, a communications major, has been elected to the Student Trustee Board for the past two years. He is currently serving as the Student Trustee for the 1987-88 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

The candidates will be elected to the Student Trustee Board for the 1988-89 year.

Student trustee candidates (l. to r.): Laura Jacobsen, Patrick Ryan and Johnny Walker.

Photo by Frank Schwaner

Voting will be held from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in Bldgs. A, at the Information Booth; D, at the 1. Computer Lab; T, at the Media Desk; and J, at the Box Office.

Linda Lang speaks out, By Kim Ostrowski Page 2	Off Her Rocker With Our Mom By Liz Brousseau Page 3	Review of "Dominick and Eugene" By Sean Colbert Page 4	Visit Judge Wapner's Court with Sweeny Page 5	Byron Blanchard asks "Can Anyone Beat Tyson?" Page 11
-------------------------------------------------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------	-----------------------------------------------------------------

Editorial

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 3

Letter to the Editor Reverse discrimination debate continues

Listen Pearl, honey, I really think you missed the point. I expected more out of a managing editor than the response you gave.

For one, the letter was not addressed to you, it was to Larry but since you feel you're an authority on this, you've got to be a minority, I will comment.

Who is it to say what a minority is? You yourself, Pearl, and a minority is something you can't date or marry into you are or you're not. So when you're saying if you don't know what a minority is, so if you don't know what a minority is how can you know you are one.

Everyone is a minority when put in a certain situation for example if a white man or woman were to walk into a church where there were all blacks or all Hispanics who would be the minority? Can you honestly say that the black would be the minority in this instance? I don't think so.

How about a comment from you Larry?

A minority is, according to the dictionary, a group characterized by a wide of separate identity and awareness of status from a larger group of which it forms a part. This is straight from the dictionary Pearl.

I don't see Blacks Hispanic, Oriental, Hebrew, or where or there. If anyone at this time is the minority class, The class of Chicago is white, black, Hispanic, etc. that's why your bull*.

The #1 radio station in WABX, a black station. How about this Pearl? Any comment? Now, whether you want to accept it or not Pearl, you only commented on this because you feel as though you are being discriminated against as black.

I would bet 70% of all blacks at Harper feel this way. How do you think what can I do you don't know as bitching do you? The more I write the more pissed off I get. So I'll leave you with one final comment.

Stop feeling sorry for yourself. No one is looking at you. It's like giving a speech in speech class, you get up there and you think everyone thinks you're an idiot but no one actually does. When you Blacks, Hispanics, etc. walk out the front door in the morning no one thinks you're an idiot. You have a day!

Dear Dave A Very Day

In a similar response to my note I get one.

Normally we do not print letters that we're sent and we read the bottom of the letter that your about last week and published. How was ever change about names, for publication. Work your views you would be surprised by Atlanta.

If you I had some trouble making you very seriously. I can't see there dealing with Pearl's Swammy for some time now and I didn't think you would be real.

Replies to your note

This probably caused me no harm as I'm not a racist and I'm not a bigot. I'm just a person who is tired of seeing people who are so stupid and I'm tired of seeing people who are so stupid and I'm tired of seeing people who are so stupid.

People I don't want to see any more and I'm not a racist and I'm not a bigot. I'm just a person who is tired of seeing people who are so stupid and I'm tired of seeing people who are so stupid and I'm tired of seeing people who are so stupid.

Love, Larry

Editor's Note

back of the car. A notable example is the Howard Stern, N.Y. kumps last summer. Unfortunately, because it's well and alive in America and some people still feel that blacks should not be treated as equals.

"Off Her Rooker" With our mom

By Lisa Rios

Although the world depends on its continual growth of children, there are some who find their presence to be a bit of a nuisance.

I agree that certain social settings do not find babies welcome. However, in most situations, children can find their presence a welcome sight. Unfortunately, babies tend to pose the greatest problems for some members of our society who find natural phenomena such as breast feeding to be offensive.

Amazingly some of the nanny promotion institutions will even support this as the method of choice. Name's Dr. American Medical Association, The National School of Naturopathy and the Leche League.

Because these and many other organizations have recognized the child's need for adequate nutrition and support, breast feeding is the method I feel the desire to address this issue.

There have been times when I have witnessed a woman nursing her baby in an undisciplined setting, and I have felt that this practice is not more dignified than it has been to. Although these practices are not the best, they are still a part of life.

When I have seen a woman nursing her baby in an undisciplined setting, I have felt that this practice is not more dignified than it has been to. Although these practices are not the best, they are still a part of life.

Love, Larry

you. You may not know how to give the infant a good feed, so the mother must first find a way to hold the bottle, then feed the temperature, and finally calm the infant enough to bring it to suckle.

I find a woman with a swollen jug to be a more welcome sight in this particular situation. Generally, one never notices the child's slight discomfort, as its needs were accommodated so effectively.

Some may complain that a baby at the breast of its mother as she does in a public place is unsightly.

Generally this complaint will come from a distance for who hasn't taken the time to completely ingest the mouthful of food he has just filled in his mouth. I would much rather be in the company of a nursing child while eating, than an overbearing woman who is nursing.

At least the child has enough sense to complete his nursing before attempting to swallow. For me, nothing is more disgusting than to find a public area to see or parties of one person after having some substance, his heavily decorated apron, and his company and the time limit.

Some, that these things will seem intolerable from a child, are widely accepted public or already something to be pitied.

Another inconvenience in common complaints against nursing a baby in public is the situation of seeing someone of a woman exposed breast. The same man who complain at this setting will be caught drinking over a well-endowed woman exposing a great deal of cleavage.

I want to say that the baby at a breast covers more than the average string bikini. In this day and age where children are lured by witness the exploitation of women's breasts daily, on billboards and television, why should one feel ashamed of nursing the breast to the use for which it was intended?

The complaint that I favor most though, is the objection to the use of the word suck. Many is the time that I have had to insure the loss of my children's innocence as they are subjected to such vulgar terms as "butts," "you suck" or "suck on it."

Why should anyone who willingly uses the beautiful word "nurse" to describe the act of nursing, be considered to be inappropriate talk at a woman who says her child is sucking. I was afraid that perhaps this word was inappropriate for such use, so I took the liberty of looking it up in the dictionary.

From the American Heritage Dictionary, suck is defined in this way: 1. To draw (liquid) into the mouth by inhaling. 2. To draw or by one's by suction. 3. To suck.

So others take heart. The next time you are offended by such innocent platitudes as, "Look at that voluptuous set," "Nice tummy," or "Hey suck's," just say, "Thank you, they feed my child well," and then refer to give a demonstration, surely the male chivalrous will take greater offense to this than his word could have ever brought to you.

Health Corner

We live in a society that is becoming increasingly health conscious. A look at today's health scene is full of new products and more demand for health-related in the area of health-related prevention.

But a growing number of people are becoming more health conscious. A look at today's health scene is full of new products and more demand for health-related in the area of health-related prevention.

But a growing number of people are becoming more health conscious. A look at today's health scene is full of new products and more demand for health-related in the area of health-related prevention.

dealing the physical handicaps and chemical dependency.

Aspects of dream interpretation, effective coping skills and laughter. Timely topics such as AIDS, hypnosis and the multiple crises will be among the topics of offerings.

Plan to attend any of all of these free presentations. All Wellness Week activities are open to the public at no charge, with the exception of Wellness Week breakfast, which will cost $3.50 and requires pre-registration.

For additional information about Wellness Week and the Health Fair, write to: Health Fair, 2301, call extension 2340 or 2308 or visit the Health Service A-362.

Harbinger

William Rainey Harper College
1200 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-7908
(815) 353-3333

Editor in Chief

Managing Editor

Business Manager

Newspaper Editor

Administrative Editor

Advertising Manager

Production Manager

Printer

Subscription Manager

Postmaster

Second Class

Post Office

Permit No. 1000

Palatine, IL 60067

Copyright © 1988

Harbinger

David Rios

Paul Rios

John Rios

Robert Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

John Rios

Harbinger is a publication of the Harbinger Foundation, a non-profit organization. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the Harbinger Foundation. Advertising and subscription rates are listed on the back cover. All letters to the editor must be signed, names withheld on request. For further information call 907-9000, ext. 2400 or 2401.

Page Five

A CAMELOT HONKY IN JUDGE WAPNER'S COURT

DRAMATIS PERSONAE

PLAINTIFFS	DEFENDANTS
King Arthur Mordred	Queen (i.e., Gwenivere) Lancelot

(Open on a hemispherical Doug Lowell.)
Hello, I'm Doug Lowell, and this is the
The People's Court. Theme music begins, starting with an oval crystal bong player and developing into grave, bowel rumbling music which imparts the feeling that evaded justice is about to be dispensed.

Judge Wapner

(Picks up suit)

I know you've been sworn and I have read your complaint. (To Arthur) Sir, you allege that the defendant has caused you and the Sovereign
State of Britain mental anguish and suffering by her infidelity and subsequent departure from the throne. You're suing for $3,500. Is that right, sir?

Arthur

Yes, your honor. I'd also ask that the court order the defendant to return the crown that was loaned to her for as long as she remained queen.

Lancelot

You gave me that crown? You never said anything about giving it back?

You never said anything about running off with every knight in shining armor that looked in your direction.

Wapner

(To Mordred)

Son, are you here as a witness for your father or just for moral support?

Mordred

Why are any of us here?

Wapner

Well, I don't know about anyone else sir, but I'm here for the money.

Rusty

Yeah, me too.

Wapner

Rusty! You can speak!

Doug

I'm just here to support myself while I develop my Shakespearean repertoire. I am an actor.

Wapner

(To Mordred)

Is the defendant your mother?

Mordred

No sir. My aunt—Dar's sister—is my mother.

Wapner

That's so?

Mordred

Tell me about it.

Arthur

Excuse me your honor, there was magic involved.

Wapner

Awww, don't give me that magic crap, sir. You were probably drunk.

Gwen

He does drink a lot, your honor.

Arthur

Shut up, Gwen! I have a lot of pressure in my job.

Wapner

(To Arthur)

Sir, did you consult an attorney before coming here today?

Arthur

I spoke to Merlin.

Wapner

Is Mr. Merlin an attorney, sir?

Arthur

He's a wizard.

Wapner

A wizard at law?

Arthur

No, just a regular wizard.

Wapner

Does he have any legal training?

Arthur

He can make a powerful healing tea from herbs.

Wapner

That's not what I'm asking you, sir. Is Mr.

Arthur

Merlin an attorney?

Arthur

He can summon the spirit of the dragon.

Wapner

Please just answer the question, sir. Is Mr.

Arthur

Merlin a lawyer?

Arthur

He can see into the future.

Wapner

Watch my lips, sir. Is Mr. Merlin licensed to practice law in the State of California?

Arthur

No

Wapner

Jesus Christ! It's like pulling teeth! (To Lancelot)

What do you have to do with all this shit?

Lance

I'm engaged to the defendant and I'm here to give her moral support. I can also testify to the plaintiff's lack of moral fiber.

Arthur

Arthur

Oh yeah, you're really one to talk!

Lance

Shut up, Arthur. I don't be such a baby.

Wapner

(To Lance) You can't testify against the defendants' character unless I have reason to believe that you are of good character.

Mordred

Mordred

(A loud ratcheting sound emits from the seat of his chair.)

Wapner

Rusty

What the hell was that?

Studio

Louis-speaker.

Wapner

I think someone just had an episode of gas.

Studio

Louis-speaker.

Wapner

It came through the plaintiff's microphone Joe.

Wapner

(Points to Mordred) I think it was that twerp.

Gwen

Go sniff him Rusty!

Rusty

Say what?

Wapner

Go sniff him!

Rusty

I'm not gonna sniff the little pig.

Wapner

Go sniff him or you'll find yourself guarding

Rusty

used car lots again.

Well...

(Rusty approaches Mordred)

Arthur

Halt! In the name of all that's decent, I won't have this man sniffing my son!

Mordred

Arthur

Oh shut up father! Let the old codger sniff me if he has a mind to!

Arthur

Arthur

I'll sue you!

Mordred

I don't care to haggle.

Arthur

(Draws sword)

Sniff my son and die, you gret beeg sawn off a beak!

Wapner

Wapner

Help me Rusty! Help me! He has a sword! Shoot him, Rusty! Shoot him!

Rusty

Rusty

With what?

Wapner

Don't you have a goddam gun?

Rusty

There's no bullets in it. This is only TV.

Wapner

Well, I have a gun! (Gets tangled up in his robes.

Finally emerges with a small handgun. Aims at

Arthur

(aiming)

Mordred

Oooh... what's that?

Lance

It's a gun, father. He's going to kill you.

Lance

Hold it! You can't kill a fifth century king with a gun? It's anachronistic.

Gwen

Gwen

Oooh, Lancey! I love it when you use long words.

Lance

Lance

(To Arthur)

Gwen

Gwen likes long things.

Lance

(Squeals)

Wapner

What does amacranachonistic mean?

Lance

It means Napoleon didn't drive a jeep into battle.

Gwen

Oh. Couldn't he reach the pedals?

Mordred

(To Lance)

You're not supposed to talk about Napoleon or jeeps either, butthead.

Lance

Lance

Awww, this is stupid! How am I supposed to remember what I can and can't talk about?

Arthur

Arthur

Lance is right. You can't pluck people out of the

Lance

5th century, stick them on some stupid TV show

Lance

and expect them to remain chronologically

Lance

accurate. I can't even remember whether or not

Wapner

Caesars gets cable!

Wapner

These are the worst litigants we ever had! Bill

Producer

(The show's Producer comes out wearing heraphonemic apparatus.)

Producer

Wapner

What's the problem, Joe?

Wapner

Everything! These people can't stay in their time

Wapner

reference, the kid is slunkin' the place up, the beard has the brains of a forsythia plant—sorry,

Wapner

Wapner

forsythia plants—and the king guy keeps waving his sword around. He almost hurt Rusty!

Wapner

Wapner

Sorry Joe, it's outta my hands. This isn't a real episode.

Wapner

Wapner

What do you mean, it's not a real episode? What the hell is it?

Wapner

Producer

It's a short humor piece in a college newspaper.

Wapner

(There is a general outcry at this)

Wapner

Oh God, you mean we're not even real?

Wapner

No sir, I'm afraid not. None of us are.

Mordred

Oh, this is just great! As if the whole thing

Mordred

weren't stupid enough, now we find out we're fictional. I bet the author ruled the piece "A

Wapner

Wapner

Camelot Honky in Judge Wapner's Court" or something lame like that. The whole piece is probably just contrived to fit a cute lawsuit. I'm

Wapner

Wapner

Steel Drum Concert

William Rainey Harper College is proud to present the Harper College Steel Drum Band performance Thursday, March 17, at 12:15 p.m. in the Lounge Area of 'A' Building. A second performance will be presented on the evening of May 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium in 'J' Building.

The band, in its third consecutive year, has recently returned from St. Louis, Missouri, where they performed for opening ceremonies for Percussive Arts Society International Convention.

Under the direction of Mr. Stephen Swegart, the band in the past year has played for many civic functions such as the Taste of Palatine and the 75th Anniversary Girl Scout Parade in Chicago.

The instruments of the ten-member ensemble consist of 16 hammered 55-gallon steel barrels, which are accompanied by a drum set and a variety of percussion instruments. The music played on these drums or "pans" can range from the lively, traditional calypso and reggae music of the Caribbean Islands, to popular and classical songs.

The purpose and goal of the group is to provide students and members of the community with an opportunity to experience music of this style in an enjoyable educational atmosphere.

Economist Frank Cappiello

Economist Speaks on Economic Future

Economist Frank Cappiello will speak on the topic, "What's Ahead for the Economy," at Harper on Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Building J Theatre.

Best known in television viewers as a consulting pundit and occasional host of the weekly PBS series "Wall Street Week," Cappiello is one of the most qualified economists and financial analysts in the United States. On the nationally syndicated award-winning program, Cappiello breaks down complicated, confusing economic issues into terms that the layman can understand.

A graduate of the University of Notre Dame and Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration, his professional background in finance and economics is extensive. He is also the past Chair and current Director of the Finance, Analysis, Education, comprised of 15,000 security analysts in the U.S. and Canada and the author of two best-selling investment articles.

For ticket information call the Box Office at 397-3040 extension 2547.

Early Registration to Begin in April

Registration for the summer 1988 semester will begin with early registration in April. The following schedule includes five days and some of registration. Informational brochures distributed by the Student Development Society explaining the social academic advising program. Day information is by appointment card only. Appointments and are available beginning April 11th in the Registrar's Office at 8:00 a.m. Students are encouraged to see advisors for assistance in choosing their classes.

EARLY REGISTRATION BY APPOINTMENT CARD ONLY

April 25, 26, 27, & 28 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

NO APPOINTMENT CARD NECESSARY

April 25 & 26 8 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER AND FALL

May 9, 10, 11, 12 9 a.m. to noon
& 13 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

TICKETS & FEES MUST BE PAID BY MAY 31, 1988, OR SEATING WILL BE CANCELLED

Friends of Harper College
ANNOUNCE A NEWSPAPER DRIVE
with Prize Derby!

Special incentives for a special student who receives 10 papers, a $250.00 cash prize which also includes a trip to the Bahamas down to the beach from the Bahamas. The winner will keep the trip to the Bahamas and the prize.

What? Newspapers. Brown Baggies or this prize. Minimum: 100 papers. Secret: 1000 papers.

Where? Large Sam's Club in Northbrook, Ill. or J off Route 54, Lombard.

When? May be dropped off any time during the week or weekend.

Who? Students, staff, faculty, Friends. Anyone who wishes to help.

Thank you! P.S. We care!

LET US HELP YOU FIND THE JOB YOU WANT QUICKLY AND EFFICIENTLY

If you are a graduating student who recognize that opportunities may be lost if you are required to perform job searches unassisted call us.

Woodfield Corp. has a unique private and corporate client interchange, whereby we match job candidates to job opportunities.

If you have the credentials that our corporate client is looking for, we can work with you on a no professional fee basis. Find out more about it.

Schaumburg, Illinois
(312) 240-1500

Monday, March 28
7:30 p.m.
Building J Theatre

The Harper College Cultural Arts committee presents

JULES FEIFFER

"The most talented social commentator in cartooning in our generation," Pulitzer-Prize winning cartoonist, playwright, screenwriter and novelist

Speaking on:
Life and the Political Cartoonist

Tickets for the lecture are available in advance from the College Box Office and are $2.00 for Harper students with activity card, $3.00 students, and $4.00 general admission.

For further information call the Box Office at 397-3040 extension 2547.

Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 7

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification.
Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50; $55 each additional line.

Employment

Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES
FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-3800. Evenings and weekend appt. available. Law Offices of Becker & Becker, 800 N. Meacham, 3rd floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

WORK YOUR FREE DUES FROM SCHOOL.

Paid Holidays
 Hrs. Incentive
 Referral Bonuses
 Life Insurance

- *Recruiters
- *Typists
- *Clerks
- *Secretaries
- *WordProcessors
- *Accountants

SNELLING TEMPORARIES
 303-1113
 No Fee

Typing Service
 Students and teachers. Can and will type anything and everything. Fast and accurate work on an IBM office machine (19 yrs. exp.). Reasonable rates. Call Jen @ 398-2131.

Typing Service
 Fast accurate service. Reasonable rates. Easy reprints. Call 312-658-0240.

INCOME SERVICES
 Student Discount
 100% and Illinois 5%
 100% Sch. A/B Child
 Care, Illinois 5%
 394-1040
 Professional Tax Associates, Inc.
 121 S. Wilke - Suite 405
 Arlington Heights, IL 60005

SITUATION WANTED
 Refutable and professional secretarial service. Resumes, term papers, letters, etc. Call Diane @ 459-1485.

BE AN ANNY!
 We offer IMMEDIATE PLACEMENT in the New Jersey/New York area. Our agency's with our parents and children before you accept a position. Top salaries $150.00-$300.00 weekly. Never a fee. Yearly employment only.
NANNIES PLUS! (licensed and bonded agency) Toll Free 1-800-752-0078.

WANT A FUN AND
 easy way to earn extra money while going to college? Come spend from 3-6 p.m. as a fun responsible companion to my two great kids, ages 9 & 14. M.F. in Hoffman Estates area - 10 min. from Harper. Call Lynn @ 949-

2051 days or 400-9005 after 6 p.m. Red required.

SUMMER HELP
 Summer restaurant help wanted. The Nohley Road House Waiters. Waukegan, Wis. 557 Nohley Road Barrington, IL 60010 or Call 312-381-5091.

FREE CONSULTATION, monthly bookkeeping, Income Tax Returns, business or personal. Call for appt. Mary Alice Hess, CPA @ 529-2043.

Help Wanted
Part-time
 O'Hare area company. Shipping and Receiving/driving "C" license a plus. Flexible hrs. Evenings and weekends. Good for college students. Call Todd @ 593-1818 after 4 p.m.

For Sale

many new items. Runs great! Asking $1,595. call 399-5263

1977 OLDSMOBILE
 Must sell, excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul @ 381-2800 ext. 2801 or 885-1047.

LATE MODEL FORD
 Convertible, great cond., 70000+ mi. Will sacrifice for $2900. Call 997-3000 ext. 2236.

1980 BUICK CENTURY
 V8, 4dr, PS, PB, A.C. Dark Blue, no rust, good cond. $3000/buy. Call 898-8077 after 5:30 p.m.

1984 PONTIAC Fiero
 Silver, A.C., AM/FM, 1 spd. Garage kept, 37,000 mi. Asking $4,700 or offer. Call: 506-9947 eve

HELP WANTED

Immediate Openings

The HARBINGER is looking for GOOD writers and editors. We need people who are energetic, fun, intelligent, with good writing skills and who aren't afraid to do a little more. We don't want much.

Start now! See what you can be. Flexible hours and an opportunity to earn a reputation for yourself and a great way to meet new and interesting people and learn your way around campus at the same time.

If you are any of the above, and more, contact The Harbinger, Bldg. A367, and ask for Larry or Pearl. Start Now!

FOR RENT

Employed person seeks rm w/kitchen priv in non-smoking house. N/W subs. Ref. 498-7632.

For Sale

HOUSES FOR SALE
 Government Homes (from $100 "C" Report). Also tax delinquency property. Call 805-644-9533. Ext. 354 for info.

Queen sz Waterbed, heatless mattress, mirrored cabinet, leather chair. Asking $490.00. Non-matching mirrored dresser, chest & ottoman. $75. sales call. Call 863-8369.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA
 MRZ, Red, excellent condition. Asking $9,980. Call: 815-344-2155.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA
 Hatchback, Air cond., rear def. autom. park, steering, gear brakes, AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $1,200. Excellent cond. Call 541-8999

1977 OLDS CUTLASS
 Brougham, 2 dr., V-8, Auto., A.C., PS, PB, PW, PL, Tilt, Cruise, R-Def., AM/FM plus

YARD CLASSICAL GUITAR
 Nylon strings. Sixteen yrs. old. Asking $160. Call Mike @ 815-455-8591

Gibson SC w/ case $400. Marshall 50 watt combo $490. Korg JME 40X modular effects $90. JCD stereo Tuner $25. Gibson X bass guitar w/ case $250. Fender Telecaster 50 watt bass amp $100. Hammond Pipe organ needs work best offer. Call Larry @ 891-1271.

MISCELLANEOUS

1988 NUCLEOED
CALENDAR
 featuring color photos of nude Illinois College women. Mail $9.95 to Coed Calendar, POB 4341 DeKalb, IL 60115. 1989 Models Wanted. Earn $300.

FEMALE MODELS WANTED. EARN $300
 Pose nude or apply for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COED CALENDAR, POB 4341, DeKalb, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $9.95.

PERSONALS

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?
 I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Lar @ 255-8321.

Attention Harper students and alumni:
 Are you looking for a job? Why not step in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base, and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 397-3000, ext. 2720, or stop in at the Placement Office, A367.

Attention all interested bodies:
 The Harbinger needs you! We need writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of the latest equipment for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper.

If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext. 2461 or 2460. Or you stop by.

1987 Ford Mustang
 LX Hatchback
 Stereo Cassettes, E.C. 4x4 Stereo. AM/FM stereo. 5.9% loan plus difference. Call 537-7423 evenings.

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers' cars, boats, planes, video surplus. Your Area Buyers Guide (1) 805-687-6000 Ext. 5-1053.

MUSIC ACCESSORIES

MARTIN STEEL STRING GUITAR
 Eleven yrs. old, excellent condition. Asking $400. Call Mike @ 815-455-8591.

FENDER GEMINI CLASSICAL GUITAR
 for sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted @ 428-5137.

ENTERTAINMENT
 Entertainers needed for new entertainment booking agency. Rock/County bands, clowns, magicians, dancers, models, exerts and also acts encouraged to apply. All hrs. open, full or part-time. NO. affairs. Join our video dating service. Call Creative Video Productions @ 312-803-6666. Ask for Charlie or Rich. Or please stop by @ 1414 Milwaukee Ave. in Northbrook - Sanders Rd. at Milwaukee Ave. (Also needed: private investors).

Richard Marx Fans!
 Desperately wanted, 2 tickets for the upcoming Richard Marx concert. Please call 498-2775.

Desperately seeking Susan C.
 How are you doing? I bet you haven't guessed who I am yet. Well for one thing I'm younger than you and I know your ART Class is Noon - 2:30 p.m. I also know you're an awesome woman!! Why haven't I answered back? Well, see ya around!
 From SLICK

PATRICIA RIAN
 Efficient Representation for Student Trustee. Vote and you shall be heard March 28 & 29.

S.A. of P.B.
 We all know that your hot for B&K of the I. Signed, Hu-Hu

L.A.H.
 What's the weather like up on the high horse? Love ya babe!
 P.S. Lighten up!

WHAT?!
 The hostess is the new president of the Program Board, what's the world coming to?
 P.S. Congratulations!!
 OUCH!!!

P.S.S. Dreams Day is coming, June 1989!!!

Mike F.
 How about stopping by SOC 101 every once in a while. Do you really think I can handle those jokes by myself. Won't you please HELP US!
 Signed, Sam Kinsion

Florida-Fr. Lauderdale?
 For sale, 1 rooming air (Dieta), 1550 O.B.O. March 31-Apr. 7. Call Joe @ 705-9060.

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE ??
$145 MILLION
 IN FINANCIAL AID W/INT UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR.
 WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED
J M EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
 P.O. BOX 217
 INSPECT HEIGHTS, IL 60070
 (312) 705-8527
 WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
 ADDRESS _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
 CITY _____
 PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

Upcoming

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 8

Benefit Game

On Wednesday, April 6 at 7:30 p.m. there will be a benefit basketball game at Harper College, featuring the Chicago Bears who will oppose members of Harper's faculty and staff. Come and join the fun!

The tickets are on sale now for $5 in the Box Office, J137. All proceeds from the event will go to paralyzed Harper student Peter Soby.

Soby, an outstanding Harper student leader, academically and extracurricular, was paralyzed from his shoulders down in a driving accident last semester. The F.S. We Care Committee has been trying to raise money for his expenses. Won't you join in the fun and show a fellow student that you care at the same time?

Peter Soby

"The Game" Rules

*"The Game" will end with the March 31, 1988 issue

*Each week a photo of an object, or a particular site on campus will be published, (six photos in all)

*When you have found all six locations, fill out the entry blank and put it in the box located in A Building and J Building.

*All entries must be received no later than April 11, 1988. In event of a tie, there will be a drawing held.

*The Harbinger staff and family members of the Harbinger staff will not be able to participate.

*The winner will be announced in the Harbinger's April 14, 1988 issue.

*The answers to the locations must be specific.

LOCATION

#1
#2
#3
#4
#5
#6

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
PHONE () _____

'THE GAME'

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force Debbie Tempa

Apply Today
188 East
Tennison 188

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas. From Chemical & General Office positions to Warehouse operations and more.

Debbie Tempa. We make it happen. Short & long term temporary assignments. Call today 893-5550

Scholarships Available for Harper Students

There are many scholarships offered to Harper College students. For more information, stop into the Financial Aid Office, Room 964.

National Network of Women in Sales

The criteria for scholarship applicants is as follows: must be a woman of age or older, married, single, full or part time student, in an undergraduate or related field, with an interest in marketing and/or sales, maintained a B or better average in a business major or related field, with an interest in marketing and/or sales. Deadline date is May 1, 1988.

Students activities transfer scholarship

One $300 scholarship will be awarded to student activities to a student who has been involved in a Harper College club or organization for at least two full semesters and is transferring to another college or university fall '88 semester. The criteria considered will be academic progress, length of service in club or organization or other activities at Harper College. Deadline date is April 15, 1988.

Garden Club of Inverness Scholarship

The Inverness Garden Club will award a scholarship in the amount of $1,000 to an eighth student. In order to qualify a candidate must reside in the Harper School area (as defined in 512) and be a second year student in both literature or a similar major. Deadline date is April 30, 1988.

Speech Team

The Harper College speech team attended the region IV Speech tournament last Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19. The competition was hosted by Highland community college in Freeport, Illinois.

The Harper Team ranked 6th, and competed against such teams as: College of DuPage, Southeastern College, Rock Valley College, and Moraine Valley College.

The students representing Harper were: Andrew Bialas, Marianne Basch, Wynn Grappe, Tara Vaughn, Linda Lang, Tony Curtis, Yasmeen Mahmood, and Scott Noddi. Awards were won in four events: Linda Lang, gold in Informative Speaking, Bronze in Persuasive Speaking; Yasmeen Mahmood, bronze in Impromptu Speaking; Tara Vaughn and Scott Noddi, bronze in Dues Acting.

Allied-Signal Inc.

Chemistry scholarships are being offered to students who have completed CHM 205 at Harper College. Up to $2,000 for tuition, fees and expenses will be awarded to students enrolled at transfer institutions and majoring in chemistry or chemical engineering. A candidate must have a cumulative minimum grade point average of 3.00 (B), completed CHM 205 by June 1, 1988, enrollment in an accredited transfer institution with a major in chemistry or chemical engineering by October 1, 1988, and a submission on a two-page typed (not essay) on "My Career Plans." Deadline date is April 8, 1988.

Scholarships can also be found in the Business Division Office, room 1249.

The Donald G. Albrecht Memorial Scholarship Sponsored by Federated Foods

This pays for a full tuition (in-district rates), textbooks, and fee for the 1988-89 academic year. The scholarship is to be awarded to an outstanding student who exemplifies excellence in their academic, extra-curricular, and community service. The minimum requirements are: a declared business major, a GAP of 3.0, minimum of 24 credit hours prior to Fall 1988, eligible for graduation at the end of the 1988-89 academic year, must enroll with full-time status (minimum of 12 credit hours).

First Chicago Band-Mount Prospect Scholarship

This is a scholarship that pays full tuition (in-district rates) and fees. You must be nominated by a business instructor. Contact your instructor if interested. The minimum requirements are: full-time sophomore, business major (1988-89), a GPA of 3.2 or better, and be nominated by a faculty member.

The Borg Warner Scholarship Award for a Female Harper College Student at Barst College.

Borg Warner will pay $3,000 per year toward tuition and fees for two years to a Harper marketing student going on to student at Barst College in Lake Forest, IL. Full tuition at Barst College is approximately $9,000. The minimum requirements are: a declared marketing major, a minimum 3.25 GPA, emphasis on marketing course work, eligible for Harper graduation at the end of the 1988-89 year, a full-time status at Barst College.

Folk Musician Performs at Harper

Folk musician Fred Holstein will appear at the opening act for the Washington Squares at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, March 25 in Building M.

Holstein was the most frequent act when the Earl of Old Town opened to folk music in 1966. Since that time, he has appeared at clubs and colleges throughout the country, taught seminars on traditional American folk music, and appeared at numerous festivals.

In addition to being interpreter of traditional and contemporary folk music, he plays twelve string guitar and five string banjo.

According to Ruben Ebert of the Chicago Sun Time, Fred Holstein combines absolute authenticity in his singing with burn story teller's natural presence. By Holstein's own definition, folk songs are "songs of the people" and he has researched them thoroughly along with the history that lies behind each. A Fred Holstein performance is entertainment, history lesson and singalong rolled into one.

Coming March 28

PHAR MOR

ON CAMPUS RECRUITING

1:00 - 4:00 pm

Building A Room 347

We are looking for:

-Cashiers

-Stockers

FLEXIBLE HOURS

FREE BENEFITS

Performers on Campus

Comedian Heywood Banks introduces Harper to his out-of-the-ordinary humor. Photo by Ted Gradowski

Free Videotapes

There is life after college.

We have a new series of videotapes that provide essential information for that inevitable job search. They include help in what careers match your specific interests and skills, how to put together a resume and prepare for an interview, what are the formulas for success and how to manage your own career in a large corporation.

Stop in for a front-row seat. Videotapes available in The Career Planning Center and Placement Office. Contact Carrie Gorr in 4327.

LOYOLA SUMMER SESSIONS

(Day or evening classes) • Wide array of courses in Business, Arts, and Sciences, Education, Nursing • All summer courses applicable to regular Loyola University degrees • Classes at the Lake Shore, Water Tower, and Medical Center Campuses.

FIRST SESSION	SECOND SESSION
6 weeks beginning May 15	6 weeks beginning July 5
Registration by mail or in person MAY 15 9:00 - 12:00	Registration by mail or in person JUNE 21 10:00 - 1:00
2:00 - 6:00	3:00 - 6:00

All in-person registrations in the Georgetown Room of the Marquette Center, 820 North Rush Street, Chicago

Telephone 312/670-3011 (to complete the coupon below to receive a copy of the 1988 Bulletin of The Summer Sessions. The Bulletin includes complete course listings as well as information on how to register by mail or in person)

LOYOLA. REAL VALUES FOR YOUR MONEY.

LOYOLA UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO
605 North Michigan Avenue • Chicago, Illinois 60611

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

See solution in next week's issue

- ACROSS
- 1 Blank cloth
 - 34 Pyritic before
 - 35 Symbol for lanthanum
 - 6 Former Russian ruler
 - 8 Circuit
 - 13 Son of Adam
 - 13 Land measure
 - 14 Swiss canton
 - 15 Reveal
 - 17 Extreme
 - 18 Congested with zoids
 - 21 Flavoring herb
 - 23 Baritone
 - 24 Faeroe Islands
 - 25 Ancient
 - 26 Moroccan
 - 27 Salad ingredient
 - 29 Printer's measure
 - 31 Emmet
 - 32 Brother of Odin

- 33 Concerning
- 34 Pyritic before
- 35 Symbol for lanthanum
- 36 Anny
- 38 Quarer
- 39 Cooling device
- 40 Hammett, abor
- 41 Neuraxis
- 42 Observe
- 44 Piece for combat
- 46 Introduce
- 48 Espala
- 51 Free of
- 52 Wheel tooth
- 54 Fashi
- 55 Affirmative
- 56 Prowesses
- 57 Discove

DOWN

- 1 Flip
- 2 Arabian
- 3 Ideal
- 4 Widespread
- 5 Symbol for lanthanum
- 6 Diable
- 7 Island off Ireland
- 8 Conson
- 9 Clear
- 10 Sea of Asia
- 11 Pellet
- 16 Tensile
- 18 Unemployed
- 20 Encircling banks
- 22 Quarer
- 23 Dream of giant
- 25 Above
- 27 Smooth
- 29 Goddess of peace
- 29 God of love
- 30 ER
- 34 Iron
- 35 Frigid
- 37 Plaid cloth
- 38 Outer hood
- 41 Temporary rest
- 42 Agal
- 43 Great Leap
- 44 Agan
- 45 Japanese drama
- 47 The self
- 48 Not rightly
- 50 Crafty
- 53 Ruppert, abor

continued from page 3 upset me. However, I dismissed it as someone simply letting off steam with pen and paper.

I was surprised to find another similar letter this morning (Monday) in the Harbinger office. This week's letter was an attempt to clarify our "misunderstanding" of what you were saying in your last letter.

In this letter, you make a very valid statement. You say that anyone can be a minority in certain situations. I agree 100%.

However, when someone speaks of "minorities" in the U.S., they usually mean black and Hispanics as well as other racial and religious groups other than white Christians.

Members of these groups have been historically discriminated against by the majority of the U.S. white Christians.

As you quoted from the dictionary, one of the definitions of "minority" is "a group characterized by a sense of separate identity and awareness of status from the larger group."

Although the dictionary does not specifically cite blacks, Hispanics, orientals, or Hebrews (all of which you cited as minorities), they fit the definition of a minority which you cited from the dictionary; that is to say, members of these groups have been made to feel a "sense of separate identity and awareness of status from the larger group", whites, who have alienated them in the past.

By definition, there are fewer members of minority groups (blacks, for instance) than members of the majority group (whites).

Whitey have never been a minority in America. You and I have never experienced what it is like to be a minority in America. That was the point of Harbinger editor Pearl Henderson's rebuttal to your letter.

The same applies to the fact you stated that WHM, a "black station", is Chicago's most-listened to station. Why is this so alarming to you? Does it mean whites are prohibited from listening to it?

As for your comment, "I would bet 99% of all blacks at Harper feel me, I'm black.

What am I doing? I bet you're wrong. If blacks were sitting around feeling sorry for themselves as you think they are, they wouldn't be wasting their time, effort and money on college. I know I wouldn't.

In both of your letters you say that whites aren't "biting" even though they're "having equality". However, all you've done is "bitch" in your last two letters.

The subtlest part about your letters is that they come from a college student. College is a place which requires an open mind, something you obviously do not possess.

You must realize that this is America, not South Africa. There is no place for so-called racial superiority in this country by any group.

Unfortunately, your letters are a sad reminder that racism still exists in America today.

John Nelson
Staff Photographer

LSAT GMAT GRE MCAT

barbri
Barbri Institute for Teachers

#1
THE HIGHEST SCORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NATION

Get a free information packet. Call for a free information packet. Call for a free information packet. Call for a free information packet.

312-854-1088

Classes offered at Harper College

Features

"Is there a doctor in the house?"

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor and Alisa Chalmers
Staff writer

The Harper College Health Service is busy working on wellness programs, helping students develop good health and well-being. The Health Service provides a valuable student service by offering fairly prompt treatment free of charge.

"This treatment covers everything short of doing E.K.G.'s, X-rays and sophisticated blood tests," says Dr. L. Robert Warren, consultant to the Service. He continues, "The Service can perform blood counts, urine analyses, throat cultures and microscopic analyses of fungal and vaginal infections."

The Service is not equipped to cast broken bones or do any type of minor surgery, but does supply finger splints if needed. Says Warren, "we are not set up as an emergency room clinic. This is more for routine types of problems. If an emergency does arise, patients are sent to the emergency room of a local hospital."

Every year Dr. Warren reviews the previous year's health service policies in terms of nursing care and other services offered, making any needed changes to improve the quality of Harper's Health Service. He does the reviewing while taking time out of his own, private practice.

"Overall, Health Service handles over 90% of all walk-in patients' concerns," says Warren. A doctor is available for consulting for an hour-and-a-half per day, from Monday to Friday. However, consultations do not equal physicals. The doctors give physicals only in the cases of athletes and health education students who have already had physicals.

Although the doctors are available mostly during morning hours, they do not have set, weekly hours. If one has a health problem and needs to make an appointment with a doctor at the Service, it is best to set up an appointment through Mary Palmusack, Secretary of the Health Service, at ext. 2268.

After making an appointment with a doctor, or arriving as a "walk-in," the patient is initially seen by a nurse, who checks vital signs and determines if the patient needs to see a doctor or not.

Warren says, "The doctor may examine as many as nine patients during his one-and-one-half hour stay."

Most of the Service is free, financed by student activity fees and the Health Service's budget. Cholesterol screenings are $1 apiece and faculty and staff may see the employee physician one day a month for $4 per visit.

The Health Service staff at Harper for six years, Dr. Sukanya Reddy, at Harper for three years. Monthly Employee physician Dr. John Medved; Orthopedic surgeon Dr. Chadwick C. Prodromat, who has a special interest in sportsmedicine; Supervisor of Health Services Rosemary Murray, College Nurse (R.N.) Becky Santelet; Mary Palmusack, and three part-time R.N.s for evening and weekend duty.

Health Service is located in A-162, and is open Mon.-Thurs., 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Fri., 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and Sat., 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Photo By John McVicker

Health services perform prompt service.

Experience Excellence

Study Nursing or Medical Technology at Rush University

Make the move now! Applications being accepted for the Fall of 1988

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Nursing _____ Medical Technology _____

- earn a B.S. with a major in medical technology major if you have at least two years of academic and liberal arts foundation
- outstanding clinical and laboratory facilities
- learn from among the best in medical technology training centers at an laboratory sciences
- institutions are involved in partnerships and relations

Rush University
110 Schaeffer Springs Hall
1743 W. Harrison Street
Chicago, IL 60612
312-942-5089

In This House... If You've Seen One Ghost...
You Haven't Seen Them All.

Michael Keaton is
BEE TLEJUICE
The Name In Laughter From The Hereafter

The Coffin Company presents the Burton film "Beetlejuice" Alec Baldwin, Geena Davis, Jeffrey Jones, Catherine O'Hara, Winona Ryder and Michael Keaton in Beetlejuice, directed by Barry Eimann story by Michael McDowell & James Wilmore, screen play by Michael McDowell and Warren Skaaren produced by Michael George Egan, Wilbur and Robert Rosenthal, directed by Tim Burton

STARTS WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30TH
AT A THEATRE NEAR YOU.

Can Anyone Beat Tyson?

By Byron Blanchard
Sports Writer

There I sat, watching yet another HBO extravaganza from Mike Tyson vs. Terrence Tony Tubby Tubbs, part-time boxer, full-time fat boy.

Tubby, yet another victim of the Mike Tyson Brutality Show, did not even last two full rounds. Tubbs felt he was the canvas god, the same god which seems to be the patron of 30 Tyson opponents.

While Tyson smashed the Terrence Tubby Tons of Tony I asked myself if there is any man in professional boxing stupid enough to fight Tyson and then good enough to win. Well, I'm sure there is a person who live up to the first part, but was? The unanimous first choice is Michael Spinks. Spinks, beaten former heavyweight champion Larry Holmes twice, both on questionable 15 round decisions.

Spinks is touted as "the people's champion." What people are these? Casual fight fans, who get him mixed up with his toughest brother, former heavyweight champion Lennox Lewis?

Spinks will receive 15 million dollars for his June confrontation with Tyson. I am sure promoter Don King will make sure Spinks has all his medical bills paid after Tyson makes a house call in front of over 25,000 screaming fans in Trump Arena.

No Spinks is not the one.

The only boxer with any hope to stop Tyson is Carl "the Truth" Williams. Williams, who was robbed of the heavyweight crown four years ago in a split decision loss to Larry Holmes, is on the comeback trail.

The "C" Williams can keep Tyson at bay with a stiff right hand and at 230 pounds he can hit hard enough to start Tyson's respect. Williams can dance, jab and hook with the best of the heavyweight division.

At the very least Williams could test Tyson's jaw and heart, two things that have not been touched thus far in Mike's career.

Maybe "the Truth" can triumph over the Terrence Tubby Tony Tubbs could not.

Baseball Preview: National League East

By Kevin Goldstein
Sports Writer

Once again the NL East will prove its superiority to the West by having three (count'em, three) teams (Mets, Cardinals, and Phillies) better than anything the West has to offer.

As in 1986, the Mets will lead from start in Fiftish Atterwards, they win the World Series in five quick games from the Yankees in a subway series.

1. New York Mets: The pitching is back, the offense never went anywhere, and the Mets will dominate the division defeating St. Louis by six to eight games. The Mets will enjoy the post season awards Cy Young, Dwight Gooden, MVP, David Strawberry, Rookie of the Year, Kevin Elser.

Elser is the 23-year old phenom... who the Mets were willing to deal away three year salary Rafael Santana to make room for. A great trump card will prove that they are a dynasty.

2. St. Louis Cardinals: They lost Jack Clark. They gained Rob Hornier. Though there is an obvious drop in talent there, new pitching acquisitions, including former White Sox reliever Jose DeLeon, will make up for it. The Cardinals will once again win more than 90 games, just this time it won't be enough to win the pennant. Orvie Smith and Terry Lashburn form the best left side of the infield in baseball.

3. Philadelphia Phillies: Good team, just stuck in the same division as the Cards and Mets. Knowing that it will piss off Cub fans across the world, I'll make the following true statement: Jim Samuel is better than Ryan Sandberg. For what he lacks in glove work, Samuel more than makes up with the bat. If only they had some pitching. 4. Pittsburgh Pirates: They keep getting better, let's give them some credit.

Barry Bonds is now one of the top 10 all stars in the league. Andy Van Slyke has become the team leader.

If young pitchers like Doug Drake continue to develop, this team will be a team to contend with after the Mets collapse in the mid 1990's.

5. Montreal Expos: Can you name three Montreal Expos? Okay they have Tim Lincecum (of course), Hubbie Brooks, and... oh yeah, the Gallatrago guy. They are a bad team, but not as bad as the Cubs.

6. Chicago Cubs: Where else can they finish? After Rick Sutcliffe, they might as well have the Vienna Boys Choir fill in the rest of the rotation.

Last year, Andre Dawson hit 28 home runs, Sutcliffe won 17 games and they still finished last year.

This year, Sutcliffe will win 13, Dawson will hit 32 and the new slapper Gossage will fill in amacably for Lee Smith in last ever important game blowing situation. Don Zimmer will be gone by All-Star Break.

Sports Comic

YOU'RE INVITED!

OPEN HOUSE:
ROOSEVELT
UNIVERSITY
SUNDAY, MAR. 27
1-4 P.M.

Come to an Open House at Roosevelt University's Downtown Campus or Albert A. Robin Campus on Sunday, March 27 and learn why Roosevelt may be the place to earn your college degree or acquire additional college credits. Counselors will be available to discuss financial aid, admission requirements and career planning. Our deans and department heads can tell you about Roosevelt's many academic programs and answer your questions. No reservation is necessary. Just come and learn why Roosevelt is the university with the perfect learning environment.

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY
WELLSPRING OF SUCCESS

Downtown Campus: 430 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605 • 341-2000
Albert A. Robin Campus: 2121 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights, IL 60005 • 437-8200

Fitzsimons and Jurczak Compete At National Swim Meet

Photo By Frank Schwartz
Mina Fitzsimons (left) and Kim Jurczak.

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

Harper College swimmers Mina Fitzsimons and Kim Jurczak competed at the NCAA Nationals in Fort Pierce, Fl., March 17-19.

Fitzsimons finished fourth in the 200-meter, fifth in the 500, with a time of 5:11 and sixth in the 10-50 free, 19:54.

While I was swimming, I was pacing myself," she said. "I was trying to hold my own."

Jurczak swam the 50 in 26:56, good for fourth place. In the 100 and 100 breast stroke she finished eleventh and seventeenth, respectively.

"I was swimming the race in my head," said Jurczak. "Telling myself I had to go all out."

"To be able to go to another state and swim in competition against other people who were great was a neat experience," said Jurczak.

The swim meet was held outside, which was a disadvantage for Fitzsimons and Jurczak.

"We were in a totally different environment," said Jurczak. "We swam outdoors and we are use to swimming indoors."

The temperature was another factor. "During the day

the temperature was in the 70's, but at night (when the meets were held) it would be in the 60's."

Nationals was not only a neat experience, it was a great accomplishment as well.

Fitzsimons and Jurczak will be graduating this year. Fitzsimons will attend either the University of Wisconsin, LaCrosse or U.A. Benedictine College. She plans to continue swimming.

Jurczak will attend Illinois State University but will not be a swimming competitively.

Both girls are planning to tryout for the Prairie State Games.

Men's Track Coach Hired

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

The Athletic Department recently appointed John Johnson Head Coach of Men's Track & Field. He was hired at the beginning of March.

Coch Johnson graduated from Northern Michigan University with a health education major and physical education minor.

He had coached football, track and basketball at Megawamee High School for ten years.

He later became an assistant basketball coach at Northern Michigan's interests.

His family, wife Kathy and daughter Nichole, recently moved to the Chicago land area.

"We originally came to this area because we have family here. I also wanted to get started on a bigger area than in town," said Johnson.

Johnson had been talking to Harper's football coach about track and Harper's need for a track coach. Since he had experience as a coach he was later hired.

Photo By Frank Schwartz

Coch Johnson think his new coaching position is a big challenge.

Since Harper has a small track program, the coach feels if he can build the team up to twenty members he will have done a good job.

Tennis Team Heats Up

By Scott Gordon
Sports Editor

With only the remaining Harper tennis team heating up. The Hawks will need to play three to take an conference opponent Marquette Valley's holes at 3:00 pm.

Due to cold weather the men have been practicing inside the previous two weeks. The Hawks made good use of the building M facilities. Portable nets were wheeled into the gym allowing the team to get in some practice time.

It is fortunate to have indoor facilities," said Coach Roy Kearns.

Kearns has been coaching tennis at Harper since the program began in 1977.

Last year's team finished second in conference and third in state. Harper captured both a singles and doubles conference championships. The coach is expecting another successful season.

Kearns believes experienced veterans and talented freshmen will give Harper another promising season.

The team selected John Pitchford as team captain. "John is a very good athlete, he has leadership," commented Coach Kearns.

Pitchford, who played tennis at Monmouth College last year, said, "We should do well overall."

Returning Harper players include: 1987 conference

Photo By John McVicker

Joe Drewek practices his serve.

Adam's, Brent, Ashmore, James, Orliek and Joe Puthast.

The team will gain a few more members as soon as prospective players gain eligibility.

Most of the Hawks will participate in both singles and doubles matches this year.

Spring Sport Openers

Baseball Fri. 3/25 Lewis & Clark 1:00pm

Softball Wed. 3/23 Lake County 2:00pm

Tennis Thurs. 3/24 Marquette Valley 3:00pm

Track Sat. 3/26 Wheaton Open 1:00pm

Read about them in next weeks issue.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 24

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Presidential finalists meeting Harper community

By Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

The Presidential Search Advisory Committee (PSAC) released its list of recommended finalists for the next President of Harper College last Friday.

The list of candidates, originally numbering five, was whittled down to four with the withdrawal of Dr. Donald Harmon, the PSAC member of Teachers.

Harper's own Dr. David Williams, Vice President of Academic Affairs, Dr. Donald Wainwright, President of Orange Coast College, Dr. Terry Di-cianna, President of Palo Alto College, and Dr. Paul Thompson, President of Bellevue Community College, were the committee's choices as unranked recommendations to the Board of Trustees.

The four finalists had a hard week of appointments at Harper. The daily schedule this week included a tour of the campus, a luncheon meeting with representatives of all campus groups, a reception and open house at lunch on the cafeteria, office visits with faculty representatives, and an interview and dinner with the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Paul Thompson speaks at a meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Dr. Thompson was the first person to appear, coming to Harper on Monday. Dr. Williams had his turn at the open forum on Tuesday, and Dr. Dianna and Dr. Wainwright will be here today and tomorrow, respectively.

Police Asst. Executive Assistant to the President and member of the PSAC said that the committee's charge was to bring to the Board three to five highly qualified candidates, unranked. She added it was "very important" that the candidates be unranked to give the Board the latitude it needs to make a sound decision.

Three vie for Student Trustee

Candidates state their goals as election day nears

By Gloria Carr
Staff Writer

Three students are vying for student trustee positions on the Board of Trustees on the March 26th and March 29th elections. They are Laura Jacobsen, Patrick Ryan and Johnny Walker.

Jacobsen, a science major, says, "First of all, if elected, I would try to act as a liaison between faculty and the students, talking with other students, possibly with a suggestion box, and bring problems to the Board's attention."

"One problem, she says, looking to the Board's attention is the lack of some student parking spaces at Harper. "I'd like to see some kind of program that gives students a convenient solution," Harper says.

Jacobsen is also getting a possible break. "How Harper depends on the students, students must communicate with the faculty," Jacobsen says. "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Walker, a student in the School of Business, says, "I would like to see the Board of Trustees be more involved in the student body."

Student trustee candidates (l. to r.): Laura Jacobsen, Patrick Ryan and Johnny Walker. Photo by Frank Schaefer

Voting will be held from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in Bldg. A, at the Information Booth; D, at the 1. Computer Lab; F, at the Media Desk; and J, at the Box Office.

Inside

Linda Lang speaks out

By Kim Ostrowski

Page 2

Off Her Rocker With Our Mum

By Liz Brousseau

Page 3

Review of "Dominick and Eugene"

By Sean Colbert

Page 4

Visit Judge Wapner's Court with Sweeny

Page 5

Byron Blanchard asks "Can Anyone Beat Tyson?"

Page 11

Student turns fear of Speech class into trophies

"Mad dog" Linda Lang beams with pride at her latest victory by Kim Ostrowski Features Editor

Picture one of THE MOST dreaded courses in college for most students: Did Speech III or another public presentation course come to mind? Harper's Linda Lang, a returning student, once thought so, but soon could hardly describe her class.

"I really had to force myself to take the speech class."

Ms. Lang returned to school after taking time out for family. Now that her children are in college, she decided to give it another go. Last spring (87), and Lang discussed the possibility of the latter by joining the Harper College Speech Team. Says Lang, "I really had to think about joining for a long while. Marcia [Larenta] was so supportive that I finally joined the first tournament in the Fall semester.

So goes the saying, the rest of her story "is history," she then successfully competed in seven tournaments, starting in October and just finishing this past weekend, with Ryganolds held in Freeport. In all, Lang won 13 trophies, five alone in a tournament two weeks ago. The team will not compete in the nationals tournament.

Does Lang spend all of her waking hours practicing for her tournament competitions? Hardly. Lang's office work in District 214's Community Education program keeps her occupied as does her part-time role as a horse rider.

My coworkers are very cooperative in my Speech team activities, as are my children. Focusing herself to reenter the school scene was difficult, but Lang says that she had, and has the support of many people close to her. This support pushed her "over the hump" as she says.

Besides work and school, Lang spent time learning German in a German immersion weekend. "We couldn't speak anything but German, couldn't smoke; it was a true learning experience," recalls Lang.

The immersion weekend augmented her two years of German study here at Harper.

Lang, as evidenced by his success in competition, has gradually mastered enough chutzpah to take further speech classes, such as Dr. MacIntyre's Oral Interpretations class this semester.

Thus, there is encouragement for those students who dread taking speech. Says Lang, "they Speech Team" has nicknamed me "Mad Dog," and she fears Larenta may have "created a monster." Fear not! From a personal perspective, role models such as Lang are beneficial.

- Featuring:
- Full Machine Circuits of Vanibus & Eagle Cycles
 - Free Weights
 - Computerized Exercise Bikes
 - Cardiovascular Evaluations
 - Aerobic, Low Impact, and Exercise Classes
 - Water-Robic Classes
 - Nutritional and Personalized Workout Programs
 - Tennis Courts
 - Swimming
 - Tanning Beds
 - No Cost Airway Service
 - Fitness Assessment Test Administered By Exercise Physiologist

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

12 Month Student Special—$150

Take advantage of our super low student special. Only $150 gives you person 12 months of fitness. With a minimum five or monthly dues required. All dues for a complimentary workout.

1 Woodfield Lake Office Campus
1000 E. Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-4200

Phi Theta Kappa

by Kim Ostrowski Features Editor

The honorary fraternity of two-year colleges initiated 40 new members Tuesday. Phi Theta Kappa's chapter, co-sponsored by Professor Barbara Sney and conducts events for its members, from attending the musical "Coppertop" to playing wallyball besides offering commensurate and information exchange for its members.

Guest speaker for this second initiation of the 1987-88 school year (the first was in the Fall) was Professor of Political Science at College of Lake County Dan Ryan. Ryan spoke week and gradually realized she actually wasn't that afraid to speak in front of people.

Over the summer 1987, she and the organization of the International Administration. She Ryan pointed out the significance of the ceremony. In addition, the Phi Theta Kappa (the general acronym of the international fraternity) is today's organization. He also wanted to point out to the Phi Theta Kappa chapter that he wanted to encourage "horizontal" arguments about the various amendments that have been added to our Constitution.

The Phi Theta Kappa fraternity members were initiated because they earned a minimum G.P.A. of 3.50 and completed a minimum of 24 semester hours credit.

ATRISH WOMAN'S HEALTH CENTER

- Diet Control
- Hypertension Testing
- Prenatal Care
- Nutritional Counseling
- Nutritionally Balanced Exercise
- Nutritionally Balanced Disease Testing

CONCERNED NURSES ALL FEMALE STAFF

121 W. 322nd St.
Suite 107, Addoo
Burrton, Iowa, IA 50545
Phone 782-2619, 782-2619
CERTIFIED NURSE-OWNERS

Editorial

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 3

Letter to the Editor Reverse discrimination debate continues

Isten Pearl, honey, I really think you missed the point. I espoused more out of a managing editor than the response you gave.

For one, the letter was not addressed to you, it was to Larry but since you feel you're an authority on this since you are a minority, I will comment.

Who is to say what a minority is? You yourself, Pearl, said a minority is something you can't date or marry into you are or you're not. So what you are saying is you don't know what a minority is, so if you don't know what a minority is how can you know you are one.

Everyone is a minority when put in a certain situation for example, if a white man or woman were to walk into a church where there were all blacks or all Hispanics who would be the minority? Can you honestly say that the Black would be the minority in this instance? I don't think so.

How about a comment from you Larry?

A minority is, according to the dictionary, a group characterized by a sense of separate identity and awareness of status from a larger group of which it forms a part. This is straight from the dictionary, Pearl.

I don't see blacks, Hispanics, or whites, wherever they are there. If anyone at all this time is the minority, it is the city of Chicago as 90% black. What does that tell you your butt*?

The #1 radio station is WBBM, a Black station. How about this Pearl? Any comment? Now, whether you want to accept it or not Pearl, you told me you commented on this because you feel as though you are being mistreated because you are Black.

I would bet 70% of all blacks at Harper feel this way. "For me, I'm Black, what can I do, you don't see as being a Jew?" The more I write the more pissed off I get. So I'll leave you with one final comment.

Stop trying to fix me, fix yourself. No one is looking at you. It's like giving a speech in speech class you just get up there and you think everyone thinks you're an idiot but in reality, does when you Blacks (Hispanics etc.) walk out the front door in the morning do you think anyone is looking at you? Have a nice day!

Dear Harbinger News:

You wanted a response from me, so here it is. Normally we don't print letters that we receive, but I will treat the bottom of this column as your think tank space, and this need to be in writing. I published Harbinger News for almost 10 years, but I published Harbinger News for public consumption for the past 2 years. I think your article was a good government of Alabama.

At first I had some trouble taking matters of state. I mean, you have dealings with other lawyers for some time, and I don't think you could be reading this stuff out to me. I don't understand it in my own language, so I will write you a letter to let you know what I think.

I mean, I don't want to let you see my letter, I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter. I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter. I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter.

I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter. I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter. I don't want you to see my letter, and I don't want you to see my letter.

Each again this week we at the Harbinger were surprised to another of your anonymous letter, letting us know how threatened you feel by minorities.

Last week's letter made me angry. What began as an honest criticism that many people have of affirmative action programs quickly degenerated into a toxic attack.

As a white person, it is embarrassing to me that some whites (I'm assuming white) are still perpetrating racism. Your implications that you are speaking for whites as a whole, so that all whites feel that blacks are playing a game with them, I found personally offensive.

The most absurd part of last week's letter was your statement that there was a stip, when blacks were not treated equally that one is better.

In the past few months, racist pamphlets have been circulated around many college campuses including nearby NU.

Racial attacks have also

"Off Her Rocker" With our mom

By Lisa Thompson

Although the world is pensive of its continual growth on children, there are some who find their presence to be a bit of a burden.

I agree that certain social settings do not find children welcome. However, in most situations, children can find their presence well welcome. Unfortunately, babies tend to pose the greatest problems for some members of our society who find natural pleasure, such as breast feeding to be unpleasant.

Amazingly, some of our nation's prominent institutions will even support this as the method of choice. Namely, the American Medical Association, The National School of Naturopathy and the Evolve Institute. Because these and many other organizations have recognized the child's need for adequate nutrition and support, breast feeding is one method I feel the desire to address this issue.

They have both times when babies are stressed as a woman nursing her baby in an unobstructed room and I have felt that this is a lot more in the room could be better. Although some of our nation's prominent institutions will even support this as the method of choice, I don't think that's the best solution.

It is not surprising that many of our nation's prominent institutions will even support this as the method of choice, I don't think that's the best solution. It is not surprising that many of our nation's prominent institutions will even support this as the method of choice, I don't think that's the best solution.

I have seen a woman who has given to her child the same love. You may say to love to alleviate the tension, but in the mother's mind, first and foremost, to hear his baby, then feel the temperature, and finally calm the infant enough to bring it to suckle.

I find a woman with a "wicker rug" to be a more welcome sight in this particular situation. Generally, one never notices the child's slight discomfort, as its needs were accommodated so effectively.

Some may complain that a baby at the breast is a mother's sole focus in a public place is unhygienic.

Generally this complaint will come from a glassy-eyed type who hasn't taken the time to completely ingest the nutritional food he has just letted to his mouth. I would much rather be in the company of a nursing child while eating, than an overbearing, overbearing, overbearing.

At least the food has reached some to complete his dining before attempting to see, at least for the mother is more disgusting than to see a child in a public way to remove packages of prepackaged food from once per after having consumed some, but having declared, should it not be company and the children's.

Think that these things look seem undesirable from a child, are widely agreed, although normally unhygienic to the public.

Another phenomenon, an common complaint against nursing a baby in public, is the one, then to seeing a portion of a woman exposed breast. The same man who complains at this subtle, will be laughing at over a well-endowed woman exposing a great deal of cleavage. I mean to say that the baby at a breast covers more than the average young man. In this day and age where children are forced to witness the exploitation of women's breasts daily on billboards and television, why should one feel ashamed of putting the breast to use for what it was intended?

The complaint that I favor most though, is the objection to the use of the word 'suck.' Many is the time that I have had to mourn the loss of my children's innocence as they are subjected to such colloquial forms as 'hat hank,' 'you suck' or 'suck ----.'

Why should anyone who willings use this beautiful word so inappropriately? Well, at a woman who says her child is sucking. I was afraid that perhaps, this word was inappropriate for such use, so I took the liberty of looking it up in the dictionary.

From the American Heritage Dictionary, suck is defined in the verb 1. To draw (liquid) into the mouth by sucking. 2. To draw into or by suction. 3. To suck.

So mothers take heart. The next time you are offended by such innocuous phrasings as 'Look at that baby, she's sucking.' 'See that babe' or 'They suck,' just say, 'Thank you, they feed my child well,' and then offer to give a demonstration, surely the male shamanist pig will take greater offense as this than his word could have ever brought to you.

Health Corner

We live in a society that is becoming increasingly health conscious. A look at our best selling books testifies that there is more and more demand for what is material in the areas of health and disease prevention.

But a growing number of people are aware of disease it might be called "being that" while a healthy body, mind, and spirit.

At the 1988 annual Harbinger Wellness Week, many more than 100 people of good health will be addressed and presented with a look at healthy body, mind, and spirit.

dealing the physical handicaps and chemical dependency. Aspects of dream interpretation, effective coping skills and laughter. Timely topics such as AIDS, hypnosis and the middle class will be among the focus of offerings.

Plans is attend any of all of these fine presentations. All Wellness Week activities are open to the public at no charge, with the exception of Wellness Week breakfast, which will cost $3.50 and require pre-registration.

For additional information about Wellness Week and the Health Fair Wednesday, April 20, call extension 2341 or 2308 or visit the Health Service A362.

Harbinger

William Ramey Harper College
1240 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-7038
947-8001

Editor in Chief
Managing Editor
Business Manager
News Editor
Public Relations Editor
Production Editor
Sports Editor
Photo Editor
Layout
Campus Coordinator
Advisor

Larry Padgett
Paul Henderson
Paul Henderson
Lorraine
Randy D'Amico
Nancy Egan
Scott Beckman
Teresa Beckman
Linda Hill
Renee Hill
Linda Hill

OFFICE HARBINGER is the student publication for the Harbinger campus community. Published weekly except during fall days off from classes. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and do not necessarily reflect those of the college, its administration, faculty or student body. Advertising and copy deadlines are every Thursday and copy copy is subject to editing. All letters to the editor must be signed, names withheld on request. For further information call 397-3000, ext. 2840 or 2401.

WASHINGTON SQUARES live performance this Friday

Performing live at Harper, Friday, March 25, is the new wave folk music band "The Washington Squares."

Rolling Stone calls the "Squares" "the hippest thing shaking in New York." Manhattan magazine describes their unique sound "a rare and natural vocal interlock. The combination is as lusty and lascivious as the genre demands, without sacrificing rock 'n' roll drive."

Aside from critical acclaim, the group also has one of its track record numerous "hits" around the country, either headlining or accompanying such talents as Marshall Cymrow, Suzanne Vega, Holly Bragg, Joan Jetz, and comedian Billy Crystal.

You can see the trio Tom Goskold, Lauren Agnelli and Bruce Paskow this Friday, March 25, at 8 p.m. in M building. For more details contact the box office at 397-3900 ext. 2547.

GYPSY: a sold-out success

The Harper production of "Gypsy" opened last Friday, March 18, with a sold-out crowd in M building. The musical is about a mother's ambitions for her children to succeed in show business. The harder she pushes them towards stardom the worse her relationship with her children gets.

Unfortunately, all performances are sold out. Perhaps you can go this Wednesday or this weekend and find some guy hanging around in the corridors of M building, calling out tickets, as you walk by.

If that doesn't work out for you, you can always read next week's issue for all the facts, our review and some great photos.

Guardian Roommate Services

Our job is to find you a roommate, fast, to save you money.

Guardian, we're looking out for you.
916-8438

"Dominick & Eugene" the depressing duo A must-see for emotional masochists

by Sean Cubern
Staff Writer

If there are any doubts that Tom Hulse is an Oscar-caliber actor, his performance in "Dominick and Eugene" should put them to rest.

Hulse, better known as Peter in "Animal House", and more recently as Marvin in "Amadeus", is no less than brilliant as Dominick Luciani (call him Nickie). He plays a frantically young garbage collector who uses his meager earnings to finance a shabby walk-up apartment where he lives with his middle-class twin brother Eugene (Ray Liotta).

You see, Nickie is "slow" as a result of a fall he took as a child. Now that their parents are deceased, Nickie must rely on Eugene's leadership qualities for guidance.

These leadership qualities are being extremely taxed, however, as he is pulling 27-hour shifts at the hospital and sustaining a romance with a fellow student (played by Jamie Lee Curtis). Consequently, Nickie is not often involved in the "big bad world."

What a world it is, too! Within two hours, Nickie is captured by drug dealers, Scorsese gets run over and his best friend (an eight-year-old boy) gets killed by his abusive father.

These incidences are testimony to what is wrong with this movie. Nothing nice ever happens! Writers Alvin Sargent and Cory Blecher have conspired with director Robert M. Young to assault the audience with enough trauma to keep Eugene's patients in armchairs for weeks.

There is so much trauma in fact, that the supporting characters are too busy and/or reacting to Nickie's problems to develop their own identities.

This is particularly frustrating in the case of Ray Liotta (who plays Eugene), who was so good as the psychobically charming villain in "Something Wild". As the character whose name makes up half the film's title, he is remarkably short-changed.

Jamie Lee Curtis' presence seems completely irrelevant in this film. The just isn't room for her character. It's almost as if she was hired as a prop or for decoration on the set.

The most interesting supporting character is Nickie's fellow trash-man, Larry (played by Todd Graff). His good intentions simply pave the way for nothing but a bad influence on Nickie.

Even Nickie is bogged down by the constant stream of bad luck. Many times Hulse is forced to distort his face into new expressions to deal with each crisis.

I'd say that very few actors could have done so much with so little. Tom Hulse is definitely an actor to watch but in a better movie.

DAYTONA PRIME

• • • Featuring Daytona's Hottest Spring Break Hotels • • •

TRIP	TRAVELER	TRAVELER	TRAVELER	TRAVELER	TRAVELER
Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime
Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime	Daytona Prime

YOUR TRIP INCLUDES:

- Best Hotel - Guaranteed
- Best Location in Daytona
- Showing Distance from Everything
- Tip of the Line Luxury Coaches
- Pool Beach Parties Every Day

To Sign Up Or For More Info
CALL NICOLE @ 439-5479
REPRESENTATIVES POSITIONS AVAILABLE
EARN FREE TRIPS AND $5

Not sponsored by Harper College

A CAMELOT HONKY IN JUDGE WAPNER'S COURT

DRAMATIS PERSONAE
PLAINTIFFS DEFENDANTS
King Arthur Owen (ex. 1) Guinevere
Mordred Lancelot

(Open on a homophoned Doug Lowell's) Hello, I'm Doug Lowell and this is the The People's Court. Theme music begins, starting with an acid-crated bonger player and developing into grave-bowled rambling music which imparts the feeling that evaled justice is about to be disposed.)

Judge Wapner (Enters and sm) I know you've been sworn and I have read your complaint. (To Arthur) Sir, you allege that the defendant has caused you and the Sovereign State of Britain mental anguish and suffering by her infidelity and subsequent departure from the throne. You're suing for $1500, is that right sir?
Arthur Yes, your honor. I'd also ask that the court order the defendant to return the crown that was loaned to her for as long as she remained queen.
Lancelet Yes, your honor. You gave me that crown? You never said anything about giving it back.

Arthur You never said anything about running off with every knight in shining armor that looked in your direction.
Wapner (To Mordred) Sir, are you here as a witness for your father or just for moral support?
Mordred Why are any of us here?
Wapner Well, I don't know about anyone else sir, but I'm here for the money.

Rusty Yes, we too.
Wapner Rusty! You can speak!
Lancelet I'm just here to support myself while I develop my Shakespearean repertoire. I am an actor!
Wapner (To Mordred) Is the defendant your mother?
Mordred No sir. My aunt- Dad's sister- is my mother.
Wapner That's nice!
Mordred Tell me about it.
Arthur Excuse me your honor, there was magic involved.
Wapner Awww, don't give me that magic crap, sir. You were probably drunk.
Gwen He does think a lot, your honor.
Arthur Shut up, Gwen! I have a lot of pressure in my job.
Wapner Sir, did you consult an attorney before coming here today?
Arthur I spoke to Merlin.
Wapner Is Mr. Merlin an attorney sir?
Arthur He's a wizard.
Wapner A wizard at law?

Arthur No, just a regular wizard.
Wapner Does he have any legal training?
Arthur He can make a powerful healing tea from herbs.
Wapner That's not what I'm asking you sir, is Mr. Merlin an attorney?
Arthur He can summon the spirit of the dragon.
Wapner Please just answer the question, sir. Is Mr. Merlin a lawyer?
Arthur He can see into the future.
Wapner Watch my lips, sir. Is Mr. Merlin licensed to practice law in the state of California?
Arthur No.
Wapner Jesus Christ! It's like pulling teeth! (To Lancelot) What do you have to do with all this sir?
Lancelet I'm engaged to the defendant and I'm here to give her moral support. I can also testify to the plaintiff's lack of moral fiber.
Arthur Oh yeah, you're really one to talk!

Lancelet Shut up, Arthur. Don't be such a baby.
Wapner (To Lancelet) You can't testify against the defendant's character unless I have reason to believe that you are of good character.
Mordred (A loud rambling sound emits from the seat of his national trousers) Abhhhhhh.
Wapner What the hell was that?
Rusty I think someone just had an episode of gas.
Studio Loudspeaker It came through the plaintiff's microphone Joe.
Wapner (Points at Mordred) I think it was that swep.
Go sniff him Rusty!
Rusty Say what?
Wapner Go sniff him!

Rusty I'm not gonna sniff the little pig.
Wapner Go sniff him or you'll find yourself guarding used car lots again.
Rusty Well... okay. (Rusty approaches Mordred)
Arthur Halt! In the name of all that's decent, I won't have this man sniffing my son!
Mordred Oh shut up father! Let the old codger sniff me if he has a mind to.
Arthur I'll die first!
Mordred I don't care to haggle.
Arthur (Draws sword) Sniff my son and die, you gret beeg sawn off a peach!
Wapner Help me Rusty! Help me! He has a sword! Shoot him, Rusty! Shoot him!

Rusty With what?
Wapner Don't you have a pecklam gun?
Rusty There's no bullets in it. This is only TV.

Wapner Well, I have a gun! (Gets tangled up in his robes. Finally emerges with a small handgun. Aims at Arthur)
Arthur (Angrily) Oooh... what's that?
Mordred It's a gun, father. He's going to kill you.
Lancelet Hold it! You can't kill a fifth century king with a gun! It's anachronistic.
Gwen Oooh, Lancey! I love it when you use long words.
Lancelet Gwen likes long things.

Gwen (Sighs) What does anachronistic mean?
Lancelet It means Napoleon didn't drive a jeep into battle.
Gwen Oh, Couldn't he reach the pedals?
Mordred You're not supposed to talk about Napoleon or jeeps either, bintead.
Lancelet Awww, this is stupid! How am I supposed to remember what I can and can't talk about?
Arthur Lance is right. You can't pluck people out of the 5th century, stick them on some stupid TV show and expect them to remain chronologically accurate. I can't even remember whether or not Camelot gets cable!

Wapner These are the sweetest linguans we ever had! Bill! (The show's Producer comes out wearing headphones apparatus.)
Producer What's the problem, Joe?
Wapner Everything! These people can't stay in their time reference, the kid is stunkin' the place up, the brud has the brains of a forsythia plant- sorry, forsythia plants- and the king guy keeps waving his sword around. He almost hurt Rusty!

Producer Sorry Joe, it's outta my hands. This isn't a real episode.
Wapner What do you mean it's not a real episode? What the hell is it?
Producer It's a short humor piece in a college newspaper. (There is a general outcry at this)
Arthur On God, you mean we're not even real?
Producer No sir, I'm afraid not. None of us are.
Mordred Oh, this is just great! As if the whole thing weren't stupid enough, now we find out we're fictional. I bet the author tuled the piece "A Camelot Honky in Judge Wapner's Court" or something lame like that. The whole piece is probably just contrived to fit a cute tuse, i'm getting out of here.

Where are you going son?
Mordred Somewhere where I'm not subject to the whim of creatively barren college writer.
Arthur I don't think you'll get very far, there are only a few lines left.
Producer Not even.

Steel Drum Concert

William Rauney Harper College is proud to present the Harper College Steel Drum Band performance Thursday, March 31, at 12:15 p.m. in the Lounge Area of A Building. A second performance will be presented on the evening of May 5, at 7:30 p.m. in the auditorium in J Building.

The band, in its third consecutive year, has recently returned from St. Louis, Missouri, where they participated for opening ceremonies for the Percussive Arts Society International Convention.

Under the direction of Mr. Stephen Sweigart, the band in many civic functions such as the Taste of Palatine and the 75th Anniversary Golf Scout Parade in Chicago.

The instruments of the ensemble consist of 10 hammered 55-gallon steel barrels, which are accompanied by a drum set and a variety of percussion instruments. The music played on these drums or "pans" can range from the lively, traditional calypso and reggae music of the Caribbean Islands, to popular and semi-classical songs.

The purpose and goal of the group is to provide students and members of the community with an opportunity to experience music of this style in an enjoyable educational atmosphere.

Economist Frank Cappiello

Economist Speaks on Economic Future

Economist Frank Cappiello will speak on the topic "What's Ahead for the Economy at Harper on Tuesday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Building J Theatre.

Best known in television viewers as a continuing panelist and occasional host of the weekly PBS series "Wall Street Week", Cappiello is one of the most qualified economists and financial analysts in the United States. On the nationally syndicated, award-winning program, Cappiello breaks down complicated, confusing economic issues into terms that the layman can understand.

A graduate of the Universities of Notre Dame and Harvard University's Graduate School of Business Administration, his professional background in finance and economics is extensive. He is also the past Chair and current Director of the Financial Analysis Federation, comprised of 15,000 security analysts in the U.S. and Canada and the author of two books and numerous articles.

For ticket information call the Box Office at 397-3000, ext. 2547.

Early Registration to Begin in April

Registration for the summer, 1988, session will begin with early registration April 1. The following schedule indicates days and times for registration. Registration has been divided by the Student Development Faculty regarding Personal Academic Advising Program, Career Assessment, Pre-Appointment and Post-Appointment cards available beginning April 11:00 in the Registrar's Office at 800 Army. Students are encouraged to use counselors for assistance in choosing their classes.

EARLY REGISTRATION BY APPOINTMENT CARD ONLY

April 25, 26, 27, & 28 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

NO APPOINTMENT CARD NECESSARY

April 25 & 26 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER AND FALL

May 9, 10, 11, 12 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

ADDITIONAL FEES MUST BE PAID BY MAY 31, 1988, OR SCHEDULES WILL BE CANCELLED

Announce a NEWSPAPER DRIVE to Profr. Joby Jr.

Special fundraiser for a special occasion. We're looking for a special newspaper drive which includes donations from the community. We'll be dropping off the drive on May 12th. Please help us help Joby Jr. make his medical expenses.

- What: Newspapers - Brown Waxed or Pink please.
- Where: Large Room, First or Third Floor, Lot # 3 off Benefit St. Entrance
- When: May be dropped off any time during the week or weekend.
- Who: Student Staff, Faculty, Friends. Anyone who wishes to help. Thank you! P.S. We care!

LET US HELP YOU FIND THE JOB YOU WANT QUICKLY AND EFFICIENTLY

If you are a graduating student who recognize that opportunities may be lost if you are required to perform job searches unassisted call us.

Woodfield Corp. has a unique private and corporate client interchange, whereby we match job candidates to job opportunities.

If you have the credentials that our corporate client is looking for, we can work with you on a no professional fee basis. Find out more about it.

Schaumburg, Illinois
(312) 240-1500

Monday, March 28
7:30 p.m.
Building J Theatre

Tickets for the lecture are available in advance from the College box Office and are $2.00 for Harper students with activity card, $3.00 for students, and $4.00 general admission.

For further information call the Box Office at 397-3000 extension 2547

The Harper College Cultural Arts committee presents

JULES FEIFFER

"The most talented social commentator in cartooning in our generation."
Pulitzer-Prize winning cartoonist, playwright, screenwriter and novelist

Speaking on:
Life and the Political Cartoonist

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classifieds

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 7

Classified Ad Rates

2051 days or 400-9005 after 6 p.m. Ref. required.

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification.

Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50, $3.50 per line additional time.

Employment

Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES

FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-9840. Even and weekend apps. available. Law Office of Becker & Becker, 600 N. Meacham, 3rd floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

WORK YOUR FREE DAYS FROM SCHOOL

Paid Holidays
Hrs. Incentive
Referral Bonuses
Life Insurance

*Receptionists
*Typists
*Clerks
*Secretaries
*WordProcessors
*Accountants

SMELLING TEMPORARIES

303-1115
No Fee

TYPING SERVICE

Students and teachers: Can and will type anything and everything. Fast and accurate work on an IBM office machine (19 yrs. exp.). Reasonable rates. Call Jim @ 398-2313.

TYPING SERVICE

Fast accurate service. Reasonable rates. Early revisions. Call: 312-658-0260.

INCOME SERVICES

Student Discount
[H&M and Illinois $30]
1080, Sub. A.B., Child
Care, Illinois $60
394-[H&M]
Professional Tax Associates Inc.
121 S. Wilke - Suite 610
Arlington Heights, IL 60005

SITUATION WANTED

Reliable and professional secretarial services. Resumes, form papers, letters, etc. Call Diane @ 450-1485.

BE A NANNY!

We offer IMMEDIATE PLACEMENT in the New Jersey/New York area. Our agency's with our parents and children before you accept a position. Top salaries $150.00-$300.00 weekly. Never a fee. Visibly employment only.

NANNIES PLUS (licensed and bonded agency). Toll Free 1-800-752-0078.

WANT A FUN AND

easy way to earn extra money while going to college? Come spend from 3-6 pm. as a fun, responsible companion to my two great kids, ages 9 & 14. M-F in Hoffman Estates area. 10 min. from Harper. Call Lynn @ 946-

2051 days or 400-9005 after 6 p.m. Ref. required.

SUMMER HELP

Summer insurance help wanted. The Kelsey Road House Waitresses, Waitresses, Housekeepers
Wentz, 152 Kelsey Road, Barrington, IL 60010 or Call 112-3015-8091

FREE CONSULTATION

monthly bookkeeping, Income Tax Returns, business or personal. Call for apps. Mary Alice Hess, CPA @ 529-2043

Help Wanted

OTIare area company Shipping and Receiving/driving "C" license a plus. Flexible hrs. Evenings and wknds. Good for college students. Call Todd @ 393-1818 after 4 p.m.

For Sale

many new items - Rum great Asking $1,595. call: 359-3263

1977 OLDS REGENCY

Must sell, excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul @ 181-2400 ext. 2881 or 355-1942

LATE MODEL FIAT

Convertible - excel. cond. 70,000+ mi. Will sacrifice for $200. Call: 187-3000 ext. 2236

1987 BUICK CENTURY

V8, A/C, PS, PB, A/C. Dark Blue, no rust, good cond. $1000 below. Call: 934-9607 after 5:30 p.m.

1984 PONTIAC Fiero

Silver, A/C, AM-FM, 4 spd. Garage kept, 17,000 mi. Asking $4,700 or offer. Call: 506-9847 etc.

HELP WANTED

Immediate Openings

The HARBINGER is looking for GOOD writers and editors. We need people who are energetic, fun, intelligent, with good writing skills and who aren't afraid to do a little more. We don't want much.

Start now! See what you can be. Flexible hours and an opportunity to earn a reputation for yourself and a great way to meet new and interesting people and learn your way around campus at the same time.

If you are any of the above, and more, contact The Harbinger, Bldg. A307, and ask for Larry or Pearl Start Now!

FOR RENT

Employed person seeks rm w/kitchen priv. in non-smoking house. N-W subs. Ref. 493-7612

For Sale

HOME'S FOR SALE
Government Homes from $1,000.
"E" Repair. Also tax delinquency property. Call 805-644-9333. Ext. 354 for info.

Queen sz. Waterbed, flutoniteless mattress, mirrored head, leather guards. Asking $450.00. Non-smoking mirrored dresser, chest & nightstand. $75 takes all. Call 683-8389.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA MR2. Red, excellent condition. Asking $9,500. Call: 815-344-2155

1982 OLDS FIERZA

Hatchback, Air cond., rear def., auto., pow. steering, powerbrakes, AM/FM stereo, 60,000 mi. Asking $5,200. Excellent cond., no rust. Call: 561-8999

1977 OLDS CUTLASS

Brougham, 2 dr., V-8, Auto., A/C, PS, PB, PW, PL, Tilt, Cruise, R-Def., AM/FM plus

YARICLASSICAL GUITAR

Nylon strings. Sixteen yrs old. Asking $160. Call Mike @ 815-455-6580.

Gibson SC w/ case $400. Marshall 50 watt combo $400. Korg PM6 40x modular effects $90. DOD stereo flanger $20. Reby-Therex 4 bass guitar w/ case $250. Fender squireback 90 watt bass amp $100. Hammond Paper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry @ 893-1271

MISCELLANEOUS

1988 NUDE COED CALENDAR

Featuring color photos of nude Illinois College women. Mail $9.95 to Coed Calendar, POB 6341 DeKalb, IL 60115. 1989 Models Wanted. Earn $300.

FEMALE MODELS WANTED. EARN $300

Post nude or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to: COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, DeKalb, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $9.95.

PERSONALS

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs of experience. For more information please call Lar @ 255-8321

Attention Harper students and alumni:

Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 397-3000 ext. 2720 or stop in at the Placement Office, A347.

Attention all interested bodies:

The Harbinger needs YOU! We need writers, editors and dollar and people. The Harbinger has all of the latest exposures for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper. If interested contact Larry or Pearl at call: 2601 or 2640. Or just stop by.

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainers, looking for new entertainment booked agency and recording studio. Rock/Country bands, clowns, magicians, dancers, models, escorts and solo acts encouraged to apply. All hrs. open, full or part time. M-F, all races (Join our video during services). Call Creative Video Productions @ 112-803-6666. Ask for Charlie or Rich. Or please stop by @ 3414 Milwaukee Ave. in Northbrook - Sanders Rd. at Milwaukee Ave. (Also needed: private investors).

Richard Marx Fans!

Desperately wanted, 2 tickets for the upcoming Richard Marx concert. Please call 498-2715.

Desperately seeking Susan C

How are you doing? I bet you haven't guessed who I am yet! Well for one thing I'm younger than you and I know your ART Class is Noco - 2:30 p.m.! I also know you're an awesome woman!! Why haven't you answered back? Well, see ya around! From SLICK

PATRICK RYAN

Efficient Representation for Student Trustees. Vote and ye shall be heard March 28 & 29.

S.K. of P.R.

We all know that your hot for B.K. of the H. Signed, Ho-Ha

L.A.B.

What's the weather like up on the high horse? Love ya babe! P.S. Lighten up!

WHAT?!

The beauser is the new president of the Program Board, what's the world coming to? P.S. Congratulations!! OUCH!!

P.S.S. Doooms Day is coming.

June 19th!!!

Mike F.

How about shopping by COM 101 every once in a while. Do you really think I can handle those picks by myself. Won't you please HELP US!! Signed, Sam Kuson

Jordan-Fr. Leadership!

For sale, 1 roundtrip air (Delta), $190 O.B.O. March 31-Apr. 7. Call Joe @ 705-5880.

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE ??

$145 MILLION

IN FINANCIAL AID WENT UNCLAIMED

LAST YEAR

WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED

J.M. EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

P.O. BOX 217

PROSPECT HEIGHTS, IL 60070

(312) 705-0527

WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____

PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

Upcoming

The Harbinger March 24, 1988

Page 8

Benefit Game

On Wednesday, April 6 at 7:00 p.m. there will be a benefit basketball game at Harper College, featuring the Chicago Bears who will expose members of Harper's faculty and staff. Come and join the fun!

The tickets are on sale now for $5 in the Box Office, J137. All proceeds from the event will go to paralyzed Harper student Peter Soby.

Soby, an outstanding Harper student both academically and extracurricular, was paralyzed from his shoulders down in a diving accident last semester. The P. S. We Care Committee has been trying to raise money for his expenses. Won't you join in the fun and show a fellow student that you care at the same time?

Peter Soby

"The Game" Rules

*"The Game" will end with the March 31, 1988 issue

*Each week a photo of an object, or a particular site on campus will be published (six photos in all)

*When you have found all six locations, fill out the entry blank and put it in the box located in A Building and J Building.

*All entries must be received no later than April 11, 1988. In event of a tie, there will be a drawing held.

*The Harbinger staff and family members of the Harbinger staff will not be able to participate.

*The winner will be announced in the Harbinger's April 14, 1988 issue.

*The answers to the locations must be specific.

LOCATION

- #1
- #2
- #3
- #4
- #5
- #6

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

PHONE () _____

'THE GAME'

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force DebbieTempo

Apply Today
$65 Exam
Tomorrow $55

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas. Free Classes & General Office positions to Warehouse operations and more.

Debbie Tempo. We make it happen. Short & long term temporary assignments. Call today! 813-5510

Scholarships Available for Harper Students

There are many scholarships offered to Harper College students, for more information stop into the Financial Aid Office, Room 364.

National Network of Women in Sales

The criteria for scholarship applicants is as follows: must be a woman of age or older, married, single, full or part time student, in an undergraduate or related field, with an interest in marketing and/or sales; maintained a B or better average in a business major or related field, with an interest in marketing and/or sales.

Deadline date is May 1, 1988.

Students activities transfer scholarship

One $300 scholarship will be awarded by student activities to a student who has been involved in a Harper College club or organization for at least two full semesters and is transferring to another college or university fall 1988 semester. The criteria considered will be academic progress, length of service in club or organization or other activities at Harper College.

Deadline date is April 15, 1988.

Garden Club of Inverness Scholarship

The Inverness Garden Club will award a scholarship in the amount of $1,000 to an eighth student. In order to qualify a candidate must reside in the Harper School area, tax districts 1 & 512 and be a second year student in horticulture or a similar major.

Deadline date is April 30, 1988.

Speech Team

The Harper College speech team attended the region IV Speech tournament last Friday and Saturday, March 18 and 19. The competition was hosted by Highland community college in Freeport, Illinois.

The Harper Team ranked 6th, and competed against such teams as: College of DuPage, Southeastern College, Rock Valley College, and Moraine Valley College.

The students representing Harper were: Andrew Baltas, Marianne Basch, Lynn Grippe, Tara Vaughn, Linda Lang, Tony Cortas, Yvonne Mahmood, and Scott Neidl. Awards were won in four events: Linda Lang, gold in Informative Speaking; Brooke in Persuasive Speaking; Yvonne Mahmood, bronze in Impromptu Speaking; Tara Vaughn and Scott Neidl, bronze in Duet Acting.

Alfred-Signal Inc.

Chemistry scholarships are being offered to students who have completed CHM 205 at Harper College. Up to $2,000 for tuition, text and expenses will be awarded to students enrolled at transfer institutions and majoring in chemistry or chemical engineering. A candidate must have a cumulative minimum grade point average of 3.00 (B); completed CHM 205 by June 1, 1988; enrollment in an accredited transfer institution with a major in chemistry or chemical engineering by October 1, 1988; and a submission on a one-page typewritten essay on "My Career Plans".

Deadline date is April 8, 1988.

Scholarships can also be found in the Business Division Office, room 1249.

The Donald G. Albrecht Memorial Scholarship Sponsored by Federated Foods

This pays for a full-tuition (in-district rates), textbooks, and fee for the 1988-89 academic year. The scholarship is to be awarded to an outstanding student who exemplifies excellence in their academic, extra-curricular, and community service. The minimum requirements are: a declared business major; a GAP of 3.0; minimum of 24 credit hours prior to fall 1988, eligible for graduation at the end of the 1988-89 academic year; must enroll with full-time status (minimum of 12 credit hours).

First Chicago Band Alumni Prospect Business Scholarship

This is scholarship that pays full-tuition (in-district rates and fees). You must be nominated by a business instructor. Contact your instructor if interested. The minimum requirements are full-time sophomore business major (1988-89); a GPA of 3.2 or better, and be nominated by a faculty member.

The Borg Warner Scholarship Award for a Female Harper College Student at Barat College

Borg Warner will pay $3,000 per year toward tuition and fees for two years to a Harper marketing student going on to student at Barat College in Lake Forest, Ill. (Full-tuition at Barat College is approximately $9,000). The minimum requirements are a declared marketing major, a minimum 3.25 GPA, emphasis on marketing course work, eligible for Harper graduation at the end of the 1988-89 year, a full-time status at Barat College.

Folk Musician Performs at Harper

Folk musician Fred Holstein will appear at the opening act for the Washington Squares at 8:00 p.m. on Friday, March 25 in Building M.

Hiliteles was the most frequent act when the East of Old Town opened to folk music, in 1966. Since that time, he has appeared at clubs and colleges throughout the country, taught seminars on traditional American folk music, and appeared at numerous festivals.

In addition to being interpreter of traditional and contemporary folk music, he plays twelve string guitar and five string banjo.

According to Robert Ebert of the Chicago Sun Time, "Fred Holstein combines absolute authenticity in his singing with born story teller's natural presence." By Holstein's own definition, folk songs are "songs of the people, and he has retained them thoroughly along with the history that lies behind each." A Fred Holstein performance is entertainment, history lesson and singing rolled into one.

1988-89; a GPA of 3.2 or

Coming March 28

PHARMOR

ON CAMPUS RECRUITING

1:00 - 4:00 pm

Building A Room 347

We are looking for:

- Cashiers
- Stockers

FLEXIBLE HOURS

FREE BENEFITS

- ACROSS
- 1 Blank cloth
 - 2 Fairouz
 - 3 Pioneer Russian ruler
 - 4 Cruise
 - 12 Son of Adam
 - 13 Land measure
 - 14 Swiss canon
 - 15 Newswall
 - 17 Extreme
 - 19 Competed with used
 - 21 Flavoring herb
 - 22 Barnyard
 - 24 Fairouz islands
 - 25 Ancient
 - 26 Moroccan
 - 27 Salted ingredient
 - 29 Printer's measure
 - 31 Emmet
 - 32 Brother of Odin

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12
13	14	15	16	17	18	19	20	21	22	23	24
25	26	27	28	29	30	31	32	33	34	35	36
37	38	39	40	41	42	43	44	45	46	47	48
49	50	51	52	53	54	55	56	57	58	59	60
61	62	63	64	65	66	67	68	69	70	71	72
73	74	75	76	77	78	79	80	81	82	83	84
85	86	87	88	89	90	91	92	93	94	95	96
97	98	99	100	101	102	103	104	105	106	107	108
109	110	111	112	113	114	115	116	117	118	119	120

(Copyright 1988 by J. W. Crisp)

- 33 Concerning
- 34 Phras below
- 35 Symbol for lithium
- 36 Annoy
- 38 Quaint
- 39 Cooling device
- 40 Namesake abstr
- 41 Nonsense
- 42 Observes
- 44 Paces for
- 46 In-cubate
- 48 Escape
- 51 Free of
- 52 Wheel tooth
- 54 Farsen
- 55 Affirmative
- 56 Possessive
- 57 Discover

- DOWN
- 1 Flap
 - 2 Arabian
 - 3 verb
 - 4 Wisconsin
 - 5 Symbol for tantalum
 - 6 Dumb
 - 7 Island off Iceland
 - 8 Criminal
 - 9 Chair
 - 10 Sea in Asia
 - 11 Pallet
 - 12 Transformers
 - 13 Unemployed
 - 20 Encouraging words
 - 22 Quaver
 - 23 Sheet of glass
 - 25 Kettle
 - 27 Smooth
 - 28 Goodness of peace
 - 29 Good of love
 - 30 ER
 - 34 Free hickory
 - 37 First coat
 - 38 Give food to
 - 41 Temporary rest
 - 42 Apple
 - 43 Green Leap
 - 44 Japan
 - 45 Japanese drama
 - 47 The self
 - 48 Not right
 - 50 Crafty
 - 53 Supplies abstr

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

See solution in next week's issue

Performers on Campus

Comedian Heywood Banks introduces Harper to his out-of-the-ordinary humor. Photo by Ted Gradstein

Free Videotapes

There is life after college.

We have a new series of videotapes that provide essential information for that inevitable job search. They include help in what careers match your specific interests and skills, how to put together a resume and prepare for an interview, what are the formulas for success and how to manage your own career in a large corporation.

Stop in for a front-row seat.

Videotapes available in The Career Planning Center and Placement Office. Contact Carrie Gorr in A347.

continued from page 3 upset me. However, I dismissed it as someone simply letting off steam with pen and paper.

I was surprised to find another similar letter that morning (Monday) in the Harbinger office. This week's letter was an attempt to clarify our "misunderstanding" of what you were saying in your last letter.

In this letter, you make a very valid statement. You say that anyone can be a minority in certain situations. I agree 100%.

However, when someone speaks of "minorities" in the U.S., they usually mean blacks and Hispanics as well as other racial and religious groups other than white Christians.

Members of these groups have been historically discriminated against by the majority of the U.S., white Christians.

As you quoted from the dictionary, one of the definitions of "minority" is "a group characterized by a sense of separate identity and an awareness of status from the larger group."

Although the dictionary does not specifically cite blacks, Hispanics, women, or lesbians (all of which you cited as minorities), they fit the definition of a minority which you cited from the dictionary, that is to say, members of these groups have been made to feel a "sense of separate identity and awareness of stature from the larger group," whites, who have alienated them as the past.

By definition, there are (fewer) members of minority groups (blacks, for instance) than members of the majority group (whites).

Whites have never been a minority in America. You and I have never experienced what it is like to be a minority in America. That was the point of Harbinger editor Pearl Henderson's rebuttal in your letter.

The same applies to the fact you stated that WIMX, a "black station," is Chicago's most-listened-to station. Why is this alarming to you? Does it mean whites are prohibited from listening to it?

As for your comment, "I would bet 70% of all blacks at Harper feel just the way I do. . . . I bet you're wrong. If blacks were sitting around feeling sorry for themselves as you think they are, they wouldn't be wasting their time, effort and money on college.

In both of your letters you say that whites aren't "bitching" even though they're "losing equality." However, all you've done is "bitch" in your last two letters.

The saddest part about your letters is that they come from a college student. College is a place which requires an open mind, something you obviously do not possess.

You must realize that this is America, not South Africa. There is no place for so-called racial superiority in this country by any group.

Unfortunately your letters are a sad reminder that racism still exists in America today.

John Tipton
Staff Photographer

LSAT GMAT

barbri

#1 THE HIGHEST SCORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NATION

Call for a free information package to help you choose the best preparation course for your LSAT or GMAT.

(312) 855-1088

GRE MCAT

Classes offered at Harper College

LOYOLA SUMMER SESSIONS

Day or evening classes • Wide array of courses in Business, Arts, and Sciences, Education, Nursing • All summer courses appropriate for regular Loyola University students • Classes at the Lake Shore, Water Tower, and Medical Center Campuses

FIRST SESSION 4 weeks beginning May 23 Registration by mail or in person: MAIL IS 9:00 - 5:00 2:00 - 5:00	SECOND SESSION 16 weeks beginning July 5 Registration by mail or in person: JUNE 21 10:00 - 1:00 3:00 - 6:00
-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

All in-person registrations in the Georgetown Room of the Marquette Center, 820 North Rush Street, Chicago

Inquiries: 312/670-2011 or complete the coupon below to receive a copy of the 1988 Bulletin of The Summer Sessions. The Bulletin includes complete course listings as well as information on how to register by mail or in person.

LOYOLA. REAL VALUES FOR YOUR MONEY.

L LOYOLA UNIVERSITY OF CHICAGO

1100 North Dearborn Street, Chicago, IL 60642

Features

"Is there a doctor in the house?"

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor and
Alisa Chahine
Staff writer

The Harper College Health Service is busy working on wellness programs, helping students develop good health and well-being. The Health Service provides a valuable student service by offering forty prompt treatment free of charge.

"This treatment covers everything short of doing E.K.G.'s, X-rays and sophisticated blood tests," says Dr. L. Robert Warren, consultant to the Service. He comments, "The Service can perform blood counts, urine analyses, throat cultures and microscopic analyses of fungal and vaginal infections."

The Service is not equipped to cast broken bones or do any types of minor surgery, but does supply finger splints if needed. Says Warren, "we are not set up as an emergency room clinic. This is more for routine types of problems. If an emergency does arise, patients are sent to the emergency room of a local hospital."

Every year Dr. Warren reviews the previous year's health service policies in terms of nursing care and other services offered, making any needed changes to improve the quality of Harper's Health Service. He does the reviewing while taking time out of his own private practice.

"Overall, Health Service handles over 90% of all walk-in patients concerns," says Warren.

A doctor is available for consulting for an hour-and-a-half per day, from Monday to Friday. However, consultations do not equal physicals. The doctors give physicals only in the cases of athletes and health education students, who have already had physicals.

Although the doctors are available mostly during morning hours, they do not have set, weekly hours. If one has a health problem and needs to make an appointment with a doctor at the Service, it is best to set up an appointment through Mary Polinaszek, Secretary of the Health Service, at ext. 2368.

After making an appointment with a doctor, if arriving as a "walk-in," the potential patient is initially seen by a nurse, who checks vital signs and determines if the patient needs to see a doctor or not.

Warren says, "The doctor may examine as many as nine patients during his one-and-one-half-hour stay."

Most of the Service is free, financed by student activity fees

and the Health Service's budget. Cholesterol screenings are $1 apiece and faculty and staff may see the employee physician one day a month for $5 per visit.

The Health Service staff includes: Consultant Dr. Warren, at Harper for six years; Dr. Sukanya Reddy, at Harper for three years; Monthly Employee physician Dr. John Medved; Orthopedic surgeon Dr. Chadwick C. Prodomas, who has a special interest in sportsmedicine; Supervisor of Health Services, Rosemary Murray; College Nurse (R.N.) Becky Sauteler; Mary Polinaszek, and three part-time RN's for evening and weekend duty.

The Health Service is located on A-362, and is open Mon.-Thurs., 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m., Fri., 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and Sat., 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Photo By John McVicker

Health services perform prompt service

Experience Excellence
Study Nursing or Medical Technology at Rush University

- earn a B.S. with a nursing or medical technology major if you have at least two years of academic and liberal arts foundation
- outstanding clinical and laboratory facilities
- lower than average tuition and expenses plus during clinical and laboratory courses
- instructions are provided on practicum sites and facilities

Apply today to the program:
111 North Dearborn Street, Room 111
Rush University
Chicago, IL 60612

Rush University
119 Schweppes-Sprague Hall
1725 W. Harrison Street
Chicago, IL 60612
312-942-5039

Make the move now!
Applications being accepted for the Fall of 1988

Name _____
Address _____
City _____ State _____ Zip _____
Telephone _____
Medical Technology 10

In This House... If You've Seen One Ghost...
You Haven't Seen Them All.

Michael Keaton is
BEETLEJUICE
The Name In Laughter From The Hereafter

The Gelfin Company presents the Burton film "Beetlejuice" Alre Babbin, Geena Davis, Jeffrey Tambor, Christine Olsen, Winona Ryder and Michael Keaton in Beetlejuice with Barry Eimann
Story by Michael McDowell, by Larry Wilson, screenplay by Michael McDowell and Warren Sklar
Produced by Michael Ruscio, Larry Wilson and Robert Rosenthal. Directed by Tim Burton

STARTS WEDNESDAY, MARCH 30TH
AT A THEATRE NEAR YOU.

Can Anyone Beat Tyson?

By Byron Blanchard
Sports Writer

There I sat, watching yet another HBO extravaganza from Mike Tyson vs. Terrible Tony Tubby Tubby, part-time boxer, full-time fat boy.

Tubby, yet another victim of the Mike Tyson Brutality Show, didn't even last two full rounds. Tubby fell to kiss the canvas get the same good which seems to be the patron of 30-Tyson opponents.

While Tyson smashed the Terrible Tubby Tons of Tony I asked myself if there is any man in professional boxing stupid enough to fight Tyson and then good enough to win. Well, I'm sure there is a platoon who live up to the first part, but not

The unanimous first choice is Michael Spinks. Spinks, bested former heavyweight champion Larry Holmes twice, both on questionable 15 round decisions.

Spinks is listed as "the people's champion." What people are these? Casual fight fans, who get him mixed up with his toothless brother, former heavyweight champion Leon.

Spinks will receive 15 million dollars for his June confrontation with Tyson. I am sure promoter Don King will make sure Spinks has all his medical bills paid after Tyson makes a house call in front of 25,000 screaming fans in Trump Arena.

No Spinks is not the one.

The only boxer with any hope to stop Tyson is Carl "the Truth" Williams. Williams, who was robbed of the heavy weight crown four years ago in a split-decision loss to Larry Holmes, is on the comeback trail.

The 6'3" Williams can keep Tyson at bay with a stiff right hand and at 230 pounds he can hit hard enough to earn Tyson's respect. Williams can dance, jab and hook with the best of the heavyweight division.

At the very least Williams could test Tyson's jaw and heart, two things that have not been touched thus far in Iron Mike's career.

Maybe "the Truth" can triumph where the Terrible Tacky Tony Tubby could not.

Baseball Preview: National League East

By Kevin Goldstein
Sports Writer

Once again the NL East will prove its superiority to the West by having three (count 'em, three) teams (Mets, Cardinals, and Phillies) better than anything the West has to offer.

As in 1986, the Mets will lead from start to finish. Afterwards, they win the World Series in five quick games from the Yankees in a subway series.

1. New York Mets. The pitching is back, the offense never wins anywhere, and the Mets will dominate the division, defeating St. Louis by six to eight games. The Mets will sweep the post season awards: Cy Young, Dwight Gooden, MVP, Darrel Stegert, Rookie of the Year, Kevin Elster.

Elster is the 23-year old phenom who the Mets were willing to deal away three year sooner. Rafael Santana is making room for A great team, who will prove that they are a dynasty.

2. St. Louis Cardinals. They lost Jack Clark. They gained Bob Horner. Though there is an obvious drop in talent there, new pitching acquisitions, including former White Sox reliever Jose DeLeon, will make up for it.

The Cardinals will once again win more than 90 games, just this time it won't be enough to win the pennant. Dave Smith and Terry Pendleton form the best left side of the infield in baseball.

3. Pittsburgh Pirates. Fixed teeth, lost socks in the same division as the Cards and Mets. Knowing that it will pass off Cub fans across the world. I'll make the following one statement: Jean Samuel is better than Ryan Sandberg. For what he lacks in glove work, Samuel more than makes up with the bat. If only they had some pitcher.

4. Pittsburgh Pirates. They keep getting better, let's give them some credit.

Barry Bonds is now one of the top lead-off men in the league. Andy Van Slyke has become the team leader.

If young pitchers like Doug Drabek continue to develop, this team will be a team to contend with after the Mets collapse in the mid 1990's.

5. Montreal Expos. Can you name three Montreal Expos? Okay, they have Tim Lincecum (of course), Habbee Brooks, and... and... oh yeah, the Gallatinus guy. They are a bad team, but not as bad as the Cubs.

6. Chicago Cubs. Where else can they finish? After Rick Sutcliffe, they might as well have the Vienna Boys Choir fill in the rest of the rotation.

Last year, Andre Dawson hit 49 home runs, Sutcliffe won 17 games and they still finished last year.

This year, Sutcliffe will win 13, Dawson will hit 32 and the new sapper Goose Gosage will fill in amply for Lee Smith in the ever important game blowing situation. Don Zimmer will be gone by All-Star Break.

Sports Comic

YOU'RE INVITED!

OPEN HOUSE:
ROOSEVELT
UNIVERSITY
SUNDAY, MAR. 27
1-4 P.M.

Come to an Open House at Roosevelt University's Downtown Campus or Albert A. Robin Campus on Sunday, March 27 and learn why Roosevelt may be the place to earn your college degree or acquire additional college credits. Counselors will be available to discuss financial aid, admission requirements and career planning. Our deans and department heads can tell you about Roosevelt's many academic programs and answer your questions. No reservation is necessary. Just come and learn why Roosevelt is the university with the perfect learning environment.

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY
WELLSPRING OF SUCCESS

Downtown Campus: 430 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605 • 341-2000
Albert A. Robin Campus: 2121 S. Goebbert Road, Arlington Heights, IL 60005 • 437-9200

Fitzsimons and Jurczak Compete At National Swim Meet

Mina Fitzsimons (left) and Kim Jurczak.

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

Harper College swimmers Mina Fitzsimons and Kim Jurczak competed at the NCAA National in Fort Pierce, FL, March 17-19.

Fitzsimons finished fourth in the 200-meter, fifteenth in the 500, with a time of 5:13 and tenth in the 1650 free, 19:54.

While I was swimming, I was picking myself," she said. "I was trying to hold my own."

Jurczak swam the 50 in 29:56, good for fourteenth place. In the 100 and 100 breast stroke she finished eleventh and seventeenth, respectively. "I was swimming the race in my head," said Jurczak. "Telling myself I had to go all out."

"To be able to go to another state and swim in competition against other people, who were great, was a real experience," said Jurczak.

The swim meet was held outside, which was a disadvantage for Fitzsimons and Jurczak.

"We were in a totally different environment," said Jurczak. "We swam outdoors and we are used to swimming indoors."

The temperature was another factor. During the day

the temperature was in the 70's, but at night (when the meets were held) it would be in the 60's.

Nationals was not only a new experience, it was a great accomplishment as well.

Fitzsimons and Jurczak will be graduating this year. Fitzsimons will attend either the University of Wisconsin, LaCrosse or L.A. Benedictine College. She plans to continue swimming.

Jurczak will attend Illinois State University but will not be a swimming competitor.

Both girls are planning to tryout for the Prairie State Games.

Men's Track Coach Hired

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

The Athletic Department recently appointed John Johnson Head Coach of Men's Track & Field. He was hired at the beginning of March.

Coach Johnson graduated from Northern Michigan University with a health education major and physical education minor.

He had coached football, track and basketball at Marquette High School for ten years.

He later became an assistant basketball coach at Northern Michigan University.

His family, wife Kathy and daughter Nichole, recently moved to the Dischigland area.

"We originally came to this area because we have family here. I also wanted to get started in a bigger area than I'm from," said Johnson.

Johnson had been talking to Harper's football coach about track and Harper's need for a track coach. Since he had experience as a coach he was later hired.

Photo By Frank Schwartz

Coach Johnson thinks his new coaching position is a new challenge.

Since Harper has a small track program, the coach feels if he can build the team up to twenty members he will have done a good job.

Tennis Team Heats Up

By Scott Barford
Sports Editor

Last fall, the women's Harper Tennis team is heating up. The Hawks will travel to Palos Hills to take on conference opponent Marquette Valley today at 3:00 pm.

Due to cold weather the men have been practicing inside the previous two weeks. The Hawks made good use of the building's facilities. Portable nets were wheeled into the gym allowing the team to get in some practice time.

We are fortunate to have indoor facilities, said Coach Roy Kearns.

Kearns has been coaching tennis at Harper since the program began in 1971.

Last year's team finished second in conference and third in state. Harper captured both a singles and doubles conference championships. The coach is expecting another successful season.

Kearns' seven experienced veterans and talented freshmen will give Harper another prosperous season.

The team selected John Pitchford as team captain. "John is a very good athlete, he has leadership," commented Coach Kearns.

Pitchford, who played tennis at Monmouth College last year, said, "We should do well overall."

Returning Harper players include: 1987 conference

Photo By John McVicker

Joe Dreweke practices his serve.

champion Phil Randazzo and former Prospect High School standout Joe Dreweke.

Dreweke is extremely confident about the upcoming season. "My doubles partner (Randazzo) and I are going to nationals."

Newcomers include: Bill Adams, Brent Ashmore, James Otrick and Joe Porchasi.

The team will gain a few more players as soon as prospective players gain eligibility.

Most of the Hawks will participate in both singles and doubles matches this year.

Spring Sport Openers

Baseball Fri. 3/25 Lewis & Clark 1:00pm

Softball Wed. 3/23 Lake County 2:00pm

Tennis Thurs. 3/24 Marquette Valley 3:00pm

Track Sat. 3/26 Wheaton Open 1:00pm

Read about them in next weeks issue.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 24

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger March 31, 1988

Board to select Harper President

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

The Board of Trustees will probably discuss election of the next Harper College President next Tuesday when they meet in executive session.

Currently four candidates are under consideration for President: Dr. Donald Brossard, Dr. Terry Dicanna, Dr. Paul Thompson, and Dr. David Williams.

Brossard is currently President, Orange Coast College, Costa Mesa, California. He has earned his Ph.D. in Professional Higher Education Administration from the University of Connecticut.

He has held positions at Concord College, Adams, West Virginia, Medaille College, Buffalo, New York, and Coving

Community College, Corning, New York.

Dicanna is currently President, Palo Alto College, Texas.

Thompson is currently President of Bellevue Community College, Bellevue, Washington. He earned his Ph.D. in Education at the University of Illinois.

In the past Thompson has held positions at Joliet Jr. College, Olney Central College, and Parkland College, Illinois.

Williams is currently Vice President of Academic Affairs, Harper College. He has earned his Ph.D. in Educational Administration, Northern Illinois University.

Previously, Williams has worked with High School District #157, Crystal Lake, Illinois.

All Presidential Candidates have been interviewed by the Board during the past week (March 21-25).

The Board of Trustees was originally to select a president by April 1.

Photo By Andrew Palusz
Laura Jacobson, Student Trustee Candidate, puts her vote in a building A information desk.

Board approves spending of $78 Thousand

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

The Board of Trustees unanimously approved to purchase merchandise worth $78,309.30 last Thursday.

Seven requests for purchase were made. They were: three IBM personal computers and peripheral equipment, a laser page printer, an automatic surface grinder, an infrared spectrophotometer, 24 color display terminals, printing of the 1988-89 student handbook, and bus transportation for athletic teams.

The three IBM personal computers were requested by Social Science and Business and Continuing Education and Program Services Divisions.

One computer will be used in the Data Processing computer lab; another in the Division computer lab; and the third computer will be used in the Continuing Education/Vocational/Tech department to develop curriculum, to track student records, and for field testing computer-assisted instructional programs.

The computers and peripherals will total $78,309 to come from the 1987-88 Restricted Purpose Fund budget.

The laser page printer was requested by Computer Services to compensate for an increase in letter quality printing due to the new Payroll/personnel package.

The laser page printer will cost $5,545 out of the 1987-8 Educational Fund budget.

The automatic surface grinder was requested by the Technology, Mathematics & Physical Science Division to replace the surface grinder which is about 30 years old. The current surface grinder will be used as a trade in. The automatic surface grinder will cost $12,483.30 and will draw from the 1987-8 Educational Fund budget.

The infrared spectrophotometer, used for chemical analysis was requested by the Technology, Mathematics & Physical Science Division. It is also to replace an existing instrument. The 20 year old infrared spectrophotometer will be for trade in. The cost of the new infrared spectrophotometer is $9,050 which will also come from the 1987-8 Educational Fund budget.

The twenty-four color display terminals requested by Computer Services are part of a plan to update the existing terminals. The terminals some administrators are working on use technology which is 15 years outdated. The new terminals will cost $28,776 drawn from the 1987-8 Educational Fund budget.

Printing of the Student Handbook for 1988-9 is paid from the Student Activities fee fund. The pamphlet describes services and organizations of student interest. Publication will cost $8,711 coming from the 1987-8 Restricted Purpose Fund budget.

Transportation of athletic teams to events from April 1 through May 31, 1988 was requested by Physical Education, Athletics and Recreation Division. Schaumburg Transportation was approved for $5,905 which will come from the 1987-8 Auxiliary Fund budget.

Purchase orders are sent out directly following the Board meeting for requests which are approved. After receipt of merchandise, the invoices go before the Board for approval and then checks are sent out.

Photo By Andrew Palusz
The results of the Student Trustee election will be revealed in the next issue of the Harbinger.

INSIDE

Time to choose a class gift for the alma mater. A look at past gifts and this year's suggestions.

Page 2

The new Irish craze brings attention to Progue. A review of if I should fall from grace with God.

Page 4

The final location for "The Game" identified all six locations and win $10 gift certificate.

Page 6

Harper's Baseball team starts the season 6-0. Their last victory over Malcolm X, 12-7.

Page 8

Next issue, the Harbinger's official results of the Student Trustee Election.

Class gift undeclared

Suggestions needed

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Well, if you have not heard by now, next week is spring break, and after that, only five weeks remain of the spring '88 semester (not including finals week). Graduates have received information regarding caps and gowns and, for many, the end of their scholastic career, is fast approaching. Graduating classes sometimes give their alma mater a class gift—so what will Harper's class of '88 give?

Previous class gifts include:

- * establishment of a fund for acoustical improvements in the student lounge on Euclid Rd. ($6,730)
- * film projectors ($3,000), a reworking of Reppel Anne and the model for CPR classes ($1,250)
- * equipment for M. Blag. ($50,000)
- * control board for WHCM sanitizers for the cheerleading and Tumb-pun squads
- * five or six pocket tents with planters, benches and

- two programmable ovens ($7,000)
- * 15 trees along Algonquin Rd., portable sound equipment, eight stage risers
- * microwave ovens ($2,100)
- * furniture ($10,000)
- * three typewriters ($2,500)
- * more furniture ($6,500)
- * fence project funding for the Preserve area ($2,000)
- * Australian trip for choir ($1,500)
- * the bust of William Ramey Harper in the Administrative offices ($2,000)
- * six outdoor, lighted direction signs ($5,321)
- * desk-top publishing system for the Harbinger ($9,368)
- * outdoor marquee for J. Blag theater ($6,500)

As is evident, the gifts vary in number and purpose. Each gift is designed to benefit the college as a whole, if possible. The gift's expense, or how much is allocated, depends on the amount of money left from activity fees, in the Student Activity budget, at the end of the school year.

Harper College's Student Senate is working on some suggestion for this year's gift, and Senate President Bob Bion would appreciate any suggestions students might have. He can be reached through Student Activities, ext. 2242 or 2244.

Some suggestions offered thus far include the following:

- * updated science equipment
- * a "serious students" study area, with chairs and tables, and QUILT
- * interior building directories, for classes and rooms
- * new, student chosen sculptures
- * fixing the pigeon projectors on C and P. Blag roads
- * wooden fences alongside campus sidewalks
- * a dance floor
- * an on-campus "near-beer" bar
- * more flag poles and American flags

- * another recreation room, with more sophisticated amusements than billiards
- * mirrors for the men's washrooms
- * a bust of the new president
- * more benches around campus, especially by the lakes
- * a wooden fence around the lakes
- * enlarging the bookstore

Like thinking about what to give whom for Christmas, ideas for this class' gift are much appreciated.

The
Northwest Suburbs
Premier Video
Super Store
991-9350

- FREE MEMBERSHIP
- VIDEO TAPES
- 2 DAY RENTAL

Hollywood
VIDEOS

- OPEN 7 DAYS TO AM - 10 PM
- FRIENDLY SERVICE

Huntington Plaza
1600 W. Algonquin
Hoffman Es. 105
991-5850

- NEW RELEASES
- La Bamba
- Dragnet
- BoBo Cop

- Platoon
- Dirty Dancing

- Roxanne
- Predator

ECC to host gourmet's delight

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Summer dish approach ("eating and time")? That is a dangerous word. If you agree with both of these statements, do not read the following.

Elgin Community College's hospitality management program will host its sixth annual Classic 100 Gourmet Dinner on Monday evening, April 11, at Elgin Country Club.

The "classic" consists of 10 courses of "exquisite gourmet cuisine," from which fish (including smoked salmon andurgeon) with champagne, chicken cornucopia with dumplings, lobster, shrimp, scallops and crab, Spartan Torrac-style, with tomato and basil sauce, boneless duck breast with raspberries, veal, skirt, veal steaks with a variety of mushrooms, salad of the season with hazelnut vinaigrette, French cheese, mousses in a chocolate box, to gourmet coffee.

The tickets are available for a donation of $75 per person, to the program's scholarship program.

A champagne reception will begin the festivities at 6:30 p.m., followed by a reception with hors d'oeuvres and flute and harp music.

Call 697-1000, ext. 415 for reservations or more information.

ROOSEVELT GIVES YOU A LOT OF CREDIT (AND CREDITS) FOR CONTINUING YOUR SUCCESS STORY

We understand that you've invested a lot of hard work in your education and we don't think you should lose credits over technicalities. So when you transfer to Roosevelt, we make every effort to see that the transition is easy and your credits are accepted.

We offer a wide variety of degree programs including Biology, Business Administration, Computer Science, Economics, English and many others. What's more, we boast a top-notch faculty, small classes and counselors ready to assist you in obtaining financial aid.

Even if you're not quite ready to transfer, we urge you to talk with one of our counselors. Planning early insures a smooth transfer.

For more information, call or visit our Downtown Campus, our Albert A. Robin Campus in Arlington Heights or our new Lake County Campus.

College of Arts and Sciences
School of Business Administration
School of Health Services
School of Education
School of Continuing Education
Office of Registrar
Office of Student Services

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY WELLSPRING OF SUCCESS

430 S. Michigan Avenue Chicago, IL 60605 312-320-2000
2127 S. Franklin Road, Arlington Heights, IL 60005 437-9200
14037 W. Highway 20, Meville View, IL 60069 341-2000

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY	NAME	ADDRESS	PHONE	STATE
1985-86 Freshman
430 S. Michigan Avenue
Chicago, Illinois 60605
Transfer and mail to: Registrar (312) 320-2000 a schedule of classes 1-4 for a graduate student undergraduate student
Nonresident (include address and zip code)
Student

Editorial

The Harbinger March 31, 1988

Page 3

Four candidates, two good ones, one choice: Williams

For all my reviling of them, the Presidential Search Advisory Committee (PSAC) has done a fine (albeit drawn out) job in their final recommendations. They have targeted not one, but two candidates we consider to be qualified to serve as President of Harper College.

For a brief synopsis of our candidate recommendations: Dr. Paul Thompson, currently President of Bellevue College in Bellevue, Washington; nice, soft-spoken man, but his experience is with a college that's much smaller than Harper's, and his state has an enrollment bid that has them actually turning away about a thousand students per semester. This doesn't suggest the background in aggressively market and recruit Harper's community.

Dr. Terry Dicianna, on the other hand, appears to be an aggressive marketer, and a personable administrator. But Dr. Dicianna suffers from Dr. Thompson's other flaw: Palo Alto College in San Antonio, Texas, where Dr. Dicianna is currently President, has an enrollment of about 3,000, or about one-seventh of Harper's current population.

Which brings us to the toughest choice: Dr. Donald Bronsard, a sane, confident speaker, is the President of Orange Coast College in Costa Mesa, California, a school of about 30,000. As a matter of fact, the only thing that worried me about Dr. Bronsard was why in the world I've been to the Costa Mesa area would he want to come here?

When I asked him that very question, he didn't bat an eyelash before giving me his explanation. Apparently his district of three colleges of which Orange Coast is the largest is consolidating because of lack of new families moving in, and his (Bronsard's) position is becoming "more of a campus manager than a President". At the luncheon and forum last week, Dr. Bronsard impressed a lot of people.

But, unfortunately for Dr. Bronsard I hope, Dr. David Williams is also a candidate. Dr. Williams has all the credentials of his co-candidates including helping to run a large community college in former President McGraw's absence, plus one name of the others have: He knows Harper College.

The problem with anyone hired from the outside to head up a college is six months to a year of adjustment (for the new President to the college, or vice versa). For a two-year college, this is double trouble. Half the term of your students' "getting adjusted" should be avoided if possible. In this case, it's very possible.

Dr. Williams is a qualified educator (holding a Doctorate in Educational Administration), he is an efficient administrator (having been Harper's Vice-President of Academic Affairs for ten years, and, icing on the cake, Dr. Williams is a nice man. I realize the latter appears to have very little to do with running a major educational institution, but when juggling 21,000 students, AND all the faculty, staff, and administrators that entails, it certainly helps to have the admiration and respect of your comments. Just ask former Presidents I ably (who didn't have it) and McGraw (who did).

Yes, the other candidates seem to be nice, well-spoken individuals also. But the operative word here is SEMI. A job interview is one thing (and the luncheons forums were little more than extended interviews), performance is another. Dr. Williams has given us ten years of performance.

In speaking to many individuals in all categories at Harper, I have yet to meet someone with something negative to say about Dr. Williams (although there was one faculty member who distrusts Educational Decretates in general). I really hope the Board of Trustees is not blinded by Dr. Williams' service to this college by his quiet and efficient demeanor. They have the annual power to reward that diligence by adjusting Dr. Williams title.

Ten years with "Vice" next to your title is enough.

Larry Paullin
Editor-in-Chief

"Off Her Rooker" With our mom

By Liz Bronsard

It is difficult to express how much it means to me when a reader responds to my column. It is such a wonderful, complimentary way of showing me that people who are unbiased and objective can read and enjoy my column.

This is why I take such great pride and pleasure in printing this lovely letter. I received from one such reader in response to my first column.

Dear Liz,

This is a letter from an older, older student, regarding your column on how to know when you've grown up.

I also had the experience of my daughter coming on every given topic, with particular emphasis on everything that happened at home. Now, I have a granddaughter who also shares the wealth of her knowledge through every Middlesex, Village, and farm, causing the folks to look up with alarm.

I also have been spotty in getting an education. I've changed my major so often I may be a freshman. I've applied myself to various schools of thought, trying to find the answer to what I'd be when I grow up.

So, I've thought, how did this come about? When I was very young and imparting my great wisdom to any one with an ear to hear, in some cases I had a little knowledge of sign language if they could see.

I thought growing up was synonymous with growing older. Believing that, for many years I couldn't grow up because older was so far away, it perhaps, I couldn't grow older because I wasn't growing up.

So, armed with the belief that I will never grow up, I satte forth in awe and wonder. Enjoying the breadth of my vision, the sounds of life, the smell of roses, manure, too!

Most of all, enjoying my daughter and her daughter as they search for the same answers, knowing that the answer lies in the "long" while they're waiting. Unlimited!!

Good Luck with your column,

Kathie

Thanks Mom. Have a great Spring Break everyone. Liz

Letter to the Editor

Stop the Smoker-Non Smoker Wars

Dear Editor,

My friends ask me why I keep moving out from under non-smoking signs rather than asking me "smoke or no, put out the cigarette". My answer is simple: I'd rather move than make the restaurant and get those "smoke, please" signs in my face. It's not easy for a Harper student that's allergic to smoke.

Has anyone noticed that all sodas, phones, candy and pop machines and places to sit are all in smoking areas? If course I would sit on hallway benches, but a smoker always beats me to it. The cafeteria and library are still smoke free!

I wish all cigarette non-smokers on page 4.

Health Corner

A message from Health Services

Laughter is the best medicine. Can laughter combat stress. Yes, humor has value as a therapeutic tool.

Allison Crane will discuss the physiological and psychological effects of laughter and how to bring more laughter into our lives at the Wellness Breakfast on Tuesday, April 19 from 7:30 to 9:30 am in the Dining Room. Registration of $3.50 (make checks payable to Harper College) is being accepted by the Health Service, A362.

Twelve six different face programs and events are scheduled during day and evening hours, plus a Health Fair on April 20 will be presented on Harper's campus during Wellness Week, April 19 to 21. Other topics include: Sexual Wellness, Cholesterol Treatment, Approaches, Stress, and Challenge initiatives: Medical Hypertension, Understanding Alcoholism and Blindness, Facing Multiple Crisis, a nutrition panel on Food Additives, Points on Jones-Sports Nutrition, Birth Order and Personality, Intimacy in Relationships, and Chemical Dependent Families.

Some of the activities you can participate in are: Lectures, Adult Fitness Studio, Tai Chi Chuan, Aquatics and Walking for Pleasure and Fitness.

Put up a complete brochure of the April 19 to 21 Wellness Week programs and events at the Information Booth in A Building or on the Health Service, A362.

Plan to attend any or all of these time presentations. All Wellness Week activities are open to the public, at no charge with the exception of the breakfast.

Harbinger

William Ranney Harper College
1240 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-3196
(815) 308-1000

Editor in Chief
Managing Editor
Business Manager
News Editor
Feature Editor
Sports Editor
Photo Editor
Layout
Graphic
Computer Coordinator
Advertiser

Larry Paullin
Paul Henderson
Ivor Heston
Douglas Ray
Kathy Day
Amy Ben-waka
Scott Rodan
Lara Johnson
Tom Trammann
Richard Le Grange
Jon Duman

GIVE LIFE

BLOOD DRIVE

Wednesday, April 13
8:30 am - 3:30 pm

A242

The HARBINGER is the student publication for Harper College campus community, published weekly except during holidays and final exams. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the college, its administration, faculty or student body. Advertising and copy deadline is noon Thursday, and copy is subject to editing. All letters to the editor must be signed, names withheld on request. For further information, call 877-3000, ext. 2460 or Dan

New Irish talent: guaranteed not to fall from grace

by Steve Hill
Staff Writer

A minor lull is being made over the recent surge in Irish music, supposedly brought on by the success of U2.

Artists such as Sinéad O'Connor, The Petrol Emotion, The Chieftains, and Van Morrison hail from Ireland, and they have been getting attention recently more for their heritage than their musical ability.

The majority of the bands being lumped under one heading ("Rock from Ireland") have been around for quite some time but have been ignored by the mainstream press (with the exception of Van Morrison). It took U2 to bring some attention to other talents from Ireland.

The Pogues are one such band receiving a great deal of attention for their latest release, "If I Should Fall From Grace With God." Their 1985 release "Hum Sinology, The Lash," was a success among underground types and will finally receive greater exposure as a result of their current "surge" in popularity.

I bought their new album on the strength of the song "A Fairytale of New York" and I'm very glad I did because the whole album is a great auditory experience.

The eight-man band, led by Shane MacGowan and Jim Finer

THE POGUES

If I Should Fall From Grace With God

produce a lavish acoustic/traditional Irish sound with a hard edge.

The title track is a good example of what the rest of the material is like, and the songs are consistently good. Strangely enough, it may be ignored here but this is my view. The Pogues have always been considered a punk band. In listening to the music on this album, I would have never guessed it to be "punk" music (although I'm quite sure I wouldn't fit in at a Pogues concert).

The album is produced by Steve Lillywhite, who also produced "Naked" by

With God" comes off the heels of their previous album which was produced by Elvis Costello, who married former band member Cait O'Riordan.

It's not just Irish music that is represented here. There is a song called "South Australia" that conjures up images of a Monty Python sketch, and one called "Fiona" that has a definite Spanish feel to it.

The weaker tracks are supported well by the strong ones. When the album is over, you'll probably find yourself playing it over again.

The Pogues
Island / Rec/Cass/CD
Rating out of 5: 3 1/2

Photo by Andrew Rubin

"Squares" loud & live

If you were in A-Bldg. last Friday evening, you were probably standing up. Many were, as all the seats were taken.

The Washington Squares played to 362 people in the lounge of A-Building, the majority of which were public, not students.

Originator for the band was Fred Hoisinger, folk-musician from Chicago.

The crowd was enthusiastic, as the Squares played their own music, as well as a rendition of a Jefferson Starship's "Don't You Want Somebody to Love," and a wrap-around version of the "Beverly Hillsbillies" theme.

TRANSFER TO RAY COLLEGE DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAMS

ADVERTISING DESIGN, ILLUSTRATION, INTERIOR DESIGN, FASHION DESIGN, FASHION MERCHANDISING, PHOTOGRAPHY

Transfer up to 60 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Arts degree 4-year BA and 2-year AAS degree in specialized majors. Day and evening. Starting June and September. Write or phone for catalog.

RAY COLLEGE OF DESIGN RAY • VOGUE

Chicago Campus Phone (312) 296-3500
401 N. Wabash Avenue Chicago, Illinois 60611
Woodstock Campus Phone (312) 889-2450
600 Woodfield Drive Schaumburg, Illinois 60173

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force Debbie Tempa

April 1, 1988
$19.95
$19.95

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas. Free Consult & Quote! 100% position in Workforce increases and more.

Debbie Tempa. We think it happens. Short & long term temporary assignments. Call today. 800-555-5550

Celebrating 25 years of passion, intrigue, romance, laughter, adventure and love in the afternoon.

Our 25th Anniversary
GENERAL HOSPITAL
Wednesdays on ABC

HARBINGER OF DOOM?

TWO WRITERS DIE IN UNRELATED MISHAPS

Naomi and Ted, Dead

INSIDE
FRIGHTENED WRITERS ASK:
WHO'S NEXT?
 * * *
HEALTH CORNER
"WAS NAOMI TOO FAT?"
 * * *
EDITORIAL:
"ENFORCE SUICIDE LAWS!"
 * * *
PAGE FIVE
"DEATH FOR FUN AND PROFIT"
 * * *

By Ed Haskell
 Staff Writer

Two popular humor writers for the Harbinger died this last week in unconnected freak accidents. (See related stories). Both writers worked under the auspices of PAGE FIVE founder and egomaniac Peder Sweeney, whom they were known to love and respect.

Naomi DePlama was very, very fat and had enormous breasts, which weighed over a hundred pounds each. Those who knew her say she had a nasty disposition and was generally disliked. Naomi was hit by a speeding truck near "A" building and was literally blown apart by the impact. By the time officers from Public Safety arrived on the scene, thousands of geese had devoured Naomi's scattered remains with pirhana-like fervor and were laying on their backs belching and scratching themselves. Her head was not recovered and is presumed to be somewhere on the Harper campus. Check the Soup of the Day.

Teddy Livingston was fairly thin and his breasts weighed only a few ounces apiece. He had little tufts of hair around the nipples, as did Naomi, that he liked to braid and attach yellow ribbons to. Teddy accidentally hung himself in the Harbinger office when a noose he was experimenting with worked. If Teddy were here today he would be very stiff and smell funny.

The great Chinese poet Yang Mi once wrote that dogs, Calties especially, require egg in their diet if they are to have a full, lustrous coat. The significance of this observation is almost eerie in its poignancy. How many times have we watched an old episode of Lassie and wished that that damn kid would put more egg in Lassie's diet? But he didn't.

But he didn't.
 So now, when we look back at Naomi's gruesome demise and wish that the trucker had exercised more caution, let's remember those three little words... But he didn't.

And when we think about Teddy and wish he had repayed us that ten dollars he owed us, let's again remember those three little words... but he didn't.

That weasel.

Naomi, Enigma

By Ed Alberts
 Staff Writer

It's hard to capture the essence of that wondrous creature that was Naomi DePlama in mere words. What, after all, are words? Little lumps of letters which, when properly used, evoke images or ideas in our minds. And what are letters? Whines, symbols, the smile of a pretty girl, the dirt on the boot of a working man, those plastic loop things that hold a six-pack together.

No one ever looked at Naomi and said she was a ravishing beauty. No one ever spoke to Naomi and said she was an intellectual giant. No one ever sniffed Naomi and said let's eat in the same room.

The first thing that comes to many people's minds when asked about Naomi is her almost supernatural obesity and her tiny head which sat atop her body like a cherry on a basketball.

When the idea of a diet was once suggested by a concerned fan, Naomi diametrically replied "Go to hell, you friggin' loony!"

Larry Paulin, Editor-in-Chief of the Harbinger, said of the late Naomi "Gosh, I thought Sweeney made her up. She must have been very fat."

Liz Brousseau, columnist for the Harbinger, said of Naomi's passing, "It's a real tragedy. Many children could have suckled at her beautiful boob-uats."

The geese that ate Naomi have thoughtfully spread her remains on the sidewalks of Harper College where we may say farewell to her and take some of her home on our shoes.

Naomi would have liked that.

Humorist Hung!

By Ed Robinson
 Staff Writer

Beloved yuckster Teddy Livingston is no longer with us in body, but his words will live on for weeks. It is perhaps only now, after he is gone, that we, his loyal readers, can truly express our dismay over his passing.

Just who was Teddy Livingston? What made him laugh? What made him cry? Did he bathe regularly? Did he place live hamsters in a tubful of water and "accidentally" drop a hairdryer in? How often?

(The Three Stooges. Brian's Song. No. Yes. Very.)

There are many mysteries about Teddy that may remain unsolved. For instance, did Teddy just make up the name Peder Sweeney so he could make fun of homos and fat chicks with immunity?

(Graphic by Ed Mueller)

When asked to comment on the Teddy tragedy, Larry Paulin, Editor-in-Chief of the Harbinger, said "It's crazy! They're dropping like flies!" Liz Brousseau had a more personal comment. "I saw him in the hall once. I whistled and told him he had a nice ass. He said 'Thank you, it makes nice poo poo' and walked away."

(This is the same Liz Brousseau who recently asserted that children have a need for adequate nutrition. Can you imagine?)

(This is the same Liz Brousseau--I'm sorry, I can't help it--who contends that anyone who doesn't like to see, or hear, an infant growing at the table while dining is an overbearing, voracious, gluttonous gourmand who delivers food to his mouth for the sole purpose of spitting it at his dinner companions. Liz, take a pill.)

Spooky similarities between the deaths of Naomi and Teddy

Haunting coincidence or the Dark Side of PAGE FIVE?

You be the judge!

*Both PAGE FIVE writers!

*Both died in or near "A" building!

*Both had cats!

*Both had five letters in first name!

*Both had more than five letters in last name!

*Neither enjoyed opera!

*Naomi was born in a theatre and raised in a warehouse!

*Teddy was born in a warehouse and raised in a theatre!

*Both set the women's movement back ten years!

*Neither has spoken since death!

*Both had cats on their funnies!

*Both were vocal in their opposition of slavery!

*Both were late in paying PAGE FIVE dues to Peder Sweeney!

*Neither preferred flame broiling!

Upcoming

The Harbinger March 31, 1988

Page 6

"The Game" Rules

- *"The Game" will end with the March 31, 1988 issue.
- *Each week a photo of an object, or a particular site on campus will be published. (six photos in all)
- *When you have found all six locations, fill out the entry blank and put it in the box located in A building and J building.
- *All entries must be received no later than April 11, 1988. In event of a tie, there will be a drawing held.
- *The Harbinger staff and family members of the Harbinger staff will not be able to participate.
- *The winner will be announced in the Harbinger's April 14, 1988 issue.
- *The answers to the locations must be specific.

LOCATION

#1 _____ NAME _____
 #2 _____ ADDRESS _____
 #3 _____ PHONE () _____
 #4 _____
 #5 _____
 #6 _____

'THE GAME'

NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY OPEN HOUSE

CENTER FOR NURSING

Saturday, April 9, 1988
10:00 AM to 2:00 PM

AMERICAN BAR CENTER
750 North Lake Shore Drive
Suite 601
Chicago, Illinois 60611
(312) 908-8298

Bachelor of Science in Nursing
Master of Science in Nursing
Registered Nurse Advancement Program
Full-time and Part-time Programs

LET US HELP YOU FIND THE JOB YOU WANT QUICKLY AND EFFICIENTLY

If you are a graduating student who recognize that opportunities may be lost if you are required to perform job searches unassisted call us.

Woodfield Corp. has a unique private and corporate client interchange, whereby we match job candidates to job opportunities.

If you have the credentials that our corporate client is looking for, we can work with you on a no professional fee basis. Find out more about it.

Schaumburg, Illinois
(312) 240-1500

COMING SOON

Spring 1988 Student Development Offerings

April	18 Transfer Seminar 12-1 pm, 1117	May
11 Career Interest Testing Part 1 6-8 pm, A347	19 Time to Shape Up for Adults 7-8:30 pm, A347	2 Career Interest Testing Part 1 9-11 am, A347
12 Graduation Check 12-1 pm, 11221	20 Nursing Info Session 1:30-3:30 pm, M Bldg	Comp Sci/Data Processing Info Session 7-8 pm, F132
Transfer Seminar 6-7 pm, 11221	21 Career Interest Testing Part 2 1-3 pm, M Bldg	4 Biology Major (Transfer) Info Session 7-8 pm, F132
Job Search Techniques Seminar 6-7 pm, A347	Time to Shape Up for Adults 7-8:30 pm, M Bldg	9 Career Interest Testing Part 2 9-11 am, A347
13 Self-Esteem Seminar 9-11 am, A241b	25 Resume Writing Seminar 6-7 pm, A241b
Education Majors (Transfer) Info Session 7-8 pm, F132	26 Test Anxiety Seminar 7-8:30 pm, A347b
14 Career Interest Testing Part 1 1-3 pm, A347	27 Test Anxiety Seminar 9-11 am, A242a

Please Note:

The Bears basketball game benefit scheduled for Wed., April 6 has been cancelled.

Refunds are available from the Box Office; but all monies not refunded WILL be donated to the Peter Soly Fund.

For further information, contact the Box Office, ext. 2547.

Smoker Wars

continued from page 3
smokers would stop harassing smokers. Then, maybe when so some allergic to smoke asks a smoker to take it elsewhere, the poor slob won't get smoke in his face.

Smokers, please don't smoke next to "No Smoking" signs and non-smokers, please don't pick on smokers because of their habit. Is that the way to treat dying people anyway?
Nicole Puchonowski

HEALTH CARE CENTER, INC.

Continues to offer low cost, confidential care in all areas of women's health:

- Family Planning
- Pap Smears
- VD testing & treatment
- Pregnancy testing & referrals
- Pre-marital blood tests

WE DO PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR WORK, SCHOOL, SPORTS

For information and/or appointment call:

359-7575 553 N. Court, Suite 100, Palatine
Daytime, Evening and Saturday Appointments

Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds Classifieds

The Harbinger March 31, 1988

Page 7

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (ad to exist lives) are $4.50; 1.55 each additional line.

Employment
Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES
FREE CONSULTATION For your legal needs. Include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone: 382-3900. Even on weekend appointments available. Fee Offices of Becker & Becker, 600 N. Macdonald, 3rd Floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

TEYPING SERVICE
Students and teachers: Can and will type anything and everything. Fast and accurate work on an IBM office machine (19 yrs exp.). Reasonable rates. Call Jere at 398-2311.

TEYPING SERVICE
FAST, accurate, service. Reasonable rates. Easy revisions. Call 312-658-0290.

TEYPING SERVICE
for students and teachers. Any typing, by a professional secretary. Call Christine at 393-3030 or 490-9902.

TELETYPE OPERATOR
Flexible day time schedules, are available for persons with an ability to operate a teletyping machine and dedicated experience. Find out more! call 832-2863.
Bank and Trust of Arlington Heights, 60111

INCOME SERVICES
Student Discount
HMMA and Illinois 530
1040 S. Ashland, Child Care, Illinois 361
394-1010
Professional Tax Associates, Inc. 121 S. W. Lake, Suite 415
Arlington Heights, IL 60005

SITUATION WANTED
Reliable and professional secretarial service. Resumes, term papers, letters, etc. Call Diane @ 499-1445.

BE A SASSY!
We offer IMMEDIATE PLACEMENT in the New Jersey/New York area, for agencies with our parents and children before you accept a position. Top salaries $30,000-$50,000 weekly. Next a free yearly employment test.
NANNIE'S PLTS. (Informed and bonded agents). Toll-Free: 1-800-752-0478.

LEAST GRE barbri GMAAT MCAT

#1

THE HIGHEST SCORE
IMPROVEMENTS IN
THE NATION

Call up 878-636-0000
820 to 824 2nd St. N.W.
Atlanta, GA 30309
info@barbri.com

312.284.1038

Classes offered at Harper College

SUMMER HELP
Summer placement help/agent. The Kelley Road House Waitresses. Waitresses. Hooperville. Write: 152 Kelley Road, Barrington, IL 60010 or Call 312-581-5091.

FREE CONSULTATION
For all types of personal. Call for app. Mary Alice Hess, CPA @ 829-2341.

WANT A FINE AND
easy way to earn extra money while going to college? Come spend from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m. a fun, responsible companion to my two great kids, ages 9 & 14. MEET in Hoffman Estates area. 10 min from Harper. Call Joan @ 349-2051. Days of 490-5093 after 6 p.m. Ref required.

RESTAURANT
Grossini's Italian Restaurant has openings for cooks, waiters and waitresses. If you are friendly, enthusiastic, courteous, energetic, professional and hospitable, send resume to: 955 E. Cull Rd./Schaumburg, IL 60195. No. 9a.m. to 6 p.m.

Law Suite

HOUSES FOR SALE
Government Homes from $104,000. 2 bdr. 1.5 bath. Also tax delinquent property. Call 305-644-9513. Fax 354 for info.

AUTOMOBILES
1985 TEMPELA
MR2, Red, excellent condition. Asking $9,900. Call 815-434-2155.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA
Hatchback. Air cond., rear def., automatic, power steering, power brakes. AM/FM stereo, 60,000 miles. Asking $3,200. Excellent condition. No. 7851. Call 841-8099.

1977 OLDS CUTLASS
Brougham, 2 dr., V-8 Auto. A.C., P.S., PB, DW, PI, Fth. Cruise, R-P.D., AM/FM plus many new items. Runs great. Asking $1,595. Call 159-3263.

1977 OLDS REGENCY
Must sell, excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul @ 381-2400 ext. 2801 or 825-1342.

1980 BUICK CENTURY
V-8, 4dr, P.S., PB, A/C. Dark Blue. No rust, good condition. $30,000. Call 834-8667 after 5:30 p.m.

1984 PONTIAC Fiero
Silver AC, AM/FM, 4 spd. Vantage keys. 1-10000 mi. Asking $4,995. Call 491-3699 or 491-3692.

Black Bear or Nascar Pluton XX
Type old of cond. all leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer 893-5383.

1984 HONDA ATC 200S
with trailer, asking $1,100. Call Steve after 6:30 p.m. @ 885-2571.

87-83 Honda Roadstar II, Brown/Sunburst. Hardly used, received in a gift 4 yrs. ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer 893-5383.

1987 Ford Mustang LX Hatchback
Stereo Cassette, AC, Fuel warranty, 95,000 or assume $300 loan plus difference. Call 537-7343 evenings.

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers cars, boats, planes, prepaid surplus. Call Larry, Buyers-Gutter @ 305-687-6000. Ext. 3-1051.

MUSIC ACQUISORIES
MARTIN STEEL STRING GUITAR
Electric yrs. old, excellent condition. Asking $400. Call Mike @ 815-455-6501.

FENDER GIBINI CLASSICAL GUITAR
For sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted @ 428-5117.

YARI CLASSICAL GUITAR
Nylon strings. Sixteen yrs old. Asking $160. Call Mike @ 815-455-6501.

Gibson SG w/rose 3490, Marshall 50 watt combo 3490, Korg DM1 40K modular effects 590, DOD stereo Flanger 520, Rob benes X has guitar w case 3250, Fender telekast 50 watt amp 3100. Hammond Pipe organ needs work, best offer. Call Larry @ 891-1271.

MISCELLANEOUS
1988 SUD COED CALENDAR
featuring color photos of both Illinois College women. Mail $2.95 to Coed Calendar, P.O.B. 2348 DeKalb, IL 60115. 1989 Shields Wanted. Jan 83/88.

FEMALE MODELS WANTED. EARN $300
Two male or female for college calendar. Mail any two photos to: CEETI, CALIFORNIA, 1041 E. I-541, DeKalb, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $10.00.

PERSONALS
DO YOU NEED A HOMEKEEPER?
I can clean your home office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call 1-800-355-8321.

Attention Harper Students and alumni
Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base, and we may be able to match you up with one of them.

For more information, call 397-3800 ext. 2720, or stop in at the Placement Office, A447.

Attention all interested bodies:
The Harbinger needs you! We need writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of the latest equipment for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper. If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext. 2461 or 2460. Or just stop by.

ENTERTAINMENT
Entertainers needed for new entertainment booking agency and recording studio. Rock/Country bands, clowns, magicians, dancers, models, comics and solo acts encouraged to apply. All has open, full or part-time. All facets. (from our video dating service). Call Creative Video Productions @ 312-807-6666. Ask for Christine or Rich. (In please stop by @ 1414 Milwaukee Ave. in Northbrook). Sanders, Red at Milwaukee Ave. (also needed: private investors).

MASTURBATE
No one refused. Regardless of credit history. Also ERASE bad credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-609-565-1522. Ext. C11481L 24 hrs.

Who is the ...
World's greatest collector? P.S. Can I have my best postcard please? Signed, The World's biggest you know what.

I'm a case kitten
You can take me home for free. I'm called Mackgodd, later I have all my shoes and I'm a later bus transfer. My home is over crowded. Call me @ 398-2315 or at my job 991-0424 and ask for Cindy.

Program Board needs you? Be part of the most active clubs on campus, make friends, and have fun too! GET INVOLVED! Weekly meetings are held Mondays at 2:30 p.m. in A106.

Katie M
When are we going to see Second City? Let's make a song P.S. Is your kitchen finished yet? Signed, HOOK.

You know who you are...
MM(MM)MM... such a pristine girl. Do you give kisses? SNIFFLE

What is the coolest group of people on campus? Yep, you guessed it... The Student Ambassadors!!!

Gabbywhabby,
Hope you have a great birthday over Spring Break. Love Ya, Browne

BAND PHOTOGRAPHY
Essential for the future of your band. Call Frank @ 885-9385.

Shady "Slicker"
Whoever U.R. U.R. one hell of a shady character, (yet very charming, nt course). Now that you've singled me out, when are you going to give me some love? Eh? How, but it slicker? Can you do it babe? Ya think you can do this for me? Are you in my Art Class? Get a life babe, I'm so curious! Signed, Lady-in-Waiting

Desperately Seeking older women to show them at UK with two kids 12 & 7. Should be interested in Interior Design. Also, willing to let person drive my Chevrolet as far as Great America. Call Ray @ 289-8621.

Franklin Brandon
Happy Birthday's!
Love Always, Sw

Joe P.
Where are you? Just because you're in love doesn't mean you can forget about old ladies. And love is supposed to be blind, so that means you can, get wet. I saw you walking on campus Monday morning when it was pouring down cats and dogs, and you didn't have anything on your head. You'd better take care. Signed, You Know Who

Joe Borice
Are you still making those "A's" in accounting? I'm sure you are. Keep up the good work. I began my ritual count down April 11. Signed, Harbinger

NEED CASH FOR college ??

$145 MILLION
IN FINANCIAL AID WENT UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR
WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED
JM EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
P.O. BOX 217
PROSPECT HEIGHTS, IL 60070
(312) 705-8527
WRITE THE FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

Sports Softball Opens

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

After defeating College of Lake County in their opener on March 23, Harper ran into some trouble.

The team dropped four straight games last weekend. Despite the losses, Coach Myra Musickin was somewhat pleased. "We played some tough teams. We did better than I thought we would."

Harper Knocks Off Lake County

The Hawks beat Lake County 7-5 on Wed. March 23. Harper took advantage of seven walks, six hits and five batters. The team jumped out at 6-0 lead after four innings.

Lynn Hoyer, 3B, had two hits including a double. Catcher Connie Angel gained down two base runners.

Pitcher Michele Therault, who held Lake County scoreless thru four, picked up a complete game victory.

FLO Valley Sweeps Harper

Harper lost both games of the away doubleheader against Florissant Valley of St. Louis, MO last Friday. In game one, the Hawks lost 12-0. Harper was unable to generate any type of offense. Chad Kammerer's single in the second was Harper's only hit.

Harper lost the second game

4-1. Agam FLO Valley held the Hawks to only one hit, a fifth inning single by center fielder Julie Koss.

Connie Angel scored Harper's only run after she walked and later came home on an error.

Belleville Drops Two to Harper

Belleville took two games from Harper last Saturday. Despite nine hits, the Hawks lost the first game 6-5.

Harper's two errors in the sixth allowed Belleville to break a 3-1 tie. The Hawks did score two runs in the top of the seventh, but it was not enough.

Michele Therault fields a grounder.

Harper's Pytari, settled down she allowed only four hits and one run over the next five innings.

Harper plays Morton at home, today at 2:30pm

After Belleville opened up with two runs in the first, Harper's Pytari, settled down she allowed only four hits and one run over the next five innings.

Harper's Pytari, settled down she allowed only four hits and one run over the next five innings.

Harper plays Morton at home, today at 2:30pm

Track Results

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The Men's Track team finished first among junior colleges at the Wheaton Open last Saturday. Team scores for the women were not taken.

Several schools, including DePaul University, participated. The men grabbed four individual first place finishes and the women captured at least two, final results are not yet in.

Name, event(s) and results are as follows:

- Men's Team
Frank Barab, long jump 21'10"; triple jump 42'3"; 110m high hurdles 17.3; Tim Davis, shot put 45.7; Tony Laramini, 200m dash 25.8; Andy Lerman, discus 108; shot put 43.1; Brian Pawlak,

- discus 127; Maria Pippen, long jump 22.1; triple 42'10"; 200m* 25; 100m 10.8; Marc Rader, javelin 181.1; 125' 1st runner Sarah, Rader and Pippen, 400m relay 45.3.

Women's Team

- Yuki Lopez, 800m 2:12; 200m* 27.5; long jump 15.7; Maddie Olson, discus 98; Jocelin 105; Irene Reikhsmb, 3000m 12:26; Anne Thayer, 100m 14.22; long jump 15.2; Lori Wilkins, long jump 4.10; 400m* 65.8; Karen SVZ, shot put 28.3; 12'; Janice Word, high jump 46; long jump 14.77; 110m hurdles 18.1; shot put 28.1; 400m relay 52.

*denotes first-place finish

Tennis Team Unbeatable

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The Harper Tennis has destroyed all opponents. The team's match record now stands at an impressive 18-0. In fact, the team has not lost a single set.

The Hawks captured all singles and doubles matches last Tuesday at Joliet. Harper also won all matches at their opener last Saturday at home.

Scores were as follows:

- Harper vs. Joliet
Singles: No. 1, Phil Randazzo 6-0, 6-4; No. 2, Joe Drewke 7-6, 6-2; No. 3, Bill Adams 6-4, 6-1; No. 4, John Puchford 6-4, 6-1; No. 5, Jay Olrik 6-0, 6-0; No. 6, Mark Barleson 6-0, 6-1.

- Doubles: No. 1, Drewke/Randazzo 7-5, 7-5; No. 2, Adams/Puchford 6-3, 6-1; No. 3, Barleson/Olrik 6-3, 6-0.

Harper beat up on Lake County, Oakton and Rock Valley in their first meet. Only doubles matches were played at the opener.

Harper vs. Lake County

- Drewke/Randazzo 6-2, 6-5; Adams/Puchford 6-4, 6-2; Barleson/Olrik 6-1, 6-1.

Harper vs. Oakton

- Drewke/Randazzo 6-2, 6-2; Adams/Puchford 6-1, 6-1; Barleson/Olrik 6-4, 6-2.

Harper's next meet is today at 3:00 pm, against Thornton.

Baseball Wins First Six Games

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

The Hawks went 6-0 on their Southern Illinois road trip last weekend. Harper played games against Lewis & Clark, Malcolm X and McHenry in Godfrey, Ill.

The combination of quality pitching and the big bats of Harper's big boys opened up what looks to be a great season.

Harper Sweeps McHenry

The Hawks won their season opener, defeating McHenry 8-0, last Friday. Al Levine and Bill O'Grady combined to pitch a one-hitter.

In the top of the first, Dennis Kehrer, who reached base on a double, scored Harper's first run on a John Knauss triple. Todd Tesau then ripped a two-run homer to give the Hawks a 1-0 lead.

In the second inning, Dennis Kehrer had an RBI triple and catcher Paul O'Callaghan smacked a solo-homer. Harper led 5-0. The Hawks went on to score three more runs.

In game two, Harper rocked

McHenry 14-1. The game was called after a 1/2 due to the 10-run rule.

Shakey Olnek threw five no-hit innings to record his first victory. Olnek also struck out nine batters. McHenry's only run resulted from a walk.

Knauss, Harper's center fielder, ripped a three-run shot in the first. Knauss, a sophomore, ended up with a total of six RBI on the day.

The Hawks scored three in the second and then exploded with eight in the third.

Harper Takes Two From McHenry

Harper topped Lewis & Clark 9-8 last Sunday. Tony Vagares the win after he pitched 4 1/3 innings on relief of starter John O'Grady.

Al Levine (2-0), came on the seventh to end the game and pick up his first save.

Harper also beat Lewis & Clark 27-10 on the previous day.

Harper Tops Malcom X Twice

Harper beat Malcom X 12-6 last Sunday.

Olnek came on in relief after starter Dave Szarzynski gave up six runs, only two were earned, in the first two innings. Olnek (2-0), allowed only two hits and completed the game for the victory.

In Saturday's game the Hawks won 12-7.

The Hawks play at home against Truman, today at 1:30 pm.

Baseball Preview: National League West

By Kevin Goldstein
Sports Writer

The NL west is the clearly the weaker of the two divisions, and prepared for an easy repeat by the Giants as division champs. Of course, the Giants are not as good as the Mets, and will lose to them in five or six games.

1. San Francisco Giants

The addition of Brent Butler can only help. For the last few years he has been one of the most efficient leadoff men in the AL. Look for him to score over 100 runs this year at the Giants coast with one of the most balanced offensive attacks in baseball.

2. Cincinnati Reds

The Reds finally got some pitching help by acquiring Danny Jackson from the Royals. Eric Davis has added pressure on his shoulders as the loss of Dave Parker forces him to become team leader. If Kal Daniels can play 145 or more games, he also has the potential to be a 40-40 man.

It was recently announced that Mario Soto would start opening day for the Reds, and if he can regain his form of two and three years ago, the Reds could put up a fight to the finish.

3. Houston Astros

Not far behind the Reds, the Astros have the usual great pitching staff, along with an assortment of line drive hitters. Billy Hatcher (a former Cub) will develop into one of the best leadoff men in baseball.

4. Los Angeles Dodgers

A whole bunch of new faces. First we have Kirk Gibson, a winning loudmouth who has his name on the dubbed list more than it is on the lineup card.

Then we have Alfredo Griffin, who the Dodgers are moving Steve Sax to third base for. Steve was lucky to get his throw to first when he played second base. Third should be nothing short of a nightmare.

Mike Davis should help, but the loss of Bob Welch is devastating. The only reason they'll finish fourth is because the Padres and Braves are so pathetic.

5. San Diego Padres
Tony Gwynn has a better chance than Wade Boggs at hitting .400. How many people realize this guy hit .370 last year? Watch for catcher Benito Santiago to suffer from an extreme case of sophomore jitters.

6. Atlanta Braves
Go, these guys are even worse than the Cubs. Three of their five starters have little or no major league experience, and the lineup is a plethora of no names after Dale Murphy. The first and maybe only team to lose 100 games this year.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 24

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger April 14, 1988

State's 4.8% grant cut forces colleges to slash budgets

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Harper College has experienced a 4.8% cut of government grants during 1988-89 fiscal years totaling $11,879 reduction in funds.

"It is the governor's recommendation that Harper receive $5,472,988 for credit hours grant fiscal year 1989," said Vice President of Administrative Services Verne Mankie.

"This grant, a reimbursement based partially on the number of credits Harper students are enrolled for was $5,915,015 for the fiscal year 1988.

Harper was dealt its hardest cut last fiscal year of 2.7% and was cut again 2.1% for fiscal year 1987.

"Credits, slipped from among the top ten schools to one of the bottom ten," said Mankie. Consequently Harper will need to trim its budget for 1989. "The primary loss will be the inability to acquire capital equipment or replace obsolete equipment," said Dr. David Williams, Vice President of Academic Affairs.

The second loss will be the ability to make improvements to meet standards of North Central Evaluation. He added there is a possibility of one program being cut.

On the positive side, Williams mentioned, "There is a new position we will be adding. The money to buy program needs additional faculty because it shows possibility for growth."

Williams feels confidence in programs will be canceled and no services or student activities will be cut.

"He would prefer eliminating one area of study rather than bringing down the reliability of all programs as a result of budget cutting across the board."

Harper was not the only college suffering from state grant cuts. Two and four year colleges nationwide in fact are swearing they will have to cut back on student services and freeze faculty salaries.

Illinois State University, which initiates state higher education funding in two-year periods, reported "the appropriations are up eleven percent, the smallest increase since the recession of 1982-84."

Michigan State University managed to save $1,300,000 by halting campus equipment purchases for the next school year, refusing to hire more staff or faculty members and putting the necessities it has to buy on installment plans.

And Governors, State University in Illinois said it will have to raise tuition 20% to compensate for state funding cuts.

Photo By Frank Schwartz

Laura Jacobson elected Student Trustee with 70 of 182 votes. Opponents Patricia Ryan received 58 votes and Johnny Walker collected 54 votes.

Laura Jacobson Elected Student Trustee

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Laura Jacobson clinched the Student Trustee election with 70 out of 182 votes. Johnny Walker and Patricia Ryan shared the remaining 112 votes 54 and 58 respectively.

"This year was better than average with less than one and one quarter percent of 15,000 eligible voters turning out. Last year 351 students voted and 1989 only 52 people voted."

For the first time in three years no "tag" write-in ballots were turned in. Last year seven write-ins were counted and the year past six.

Jacobson's main goal is to relate student opinions to the Board of Trustees, either by using a suggestion box to enlist student ideas or by conveying personal experiences.

"I hope to have a couple (suggestion boxes) at least for a building, but I would like to discuss it with the board first," said Jacobson.

Jacobson said she is also available at the Student Senate Office A372, 22244. Messages can be left for her in the Student Activities Office A336.

Jacobson also said, "I would like to influence the student body to get more students involved." She said many Harper Students have a low opinion of Harper and she would like to change this.

Jacobson's first meeting will be executive session on April 17. Her first regular Board Meeting will be April 29.

Spring Returns Construction Resumes

Photo By John Sisson

Harper campus construction continues with the removal of A building's (stairway) wall.

INSIDE

On the other side of the mirror... An experienced doctor's views on eating disorders.

Page 2

Editorial, Big Brother II: It is in Your Blood. Thousands of students secretly tested for AIDS.

Page 3

A review of who got what at the 60th Academy Awards Ceremony "The Last Emperor" 9.0.

Page 4

The Game: Your last chance to identify all six campus locations and win the gift certificate.

Page 14

Harper's Baseball team 15-2. Harper shut out St. Francis 5-0 and won 5-1.

Page 16

On the other side of the mirror-

A doctor's perspective on eating disorders

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Several years ago Dr. Patricia of Cardinal Health Systems, Ltd., wrote a four-part series on the eating disorders of anorexia nervosa and bulimia. These two disorders are of special significance for many young people and are only two aspects of many that will be brought up for public discussion during next week's Wellness Week here at Harper.

Because we often discuss the disordered malady, and not the doctors behind the scenes, we decided to see an aspect of the health care profession from a physician's perspective.

Dr. Santucci has been a psychiatrist for twenty years, maintaining a private practice while performing several other duties, such as serving as Director of Battages Eating Disorders Program, serving as a Board Examiner for all new psychiatrists that hope to practice in the U.S. and as an associate professor at Loyola University, teaching psychiatry.

During the last decade Santucci gradually became increasingly involved in and involved with treating and studying eating disorders. The dramatic increase in the sheer numbers of people with anorexia and bulimia is now reaching what Santucci calls "epidemic proportions."

Before, we would see and treat predominantly white patients, but now like disorders are popping up in the hispanics and black populations as well, says Santucci.

Santucci sees patients with eating disorders that range in ages from adolescence in late 30's and early 40's. She says most persons with the disorders do not actively seek help, thereby making treatment all the more difficult.

There are two groups of people with whom Santucci deals in her endeavors with eating disorder patients, the first is the "non-seeking" people and the second is the "desperate" people.

The first group strongly denies they have a problem with their eating habits, locking themselves in and pursuing diuretics/diets, says Santucci.

"The people who recognize the person's problem are . . . others."

"The people who recognize the person's problem," she continues, "are significant others (such as parents) and teachers, not themselves."

This first group often does not enter treatment programs or individual therapy because school counselors are concerned with academic behavior and are so much with the personal side of the young person.

Santucci comments, "Eating disorders are often widely prevalent in schools, but are glossed over. It's sad because there is very little preventive therapy before the trouble becomes obvious or otherwise evident, as in a death or hospitalization."

The second group of people with whom Santucci deals includes those in therapy, a process which takes from five to seven years. This long recovery period could thus be avoided with preventive counseling and a restructuring of social values and perceptions.

"Popular misconceptions might have to change (in regards to what is desirable and healthy)."

So how does one recognize an eating disorder?

The person, usually a teenager (or even younger is female and no longer feels in control of life. They attempt to regain that control by exerting control over their bodies (temporarily being overweight, not obese, though, is not uncommon, it is the media that presents healthy as fat, and therefore, undesirable. Another good clue to an eating disorder is emotional upheaval, especially severe depression.

With bulimia, the disorder is even harder to recognize because the person's weight remains the same and the purging is secretive. Even if someone does find out about the disorder, many times they maintain silence; this silence can often prove fatal for the patient.

Santucci says, "Friends of anorexia and bulimics can give support and care by telling others in a sensitive manner."

In her treatment programs family members and friends of the patient's are invited to attend the sessions, with great emphasis placed on the buddy system because the patient greatly needs emotional support.

At the clinic every modality of treatment is utilized, with some patients requiring more complex programs than others. Santucci knew using the various modalities instead of just one or a few because she says if only an individual program is implemented, a patient may become very knowledgeable about their disorder without becoming cured.

The clinic employs the holistic expertise of a professional dietitian, education, behavioral modifiers, rational thinking training, family and individual therapy sessions.

Santucci is planning for increased treatment by opening Mercy Center, in Aurora (which specializes in eating disorders by working on patients' body image). Santucci hopes Mercy Center will become a prototype for other treatment centers, centers that will eventually replace special psychiatric or alcoholic units in hospitals.

Also, in November, Santucci visited Bologna University, in Italy, to set up the first eating disorders clinic in Italy, with the help of Dr. Bruno.

Bruno will travel back and forth, from Italy to the U.S., to train with Santucci this Spring; Santucci will return to the Italian center in the Fall.

"There is little preventive therapy before the trouble becomes obvious, as in a death."

Santucci is truly involved in establishing "really creative" methods of treating eating disorders, both at home and abroad.

"My aim is to keep hospitalizations as short as possible and to get the patients back on their own feet," she says. "I would really like to establish official training programs for counselors, too."

The fight against eating disorders involves psychologists, parents, social workers, school

"Eating disorders are appearing in populations other than white."

AT HOME WORKS IN THE CENTER

- 24 Hr. Center
- Homebased eating
- Homebased care
- Homebased food therapy
- Homebased Transcendental Meditation
- Homebased Individualized Disease Training

CLINICAL SERVICES

ALL SERVICES AVAILABLE BY APPOINTMENT

1230 W. Dundee St.
Buffalo, NY 14203
Phone 837-8000
Toll Free 800-875-7838
COUNSELING, NUTRITION, PSYCHOTHERAPY

Elmhurst College

DAY/EVENING/SATURDAY CLASSES

SUMMER TERM

- Day and Evening Courses
- Classes begin June 6
- 33 Majors including Business Administration, Computer Science, Education, Nursing (Degree Completion)

Call for a Summer Bulletin.
279-4100, ext. 354 or or 834-3666.

A Four Year Liberal Arts College Since 1871
190 Prospect, Elmhurst, IL 60120

ELMHURST MANAGEMENT PROGRAM (EMP)

- Only one evening a week or Saturday for one year to complete the Business major
 - Classes on campus in Elmhurst and off campus Park Ridge and Rolling Meadows
 - Intensive workshop format designed for the Business Professional
 - Classes begin in May and June
- Call now for program prerequisites and Class Schedule.
832-3182

Elmhurst College

Continued on pg. 91

Editorial

The Harbinger April 14, 1988

Page 3

Big Brother II: It's in your blood.

Several weeks ago, in this column, I wrote about the "Big Brother" network of conservatives monitoring student attitudes around the country for the government. Wouldn't you know, just when you get comfortably indignant about government spying, it gets worse.

We just received a press wire service story stating that about 20,000 college students will be unknowingly tested for AIDS during the next twelve months across the nation.

The plan, announced last week by the Center for Disease Control (CDC) in Atlanta, calls for twenty or so unnamed campuses to submit about a thousand or so blood samples collected from students as a matter of course throughout the year, which will then be tested for the presence of the HIV (or AIDS) antibody.

To add (potential) injury to injury, the students won't even be informed if they are diagnosed as AIDS victims or carriers. The explanation for all of this, as you might expect, is an "it's for your own good" party line. Dr. Richard Keeling, University of Virginia health services director, who heads the AIDS task force of the American College Health Association, says the tests would provide "the first actual data about the frequency of HIV infection among students, who are increasingly considered a high-risk population."

Fortunately, not everyone in education is so "noble". Rosemary Murray, supervisor for Harper's health service, was almost as appalled as I, but for a different reason. She couldn't believe that the CDC would test diagnosed AIDS victims go unannounced, presumably to continue spreading the disease throughout that "high-risk population."

A very good point, but secondary in my mind. What worries me here is right-to-privacy. Or rather, the lack of it. The debate over mandatory AIDS testing has raged before and will again outside these pages. What makes this different is its secrecy. If you apply for a job and they tell you they test for AIDS and you don't like it, you can simply not apply. Whether or not you have a reason. But if you are in college, working towards any career, in any field, you play in Russian Roulette with either your career or your health.

The argument that if you don't have AIDS you have nothing to worry about doesn't hold water, either. I mean, it's not like the government never makes mistakes. And with thousands of people connected with the CDC and the federal health community, do you want to take a chance that information vital to your reputation and/or health will be safe from public knowledge? I am told that even if the armed forces (or the reserves) SILENCES that you have AIDS they can discharge you. How do you like that on your record? The possibilities are endless.

Our health service at Harper isn't involved in it because they don't take blood samples here to be tested, and I can only hope it stays that way. College can be tough enough without having to worry about being a guinea pig. The stakes are too high.

Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

A sure sign of Spring

By Dennis Darbs

Catholic Campus Minister

Well, get set for spring. I'm beginning to think it's here. One can always tell the sure signs. The weather gets warmer. Mud splatters return to sprouting grass. The books get dustier than ever. Such are the things I will ponder here.

Studying is a part of education. Certainly not the only part. So how do you go about putting it all together?

To begin with, school is a way to feed and nourish your intellect. But it doesn't stop there. You have to nourish your psyche as well. And then there's emotional and spiritual growth to be nurtured. And perhaps most important, social development. Or, in other words, "how to have fun and learn at the same time."

When I was an undergraduate that was no light stuff. My friend Rick Limsey constantly reminded us not to let school get in the way of our education. I haven't heard such wisdom since.

True to form, Friday nights meant staying out late and coming home with a thumper wailer (as if it were late to begin with).

Well, time is limited and so is my space on these pages. So all next time, don't run out of the midnight rail and don't leave everything till the night before. The day before will do just fine

"Off Her Rooker" With our mom

By Liz Broussard

Innocence is a concept which one can behold only after one has lost it. In reminiscing over one's past, the memories of the days in which the kaleidoscope of innocent thoughts were chronologically dissolved are often evident, and the feelings one experienced during the innocent past are vivid and insatiable.

Amazingly, the moments of one's innocent existence are never realized until growth takes you to the heights of sophistication. The most wonderful facet of innocence is the ability to pretend.

...but too soon reasoning becomes a lost art.

There is a magical age when a youth can believe what the mind is pretending, but too soon reasoning becomes a lost art.

Perhaps this is a sort of defense mechanism which inhibits adults from abusing pretense for the purpose of relieving their troubled minds from deep thought.

Some people who follow the school of metaphysics hold the notion that reality is merely the state of mind which is created by a larger group of people, such as all that are part of a nation, who believe in the reality they have created.

Such reality is easily eliminated if all those involved in the belief in it would simply stop believing. Assuming that this is correct, we not only have a lot to learn from our pretending children, but we also could live in a very scary world free of drugs.

For instance, suppose all the adults in America were to pretend that there was no such thing as cocaine, disabling thousands of fatuous minds every day, and then they believed it. Would it go away?

If this concept were going to work, I suppose the addicts would have to play pretend as well.

The thought process would likely be something to the effect of, "From where am I going to

"Let's pretend...there is no such thing as cocaine" get the drugs?" "How will I find the money to pay for it?" "Who will I have to keep the secret from?" and "How far will I need to take this plot in order to fulfill my desire?"

After agonizing in the pain of painful stomach cramps, the addict would play pretend. This is the lost childhood art which begins with those words, "Let's pretend," although it would be complicated with "But there is no such thing as cocaine, and I don't really like abusing this drug anyway."

Then the mystical chiming of simplistic nursery-rhyme chords would ring through the mind of the addict, and the magical sensation of chaotic reality would be experienced. With the pretense becoming very real, the addict would no longer desire cocaine.

Just as children have a natural sense for intricate detail, how else could the art of playing pretend last for more than one hour? The addict cannot ignore the reality that other issues are involved.

This dilemma is created by virtue of the original questions which crossed the thought processes of the craving addict.

The first question, "From where am I going to get the drugs?", poses the distinct dilemma of how to get rid of the pushing supplier. This one, to my embittered mind, is very simple. Generally, I don't emigrate the thought that people are disposable, but in this case I will gladly make an exception. Let's pretend...; poof—the suppliers are gone. It really doesn't matter where most of them go because it they are disposable.

There is an exception for those suppliers who are also sick of the cocaine habit. If the supplier really wants to get out from his habit and hope to die, stick a needle in his eye that he really can't stand dealing anymore, he could play pretend too.

Having disposed of "The Problem" and dilemma number one, we move on to question number two: "How will I find the money to pay for it?"

The good news is, the addict no longer needs money to buy more drugs, because the drug has been wiped out, no tag backs. The bad news is, the addict still sees lots of money to all sorts of innocent people who unwittingly supported "The Habit."

This involves members of the family whom the addict borrowed from in the beginning, using the clever excuse that he was behind on the rent.

In the end, stealing was involved.

This stratagem was not entirely false, except that there was never any intention of paying the rent because the addict knew he was about to be evicted for not paying last month's rent. In the end, stealing was involved which the family overlooked out of pity or shame.

Other debtors include bank sharks, banks (utilized by the more sophisticated user), and slimy dealers who were foolish enough to form the stuff to begin with. The latter is no problem as outlined on page 10

Harbinger

William Rainey Harper College
1200 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-7396
817-3001

Editor in Chief: Larry Paulin
Managing Editor: Pearl Henderson
News Editor: Pearl Henderson
Entertainment Editor: Douglas Ray
Features Editor: Robyn Davis
Sports Editor: Kim Jirassakuldech
Photo Editor: Tamra Hovson
Graphics: John Tronstein
Computer Consultant: Richard L. Crivner
Advisor: Joe Duncan

THE HARBINGER is the student publication for the Harper College campus community, published weekly except during holidays and final exams. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the college, its administration, faculty or student body. Advertising will carry deadline is noon Thursday and copy is subject to editing. All letters to the editor must be signed and names withheld on request. For further information call 867-3441, ext. 2460 or 2461.

Get "Naked"

New Talking Heads has old sound

by Steve Hill
Contributing Writer
There can't be many bands that truly deserve the critical acclaim they receive, especially a band such as the Talking Heads, who have received more than most.

After hitting the cover of TIME magazine following the release of their last album, "True Stories," David Byrne (featureless leader of the band) seems to have toned down the pop aspirations of their last two releases. This makes for a Talking Heads album related more closely to early releases than to the last ones.

I can't say that I've heard a lot of the early Talking Heads, but this album is pretty good. After enjoying their last two releases so much though, this one is a slight letdown, merely because it's a bit more eclectic than the others.

A huge group of musicians play on this album, which was recorded in Paris (in achieve a non-American feel, say the liner notes).

Guest musicians include

Johnny Marr and Kirsty MacColl who, along with the other guests, provide a much fuller sound than the four-member band has achieved before.

There are a few tracks which are laden with horns, a trend that became popular a few years ago (possibly brought on by Phil Collins' solo success with the Earth Wind and Fire horn section) but seems to be dying down of late. They work great here, especially on "Blind" and "Mr. Jones," the first two songs.

Ironically, my favorite song on the album is apparently a CD only (possibly on the cassette as well) track called "Cool Water." This song builds up strikingly from a monotone vocal with very little backing instruments to convey an odd feeling of desolation that, strangely enough, ends the album well.

The record as a whole probably is a decidedly different experience than the compact disc because of the exclusion of this track.

The best way that I can pinpoint the feeling of disappointment that I had while listening to this album is that there are too many songs that are forgettable.

Only a few of the songs stick in your mind, as opposed to their 1983 release "Little Creatures," of which not one song could be described as forgettable.

Overall, the new Talking Heads album is very good, but also very different from the last two.

They have yet to surpass the quality of "Little Creatures," but each subsequent release comes ever so close.

One more note: there is a sticker on the CD box that says that the CD is encoded with graphics, one of the firms to have such a subcode. Only special CD players equipped with a subcode output will be able to back up to a television to see the graphics.

Sounds very interesting doesn't it? The Talking Heads always were one group that enjoyed experimentation.

Talking Heads
"Naked"
Fly/Sire Rec/Cass/CD
Rating out of 5: 3 1/2

"And the winner is..."

The Academies Reviewed

by Kevin Goldstein
Entertainment Writer

Monday night, the 60th Academy Awards were held, hosted by Chevy Chase. It is the only job this man can find in three short minutes as a presenter. Robyn Williams made me laugh more than Chase ever did.

Why couldn't Williams be the host? Couldn't the Academy have gotten someone else beside this wack out?

Forgetting about Chevy, I sat back, cigarettes clutched in hand, waiting to be bored out of my mind for three hours. Anyway, there were many winners, though few surprises.

Best Supporting Actor: Sean Connery. The Untouchables. This was really the only wide open category, and although years' only was rooting for Albert Brooks, I realized that comedians don't win awards.

Though Sean talked to long (don't they all) it was a well deserved award for one of our best actors.

Best Supporting

Actress: Olympia Dukakis; Moonstruck. I think she won because of her last name.

Sound: The Last Emperor. This was the first award that I saw them win, and the theme music was kind of pleasant the first time.

Editing: The Last Emperor. The music still sounds kind of nice, although I was starting to get the feeling that I was going to be hearing it all night long.

Now it's time for that annual long tribute award. This time Jack Lemmon tells me all about Billy Wilder, the winner of the Irving Thalberg producer's award. Yawn.

I awakened then to Liza Minnelli sitting on a piano played by Dudley Moore asking that musical question, "Where would we be without music?"

Well Liza, I wouldn't be bored out of my mind if I weren't listening to you.

Oh goody now all the nominees get to do about a minute of their songs. First we

continued on page 10

CONSIDER A PROFESSIONAL OPPORTUNITY WITH THE PRUDENTIAL

Discover how you can become a financial services professional at the

Prudential Recruiting Seminar

Successful sales professionals will be on hand to answer questions and tell you about:

- The potential for unlimited income based on performance
- How to get started with The Prudential
- Opportunities for management
- The many benefits of working for America's largest provider of financial services

FRIDAY, APRIL 22
PRUDENTIAL PLAZA, CHICAGO
(130 E. RANDOLPH)

Two Sessions: 10:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m.

For Additional Information or Reservations, Call

1 (800) 426-9757

There is no cost or obligation.

The Prudential

An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/H

In the 1980s an actor (Duval) went looking for America... and created a new kind of film. The most real American ever... Every actor was the film that defined an era.

As an actor and director, Sean Penn always goes to the edge... looking for places and times that have never been before. Sean Penn's new film, Street Edge.

Now in 1988, we find director Dennis Hooper on the streets of Los Angeles... for a war zone where gang members and innocent people alike are killed... over territorial empires of red and blue. Over COLORS. And again... for those in prison, we have seen before with the first feature.

To do it he has brought together an extraordinary cast and crew. All of them... sharing a fierce devotion to the director's vision. And leading the cast... two million purple seconds of unapologetic intensity... Sean Penn and Robert Duval.

SEAN PENN ROBERT DUVAL
COLORS

A WINNET H. SOLO PRODUCTION. A DENNIS HOOPER FILM.
SEAN PENN ROBERT DUVAL COLORS MARGA CONDETA ALONSO
Produced by PHIL LEWIS. Music by KENNETH HANCOCK.
Director of Photography MARCEL ZELER. A.S.C. Screenplay by MICHAEL SCHIFFER
Story by MICHAEL SCHIFFER and RICHARD FELLELO. Produced by ROBERT H. SOLO
Executive Producers: MICHAEL SCHIFFER and RICHARD FELLELO. Edited by ROBERT H. SOLO DOLBY DIGITAL
STARTS APRIL 15th AT THEATRES EVERYWHERE.

Page Five

My dear friend Dan glides along under the peculiar notion that life, in its broadest sense, is essentially a matter of his rakish response in a sporting challenge by God. If anyone else really exists in Dan's eyes, it's merely as a pair of hands in a cosmic applause machine designed to keep him motivated.

He lies six feet, four inches long and weighs between 200 and 220, depending on his latest bout with the barber. His face is a large, hastily arranged affair of terminally half-lidded eyes, a nose with the accepted number of holes and lips that approximate the contour of a pair of amorous armadillos in the missionary position.

He is a master of the old school. The quintessential anti-hero. A noble-hearted Quixote charging windmills on his mother's Goldcard. He is immune to both fad and fashion, he reacts not from calculation or affectation, but from the well-springs of self-knowledge—from a soul as pure and clear as a crystal pool. There is a startling correctness to him, an unwavering conviction and the haunting broadside of public disdain. So, no matter what our opinion of his chosen path, we must at least say of him "There is a man of singular character! Profound in insight and courageous in self-expression!"

Or, maybe he's just a boozehound... tough call.

I ring the bell of Dan's house and waited. After a moment, a voice not Dan's came through the intercom: "Drown in a cold vat of whiskey?" It asked.

"Death, where is thy sting?" I responded and the door to Dan's house was opened to me. As codephrases go, famous quotations are generally undisable, but Dan refuses to believe that anyone can complete a W. C. Fields line could possibly mean him harm (W. C. Fields to you and me, "The Enlightened One" to Dan).

He was Felix who let me in.

"Six days, full throttle. No sleep, no solid food." Felix took my coat and gave me an affectionate hug. Felix is one of those gentle giants who can crack an egg with one hand and a skull with the other and not break the yolk. The same is true of his brother Delbert. That's why they're on Dan's bunge payroll.

"How is he?" I asked.

"Fairly poorly," answered Felix. "I have two nurses on instead of one. He's comin' out too slow. I'm glad you came."

"Food?"

"A dextrose I.V. and JD in the gerbil bottle."

"Bourbon's not food," I corrected Felix.

"It is to him," he corrected me.

One bedroom in Dan's house is arranged and equipped as a hospital room specifically for Dan's bunge recuperation. I looked in on him and concurred with Felix's assessment: fairly poorly. His gear hung lachrymatically on the TV screen. The skin on his face was puffy and gray in contrast to his crisp, white sheets. The spout of the jumbo gerbil bottle resided inside his lower lip. The television showed pre-recorded Roadrunner cartoons, chosen for their lack of dialogue and understanding storylines.

After going through the trip receipts, I gave Felix the total. Seven thousand dollars, not including today.

"Wow!" replied Felix aptly. "Six days, a hundred and sixty-nine bars in eight states! The guy's a nut! He was tellin' me and Delbert how moderation atrophies the human spirit, how it's a social ill, yet he necessarily opposes individualism. He says there's a cosmic elegance to excess, a oneness with creation. He says that the banquet of life should

FIRST PERSON

"You can call me a Cinematic Hospitality Engineer or you can call me an usher, just don't touch my flashlight."

Movie theater ushers aren't on the demand list any more, but they are far from being an obsolete breed. I, Bart, has been escorting theater patrons in their seats and descending on balcony mezzanine for thirteen years and still have him tell it, a movie theater is a great thought. Bart has been working where the profits of blockbuster comedies from recent months have been poured. Bart's position is to see that it is the usher who must be able to care for children when their two opposing fathers collide. He says a lot of things like that.

Bart was born and raised in Bluefield, Illinois, where writer Peter Sweeney caught up with him in his own apartment above a barbed wire ranch the Illinois State Bar. "I'm happy here at peace with myself and they're not see the bathroom in the third story across the street."

People underestimate the role of the usher in creating a pleasant cinema experience. The usher is not only the guide to a movie, but he's the usher who can make or break it. It all comes down to us.

The job requires a good deal of patience and patience. Many times, for instance, it's the usher who dims the lights, not the projectionist, and it calls for a lot of timing and judgment. That's really the essence of this job, timing and judgment. You can't learn it, it's like an instinct, either you have it or you don't.

be attacked with lip-smackin', belly-stuffin' gluttony. He says the Bible, the Talmud and the Koran are just flowery diatribes.

"He also says that Jack Daniels should be sainted," I said sarcastically.

"I know," said Felix. "I signed the petition he sent to Rome."

"Hello, Julie," I said to one of the nurses, "what hour is it?"

"Oh, hello Mr. Sweeney. He's in the tenth hour now." Then he should be seeing All-Star wrestling and religious programs on the TV and he should have Guinness Stout in the gerbil bottle.

"I know," said Julie, "but there's been no sign of cerebral activity." Like squirrels living in his head? Put beer in the gerbil bottle and The 700 Club on the TV. How's his skull?"

"Still mushy."

"Wait an hour and start vitamins and liver massage."

The process of regaining speech began as Dan tried to repeat words he heard on the television. The wrestling program, for instance, provided "I'm gonna turn him inside-out! (Uba turnip uba do!) and the religious show had "God wants you to send money!" (Gow wassu sem bunny! Sem bunny do!)

I entered his room during the nineteenth hour. "Ahh nod a docker," Dan barked at the TV, "had I pay one on TB!"

I gave him a gentle rap on the nose.

"Oh, hebbio Feebler."

"How do you feel?"

"Mudge bebbier, danks."

"Can you think?"

"Could I beeb?"

"You in the nineteenth hour of the seventh day. You dropped seven grand in eight states and a hundred sixty-nine bars."

"All charming."

"Want some fawp?"

"Maybe in a cubbie years, I got hair in my mouf."

"Gargle some Narr. I'm gonna put water in your gerbil bottle now."

"Next of kin?"

"I guess it can wait."

"Where's ebyone?"

"Out in the kitchen heppin' hussanix on you."

"As we'll dey might, I met de Lord dis time!"

"God?"

"Jesus."

"He's good. Where?"

"At Doyle's in Denver, he tends bar there. He's a negro. He was radiant."

"Afro-Sheen under fluorescent lights. Besides, Des Moines is as far west as you get."

"Oh, Maybe I was having an out of body thing then."

"What did He say?"

"He said that the cold weather made His device shiver."

"Maybe you should keep that story to yourself. Stick to the cosmic purity of excess stuff."

"You're right, but now I'm wondering if I overruled Him."

"How much did you give Him?"

"Ten bucks."

"Your path is paved."

"My brain is paved."

the flap cap and just walk around. People cross the street when they see me coming.

I like to think of the movie theater as a microcosm, a scaled-down version of the world we live in. Sometimes, for instance, someone will bring enough money for tickets, but not for popcorn, so there's your hunger. And you can almost be there'll always be someone with a cold steering an unwilling, so there's your disease. But there's good things too, like laughter and happiness and kissing, maybe even more per capita than the rest of the world, so maybe the world could take a lesson from movie theaters.

Children's movies are the best movie of the user. All these little monsters running around screaming and making rivers of Orange Crush and Raisinets into the aisles. Fortunately, I haven't had to work the mainstage since I was five years ago when some woman got mad because I made her seat stand at attention throughout the main feature. If she didn't want him stretched out, why did she bring him in a theater?

We had one incident last year when a woman came in to me and said the bear hit her baby. I allowed a hint I was real sorry to hear that, said it turns out she's not talking about her boyfriend, she's talking about her baby. She had mistyped her damn baby. Well, she was racked with sobs and all that and meanwhile I'm running around checking all the places a baby could get into, but it was no longer to be found. The woman by this point is very upset, as anyone who has misplaced their baby will understand. After looking everywhere I could think of, I went back into the theater to think the thing out when I notice that seat 7 in row M is open in the upright position. Further investigation revealed a baby stuck to all the gum on it, it was weighing it down. Well, it turns out that this is the baby who mistyped her damn baby. I was glad to have it back and I was employee of the month for finding it.

The end.

Many of my fellow ushers are just high school kids who need summer work. That's okay. I show them the ropes but they usually move on before they can develop to their full potential.

Mastering the whispering voice is a major stumbling block to success in this field and the reason education instead. It may be loud enough to convey authority, but not so loud that it disturbs the other patrons. It's a gift, maybe.

Speaking of authority in the aisles, there is currently a debate raging over whether or not ushers should be permitted to carry firearms. I was against the idea until one night a couple of years ago when there was an incident involving an angry customer and a box of tissues. I'm still not comfortable talking about it. That might sound weird, but in the usher game you hear a lot of better stories about ushers putting out people's eyes. I think one guy even lost an arm.

The way the law stands now, we're not even allowed to discipline the theatre patrons. That's another very controversial issue. Some of us believe we should be provided with Mace or electric cattle prods, not so much for self defense as to demarcate our authority and to uphold theatre policy.

Since it's a man's name and I'm not just saying that because it's my name. You hear the term "Jensen's" somewhere, hundred dollar green fives three days but I've spent a good deal of time pushing myself and there's just none of that home stuff to be found. "Jensen" is a man's name. It is.

When someone says the word movie usher, the first thought that comes to mind is the anonymous woman we get. Well, there's no denying that the glamour of the job, coupled with a very spiffy uniform, is more than enough to turn a young lady's head, but I would never share my position in that way. Sometimes though, late at night, I'll put on my old uniform with the heavy gold brocade and

Upcoming

The Harbinger April 14, 1988

Page 6

Registration for the summer 1988 semester will begin with early registration in April. The following schedule indicates dates and times of registration. Information has been distributed by the Student Development Faculty regarding the usual academic advising program. Detailed registration is by appointment card only. Appointments cards are available beginning April 14 in the Registrar's Office at 310 East 1st. Students are encouraged to see their advisors for assistance in choosing their classes.

EARLY REGISTRATION FOR APPOINTMENT CARD ONLY

April 25, 26, 27 & 28 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

May 2, 3 & 4 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

APPOINTMENT CARD NECESSARY
April 25 & 26 9 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.

May 2 & 3 8 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR UNDERGRADUATE ONLY

May 10, 11, 12 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

TUITION & FEES MUST BE PAID BY MAY 11, 1988 OR SCHEDULES WILL BE CANCELLED

Friends at Harper College ANNOUNCE A NEWSPAPER DRIVE w/ Peter Soby Jr.

Special fundraiser for a special student who recently suffered a tragic accident which resulted in paralysis from the shoulders down. Proceeds from this Newspaper and Alumni Card Drive will help defray Peter's medical expenses.

- What: Newspapers - clean, ragged or first place
Alumni Cards - plastic bags securely closed
- Where: Large Semi-Truck in Parking Lot # 3 off Route 81 Entrance
- When: May be dropped off any time during the week or weekend
- Who: Student Staff, Faculty, Friends
Anyone who wishes to help
- Thank you DS We care!

Free Videotapes

There is life after college.

We have a new series of videotapes that provide essential information for that inevitable job search. They include help in what careers match your specific interests and skills, how to put together a resume and prepare for an interview, what are the formulas for success and how to manage your own career in a large corporation.

Stop in for a front row seat

Videotapes available in The Career Planning Center and Placement Office. Contact Carrie Gorn in A337.

WHAT Scott Jones
Generic Party
WHEN Monday,
April 18, 8:00 p.m.
WHERE Building J - Room 143

INFORMATION: Single tickets are $10.00. Two tickets are $18.00. Student members of the Student Body Association (SBA) receive a 50% discount. Members of the Student Body Association (SBA) receive a 50% discount. Members of the Student Body Association (SBA) receive a 50% discount.

CLASS	SECTION	INSTRUCTOR	MEETS	ROOM	PREREQ
ENGL 101	001
ENGL 101	002
ENGL 101	003
ENGL 101	004
ENGL 101	005
ENGL 101	006
ENGL 101	007
ENGL 101	008
ENGL 101	009
ENGL 101	010
ENGL 101	011
ENGL 101	012
ENGL 101	013
ENGL 101	014
ENGL 101	015
ENGL 101	016
ENGL 101	017
ENGL 101	018
ENGL 101	019
ENGL 101	020

REGISTRATION INFORMATION: See Registrar's Office for more information. Registration is required for all classes. Registration is required for all classes. Registration is required for all classes.

Complete your 4-year degree at BARAT COLLEGE
coeducational • liberal arts • private resident and commuter students

- 21 majors
- Day and evening classes
- Summer session
- Career planning
- Individual academic advising
- Adult re-entry services
- Daytime child care
- Convenient suburban location

Schedule a campus visit:
Saturdays 9:00 a.m.-noon
Weekdays 8:30 a.m.-4:30 p.m.
Evenings By appointment

Contact Barat College Admissions
200 E. Westleigh Road Lake Forest, IL 60045
(312) 231-3000 On Saturdays (312) 295-4260

Violence invades spring break resorts

(CPS)

The two largest riots of spring break 1988, at Fort Amund, Texas and Palm Beach, California, resulted in 78 arrests and seven injuries.

In the worst spring break rioting since 1986, four people were stabbed and two police officers hurt as an estimated 3,000 vacationing students rioted on Mustang Island March 20.

No one is sure how the midnight beach riot on the island, just offshore from Corpus Christi, began, although policeman Jim Kachin noted, there is a tremendous amount of intoxication going on. All it takes is for someone to bump into someone else to start a riot.

Other witnesses reported the violence began when a 26-year-old man hit a 16-year-old girl with his car, which was then overturned and trashed by angry bystanders.

Though the girl subsequently was treated for minor abrasions at a local hospital, it took 100 police officers using helicopters and tear gas to break up the ensuing riot, in which a car was run into the Gulf of Mexico off a pier, a portable toilet was burned and rocks were thrown.

Police arrested eight people. Palm Beach, California police arrested 75 people and issued citations to 200 others during a weekend of sporadic fighting and public drunkenness among the 50,000 students vacationing in areas.

"When you have alcohol involved," said police Officer

Karen Holtz, "things start getting bigger, and guys start thinking they're tougher than they are."

Holtz said the mixture of 100 degree heat and alcohol contributed to the disturbances.

These riots were the worst since April, 1986, when hundreds of high school and college students threw rocks and bottles at police and ripped the clothes off women at Palm Beach, California. Police arrested 500 people during a week of drinking and vandalism.

Holtz reported a similar incident in Palm Springs where in 1986 hundreds of students ran wild, vandalized property, threw rocks, assaulted a female passerby and briefly took over the central business district before police moved in to arrest 738 people and issue 4,343 citations.

Since these troubles, the Texas Gulf Coast, Jamaica and Daytona Beach, Florida have been the only areas still advertising to encourage college students to visit them for spring break.

Mexico reportedly also is considering discouraging American collegians from vacationing in traditional places like Mazatlan, Nogales and Rocky Point.

There aren't very good feelings in Mexico about young Americans," said University of Arizona Dean of Students Ronald Andreas, who added students "are behaving as if they don't have to be responsible for their actions."

Andreas's office, hoping to prevent students from offending their hosts, published a list of trip guidelines advising students they don't have the same rights in Mexico as they do at home.

According to Andreas, Nogales and Maratón Police have imprisoned rowdy U.S. students in recent years.

Moreover, in early March an Arizona State University student was killed when he fell off the top of a train carrying a group of students to Maratón.

In Daytona Beach—by far now the most popular spring break locale, this year bringing an estimated 900,000 students to town—six people died this season.

The fatalities occurred when vacationers, reportedly drinking, fell from hotel balconies.

Graduates' job hunt unaffected by stock market crash

(CPS)

College Graduates of 1988 should get more job offers and higher salaries than previous years' classes reported the College Placement Council (CPC).

The stock market crash of October 19 has had virtually no effect on corporate recruiting of new graduates, even for students who have earned their masters in business administration, according to an assessment of student job hunting since 1987 conducted by the CPC.

Petroleum engineering majors are doing the best, getting average starting salary offers of $33,435, said CPC spokesman Dawn Gialick.

The CPC, Northwestern University and Michigan State University all publish forecasts of how many companies will visit campuses to recruit each year.

In their forecasts, released in December, both Northwestern and Michigan State predicted the crash would narrow students' job prospects somewhat as corporations, worried a recession would follow, said they were cutting their hiring by five percent.

The CPC last week said preliminary feedback from placement offices on 153 campuses indicates companies have not scaled down their hiring after all. In fact, many types of majors say starting salary offers are rising. Accounting graduates, for instance, are getting average starting offers of $23,376, a 7.8 percent salary increase over the average July, 1987 offer, according to the CPC.

Among the other majors and average starting salary offers reported were: mechanical engineers ($29,100), allied health ($24,048), nursing ($24,444), banking and finance ($22,156), human resources ($19,284), hotel and restaurant management ($19,032), advertising ($18,576) and journalism ($18,624).

Photo by John Stanton
Construction resumes on campus after last summer's early cone work due to foul weather. The project is expected to take three months.

A Man's Gotta Do What A Man's Gotta Do

All young men have one responsibility in common. They have to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. All it takes is five minutes at any post office to fill out a simple form. So if you know a young man about to turn 18, remind him to register. It's one of those things he's got to do.

Register with Selective Service
It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

Rubes*

By Leigh Rubin

Frankie refreshes his memory.

Rubes*

By Leigh Rubin

F SILLIE

by JON CALDARA

F SILLIE

by JON CALDARA

Puzzle Solution on page 11

ACROSS

- 1 Crazy color
- 4 Precipitous
- 9 Bone of body
- 12 Mace
- 13 Musical instrument
- 14 Belize
- 15 Fondled
- 17 Unleashed
- 19 Consume
- 20 Send to him
- 21 Sharp pain
- 22 Premier's master's
- 24 Ourselves
- 25 Salt
- 28 Snare
- 30 Short jacket
- 31 Symbol for metal
- 32 Shd's height
- 34 Guad's low

DOWN

- 2 Both food
- 3 Dominant
- 5 Former Russian
- 6 Sediment
- 7 Right hand
- 8 Meddler's own
- 10 Compass point
- 11 District in Germany
- 16 Dislike
- 18 Surgical saw
- 19 Farer
- 21 Down goddess
- 22 Saddle
- 24 Napha metal
- 25 Same
- 26 Richers
- 27 Knock
- 29 Sounded
- 30 Babylonian
- 33 Deth
- 35 Finches

COURTESY PMS SERVICE

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

Awesome Savings on WORDSTAR.

75% OFF for Faculty and Students
Reg. $495 Now Only $125

Now registered students and faculty members, too can purchase the most widely used word processing software in the world for the absolute minimum price... thanks to MicroPro's educational endowment program. Choose from MicroPro's top-of-the-line software: WordStar Classic, Ref. 5 or WordStar 2000 Plus, Ref. 3.

WordStar Special Campus Technology Products

WordStar Classic, Ref. 5
WordStar 2000 Plus, Ref. 3

MicroPro Software Corporation
5000 Westpark Drive
Scottsdale, AZ 85251
(602) 991-2000

USA
MicroPro

Students
Faculty

Features

A doctor's perspective

(cont'd from pg. 2)

counselors and other professionals, as well as the help of friends, in a format with ongoing education about the disorders. Sanctori would like for all of these people to take college courses especially designed for dealing with eating disorders to be better able to handle the problems faced by many young and middle age people.

Dr. Patricia Sanctori has a professional perspective on many aspects of health care, but is primarily concerned with leading the fight against eating disorders, advocating education as a primary preventive measure. Harper College's Wellness Week is also advocating educating people about their bodies. Although Sanctori will not be speaking at any of the seminars next week,

Education is a primary preventive measure.

Health Service is trying to schedule her for next year's Wellness Week.

WHERE WOULD YOU WANT TO WORK?

GENERAL AND AUXILIARY OFFICE
LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE TODAY!

CALL 980-8900

uniforce
EMPLOYMENT SERVICE
NO FEE FOR M.F.V.

Wellness Week activities kick off on Tuesday, April 19 at 9:30 a.m. in the Dining Room with the Wellness Week Breakfast at which Alison Crane will discuss laughter as a powerful ally for all of us in combating stress and stress-related problems.

This is the only program during the April 19-21 Wellness Week activities which requires pre-registration or a fee. (The registration of $3.50 is being accepted by the Health Service, A36.)

Other programs scheduled throughout the day and evening hours on April 19-21 plus a Health Fair from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 20, are free and open to the public.

Each day, top notch speakers will present programs on a variety of topics. For example, on Tuesday, April 19 from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m. in Building M Gym, Paul P. Rosen, Stress Prevention and The Dabrowski Initiators of wilderness and adventure education, will present Stress and Challenge Initiatives.

Participants in this workshop, through a team building experience of mental and physical initiatives, will learn about stress and the self-limiting cycle it can place on risk taking and life adventures.

Participants will be given the opportunity to learn to trust and cooperate with others. This is a participative program and personal choices should be worn. On Wednesday, April 20 from 3:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in

A115, Molly Bey, Psy. D., of Clinical Hypnosis, Inc. will present a seminar entitled "There's a Light at the End of the Tunnel."

If minor frustrations leave you feeling ineffective and not of sorts, if you often feel hopeless or overwhelmed, this seminar will help you recognize your personal trigger points and give you specific skills to improve your coping ability.

On Thursday, April 21, 9:45 to 11:15 a.m. in A242, Karen Hare, R.D., will take an objective look at the athletes' nutritional needs during training and competition in the program "The Seven Nutrition Edge: Nutrition for the Physically Active." Specific nutrients such as carbohydrates, fluids, electrolytes, vitamins and minerals will be covered. Practical suggestions will be given on improving the athletes diet.

During the Health Fair on Wednesday, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. in the Student Center, exhibits, information and free testing services will be provided and include: cardiac risk assessment, adult immunizations, vision screening, optical screening, blood pressure screening, hearing testing and hearing aid evaluation, blood typing, body fat calculation, computerized diet analysis, blood glucose testing, child finger printing, oral cancer screening, computerized stress evaluation, glaucoma testing and vision screening, pulmonary function screening and computerized wellness inventory.

In addition, the Health Service will do finger stick cholesterol screening for a $3 fee and Northwest Community Hospital will perform a Chem Screen 25, HCL, and complete blood count for $20. This test requires a 12 hour fast and an appointment must be scheduled at 987-3400, ext. 2268.

Participate in and enjoy the Wellness Week activities and explore the physical, mental and emotional aspects of wellness and health care. It is an excellent opportunity to increase health consciousness and enhance lifestyles.

Health Corner

A message from the Health Center

The Harbinger April 14, 1988 Page 9

The Health Fair will be open from 9:00 am - 5:00 pm on Wednesday in the Student Center Building 4.

Tuesday, April 19		Wednesday, April 20		Thursday, April 21
9:00 am - 9:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	9:00 am - 9:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	9:00 am - 9:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
9:30 am - 10:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	9:30 am - 10:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	9:30 am - 10:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
10:00 am - 10:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	10:00 am - 10:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	10:00 am - 10:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
10:30 am - 11:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	10:30 am - 11:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	10:30 am - 11:00 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
11:00 am - 11:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	11:00 am - 11:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	11:00 am - 11:30 am	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
11:30 am - 12:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	11:30 am - 12:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	11:30 am - 12:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
12:00 pm - 12:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	12:00 pm - 12:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	12:00 pm - 12:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
12:30 pm - 1:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	12:30 pm - 1:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	12:30 pm - 1:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
1:00 pm - 1:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	1:00 pm - 1:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	1:00 pm - 1:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
1:30 pm - 2:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	1:30 pm - 2:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	1:30 pm - 2:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
2:00 pm - 2:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	2:00 pm - 2:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	2:00 pm - 2:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
2:30 pm - 3:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	2:30 pm - 3:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	2:30 pm - 3:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
3:00 pm - 3:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	3:00 pm - 3:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	3:00 pm - 3:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
3:30 pm - 4:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	3:30 pm - 4:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	3:30 pm - 4:00 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives
4:00 pm - 4:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	4:00 pm - 4:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives	4:00 pm - 4:30 pm	Dr. Patricia Sanctori, M.D. - Stress and Challenge Initiatives

ROOSEVELT GIVES YOU A LOT OF CREDIT (AND CREDITS) FOR CONTINUING YOUR SUCCESS STORY

We understand that you've invested a lot of hard work in your education and we don't think you should lose credits over technicalities. So when you transfer to Roosevelt, we make every effort to see that it is a transition is easy and your credits are accepted.

We offer a wide variety of degree programs including Biology, Business Administration, Computer Science, Economics, English and many others. What's more, we boast a top-notch faculty, small classes and counselors ready to assist you in obtaining financial aid. Even if you're not quite ready to transfer, we urge you to talk with one of our counselors. Planning early insures a smooth transfer.

For more information, call or visit our Downtown Campus, our Albert A. Robin Campus in Arlington Heights or our new Lake County Campus.

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY WELLSPRING OF SUCCESS

475 S. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, IL 60605, 312-200-2000
1717 N. Cleveland Street, Arlington Heights, IL 60005, 312-752-0000 1600 W. Washington, 20, Frankfort, IL, 60143, 312-200-2000

ROOSEVELT UNIVERSITY
1717 N. Cleveland Street
Arlington Heights, IL 60005
Phone: 312-752-0000
Fax: 312-752-0000
Website: www.roosevelt.edu

Name: _____
Address: _____
City: _____ State: _____ Zip: _____
Phone: _____

"And the winner is..."

continued from page 4

have superstar sons Grace Slick replacing her was Gloria Estefan from Miami Sound Machine. That's kind of like replacing your '57 Cadillac with a Yugo.

Then we had Mink DeVille. Look at his hair! Do you think that he realizes his hair like that?

Little Richard wook me up with his version of Bob Seger's "Shakedown", and then they have the gall to give the award to "I Had the Time of my Life" from Dirty Dancing. If I never hear that song again the world will be a better place to live.

Original Score: The Last Emperor. There's that damn music again. Oh wait David Byrne wrote some of this, and he's deserved as a prize! Truly the high point of the show.

Best Actor: Michael Douglas, Wall Street. His performance in Fatal Attraction certainly didn't hurt.

Best Actor at the awards show: Jack Nicholson pretending for the cameras that he was happy that Douglas won.

Best Short Film: I failed to write the winners of this one down. Do You Care? Does anyone beside the makers of these films?

Best Costumes: The Last Emperor. The music is beginning to irritate me again.

Best Director: Bernardo Bertolucci. The Last Emperor. After talking to long, the orchestra plays that damn music again. I had my gun.

Best Screenplay (adaptation): The Last Emperor. The music plays. My gun is loaded.

Best Actress: Cher. Moonstruck. Different music! Look at that dress! Look at that body! I'll stop now before I get excited.

Best Picture: The Last Emperor. There's the music again. I think it ended after this, though I'm really not sure as three bullet holes in my television set somehow caused the picture to disappear.

The Last Emperor won all nine awards it was nominated for and overall it was a mind numbingly boring potpourri of glib and pliancy. I just can't respect a show that shutout Return of the Living Dead.

Jane Bliss (left) and Elaine Carlson in 'Reckless'—a new comedy drama by Rex Ainslie. Picture Company. To be reviewed next week. Photos by J.B. Specter.

Off Her Rocker

continued from page 3
they have already been eliminated.

The banks are a small bundle. Noting that the addict has already destroyed his credit thru nonpayment of rent, utilities, and credit cards, what difference is a bankruptcy suit going to make? Having established the bankruptcy solution, there is no need for playing pretend with the bankers and we may move along.

The loan shark now possesses the user's high school ring, an old guitar no big deal as it was a gift from Santa Claus and he stopped believing a long time ago, and he won the stereo at a Freiter's appliance for being on the hundred and fiftieth customer to walk through the door on their big Ten Year Anniversary Sale Day.

This is a little hairy because the stereo was the only thing he ever won, and he didn't realize that he was selling his soul in surrendering his high school ring. It is okay though because he knows he can probably scrape up the money to buy it back someday.

The hardest part is the family thing. The addict cannot pretend that there is no family left, but if the whole family plays the game, then I guess all could agree to pretend there is no debt.

Then, gathering in a huddle, putting their right hands in the center, and all shouting simultaneously, "Alley alley ocean, free, free, free", the pact would be legally bound.

Question number three, "Who will I need to keep the secret from?", has already been eliminated by virtue of "playing pretend" that the drug does not exist any longer.

The final question, "How far will I need to take this plot in order to fulfill my desire", is rather complex.

Some of the users have lost their lives in an attempt to fulfill their desire, some have violently taken the lives of others, and many more, in their selfish pursuit of their insatiable desire, have completely destroyed the fabric of the families who loved them.

Perhaps playing pretend is a little far fetched and unrealistic. Perhaps there is a better solution. Perhaps we non-users could all just get together and pretend that the addict doesn't hurt us.

featuring

- Full Machine Circuits of Nautilus & Eagle Gyms
- Free Weights
- Computerized Exercise Bikes
- Cardiovascular Evaluations
- Aerobic, Low Impact, and Exercise Classes
- Water-Robit Classes
- Nutritional and Personalized Workout Programs
- Tennis Courts
- Swimming
- Tanning Beds
- An On-Campus Nurse's Service
- Fitness Assessment Test Administered By Exercise Physiologist

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

12 Month Student Special—$159

Take advantage of our super low student special. Only $159 gives you one person 12 months of fitness. With no initiation fees or monthly dues required. (Call today for a complimentary workout.)

1 Woodfield Lake
Office Campus
1000 E Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-4200

Feelin' Good
College Wellness Week
April 19, 20, 21, 1988

TRANSFER TO RAY COLLEGE DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAMS

ADVERTISING DESIGN, ILLUSTRATION,
INTERIOR DESIGN, FASHION DESIGN,
FASHION MERCHANDISING, PHOTOGRAPHY

Transfer up to 80 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Arts degree 4-year BA and 2-year AAS degree in specialized majors. Day and evening. Starting June and September. Write or phone for catalog.

RAY COLLEGE OF DESIGN

RAY • V • C • A • U • I

Chicago Campus: Phone (312) 886-3500
601 W. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611

Woodfield Campus: Phone (312) 886-3490
800 Woodfield Drive, Schaumburg, Illinois 60173

Upcoming

Women's Program offers seminars

The Harper College Women's Program offers a series of day-long seminars on Saturdays during the balance of the semester.

The Saturday program is "Retirement: The Rest Should Be The Best" running from 9 a.m. to 4:24 p.m. It will help participants understand what retirement means and discuss ways to prepare for it. On the 23rd, the workshop will cover "The Language of Clothes" and discuss how to use color, pattern and fabric in planning a wardrobe. This workshop will be in A226.

"Office Politics" is the subject for April 30. It will cover what to expect, what to look for and how to adapt to the politics of the work place. This, too, will be in A226.

The final seminar of the Spring semester will be "Understanding the Men in Your Life" and will deal with factors which define masculinity, male problems and stresses as well as how they relate to male-female relationships. This will be in A226.

All seminars run from 9 to 3 p.m. and cost $25, including lunch. More information is available through the Office of Continuing Education, 397-3000, ext. 2410.

One Tuesday seminar scheduled for April 26 is called "Leaveskings - Coping With Saying Good-by" and will help participants deal with moving, empty nests, children off to school as well as leaving a marriage. Again, call 397-3000, ext.2410 for more information.

Bookkeeping Seminar

Need help setting up financial records? Bookkeeping One will meet Wednesdays from April 27 to May 11 and cover how to set up proper records

A Harcourt Brace Jovanovich Company

PRESENT A FREE SEMINAR

Concerning

LAW SCHOOL ADMISSIONS and MBA SCHOOL ADMISSIONS

Discussions will focus upon admissions criteria of top national and Chicago area programs. How the admissions process works. Tips on letters of recommendation and essay question responses. And how to maximize your SAT or GMAT scores.

HARPER COLLEGE

Thursday, April 28 6:00 p.m. Building J, Room 242
This one hour seminar could drastically increase your chances of admission.

Call 855-1088 to reserve your seat.
FREE DRAWING: Four $100 Scholarships will be awarded!

necessary for maintaining accounts receivable, expenditures, earnings projections, etc.

Other seminars will cover Small Business Management on Friday evenings, and Total Material Management on Wednesday evenings.

Information on all programs is available through the Office of Continuing Education, 397-3000, ext. 2410.

Scholarship deadlines approaching

Deadlines are fast approaching for applying for scholarships. Applications for most are available in A94, the Office of Financial Aid.

Among those available are the Northwest Suburban Chapter of the National Network of Women in Sales annual scholarship for female Business Majors.

The Illinois Real Estate Educational Foundation offers general scholarships as well as the Thomas F. Sear Scholarship for those planning a career in real estate or an allied field.

Deadlines for all three are May 1, 1988.

The Adolph Coors Company is offering more than 100 scholarships to eligible dependents of honorably discharged veterans.

Application forms are available through Coors distributors, veterans service organizations, by calling 1-800-290-0085, or by writing Coors Veterans Memorial Scholarship Fund, PO Box 1111, Northbrook, Ill. 60065.

The deadline for submitting completed forms is July 1, 1988.

The scholarship fund will be distributing more than $500,000 for the fourth consecutive year.

Harpist Coming to Harper

The Harper College Cultural Arts Committee will present Sopranos/Irish Harpist Patricia O'Neill performing "The Quiet Land of Erin" on Thursday, April 28 at 12:15 to 1:00 p.m. in Building P, Room 205.

What began as a hobby for this well-known soprano has emerged as a shining new facet in her career. A few years ago, her career as a soprano was inevitable, she was soon giving recitals of Irish folk songs in English and Gaelic. Now, in concert, the Quiet Land of Erin, O'Neill captures for her listeners the essence of Ireland.

This concert is part of a series of cultural programs presented each semester by Harper College for students and area residents.

Horna N. More

COMING SOON Spring 1988

1. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:00-11:00
2. Williams Check 12:15-1:00
3. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:00-1:45
4. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:45-2:30
5. Chamber Music (Piano) 2:30-3:15
6. Chamber Music (Piano) 3:15-4:00
7. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:00-4:45
8. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:45-5:30
9. Chamber Music (Piano) 5:30-6:15
10. Chamber Music (Piano) 6:15-7:00
11. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:00-7:45
12. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:45-8:30
13. Chamber Music (Piano) 8:30-9:15
14. Chamber Music (Piano) 9:15-10:00
15. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:00-10:45
16. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:45-11:30
17. Chamber Music (Piano) 11:30-12:15
18. Chamber Music (Piano) 12:15-1:00
19. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:00-1:45
20. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:45-2:30
21. Chamber Music (Piano) 2:30-3:15
22. Chamber Music (Piano) 3:15-4:00
23. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:00-4:45
24. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:45-5:30
25. Chamber Music (Piano) 5:30-6:15
26. Chamber Music (Piano) 6:15-7:00
27. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:00-7:45
28. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:45-8:30
29. Chamber Music (Piano) 8:30-9:15
30. Chamber Music (Piano) 9:15-10:00
31. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:00-10:45
32. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:45-11:30
33. Chamber Music (Piano) 11:30-12:15
34. Chamber Music (Piano) 12:15-1:00
35. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:00-1:45
36. Chamber Music (Piano) 1:45-2:30
37. Chamber Music (Piano) 2:30-3:15
38. Chamber Music (Piano) 3:15-4:00
39. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:00-4:45
40. Chamber Music (Piano) 4:45-5:30
41. Chamber Music (Piano) 5:30-6:15
42. Chamber Music (Piano) 6:15-7:00
43. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:00-7:45
44. Chamber Music (Piano) 7:45-8:30
45. Chamber Music (Piano) 8:30-9:15
46. Chamber Music (Piano) 9:15-10:00
47. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:00-10:45
48. Chamber Music (Piano) 10:45-11:30
49. Chamber Music (Piano) 11:30-12:15
50. Chamber Music (Piano) 12:15-1:00

Horns 'N' More Performing at Harper

The Harper College Cultural Arts Committee will present a unique musical group Horns 'N' More on Sunday, April 17 at 7:00 p.m. in the Building J Theater.

This talented group of musicians is comprised of members of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, performing faculty from local colleges and universities, and outstanding freelance professional musicians.

The exciting program will feature: Trio for Piano, Violin and Horn, Opus 40 by Johannes Brahms; Sonata for Four Horns (1855) by Sir Michael Tippett; and Jazz Suite for Horn Quartet and Rhythm Section (1951) by Alex Wilder.

Ticket for the concert are available in advance from the College Box Office and are $1 for Harper students with activity card, $4 for other students, and $7 for public admission. For information call the Box Office at 397-3000, ext. 2437.

The concert is part of a series of cultural programs presented each semester by Harper College for students and area residents. For information about upcoming events, call the Harper College Info Hotline at 397-3000, ext. 2532.

THIS SUMMER WALK INTO SOME EXCITING BUSINESS VENTURES

by becoming a Manpower temporary. We'll offer you short or long term assignments, at top local businesses. Learn firsthand about the day-to-day workings of American business. While adding cash to your wallet and experience to your resume.

Attend the School of Experience this summer.

MANPOWER!

CALL TODAY FOR AN APPOINTMENT:

Schaumburg 865-0232
O'Hare 693-2291
Northbrook 564-1440
Loop 263-5144
Lansing 474-0750

Itasca 773-1323
Oakbrook 932-7410
Naperville 357-5404
Skokie 470-8520
N. Riverside 447-8162

Evergreen Park 857-7333
N. Michigan Ave. 266-2903
Kankakee (815) 938-7070
Joliet (815) 726-4406
Hammond, IN (219) 836-2253
Mt. Prospect 952-8110

An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F

The Game

- The deadline for "The Game" entries is Friday, April 22.
- The Winner will be announced in the April 28th issue of The Harbinger.
- When you have found all six locations fill out the entry form and place in box located in The Harbinger office, A367.
- The Harbinger staff and family members of the Harbinger staff will not be able to participate.
- The answers to the locations must be specific.

Entry Form

Name _____
 Address _____
 Phone _____

Location

1 _____
 # 2 _____
 # 3 _____
 # 4 _____
 # 5 _____
 # 6 _____

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#1

Photo By Sandy Salvatore

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#4

Photo By Frank Schwartz

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#2

Photo By Frank Schwartz

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#5

Photo By George Mueller

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#3

Photo By Frank Schwartz

L
O
C
A
T
I
O
N
#6

Photo By Andrew Balazs

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force DebbieTempo

Apple Team
 888 Team
 Tomorrow 888

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas from Technical & General Office positions to Warehouse operations and more.

Debbie Tempo. We make it happen. Short & long term temporary assignments. Call today. 800-333-1110

MODELS WANTED

$75 Value-Free

Call 577-5388

Dale Horn Photography
 Buffalo Grove

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classifieds

The Harbinger April 14, 1988 Page 13

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50; 5.5¢ each additional line.

Employment

Help Wanted

LAW SERVICES

FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs. Include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-3800. Even and weekend appts available. Law Offices of Becker & Becker, 400 N. Meacham 3rd Floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

TYPING SERVICE

Fast, accurate service. Reasonable rates. Easy revisions. Call 312-658-0260.

INCOME SERVICES

Student Discount: 100RA and Illinois $10. 1040 Sch. A-B, Child Care, Illinois $60. 394-1040. Professional Tax Associates Inc. 121 S. Wilke, Suite 405 Arlington Heights, IL 60005.

SUMMER HELPS

Summer Restaurant help wanted. The Keisley Road House. Waiters, Waitresses, Hostesses, Bartenders, Cooks, & Bussers. Write 352 Keisley Road Barrington, IL 60010 or call 312-381-5091.

EARN EXCELLENT MONEY at home

Assemble work. Jewelry, toys, others. Call 312-619-5065, ext. 1154911, 24 hrs.

Help Wanted Part-time

SECRETARIAL

Part-time secretarial opening for Arlington Hts. Research firm. June 13-August 26. General office duties. 10:00 a.m. to 4 p.m. flexible hours. Call Jackie Neurauser at 577-1760.

AEROBICS INSTRUCTOR

needed in - and possibly p.m. Experience preferred. Club benefits. Call 428-4343.

MADIGANS WOODFIELD
FULL-TIME AND PART-TIME OPPORTS

We currently have openings in the following areas:
*SALES
*MAINTENANCE/HOUSEKEEPING
*RECEIVING

Experience helpful but not required. Flexible hrs. available. Excellent company benefits including 20 percent mtd. discount.

Please apply at our Personnel Department.

MADIGANS WOODFIELD MISSESTON
Schaumburg, IL 60192-0300

EDE/M/F

FUN CALLS
Experience or will train plus bonuses $4-$12. av. l. Call Susan at 520-1025.

FOR RENT

plush lake Bar Shores Condo. Beach, golf, tennis and more! $160 per month. Dog allowed. any style. Call Eugene at 382-7488.

THE ROOMMATE SERVICE

Personalized expertise in rental or mortgage expense sharing. Compatibility screening for *Male/Female *Smoker/Non-Smoker *Pets/No Pets, etc. Schaumburg area. Call 301-0090.

FULL TIME STUDENT

wants to split rent with another student. Need to find mutual apt. SWP or SWM. Call evenings @ 394-0840.

For Sale

HOUSES FOR SALE

GOVERNMENT HOMES from $100 !!! Repair! BUY Properties for back TAXES! info. RFD Listing 1 518 450 1566 EXT. H-36744A 24HRS.

ONLY 7 SIZED HOMES $50,000. Repair. Tax adv. Please, longer, more! info.

Reps. Listing Call 1 305 744-3000 Fax 0-11428 24 HRS.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA MR2 Red excellent condition. Asking $15,500. Call 815-344-2155.

1982 OLDS FIERZA Hatchback Air cond. rear def. autom. paw steering. pwr brakes AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $12,000. Excellent cond. no rust. Call 541-8599.

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers cars, boats, planes, reprod. Surplus Your Area. Buyers Guide 111-803-687-6000 Ext. S 1053.

1977 OLDS CUTLASS Brougham 2 dr. V-6 Auto A/C, PK, PB, PW, PL, Tilt, Cruise, K-Del. AM/FM plus many new items. Runs great! Asking $1,595, call 359-3263.

1977 OLDS REGENCY Must sell excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul at 381-2400 ext. 2801 or 845-1942.

Black Bra line Nissan Pulsar NX 3 yrs old. gd cond. all leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer 893-5063.

83 84 Thane Roadstar II, Brown/Sunburst. Hardly used, received as a gift 4 yrs ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer 891-5063.

1987 Ford Mustang LX Hatchback Stereo, Cassette, AC. Exl. warranty $9,500 or assume 5.9% loan plus difference. Call 537-7343 evenings.

1982 Ford Mustang 4 cyl. stick. Near good but. Asking $1,550. call Mike at 258-1809.

RED HOT bargains! Drug dealers cars, boats, planes, reprod. Surplus Your Area. Buyers Guide 111-803-687-6000 Ext. S 1053.

MUSIC INSTRUMENTS

1988 (EX. SEEK) STRINI 201158 Nylon string. gd condition. Asking $800. Call Mike at 815-455-6580.

YAKI CLASSICAL GUITAR Nylon string. Sixteen yrs old. Asking $160. Call Mike at 815-455-6590.

Gibson SC w/case $490, Marshall 50 watt combo $490, King PME 40X modular effects $90, DOD stereo flanger $20, Reb. Ibanez X bass guitar w/case $250, Fender sidekick 50 watt bass amp $100, Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry at 893-3273.

PENDER GEMINI CLASSICAL GUITAR for sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted at 428-5117.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED EARN $300 Show nude or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to CHED. CALL PEARL POB 4314 MILWAUKEE IL 60115. 198A calendars available by mail for $9.95.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD No-one refused. Regardless of credit history. Also ERASE bad credit. Do it yourself! Call 1-819-565-1522 Ext. C15A81.

24 hrs. Wallyball Anyone?

It's off the wall entertainment. Wallyball on request! ball courts (clubs or independents) wishing to man (person) a team of four 161 plus alternates to play once a week can contact Dan Knaz, Intramural Director x ext. 2963.

PJ I saw U at the party last weekend. I think you're adorable. I like what I hear about you. Tell me what I'm missing. Are U available? From the girl in the mini skirt.

Attention!!! interested bodies! The Harbinger needs you! We need writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of the latest equipment for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harger. If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext 2461 or 2460. Or just stop by.

BAND PHOTOGRAPHY Essential for the future of your band. Call Frank at 885-9385.

ENTERTAINMENT

Entertainers needed for new entertainment booking agency and recording studio. Rock/Country bands, clowns, magicians, dancers, models, escorts and solo acts encouraged to apply. All hrs. open. Full or part-time. M/F. All races. Join our video dating service! Call Creative Video Productions at 312-603-8866. Ask for Charlie or Rich. Or please stop by at 3414 Milwaukee Ave. in Northbrook. Sanders Rd. at Milwaukee Ave. (Also needed: private investors).

ADOPTION

My husband and I are interested in adopting an infant. If you know of anyone who is considering placing a child for adoption please call collect @ 618-392-2938.

COLLEGE CASH

We'll help you find it. Computerized service locates GRANTS, scholarships, and other aids that you specifically qualify for. Results are guaranteed. Get started now on next fall. Call or write for free information. American Academic Services POB 4312 Dept. A, Northbrook, IL 60065-4312 577-2841.

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE??
$145 MILLION
IN FINANCIAL AID WENT UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR
WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED
J.M. EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
P.O. BOX 217
PROSPECT HEIGHTS, IL 60070
(312) 705-8527
NOTE: FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
PHONE NUMBER () _____

RESEARCH PAPERS
17,000 to choose from—all subjects
Lowest Prices, Largest Selection
Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or COD
Ordering Hot Line 1-800-621-5745
Or, rush $2.00 to:
Author's Research Services, Inc.
407 S. Dearborn, Room 1605
Chicago, IL 60605
Custom research also available—all levels

What is Art?

by George Mueller

Jeff Jenke

"The Expression of oneself and his or her thoughts and feelings to society through a certain medium."

Kathy Lutzke

"Art is when you experience something that means more to you than just what it is."

Michael Golec

"Art is a big ego."

Todd Hill

"A description of someone's imagination."

Dave Gentry

"I think once you think you know exactly how to define art, time will have changed what art is to the point that your definition wouldn't be valid anyway."

Jennifer McWhorter

"Creating an imaginative thought and forming it into an artistic way."

MOVE UP
TO THE
BEST

MUNDELEIN
COLLEGE

INTELLECTUAL CHALLENGE

- Small classes
- Excellent liberal arts curriculum
- 275+ undergraduate courses
- Substantive, recognized faculty

LANDMARK CAMPS

- Credit-bearing Int. Study Program
- 20 Summer Term Chicago's Loop
- Residence Halls
- 240+ hours of community service opportunities
- Diverse student activities

TRANSFER ADVANTAGES

- Scholarships & Financial Aid
- Transfer Entrance Exam
- Transfer advising
- Career Planning

Call us at (312) 980-5400
6363 North Sheridan Road, Chicago, IL 60660

The Harbinger is looking for bright, intelligent, energetic, dedicated, dependable people. Just like yourself. The following positions are available for Fall '88 Semester:

- Editor-In-Chief
- Managing Editor
- Business Manager
- Sports Editor
- Features Editor
- News Editor
- Entertainment Editor
- Writers
- Photographers
- Secretary

Candidates should meet all of the above criteria and have taken, and passed, Eng. 101 with a C or better. All majors encouraged to apply. If you are interested or know of anyone who meets these qualifications please call The Harbinger @ 397-3000, ext. 2460 or 61, and ask to speak with Larry or Pearl or stop by A367 and pick up an application.

Working for The Harbinger is a challenging, and interesting job. Come be a part of the excitement!

Baseball Preview: AL East

By Scott Borden

Sports Editor

Billy's Back. Again! But, that's not why the Yankees are going to win baseball's most competitive division. The Yanks will top the Blue Jays by one game and then beat up on the Oakland A's in the LCS. The Bronx Bombers will go on to win the series, beating the Mets again.

1. New York Yankees. I am not even going to mention the owner/manager ordeal in the big apple, who cares? Sure the Yankees pitching staff is not the best around, but it is loaded with left-handers, which is a plus in the AL East.

The staff's number one and two men are Rick Rhoads (16 wins in '87) and Richard Dotson. The rotation will also include former greats, left-handers Tommy John (age 44) and Ron Guidry (37). Other possible lefty starters include 22-year old Al Leiter, Lee Gwintertman and John Cambria.

Relief wise the Yankees could be tough, if they can find someone who can set up Dave Righetti (31 saves in '87). Right-hander Charles Hudson, who can and has started, could be the team's best hope.

Offense is definitely the Bronx Bomber's strength. The addition of a healthy Jack Clark adds tremendous power to Mauer's Row.

The team can't afford another injury plagued season, like last year. Baseball's best 1-2-3 punch, Rickey Henderson, Willie Randolph and Don Mattingly missed a combined 102 games in '87.

Dave Winfield, who was nearly traded for Houston's Kevin Bass, is still awesome at age 36 (.275, 27 homers, 97 RBIs). Third baseman Mike Pagliarulo is no Grag Nettles defensively, but will put at least 30 over the short porch in right.

2. Toronto Blue Jays. If I did not like New York so much I could easily pick the Jays to win the East. Last year the Jays should have been there, remember they lost their last seven games to blow a 4 1/2-game lead.

Toronto has tons of power (219 homers in '87) and enough pitching (lowest AL team ERA, 3.94) to make the East a dog fight. George Brett, who is too competitive to play DH, I feel Mosby and Jesse Barfield make up the most productive outfield in the game.

Jimmy Key, second to Roger Clemens (for the C), Young, is the best lefty hurler in the AL. Jim Clardy, Mike Flanagan and once awesome Dave Stieb round up the rotation.

The only trouble spot the Jays have is they can't hit lefty pitching, 22-26 record vs. left-handers last year.

3. Boston Red Sox. The Sox could be a surprise. Let's not forget Boston was in the series in '86, then again they finished 20 games out in '87.

Roger Clemens, if not for Dwight Gooden, would be in a class by himself. Clemens will become the first pitcher to win the Cy Young for three consecutive years. Bruce Hurst and the talented but, troublesome Dill Can Boyd will need to have great seasons for the Sox to have a chance.

Wade Boggs will again have another best season and second baseman Marty Barrett will again hit an amazing 200. Jim Rice needs to regain at least some of his MVP glory days.

Oh, by the way, Boston has ex-Cub reliever Lee Smith. Smith is not as bad as Cubs fans thought. If he is not over-worked, he should capture his fifth straight 30-save season.

4. Detroit Tigers. Sparky Anderson's team is not going to win the East in '88. Like most of the east they have plenty of offense. Last year the Tigers led all of baseball with 225 homers and 906 runs.

Detroit probably has the best middle infield around in shortstop Alan Trammell and second baseman Lou Whitaker. Jack Morris is the number one man in Detroit's quality pitching staff. The loss of Kirk Gibson, now with L.A., is going to hurt the team.

Like the Blue Jays, the Tigers can't hit lefties. This multi-talented team won't finish ahead of the injury-free Yankees and the choke-free Blue Jays.

5. Milwaukee Brewers. The Brew Crew always provides plenty of excitement for the County Stadium beer drinkers. Last year they won 91 games.

Paul Molitor and Robin Yount provided much of the excitement in '87. This team could probably win the West, but they need more consistency to climb the ladder in the East.

6. Cleveland Indians. Those of you who picked the Indians to finish first last year, I hoped you learned your lesson. Cleveland has none, or just zero for pitching. Julio Franco (319 in '87) and Joe Carter (32 HRs and 106 RBIs) are two of the few bright spots on this team.

7. Baltimore Orioles. I went to one game at Memorial Stadium last year and I probably saw the best show of the year. It was the fireworks display after the game.

I think they fit off one rocket for every home run the O's pitching staff gave up. Last year, they became the first team in history to throw over 200 gopher balls. Mike Boddicker hasn't had a good season since '84.

Eddie Murray was great and is now just good and Cal Ripken (252.27 HRs) needs to get his average back up in his career figure of 280. Outfielder/DH Larry Sheets (116, 31 HRs) was the next best thing to the fireworks.

WHOM

harper college radio

Listen in Building "A" or
now AT HOME on the Cable
Access Network!

Channels:

CableNet --- 91

American

Cable --- 21

System

Spotlight
Artist of the Week
(April 18 - 22)

THE BEATLES

Broadcast Monday - Thursday 8:00 am - 8:00 pm Friday 8:00 am - 2:00 pm.

Softball Wins Seven of Last Eight

By Scott Gordon

Sports Editor

The softball team has gone 7-1 in the last eight games to improve their overall record to 9-5. The women's conference record now stands at 4-0.

Coach Myra Minuskin said, "This is your best start since I have been here." Minuskin is now in her third season at Harper. Harper swept a doubleheader from Joliet on Tuesday at home. During spring break the team split a two-game split with Truman and took two from Illinois Valley. Harper also topped Morton twice on the Thursday, March 11.

Harper vs. Joliet
Game One: Harper 14
Joliet 3

The Hawks opened the first with eight runs and went on to beat Joliet in four innings on the ten-run rule. Centerfielder Julie Rowe went 3-for-4. Shortstop Jennifer Blasky had three putouts and eight assists to help give Jenny Pylarz her fourth win.

Game Two: Harper 17
Joliet 2
Again Harper defeated Joliet by the ten-run rule in four. Blasky proved just as tough with the bat as she is with the glove. She went 4-for-4 with a double, triple and five RBIs. Michele Therault took two Joliet and also picked up her fourth win.

Harper vs. Truman
Game One: Truman 4
Harper 3

Truman's shortstop Cathy Flanagan broke a 3-3 tie in the bottom of the fifth with a solo homer. The Hawks' co-captain Kris Foster won 3-for-4 with a double. Pylarz suffered the loss.

Game Two: Harper 14
Truman 3
The Hawks exploded with 16 hits to avenge their first game loss. Foster went 3-for-4, had a double and four RBIs. Therault was the winning pitcher.

Harper vs. Illinois Valley
Game One: Harper 6
Illinois Valley 2

Both Jenny Baumstark and Jenny Pylarz went 2-for-3. Pylarz also recorded the victory.

Game Two: Harper 13
Illinois Valley 12
The Hawks collected 13 runs on 18 hits. Harper's Rowe went 4-for-4, stole four bases and scored three runs. Blasky added three hits, including a two-bagger and Linda Haber had two doubles and four RBIs. Pylarz helped Therault to pick up the win.

Photo By John McVicker

Shortstop Jennifer Blasky is about to tip the cover of the ball as her teammates look on.

Harper vs. Morton
Game One: Harper 7
Morton 2

Harper's bottom three batters produced six hits and five RBIs. Baumstark and Pylarz each had two hits and two RBIs. Gail Kargerow added two singles and one RBI. Pylarz, who allowed only four hits, got the win. The Hawks broke their previous four-game losing streak with the victory.

Game Two: Harper 4
Morton 1
Harper's two runs in the first were all they needed. Therault was the winning pitcher.

The Hawks plays today against Kishwaukee in Moline.

Baseball Team 15-2

By Sandy Salvatore

Sports Writer

The baseball team continues to be hotter than... Well you know. Including the Hawk's doubleheader sweep over St. Francis on Monday, the team's record now is an impressive 15-2.

Harper vs. St. Francis
Game One: Harper 5 St. Francis 0

The Hawks exploded with five consecutive hits and ended up scoring five runs in the third. Todd Teso and Scott O'Grady both ripped doubles. John Knass walked and later stole third. Bill O'Grady pitched a complete game shutout.

Game Two: Harper 5 St. Francis 1

The men were 8-2 over spring break. Some scores and highlights are as follows:

Harper vs. Elgin
Game One: Harper 12
Elgin 0

The cold and windy weather did not stop the Hawks from beating Elgin. The game ended after four under the 10-run slaughter rule.

Tony Vaca and O'Grady combined to pitch the shutout. Teso drove in two runs and Paul O'Callaghan also had two RBIs on a double.

Game Two: Harper 7
Elgin 0

Harper vs. Lake County
Game One: Harper 5 Lake County 4

Harper went into the seventh inning 4-1. O'Grady led off the inning with a single Dennis Kehrer was unusually walked with two outs. Rick Caskey's double brought in both O'Grady and Kehrer. Caskey scored on Dean Van Down's double to tie the score at four. O'Callaghan walked and then Mark Kuffel knocked in the winning run.

Game Two: Harper 4 Lake County 0
Stacey Olenick, who relieved O'Grady, got the win.

Game Two: Harper 4 Lake County 0

Harper vs. Joliet
Game One: Harper 6
Joliet 2

Game Two: Joliet 3
Harper 2

Harper vs. McHenry
Game One: Harper 12
McHenry 2

Game Two: Harper 4
McHenry 2

The Hawks travel to Dec. Plains today to play a doubleheader against Oakton

Photo By John McVicker

Lefty hurler Bill O'Grady pitched a complete game shutout against St. Francis on Monday.

AL West

By Kevin Goldstein

Sports Writer

The weakest division (once again) is the A.L. West. Oakland will win by default as the Royals give them a challenge and the Twins collapse. The White Sox will play decent enough to finish in the middle as the Mariners and Angels continue their pathetic ways.

1. Oakland Athletics: I love Camacho and Mark McGwire combined for 80 HRs and 231 RBIs last year and look for even more this season. New addition, Dave Parker, will be a perfect DH and new starter Bob Welch will strengthen a weak rotation. Middle infield and relief is weak, but not weak enough to lose this division.

2. Kansas City Royals: Kurt Stillwell fills in a gaping hole at shortstop, as Bo Jackson proves he belongs in the major leagues. If Bo can hit 30-35 HRs, George Brett can play 150 games, and new pitcher Floyd Banister can win 16 (like he did last year), the Royals could make it close. Those are a lot of ifs, but it's a possibility.

3. Minnesota Twins: You just can't win with two starting pitchers, and that's all the Twins have. Offensively, their six starters, but an ending rotation of Les Straker, Steve Carlton, and Joe Niekro just aren't cutting it. The only non-pitching weakness is at catcher where the Twins hit under 200 last year.

4. Chicago White Sox: There's a lot of young talent on this team, and they could be contenders in a few years, providing management doesn't screw up. Jack McDowell looks like a quality starter, and Kenry Williams has the speed potential written all over him. With a little chemistry, this team could play 90 ball all year.

5. Texas Rangers: How many of you know who Ruben Sierra is? Let me give you a clue. He played rightfield for the Texas Rangers last year. Big deal, right? He also scored 97 runs, hit 80 HRs, and knocked in 109 while having one of the quietest great seasons last year. He's also three and one half years younger than Darryl Strawberry. If we could combine names, the Rangers would have a CF/DH named Oddie Incaavilla.

6. California Angels: One great offensive player, and two really good ones combine with six regulars to form a horrible ball club. Pitching isn't much better as it's all down hill after Mike Witt.

7. Seattle Mariners: After Mark Langston, this team doesn't have one returning starter with more than 9 wins, or an ERA below 4.71. They also don't have an outfielder who hit more than 14 home runs last year.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 25

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger April 21, 1988

Board Names New President: Thompson

By Elaine Stoermer
Director College Relations

The Harper College Board of Trustees has named Dr. Paul N. Thompson, currently president of Bellevue Community College in Bellevue, Washington, to serve as president of William Rainey Harper College.

Thompson succeeds James J. McGrath who was president of Harper College from 1978-1985 and has taken the position as president of Trinity College in Washington, D.C.

Thompson's appointment will be confirmed at the April 28 meeting of the Board of Trustees and it is anticipated that Thompson will assume his duties at Harper College in mid-July.

Thompson was selected from approximately 80 candidates who applied or were nominated for the presidency following a comprehensive process which included consultations with Hendrick and Struggles, a national search firm.

The consultants worked with a search committee composed of representatives of all College employee groups, the College Board of Trustees, the student body and members of College support organizations representing the community. The search committee forwarded a list of five finalists in random order to the Board of Trustees from which the Board made the selection following extensive interviews and deliberation.

Thompson has both a Ph.D. in education and an A.M. degree in mathematics from Gustavus Adolphus College in St. Peter, Minnesota. He attended the National Science Foundation Summer Institute at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor in 1963 and 1964.

Thompson has taught and served as an administrator at four comprehensive community colleges during the last twenty years. Prior to locating in Washington, Thompson was vice president for instructional services at Joliet Junior College in Joliet, Illinois.

From 1975 to 1977, he served as president of Olney Central College of Illinois Eastern Community College in Olney, Illinois. He also was a mathematics instructor and coordinator at Portland College in Champaign, Illinois.

Thompson has co-authored

Dr. Paul Thompson (Photo courtesy of Harper College)

two mathematics textbooks and published numerous articles in professional journals. Additionally, he is a frequent presenter at state and national trustee meetings and educational conferences. In addition to his administrative duties, Thompson has served as president of the Washington Association of Community College Presidents

Thompson has been heavily involved in civic and professional organizations such as the Seattle King County Economic Development Council, the Bellevue Philharmonic Board of Directors, the United Way of King County, the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, "Leadership Tomorrow" Advisory Board, Rotary International, and the American Association of Community and Junior Colleges.

In commenting on the selection of Thompson, Board Chairman Kris Ikwant stated:

Dr. Thompson has the broad experience and record of effective leadership which the Board sought in a president for Harper College as it enters its third decade. He has demonstrated his commitment to academic excellence and to the educational mission of a comprehensive community college.

"We look forward to working with him not only to maintain Harper's present high quality but to move ahead positively and creatively to meet the needs of this community into the next century."

When he resided in Illinois, Thompson was active in the Illinois Council of Public Community College Presidents.

Harbinger named second in state

By Alisa Chitulud
Staff Writer

Harper's campus newspaper, The Harbinger, picked up several awards including a second place award for overall excellence at the 41st Annual Spring Journalism Conference held at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

Harper College was represented by Jon Osman, Harbinger Advisor and Alisa Chitulud, Staff Writer.

Chitulud accepted these awards for the Harbinger: third place for a news story by Pearl Henderson "Harper Considers Care"; first place for a features story by Kim Ostrowski "Ambassador program off to a flying start"; honorable mention for an opinion/editorial by Larry Paulin "A very personal classified ad"; third place for an opinion/editorial by Larry Paulin "Tennis: Nice work if you can get it"; third place for an arts story by Larry Paulin "A living Saint at Harper"; third place for layout and design; and a second place for overall excellence.

Defective retention walls replaced

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Construction men are replacing defective retention walls at A and F buildings because they were beginning to bulge and cave in, according to Physical Plant Administration Director Don DeBlase.

The original walls were installed incorrectly by a company which has since gone out of business. Recently, revenue came in from a suit won against the company.

Construction began last summer on the defective retention walls as well as the sidewalks and exterior stair case to the library which were also incorrectly built. The retention walls were designed to hold back dirt from driven leading under A and F buildings to receiving desks.

Last fall, F building's retention wall was torn down and continues on page 3

Retention wall at west side of A building is being replaced by structural landscaping, a series of dirt steps. Similar landscaping can be seen in front of A building. Photo by Frank Schwartz

Piano tuner turns pianist

By Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor
and Andrea Brown

You can bet the piano he will be using will be well tuned when Timothy Bowling sits down to tackle the recital this Sunday.

Bowling is not a concert pianist, however, he is now in his sixth year as Harper's piano tuner. Bowling got the idea for the concert from his 10 years as a full-time piano tuner; he usually plays something for his clients after he has finished tuning their pianos.

Bowling's clients often tell him, "You should play professionally."

Finding a professional venue is difficult, however, for someone like Bowling who is not well known as a pianist. The local symphonies do not have much money to pay their musicians and must rely on a big-name artist to draw a crowd, according to Bowling.

"There need to be more local competitions in which pianists are offered chances to play with a symphony, such as the C'S OI as the prize," says Bowling. He adds that there are not enough competitions for these pianists over "college-age," or the "young-old people, or the old young people," as he calls them.

Sunday's free recital, at 3 p.m. in P-205, will be Bowling's chance to play for his clients as well as for the public.

Bowling began playing the piano when he was four, by imitating [his] sisters, who were taking lessons." His sisters did not pursue piano professionally, but Bowling went on to study ecclesiastical music at Moody Bible Institute in Chicago. He then received his bachelor's of music degree with emphasis on piano performance as Chicago's American Conservatory of Music.

"Being a piano tuner is the 'ideal' profession," says Bowling, because he can produce a professional income while maintaining the freedom to set his own hours and plan days off. Bowling says he definitely would take piano tuning "over a nine-to-five job."

Bowling became Harper's piano tuner by "selecting" the job after the former tuner moved. Having an institution like a school as a steady client is hard to come by, according to Bowling; most schools will put out annual bids for a tuner.

However, Bowling says Harper does not necessarily want the cheapest tuner or to have to change tuners every year, because different tuners mean the employment of different tuning techniques. Having the same piano tuner over several years means there is a consistency in the tuning method and, hence, in the quality of the instruments sound.

On Sunday Bowling will perform Beethoven's Sonata in C major, Op. 2, No. 3 and a Sonata by Ravel. Denis Moflat, of the American Conservatory, will accompany Bowling on a third piece, Concerto No. 2 in D minor for piano and orchestra by American Romantic composer Edward Mac Dowell. Moflat, who is Bowling's "teacher and coach," will be playing the orchestra score reduced to piano in the Mac Dowell piece.

Bowling says he picked the three pieces because they are varied and difficult. He is partial to the Mac Dowell piece, having played selected movements from the piece for competitions at the Moody Bible Institute and the American Conservatory. Bowling says he also wanted to pick pieces that may not be as familiar to the public.

The recital is open to the public and is expected to run approximately 90 minutes. There will be a reception with refreshments afterwards.

Collector in our midst

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

When one thinks of "Library," or of the LRC (Learning Resource Center), one usually pictures books, great volumes and small, but many, nonetheless.

Librarian and Associate Professor Bob Theuda, by nature of his profession, is familiar with public volumes and variety, but he is also familiar with his own, personal collections.

In fact, his private collections often occupy the many display cases in Harper's LRC. His collections range from his present, "active" collection of frogs (in every shape, medium and color) to "inactive" collections, such as stone arrowheads and cereal premiums.

Because a particular fancy wanes in interest after a year or so of active collecting, Theuda has to store his inactive collections. This storing of around 2000 items can cause "quite a problem with space," he admits with a grin.

During his two decades of service here at Harper Theuda has found that the best part of being a librarian is "working at the reference desk." Why? He enjoys the different - and often weird - manerisms that students have when asking for information.

Photo by Frank Schwartz

Librarian DO have lives outside of the LRC; and one of Harper's own is adding variety to the silent stacks with his collections.

barbri
PROFESSIONAL TESTING CENTER

A Harcourt Brace Jovanovich Company

PRESENT A FREE SEMINAR covering

LAW SCHOOL ADMISSIONS
and
MBA SCHOOL ADMISSIONS

Discussions will focus upon Admissions, criteria of top national and Chicago area programs. How the admissions process works. Tips on letters of recommendation and essay question responses. And how to maximize your LSAT or GMAT Score.

HARPER COLLEGE
Thursday, April 28 6:00 p.m. Building 1, Room 242

This one hour seminar could drastically increase your chances of admission.

Call 855-1088 to reserve your seat.
FREE DRAWING: Four $100 Scholarships will be awarded.

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

6 Month Student Special—$99

like an average of 3000 calories per student special. Only $99 gives you personal instruction. Without initiation fees or monthly dues required. Call today for a complimentary workout.

WOODFIELD
Fitness Club

1 Woodfield Lake
Office Campus
1000 E. Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-1200

- featuring:
- Full Machine Circuits of Vanities & Eagle Gyrox
 - Free Weights
 - Computerized Exercise Bikes
 - Cardiovascular Evaluations
 - Aerobic, Low Impact, and Exercise Classes
 - Water-Robic Classes
 - Nutritional and Personalized Workout Programs
 - Tennis Courts
 - Swimming
 - Tanning Beds
 - No Lost Varsity Service
 - Fitness Assessment Test
- Administered By Exercise Physiologist

Editorial

Retention walls

Continued from front page
 many sidewalks were replaced at considerable inconvenience to Harper students. Construction was cut short due to excessive rain and an early winter.

The retention walls Terraced landscaping, a series of dirt steps often filled with plants will replace the retention walls.

Don DeBiase anticipates all work on the sidewalks, the exterior staircase, and the retention walls to be done by September, two months after the proposed date.

Parking lot resurfacing also began last year before the weather turned cold and asphalt plants closed. This left the middle third of parking lot two and the circle drive in front of A building unfinished.

A new drainage system was added to the circle drive to prevent water accumulation in low spots, and new curbs were constructed. Parking space was doubled by redesigning the island allowing parking on both sides.

DeBiase is hopeful that resurfacing will be complete May 20 (before graduation) to avoid graduation parking difficulties.

The fire alarm system is undergoing a complete update. DeBiase predicts this project to be complete by August.

Almost all campus buildings will receive new doors by early May. According to DeBiase the doors 15-18 years old and were not designed for the amount of use they received.

"Hopefully, the filthiest of May we will replace the running track," said DeBiase. The running track went up for bid by construction companies, but bids were surprisingly high.

The Board of Trustees, therefore, unanimously voted to rebid the bid with a requirement change. This change will not lower the standards of the project, but should bring in lower bids.

The Energy Management Automation System should be put up for bid in about one month. This system will automatically adjust heat, air-conditioning and lighting around campus.

"This system will have a very fast payback," said Vice President of Administrative Services Vern Mankie.

Terraced landscaping in front of A building is the style that will be used in place of the faulty retention walls at the west side of A building and south side of F building. Photo by John Sures.

"Off Her Rocker" With our mom

By Liz Broussard

There is no person more amazing than be whose words are so reckless as to have the capacity for offending nearly every person he speaks about.

Ironically, although proficient in the art of inimitable verbal abuse for the purpose of extracting snickers from any car likely to half listen, such people do not seem to be aware that they possess this uncanny talent.

Moreover, when these facetious harlequins find themselves being rewarded unkindly by their latest victims, child-like fits are commonly witnessed. I suspect that such people (through no shortcoming of their own) have come under the harsh criticism of others so frequently, that they practice affronting large groups of people merely for the purpose of rendering themselves imperturbable.

Such a pity, all that effort to no avail. It reminds me of the fish that jumped out of the frying pan to save his skin, but lost his scales in the fire.

This brings me to my theory of offendability. Offendability is a new word which has recently been created for the sole purpose of fitting into my column (a clear case of the ends justifying the means).

The meaning of the word is actually the measure of how easily a person can be offended. How this works is very simple. A person's offendability is in direct correlation with the percentage of people said person has offended plus or minus two percent.

For example, if one obnoxious person offends one hundred percent of the people which said obnoxious person comes into contact with, he or she is ninety-eight or one hundred and two percent offendable.

From where do I get the "one hundred and TWO percent you might ask? Allow me to expound. After offending another human being, it is quite natural for that human being to attempt to deliver equality or more offensive prose.

However, for every ten people offended, one simply is not assertive enough to tell the offender where to stick it. Also out of ten offended people, four have at least three friends, who are equally as offendable as the original offender, who cannot resist the temptation to tell the obnoxious so and so where to stick it.

This is only for the sake of the offended friend of course, and not having anything whatsoever to do with the pent up hostility these offendable types have been festering for years and years.

Please do not attempt to bring out your calculators to see if this adds up, as such rationalizations are too complicated for the mathematical mind to comprehend and could be hazardous to one's health.

Trust me, between those who are assertive enough to tell these verbally abusive characters where to get off, those who are not at all assertive, and those who don't care who their ripping is as long as it's a good time, on a good day the offender is offended by ninety-eight percent of his targets, and on a bad day, he is offended by ninety percent plus twelve extras who are in it for the fun of it.

Although it can't be proven mathematically, everything does add up in the Theory of Offendability. On the lighter side, the Theory of Gratification is simple to compute.

Here is how this works: If person "A" makes one comment which offends one hundred people, and then person "B" uses one hundred well planned words to offend one hundred people and offend one person "A", then person "B" clearly feels a greater sense of gratification than person "A".

I invite you to bring out your calculators to check this one out, and let me know if you agree. I hope I haven't offended anyone.

Health Corner

Have you ever thought about donating your eyes, kidneys or other organs to extend or improve someone else's life after you are gone?

Organ donation is a miracle that truly does work. But, organs are received from only 15% of the 20,000 plus who die each year and who have available organs and tissue to donate. Many requests for organs remain unfulfilled.

The Uniform Anatomical Gift Act allows anyone over 18 to sign a donor card willing some or all of their organs after death. The Illinois Driver's License Bureau can supply you with a stamp for your license identifying you as an organ donor. During Tissue and Organ Donor Awareness Week, April 20-30, 1988, donor cards and information will also be available in the Health Service, A362. Your thoughtfulness now can be a miracle later.

Doreene Remaker, from Loyola University's Sexual Dysfunction Clinic, speaks to a group at Harper as part of Williams Week. (Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Harbinger

William Rainey Harper College
 1208 W. Algonquin Rd.
 Palatine, IL 60067-7398
 397-3000

- Editor in Chief Larry Paulin
- Managing Editor Paul Henderson
- Business Manager Paul Henderson
- News Editor Douglas Ray
- Entertainment Editor Robert Davis
- Features Editor Kim Olesnowski
- Sports Editor Scott Gordon
- Photo Editor Tanya Brown
- Layout Gloria Carr
- Graphics Tom Trueman
- Computer Consultant Richard LeCrosier
- Advisor Jon Orman

THE HARBINGER is the student publication for the Harper College campus community, published weekly except during holidays and final exams. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and not necessarily those of the college, its administration, faculty or student body. Advertising and copy deadline is noon Thursday and copy is subject to editing. All letters to the editor must be signed, names withheld on request. For further information call 397-3000, ext. 2446 or 2445.

Entertainment

The Harbinger April 21, 1988 Page 4

Performances make "Reckless" funny, poignant

By Larry Paville
Editor-in-Chief

"Twas the night before Christmas. And your husband has paid to have you killed!"

This begins the premise of Craig Lucas' new play, "Reckless," brought to the stage by the Absolute Theatre Company at the Theatre Building, 1225 W. Belmont, in Chicago. Though billed as a comedy,

"Reckless" is far more than that. It takes a farcical theme and builds it into a character study of extreme depth.

As a matter of fact, that depth causes the one minor flaw in the play: you sometimes learn more about the characters than you need to. But in a play as good, that's suspecting.

This is the first play in some time (certainly the first new play) that has made me laugh and cry in the space of two lines.

"Reckless" tells the story of Rachel, a suburban housewife, who finds out her husband has put a contract out on her life. She does for her life to the only local place open, a gas station, where she meets Lloyd, who gives her a lift into an adventure that has to be sure to be believed.

This show is filled to the rattlers with solid acting work, but three people really stand out: Elaine Carlson does what I would've thought impossible in this show: make Rachel a believable, vulnerable, victim/heroine.

David Cameron, as Lloyd, does something interesting, too. He makes a cartoon caricature into someone we really feel for.

And Jane Blasa deserves mention if for nothing else, for her ability to play FIVE supporting roles (as psychiatrists) and play them well.

I purposely left out most of the plot here, for two reasons: I don't have nearly the space to detail the plot twists, and, more to the point, you just have to be there.

Film passes with flying "Colors"

By Kevin Gordstein
Staff Writer

Dennis Hopper's new film, Colors... for the first time, portrays street gangs as more than just ignorant groups of violent terrorists.

They are shown as desperate youth. The gangs give them a sense of belonging and importance. The result is one of the most realistic portrayals of modern street life ever put on film.

Sean Penn and Robert Davall play partners with conflicting opinions assigned to Los Angeles' gang crackdown unit. While Penn's character is young and brash, attempting to win to intimidate gang members, Davall is the experienced street-smart cop who tries to befriend the gang members, therefore earning respect and admiration.

The movie revolves around three central stories. One is of a small gang and a 12-year-old named Felipe who must choose whether to become a member like his older cousin or stay in school and live an "honorable" life. Hopper uses this story to explain the existence of gangs, and to show how the gangs are often the only chance the youth have for a family life.

Another story is that of the affair between Penn and a Chicano woman played by Maria Conchita Alonso.

The mutual attraction between the two is never explained, and their split is a predictable ending to this flimsy relationship. It was inevitable that it wouldn't work as she was from the poor, gang-infested neighborhood and it was her life.

Although the reason for her character's existence was probably to add some more flash to the screen, it also represented the two different worlds and how difficult it is to cross the barrier between them.

The third and main story was that of Penn and Davall trying to stop the continued killings between two of L.A.'s most powerful gangs, the Crips (wearing blue) and the Bloods (wearing red).

The killings are a continuing cycle of revenge where the Crips kill a Blood, a Blood kills a Crip and so on. One of the Blood's leaders is a youth named Hi-Top who Davall let go once to get information.

Hi-Top is later wanted for questioning and the result is a high-speed chase that ends up in a tense hostage situation in a crowded restaurant.

One of the Crip's leaders is a member named Rocket, who opens the film by killing a young member of the Blood's.

The search for Rocket leads to the accidental killing of another, and the treatment of the city's youth by the police is put into question.

Penn gives a fine performance as the arrogant new minded cop, as Davall is right at home as the tough cop with the golden heart.

Under Hopper's direction, the film accurately shows the desolation and despair of the streets of L.A.

Since Jan. 1, 1988 there have been over 100 gang related killings in Los Angeles and crackdowns by over 2,000 California policemen have brought in hundreds of suspected gang members. Unfortunately, this is only a small dent as the city has over 70,000 gang members.

This film has sparked some controversy as anti-crime groups have accused the film of glorifying gangs. As to some in the film did the gang members ever become "good guys"?

What actually bothered the protesters was, probably the portrayal of gangs as desperate, young Americans with no other way out.

Rating out 5: 3 1/2

Sculptor Visits Harper

Photo by John Sutton

Sculptor Dalton Maroney, artist of two sculptures displayed on campus, is visiting Harper's art department this week. He is a teacher of sculpture, three dimensional design, and drawing from the University of Texas at Arlington. Maroney has been conducting lectures and working with art students on a third sculpture to be displayed on campus. "I'm hoping by Friday I will be at the painting stage," said Maroney. "The sculpture is a wooden construction, of an abstract form," added Maroney. Maroney will be at Harper through tomorrow. Anyone interested in helping in construction or has any questions may contact Maroney at extension 2494 or visit at U building room 112.

TRANSFER TO RAY COLLEGE DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAMS

ADVERTISING DESIGN, ILLUSTRATION, INTERIOR DESIGN, FASHION DESIGN, FASHION MERCHANDISING, PHOTOGRAPHY

Transfer up to 80 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Arts degree 4-year BA and 2-year AAB degree in specialized majors. Day and evening. Starting June and September. Write or phone for catalog.

RAY COLLEGE OF DESIGN

DESIGN - VOGUE

Chicago Campus: Phone: (312) 280-3500
401 N. Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611
Woodstock Campus: Phone: (312) 840-3480
800 Woodstock Drive, Schaumburg, Illinois 60173

HEALTH CARE CENTER, INC.

Continues to offer low cost, confidential care in all areas of women's health:

- Family Planning
- Pap Smears
- VD testing & treatment
- Pregnancy testing & referrals
- Pre-marital blood tests

WE DO PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR WORK, SCHOOL, SPORTS

359-7575

For information and/or appointment call:

553 N. Court, Suite 100, Palatine

Daytime, Evening and Saturday Appointments

Getting Bombed with Harry

By Peter Sweeney

It's always a pleasure to sit and crack a cold one with members of the psychiatric community. Psyche gropers can not only shed some light on the mysteries of the human animal, but can also tell some good "Guckoo's Nest" stories.

When you listen to them talking among themselves, though, you begin to realize the dilemma they face on a daily basis: The connection of lines.

Perhaps in their struggle to validate themselves as scientists, they seek uniform, linear rules for human behavior which often seems intrinsically non-linear, if not completely random.

Seems.

But in their search for constants and universal behavioral laws, they perhaps overlook the truth they originally sought.

First, let's pretend that the word I used earlier, "linear," means that something has to do with a line or lines. Coincidentally, it does.

When only the nearest part of a line is visible, it can be difficult to protract the line backward to its point of origin without scientific instruments. Conversely, when the beginnings of many lines are visible, it can be very difficult to correctly assign them to their opposite ends when no middles are present. Follow?

Okay. You're the shrink. A patient comes to you whose disturbed past (you assume) has caused him to manifest certain behavioral aberrations. He staples aluminum siding to the neighbor's cat; he spraypaints graffiti on the mailman, when his yamulke is in the wash he wears a tea cozy to Temple; he's not Jewish.

Those are the end segments of lines. Your job as an analyst is technically one notch above reading chicken entrails. To correct this behavior you must dig out its roots, but first you must find those roots. You must delve through the millions of incidents in his life, major and minor, and try to determine which of them formed the beginning of the lines that now cause him to fall to his knees every Sunday night at seven o'clock and scream "Puzzle me, Mickey! Fill me with your throbbing mousehood!"

Which incidents mark the start of that line? Was it the spanking he received before friends at his fourth birthday party? A nocturnal emissions problem? A misinterpreted episode of Ernie and Bert? Is it something he's not telling you? Or something he doesn't even know? Even if you do stumble across the answer, how will you know?

Do you see the problem? It's so gosh darn frustrating that you finally throw up your hands and say "Gee whiz, I don't know. Let's just pluck out his frontal lobe. That should cover it!"

And that's what this column is about, right? A blanket indictment of the psychiatric community and the moral atrocities of society in dealing with the mentally ill, right?

Nope.

Then it must be about the poor translation between human behavior and scientific method, right?

Not even close. Don't try to second-guess me, folks. If my writing had any continuity or polish, I'd be turning a buck at it.

The scrounger crawls out of cold woodworks--

Be wary where the scavenger lurks!

Some leech for a living--some for thrills

Making mountains out of our molehills.

Like a vulture circling in the sky
Awaits our passing to peck our eye
They flit through ashes for wood unburned:
Shissifiers leaving no turd unturned.

Nothing brings The Scrounger more pleasure
Than one man's trash as his own treasure;
The sordid stiches of vilest hell
To The Scrounger a rose--the sweetest smell.

What we really have here is a radial pincers maneuver. That means that I have started drawing a circle down both sides from the top. I will now close it neatly at the bottom.

Seriously.

Starting down one slope of the circle, we have behavioral science. Down the other slope we have anti-social behavior. Now we link them at the bottom.

Link. Link. Link.

In the history of humanity, there have been millions, probably billions of incidents of significantly anti-social behavior. We can't begin to unearth them all and list them in order of heinousness, but the top ten or so tend to stand out.

Hitler was #1, hands down.

Or was he?

Hitler had pro-social ideals. That those ideals were warped and twisted doesn't concern us here. Only that the welfare of society was his motivation.

That fact alone could plip our first runner up neatly into first place, even though his direct and indirect victims are counted as far fewer than Hitler's.

So far.

The uranium bomb that was dropped on Hiroshima, and the plutonium bomb dropped three days later on Nagasaki, were experiments. A perversion of the Arthurian Dilemma. "Does might make right? Or right make might?"

"...their faces were shally burned, their eyesockets were hollow, the fluid from their maddened eyes had run down their cheeks."--John Hersey, Hiroshima

I'm a pretty open minded fella, but every argument I've heard in defense of those bombings was as limp as a melted girder beam.

Maybe Harry Truman was just having a hummer day. So why did I begin with all that stuff about psychiatrists? To misquote someone whose name I forget, "Life must be lived forward, but can only be understood backward."

It is my theory that when Harry was a lad living somewhere in Missouri, he was one of the first kids on the block to have indoor plumbing.

When urinating, perhaps young Harry fantasized that he was hitting an enemy fleet. The bubbles in the bowl represented the attacking warships. The biggest bubbles were the destroyers and battleships, so young Harry would concentrate his stream on these, but here was an aggravating cycle: his force and determination to burst the big bubbles would cause more and bigger bubbles to surface. In "sinking" these, he would create more, and more, and more.

And when this persistent, unsinkable armada filled the bowl, the worst was yet to come.

Harry would run out of ammo.

Back up and regroup?

Hell no!

Allow time and gravity to take their toll!

Hell no!

Young Harry had the answer. . .

He flushed.

The Scrounger

By Jerry Schwartz

Upcoming

The Harbinger April 21, 1988

Page 6

Registration for the summer 1988 semester will begin with early registration in April. The following schedule indicates the date of registration. Information has been distributed by the Student Development Faculty regarding the usual academic advising procedure. Changes in procedure will be announced later. Appointment cards are available beginning April 13th in the Registrar's Office at 8:00 a.m. Students are encouraged to use appointment for assistance in choosing their classes.

EARLY REGISTRATION AND APPOINTMENT CARD ONLY

April 21, 26, 27, & 28 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

May 2, 3, 4 & 6 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

NO APPOINTMENT CARD NECESSARY

April 25 & 26 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

May 2 & 3 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER AND FALL

May 9, 10, 11, 12 & 13 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

TUTION & FEE MUST BE PAID BY MAY 19, 1988. OR SCHEDULES WILL BE CANCELLED

Friends at Harper College
ANNOUNCE A NEWSPAPER DRIVE
for Peter Soby Jr.

A special fundraiser for a special student who recently suffered a tragic accident which resulted in paraplegia from the shoulders down. Proceeds from this newspaper and aluminum can drive will help defray Peter's medical expenses.

What: Newspapers - Brown Bagged or tied please
Aluminum Cans - Plastic bags securely closed

Where: Large Semi-Truck in Parking Lot # 3 off Route 84 Entrance

WORK WHEN YOU WANT TO WORK

GENERAL AND AUTOMATED OFFICE, LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE TODAY!

CALL 980-8900

uniforce
temporary services
NO FEE FOR EMPLOYER

The Force Behind Chicago's Work Force DebbieTemp

Apple Today
888 Earn
Tomorrow 888

A variety of interesting short term assignments in all areas from Chemical & General Office positions to Warehouse operations and more.

Debbie Tempco. We make it happen.
Short & long term temporary assignments
Call today
899-5570

Attention Phi Theta Kappa Graduates

Honors tassel will be included in your graduation packet.

You may, however, order the Phi Theta Kappa honors stole through the National magazine.

If you need an order form please put your request along with your name and address in the Phi Theta Kappa mailbox in the Student Activities Office to the attention of Sandy Ender. Please note that delivery takes about 10 days.

Harper Swim team holds swim-a-thon

Members of the Harper swim team are organizing a fund raising drive to help the family of a former member of the team.

The group is planning to hold a swim-a-thon on April 30th, this will be during open swim on M Bldg. between 1-4 p.m.

Sponsors are needed for this event, sponsors need only pledge a few cents per lap. Each individual will swim as many laps as possible in one hour.

The family that we wish to help is about to have their home foreclosed on by the bank. This is a one parent family whose mother's only wish is to take care of her kids.

Anyone interested in participating or sponsoring please contact a swim team member or leave a message at M-Bldg office.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE - SPRING, 1988

Final Exam Period	Monday May 16	Tuesday May 17	Wednesday May 18	Thursday May 19	Friday May 20
8:00-9:45	ML ENG 101 & 102 Classes	ML Accounting Classes	ML MTH 102 Classes	T-R 8:00-9:15	Faculty Exam Processing Time and Specialty Arranged Exams
9:50-11:40	M-W 9:00-9:50	T-R 9:25-10:40	M-W-F 9:00-9:50	T-R 12:15-1:30	Specialty Arranged Exams
11:50-1:15	M-W-F 10:00-10:50	T-R 10:50-12:05	M-W-F 11:00-11:50		Specialty Arranged Exams
1:45-3:30	M-W-F 12:00-12:50	T-R 1:40-2:55	M-W 1:00-2:15		Specialty Arranged Exams
3:40-5:25	M-W 3:00-4:00	T-R 3:20-4:30	M-W-F 2:25-3:45		Specialty Arranged Exams

Evening Schools

1. Classes beginning at 6:55 pm or after will follow the evening class schedule.

2. Monday through Friday evening and Saturday classes will use the week of May 16 for final examinations, to be held during these class periods.

ALL FINAL EXAMS ARE HELD LATER THAN NORMALLY HELD IN THE REGISTRATION OFFICE, A-711

NOTE: DEFERRED - If your class time does not fit, use the above final exam schedule, if your section extends 2:00 for the average class time period.

Complete your 4-year degree

BARAT COLLEGE

coeducational • liberal arts • private resident and commuter students

- 21 majors
- Day and evening classes
- Summer session
- Career planning
- Individual academic advising
- Adult re-entry services
- Daytime child care
- Convenient suburban location

Summer School starts June 13

Call for a brochure

Contact Barat College Admissions

700 E. Westleigh Road Lake Forest IL 60045
(312) 234-3060 On Saturdays (312) 295-4260

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50. $5.50 each additional line.

Employment

Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES

FREE CONSULTATION For your legal needs include: Div. personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-3800. Even and weekend appts available. Law Offices of Becker & Becker, 600 N. Meacham, 3rd floor, Schaumburg, IL 60195.

TYPING SERVICE

Fast accurate service. Reasonable rates. Easy revisions. Call 312-658-0260.

SUMMER HELP!

Summer Restaurant help wanted. The Kelsey Road House. Waiters, Waitresses, Hostpersons, Bartenders, Cooks, & Busspersons. Write: 352 Kelsey Road, Barrington, IL 60010 or call 312-381-5091.

RESUME SERVICE

Start out your job search on the right foot with a well written resume. Daily/Evening/Weekend, call 394-5421.

SEASONAL

Lifeguards must be certified for private pool at Sherfield Towne House complex in Schaumburg. Priority apply in person at 100 N. Walnut Ln.

EARN EXCELLENT MONEY

at home. Assemble work. Jewelry, toys others. Call 1-815-565-1857 ext. 215/4811, 24 hrs.

SUMMER JOBS!

1989 HILTI BURNING. Must be excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul at 381-2400 ext. 2401 or FAX 381-2401.

Classifieds

The Harbinger April 21, 1988

Page 7

HELP WANTED

AFRONICS INSTRUCTOR needed a m and possibly p m. Experience preferred. Club benefits. Call 428-4343.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT

For Arlington Hgts. Research Firm. Variety of duties. Secretarial type 50 w p m. plus wordprocessing/computer skills coordinate avian and basic research. Flexible hrs competitive pay. Call Jacqueline Neurauser at 577-1760.

Realty

POR RENT Plush Lake Bar Shores Condo. Beach golf tennis and more! $100 per month. Dog allowed any style. Call Eugene at 382-7484.

FULL TIME STUDENT

wants to split rent with mother student. Need to find mutual apt. SWF or SWM. Call evenings at 394-0840.

For Sale

HOUSES FOR SALE

GOVERNMENT HOMES from $1.00 (U Repair) BUY Properties for back TAXES! Info: REPO LISTING 1-518-450-3546, EXT. 18-3674AA, 24 HRS.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 TOYOTA MR2 red, excellent condition. Asking $9,500. Call 815-344-2155.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA Hatchback Air cond, rear def, auto, new steering, two brakes, AM/FM stereo, 48,000 miles. Asking 12,000. Excellent and no rust. Call 55-8854.

1979 OLDS CUTLASS. Excellent condition. 200,000 miles. Value for money. Call 312-350-1100. 1980 OLDS CUTLASS. Excellent condition. 100,000 miles. Asking 1,750. Call 312-350-1100.

1989 HILTI BURNING. Must be excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul at 381-2400 ext. 2401 or FAX 381-2401.

PAN WILL BUY JERKS

any 1984 model pickup truck. 4x4's. Call 860-1110. 24 hr. no. 860-1110.

Black Bra for Nissan Bluebird NX. 3 yrs old and good leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 803-5163.

85-88 Honda Shadow II Brown/Cumbrill. Hardly used received as a gift 4 yrs ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 803-5163.

1987 FORD MUSTANG

LV Hatchback Stereo Cassette AC Ext. Warrants $9,500 or assume 7.9% loan plus difference. Call 517-7643 evenings.

1987 FORD MUSTANG

4-cyl. stick. Need gear box. Asking $1,550. Call Mark at 259-1809.

MUSIC ACCESSORIES

MARTIN STEEL STRING Guitar 11 yrs old, excellent cond. Asking $400. Call Mike at 815-455-6590.

CARL CLASSICAL GUITAR Nylon strings 16 yrs old. Asking $100. Call Mike at 815-455-6590.

1988 OLDS CUTLASS. Excellent condition. 100,000 miles. Value for money. Call 312-350-1100. 1980 OLDS CUTLASS. Excellent condition. 100,000 miles. Asking 1,750. Call 312-350-1100.

1989 HILTI BURNING. Must be excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul at 381-2400 ext. 2401 or FAX 381-2401.

1989 HILTI BURNING. Must be excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul at 381-2400 ext. 2401 or FAX 381-2401.

RESEARCH PAPERS

17,000 to choose from—all subjects. Lowest Prices, Largest Selection. Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or COD. Ordering Hot Line 1-800-621-5745. Or, rush $2.00 to: Author's Research Services, Inc., 407 S. Dearborn, Room 1605, Chicago, IL 60605. Custom research also available—all levels.

WANTED

1981 March 70 wall lamp. $100. King PINE 40X modular effects $30. 1000 stereo. (anger) $20. Ken Thomas. 1984 quarter of size $200. Fender sides 68-70 wall bass amp $100. Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry at 893-3273.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED EARN $100

Dine made or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, Dekalb, IL 60115, 1988 calendar available by mail for $805.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD

No time refused. Regardless of credit history. AMERASE had credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-819-565-1522, Ext. C194RIL, 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz at 255-8321.

Attention Harper students and alumni

Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 307-3000, ext. 2720 or stop in at the Placement Office A347.

Attention all interested buyers

no Harbinger members. We need 47,000 copies and immediate action. The

WANTED

1981 March 70 wall lamp. $100. King PINE 40X modular effects $30. 1000 stereo. (anger) $20. Ken Thomas. 1984 quarter of size $200. Fender sides 68-70 wall bass amp $100. Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry at 893-3273.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED EARN $100

Dine made or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, Dekalb, IL 60115, 1988 calendar available by mail for $805.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD

No time refused. Regardless of credit history. AMERASE had credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-819-565-1522, Ext. C194RIL, 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz at 255-8321.

Attention Harper students and alumni

Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 307-3000, ext. 2720 or stop in at the Placement Office A347.

Attention all interested buyers

no Harbinger members. We need 47,000 copies and immediate action. The

WANTED

1981 March 70 wall lamp. $100. King PINE 40X modular effects $30. 1000 stereo. (anger) $20. Ken Thomas. 1984 quarter of size $200. Fender sides 68-70 wall bass amp $100. Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry at 893-3273.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED EARN $100

Dine made or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, Dekalb, IL 60115, 1988 calendar available by mail for $805.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD

No time refused. Regardless of credit history. AMERASE had credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-819-565-1522, Ext. C194RIL, 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz at 255-8321.

Attention Harper students and alumni

Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 307-3000, ext. 2720 or stop in at the Placement Office A347.

Attention all interested buyers

no Harbinger members. We need 47,000 copies and immediate action. The

WANTED

1981 March 70 wall lamp. $100. King PINE 40X modular effects $30. 1000 stereo. (anger) $20. Ken Thomas. 1984 quarter of size $200. Fender sides 68-70 wall bass amp $100. Hammond Piper organ needs work best offer. Call Larry at 893-3273.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED EARN $100

Dine made or topless for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COED CALENDAR, POB 434M, Dekalb, IL 60115, 1988 calendar available by mail for $805.

PERSONALS

MASTERCARD

No time refused. Regardless of credit history. AMERASE had credit. Do it yourself. Call 1-819-565-1522, Ext. C194RIL, 24 hrs.

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. Low rates, excellent references, seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call Luz at 255-8321.

Attention Harper students and alumni

Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information, call 307-3000, ext. 2720 or stop in at the Placement Office A347.

Attention all interested buyers

no Harbinger members. We need 47,000 copies and immediate action. The

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE??

$145 MILLION

IN FINANCIAL AID WITH UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR

WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED

J.M. EDUCATIONAL SERVICES

P.O. BOX 217
MOSQUITO HEIGHTS, IL 60070
(312) 705-8527

WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
CITY _____ PHONE NUMBER (____) _____

Baseball

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

Despite two big losses to Triton College, the Hawks still have an amazing winning percentage. In fact, the team's record of 20-5 puts the figure at .800 pct.

NCAA number three ranked Triton swept a double-header from Harper on Tuesday. Scores were as follows:

Harper vs. Triton
Game One: Triton 9 Harper 5
Game Two: Triton 4 Harper 0

Last week the Hawks were much more successful. Harper swept double-headers from both Okauch Community College and Rock Valley.

Harper vs. Rock Valley
Game One: Harper 6 Rock Valley 3

Shortstop Scott Opfer had three hits including a double. John Barzawa, who started at third, contributed two hits and three RBIs. Bill O'Grady got his fourth win and Stacey Olenak picked up a save.

Game Two: Harper 11 Rock Valley 6
Vaca won 1-for-4 with two RBIs. Vaca also recorded the victory. Catcher Paul O'Callaghan added a two-run home run and three RBIs.

Harper vs. Okauch
Game One: Harper 3 Okauch 1

The Hawks' three runs in the top of the seventh beat Okauch. Opfer had two hits and two RBIs, including the game winner. Al Levine, who pitched three innings in relief of Olenak, recorded the victory.

Game Two: Harper 6 Okauch 4
Second baseman Dean Van Doorn hit a two-run homer in the seventh inning to give the Hawks a 6-4 lead. Opfer had four hits and catcher Paul O'Callaghan added three. Lefty Bill O'Grady picked up the win.

The Hawks play at home against Wright Junior College today at 2:00 pm.

Photo by John McVicar
Harper Baseball Head Coach Dan Kost and batter Dave Straymski review the strategy.

Softball Tennis

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The softball team continues to win, as of Tuesday their record stood at 14-7. Harper (8-2 in conference) is tied with Marquette Valley for second place.

The Hawks rapped up their home season with a two-inning split against Thornton, last Friday.

Harper had an impressive 10-1 record at home. Their only loss came at the hands of Thornton.

The team swept double-headers last week from Kishwaukee on Thursday and Rock Valley on Saturday. The Hawks split two at College of DuPage on Tuesday.

Harper vs. DuPage
Game One: DuPage 14 Harper 4
Jennifer Pylara (6-4) suffered the loss. Shortstop Jennifer Blasky hit a home run.

Game Two: Harper 16 DuPage 15
Michelle Theriault (8-3) was the winner.

Harper vs. Rock Valley
Game One: Harper 5 Rock Valley 0
Pylara, who allowed only three hits, shut out Rock Valley. She threw a complete game victory. Jenny Baumstark had two hits as did co-captain Kris Foster.

Game Two: Harper 6 Rock Valley 0
Again the Hawks were able to hold Rock Valley scoreless. Theriault was victorious in her complete game effort. Harper scored one in the first inning and then exploded with five in the fifth. Foster, who plays first, and Hawks' shortstop Blasky each had two RBIs.

Harper vs. Thornton
Game One: Harper 8 Thornton 1

Harper's three runs in the first were all they need. Lynn Hoyer had two hits, including a double. She also scored three runs and stole two bases. The Hawks' lead-off batter Julie Rowe knocked in five runs. Pylara allowed only one run on three hits. She also recorded the complete game win.

Game Two: Thornton 6 Harper 4
The Hawks handed Thornton the win after Harper committed six errors. Theriault held Thornton to a 3-0 lead after six. The Hawks' two errors in the seventh, along with a passball and wildpitch allowed Thornton to go up 6-0. Harper was able to score four in the bottom of the seventh, but it was too little too late. The loss ended the team's five game win streak.

Harper vs. Kishwaukee
Game One: Harper 5 Kishwaukee 2

Harper took the lead with two runs in the first and remained in front throughout the game. The Hawks' centerfielder Rowe had two hits, stole two bases and scored two runs. Thornton struck out six and completed the game for the victory.

Game Two: Harper 11 Kishwaukee 3
The Hawks collected 11 runs, including six in the seventh, on 11 hits. Robin Drakley had four hits and Blasky added a solo-homer. Theriault pitched another complete game and picked up her second victory of the day.

The Hawks home game against Mt. Henry on Thursday has been cancelled. Harper plays Morton, Friday at 2:30 pm, in Curzon.

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

When the Harper tennis team steps onto the court it's not just to play tennis, it's to win. They continued their winning ways, beating up on conference foe Illiana Valley 8-1 on Friday.

The Hawks did suffer a defeat against Vincennes University on Saturday. The team had to travel to Indiana to take on their opponent. The Hawks did not expect to win the meet; it was more an opportunity to play some tough competition.

Track & Field

Results from the Eastern Illinois University-Coors Silver Bullet Invitational, April 15 and 16 at Charleston.

Men's Track
Brian Pawlak, discus-1415'; Mario Pippin, triple jump-44'

Women's Track
Laura Fremgen, 800m-2:47; Vicki Lopez, 800m-2:17; Laura Neubaum, 400m hurdles-78; Madeline Olson, discus-110; Irene Rechsmidt, 900m-2:37; Anne Thayer, 110m-12.6; Karen Wissepe, discus-94; Janice Word, javelin-87

*National Qualifier

Results from the North Central Chicago Metro Invite, April 7-9 at Naperville.

Men's Track
Frank Barash, 110m

"They are much stronger than we are and we didn't really think we would win, but we all played to the best of our ability and I'm satisfied with that," said team captain John Paschold.

The team defeated University of Wisconsin at Whitewater on Monday. Harper had to make another road trip to take on the Division II school.

Harper vs. Whitewater
Singles: Joe Dreyke 6-1, 0-2; Phil Randazzo (retained) after he broke three racks; Bill Adams 6-4, 7-5; Paschold 6-3, 7-6; Jay O'Leary 6-4, 3-6, 7-6; Mark Bartleson 6-3, 6-3.

Most of the team attributes their success to many hours of hard practice, but two team members have a different view. Bartleson and Randazzo claim their most recent victories were a direct result of their tropical vacations to the Caribbean over spring break.

Coach Roy Keene does not care what the reason is as long as the team continues to win. Harper has a home meet against Sauk Valley today at 3:00 pm. The team will also compete in the NAC Conference tournament, Friday-Sunday at Rock Valley.

hurdles-15.4; long jump-21.8; triple jump-44.1 1/4'; Tim Davis, hammer-121'; Pat Ludvigson, hammer-95'

Women's Track
Lopez, heptathlon 21-3345pts., 200m(3)-26.3, 400m(1)-59.67; long jump(2)-17.2; Olson, discus-116; javelin(3)-110; Rechsmidt, 1500m-5:22, 3000m-12:14; Thayer, 100m-12.9, 200m-26.3; Leary Wilkens, 200m-28.1, 400m-65.7; high jump-4'10"; Wissepe, shot put-29.2'; Word, heptathlon-3140pts., 200m-28.9, 100m hurdles-18.08; Mile relay(3)-Wilkins, Lopez, Fremgen, Wissepe-4:25, 400m relay(3)-Wilkins, Thayer, Word, Lopez-52.7.

(1), (2), (3) Denotes first-place, second-place, third-place finish

Photo by John McVicar
Vicki Lopez qualified for Nationals with a time of 2:17.4 in the 800-meter run.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 26

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger April 28, 1988

President Dr. Paul Thompson (photo courtesy of Harper College)

PRESIDENTIAL SELECTION LEAVES COLLEGE IN UPROAR

By Douglas Ray News Editor

The announcement by the Board of Trustees in their selection of Dr. Paul Thompson as Harper's next president has caused questions about the methods used by the Presidential Search Advisory Committee (PSAC) and the criteria used for the final selection of president.

PSAC was originally charged by the Board of Trustees to submit a non-ranked list of three to five candidates by February 29.

The committee consisted of two members each from the Board of Trustees, Harper faculty, Harper administration, Harper community, Harper student body and Harper staff with Felicia Avila, Executive Assistant to the President, as Secretary and Patricia Bosker, Dean of Life Science as Chairperson.

The Board chose an executive search firm, Hendrick and Strangle, to increase the number of applicants nationwide. Interim applications that did not meet minimum requirements, and advice both the Board and PSAC.

One question raised was the necessity of using an executive search firm.

Associate Professor of Art Michael Brown replied, "I don't think it was necessary. I think we have people here at Harper College with the necessary expertise to find a new President." He added it is not hard to advertise the job.

here with experience, knowledge, and the ability to, as we have in the past, select a president."

Student Trustee Lizara Jacobson said, "Yes, it was necessary to use Hendrick and Strangle."

"All the way through I was very comfortable with what they had to say, when they had to say it," said Manke.

"I think this committee went out of their way in keeping their activities secret," said Brown.

to appropriate candidates.

Karen Kees, another faculty member, agreed that the search firm was unnecessary.

Absolutely not, she asserted, because there are enough people available. The need for a president is important and the search should be extensive. She added that the use of the firm allowed PSAC to concentrate their efforts on selecting five qualified candidates.

Director of Personnel Larry Belawa stated, "They provided a valuable service to the committee. The assistance is money well spent."

It is generally accepted that in any search applicants are

continued on page 12

Williams helps raise $600 for American Cancer Society

By Douglas Ray News Editor

Dr. David Williams, Vice President of Academic Affairs, helped raise over $600 for the American Cancer Society (ACS) on April 21.

Every year the ACS conducts a "Jail and Bail" fund raiser in which they select several prominent individuals from the community and arrest them.

They are put in a jail, this time located at the Randhurst shopping mall, and after standing before the judge and confessing all your wrong doings, he will set your bail, according to the ACS instructions sheet given to arrestees.

The event uses authentic jails, police, hand-cuffs, judges, and bailiffs and has raised in excess of $30,000 to $40,000 in other cities.

Williams volunteered prior to the benefit to represent Harper College. A memo was sent to faculty members requesting suggestions to be turned in to Kathy Ferrera, Executive Secretary, who then forwarded the bail money to the judge.

The bail money goes to a very good cause and Harper got Dave back for rehabilitation quickly if the bail money is committed by April 19, according to "Jail and Bail" money.

The college collected over $600 to pay Williams bail.

Last year President McGrath participated in the "Jail and Bail" fund raiser. Contributions were in excess of $600 dollars for McGrath as well.

Harper hosts Jefferson Committee Constitution discussed

by Pearl Henderson Managing Editor

More than one hundred people attended the first Jefferson Meeting last weekend at Harper to promote public awareness of the constitution.

Major funding was provided by Unical Corporation as a sponsor and additional funding by Illinois Bell Telephone Company and Harper College. Program assistance was provided by The Jefferson Foundation.

The Jefferson meeting is an assembly by and for the citizens of the Harper College community charged with encouraging public awareness of the constitution.

Delegates were chosen to represent all facets of the Harper community to discuss what seemed to be four burning issues of the constitution.

The issues and the leaders for each group were as follows:
First, Direct Election of the President: Paul M. Green, director of institute for public policy & administration, Governors State University.

Second, Longer Terms for U.S. Representatives: Thomas Ferguson, associate professor of political science, Loyola University of Chicago.

Third, Term Limitation for the Federal Judiciary: Ann Larson, professor of law, The John Marshall Law School, Chicago.

Fourth, Single Six year Term for the President: Joseph Moron, professor of History, Northwestern Illinois University, Chicago.

Dr. David Williams, vice president of academic affairs, introduced the keynote speaker Joel B. Grossman, professor of political science, University of Wisconsin. The opening address, Seeking Federal Judicial: Is There a Better Way? was given on Friday evening.

"It's my job to get you all charged up," Grossman said.

"The Robert Bork nomination turbo-charged the country to start thinking about the constitution," he said. According to Grossman, "The system ain't broke, so why fix it?"

He said that lawyers are not always fathers to the judge, and diversity on the whole is better than uniformity. To answer the question "Is there a better way?" Grossman answered, "None worth the risk."

Each delegate was assigned to one of four committees and their goal was to discuss and debate their individual topic and then present it in a plenary session.

On Saturday Kris Howard, Chairman of Harper College Board of Trustees was the moderator for the plenary session for debate and open discussion.

The keynote closing address, continued on page 12

INSIDE

Dr. Roger Russell, winner of the Outstanding Teacher plaque, is developing an Automation certificate program.

Right-to-know vs Right-to-privacy: A delicate matter none persons: The secrecy involved with the Presidential search

Richard Marx put on a high energy performance for over 1800 people who had waited patiently through rain and hail

Harper tennis team takes second place at N4C Conference Championships and our softball team finishes third.

Next issue, Why the Cirrus 24-hour cash station, located on the second floor of A building, was removed April 28.

Page 2

Page 3

Page 4

Page 16

Features Automation and Dr. Mussell - Technology on the Move

By Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

"For Outstanding Contribution In Furthering Technical Education And In Recognition of Exemplary Accomplishment And Performance."

Who am I describing? One of Harper's "Very Own," professor of technology and Coordinator of the Electronics Department Dr. Roger Mussell. The American Technical Education Association (ATEA) honored Mussell with a plaque on Saturday, March 26 in Nashville, TN, capping a long and successful year for Mussell. ATEA is a national organization composed of post-secondary institutions, business and industrial concerns involved in an effort to expand and promote the excellence of technical education.

What is technical education? Basically, it is the "preparing and/or upgrading people as technicians, para-professionals and mid-managers personnel in fields from agriculture and engineering to public service and new and emerging technology."

"People in our classes are primarily those who are coming for 'retraining' and upgrading of their skills."

Practically all of our lives are affected, in one way or another, by technology and depend heavily on the expertise of those involved in this field. Much of the credit of having many skilled people in technology in suburban areas can go to Dr. Roger Mussell.

ATEA's Board of Trustees chose Mussell out of eighteen other nominees because it saw technology nationwide. ATT is a non-profit organization dedicated to educational purposes, Dr. Mussell.

"We in the Technology Dept. pride ourselves on teaching," says Mussell.

Currently, Mussell is developing a one-year certificate program in automation to allow people to know more about the field and possible job opportunities.

The Automation course series is tentatively scheduled to begin in January of 1989 and is growing in cooperation with career and provides a "direct feeder (to our program) from the surrounding high schools," says Mussell. The certificate program would cater to those who would either already be working in technology or for those who are just starting out.

According to the catalog information provided by Mussell, the future graduates of the Automation program (dealing with robotics) may find employment in a variety of electric, electronic or mechanical related industries with job classifications of millwright, maintenance mechanic or field service mechanic.

A typical course sequence would look like this:
COURSE TITLE (LEC-LAB, CREDIT HOURS)

AUT 101, Analog
Electronics (2-4), 4

AUT 105, Digital
Electronics (2-4), 4

AUT 110, Safety and OSHA
(1-0), 1

AUT 125, Optics/Fiber
(1-2), 2

AUT 130, Pneumatics and Hydraulics (1-4), 3

AUT 115, Sensors
(1-2), 2

AUT 140, Controllers,
PLC's (1-2), 2

AUT 145, Prints,
Measurements and QC (1-4), 3

AUT 155, Machine Shop
Practices (1-4), 3

AUT 160, Robotics
Systems (2-8), 6

Mussell comments, "we have about 300 enrolled per year." But, he notes, that number has been gradually shrinking, due to an overall lower enrollment in the primary and secondary schools. He also comments that most enrollees are returning students or those people already in the field who are coming for "retraining and upgrading of their skills."

(Photo courtesy of Harper College)

ATEA's Executive Director Betty Krump and Harper's Dr. Roger Mussell after the awarding of the Outstanding Teacher plaque in Nashville.

Technological fields can be fairly lucrative for the qualified, with starting salaries ranging from $12,000 to 16,000 per year; these figures rise to as much as $31,000 annually after nine years in the job, says Mussell.

Harper's Tech. program goal, says Mussell, is to assist manufacturing and service industry within the College's district and surrounding areas.

The technology faculty want to give their students the best education in minimal time, to facilitate their experience in the field.

Although there is no official cooperative program (combining classroom studying with in-the-field experience) between Harper and suburban industry, Mussell, Professor of Electronic Engineering and Physics Dr. continued on page 7

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

6 Month Student Special—$99

Take advantage of our super low student special. Only $99 gives one person 6 months of fitness. With no initiation fees or monthly dues required. Call today for a complimentary workout.

1 Woodfield Lake
Office Campus
1000 E. Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-4200

AT&T WORKSHOP
IN A&T CENTER

- Basic Computer
- Microcomputing
- Networking
- Personal Computer
- Business Applications
- Troubleshooting
- Telecommunications
- Data Processing
- Video

ALL SPECIAL STAFF
FOR YOUR INFORMATION
1221 W. WOODFIELD RD.
SCHAUMBURG, IL 60173
882-4200
HOURS: TUE-FRI 9-5
SAT 10-5 SUN 10-5

Editorial

Right-to-know versus right-to-privacy: A delicate matter gone berserk.

Not only has this job made me a crabby old man before my time, it is also turning me into a paranoid schizophrenic. Case in point: This week's editorial.

I had started out intending to blast the Board of Trustees for their choice of Dr. Thompson as president. Frankly, I was incensed. Outraged. Not pleased. And what's more, I wasn't the only one. Ur to I thought.

We were inundated with calls. People stopped me in the halls to complain, man or yell. I was working up some sort of righteous frenzy. Not that I had had any delusions of actually being able to change things. I mean, who do we think we are, Gallaudet University? But that's one of the nice things about writing a column: The view from your soapbox is usually a lofty one.

But with a conscience-attack that would have William Randolph Hearst spinning in his grave, I decided to ask questions about why Dr. Thompson was chosen BFA (B)I (R)I writing about it. I should have known better.

I've changed my opinion enough times to confuse Sisyphus. On the one hand, there was the secrecy. On the other hand, there's the right-to-privacy of those involved. On the one hand, there was the fact that nobody, from the Board sent to view any of the finalists' campuses. On the other hand, according to Board Chairman Kris Howard, the Board was advised by their search firm that probably wouldn't yield nearly enough information to make it worthwhile. And so on.

So, what are we left with? These are the facts as I know them (Thus far, if anybody has any more info about this matter, by all means let me know. Everybody else hates The search committee, trying for all it is worth to preserve its right-to-surprise us. Finally presented us with four viable candidates. At least we assumed that they were viable. We received two whole lines of bio on these candidates. Now I understand that we don't make the choice, but then who's bother having the college meet the candidates before the selection? The height of hypocrisy is to lead us to believe that our questioning the candidates has any pull at all.

The few Board members that I was able to get in touch with responded completely differently than expected. Before Suzanne Orzech was elected, she phoned us with four viable candidates. At least we assumed that they were viable. We received two whole lines of bio on these candidates. Now I understand that we don't make the choice, but then who's bother having the college meet the candidates before the selection? The height of hypocrisy is to lead us to believe that our questioning the candidates has any pull at all.

The male, and for me final, problem is not whether or not Dr. Thompson is qualified. He is. Beyond a doubt. The problem is given the information (or lack thereof) of both the process and the finalists, the Board doesn't show WHY him instead of anyone else? I know they don't have to. I believe they ought to.

Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

"Off Her Boggle" With our mom

By Liz Brownlee

Although I would have had to start my family before I even finished grade school, this weeknigh I became an official U. of I. mom. Actually, I am not. Martha's mother biologically, rather, we adopted one another. No matter, I felt like the proud young mother anyway.

Realize that proud and doting has absolutely nothing to do with how you feel about your child, biological or otherwise, instead it is a question of right. A mother has the right to be proud and doting, after ALL she's done for YOU.

This news probably does not come as any great revelation to anyone. You don't have to be a mother to know this. In fact, anyone who has ever had a mother can tell you that these words are at the root of pride.

I'm sure any person who can prove otherwise is to do, but I would lay ten to one odds that the only living souls who were not directed by the words, "You could do THIS to ME after ALL I've done for YOU!" were not blessed with the good fortune of having a mother.

Actually, I had never done all that much for Martha (my neighbor, friend, and brave baby-sitter of four years) besides care about and love her, until this weekend.

To be certain, travelling to Champaign, and visiting Martha was all my pleasure. Every moment together was enjoyable. It was those sleeping moments which proved to be my expression of unselfish love. Due to lack of experience, we were all unaware of how difficult it is to find a vacant hotel room in Champaign during this festive Mom's weekend.

Therefore it was necessary to take a room at the Ramada Inn located in Danville. Perhaps you know the place. The one with the gravel pit next door. I ask you, do these gravel pit people ever sleep? You'll think it was Dunkin' Donuts or something. This place must have been the distributor for the entire nation. Where else would you get your gravel from beside Danville, Illinois?

Let me tell you these racks must really be in demand too. A different freight train pulled in every hour of the night. And those train mechanics must never get around to greasing the tracks on these trains. Chegg, Chegg, Cheo... nngkreeeeeeeceggg this could be heard as the train pulled in, and then arrrrrrrrrrrr, chegg, urrrrrrrrrrr, ch... nngkreeeeeeeceggg

O.K. the train is in, I can get back to sleep now. Learnch however. Silly me. I forgot about loading. It takes twenty-five minutes for the train to pull in, screaming and chugging the whole way, fifteen to load up, just quiet enough to allow rapid eye movements to initiate. Followed by thirty minutes of squealing through the yard at two miles per hour probably to test the load, and finally the train is off again. Some one has to move the gravel.

Actually, the trains weren't too bad, compared to the real treat. It must have been something like the Jr. High State competition for cheerleaders in Champaign this weekend, in addition to the other festivities.

I have to admit, Pete and I were fooled by the four greyhound buses that pulled into the lot at four-thirty in the morning. We figured it was the five a.m. freighter, pulling in for its load, and decided to try to sleep through it.

No sleeping is more offensive than sleeping cars than the sound of Kari-D.M.C. at a D.M.C. Run! No matter, that rapping rock group at four a.m. when rock is only expected a freight train, is nearly unbearable. I can't even imagine where the hotel management would fit four greyhound buses filled with pre-adolescent cheerleaders, but I get the impression that there was hardly enough room for them all, judging by the argument in the parking lot which I couldn't help overhearing.

VOICE #1 (SHRILL AND RAPID) - "I'm not getting back on the bus" VOICE #2 (FEMALE, MORE THAN SLIGHTLY HOARSE) - "Sure, you really do need to get back on the bus" SUZIE'S VOICE AGAIN - "I'm not getting back on the bus"

VOICE #3 (MALE, DEEP, RESONANT, EXTREMELY WELCOME IN THIS PARTICULAR SITUATION) - "Sure, GET BACK ON THE BUS" VOICE #4 (CUMING FROM WHAT SEEMED TO BE A DIFFERENT LOCATION, A PART FROM THE BUS) - "Sure, either you get on the ... bus or shut up and turn off that noise" SUZIE'S VOICE AGAIN - "I'm not getting on the bus" NO VOICE JUST A LOUD POPPING SOUND FOLLOWED BY DEAD SILENCE. I wonder if I dreamed that part?

I may never know, but I am ashamed to admit that it was the most pleasant thought I had all night.

At any rate, any mother would tell you that an unpleasant experience should go without a lesson, and this one was no exception.

My advice to any of you transfer students en route to U of I next year is this: If you really love your mother, after ALL she's done for YOU, be certain to reserve a hotel room for mom's weekend on the very day you arrive for orientation, to assure her a good night's sleep. It's the least you can do.

CLEAN AIR WEEK May 2-8

Progress toward clean air has been made in recent years but air pollution continues to injure visibility, endanger wild life, reduce crop yields, damage materials like paint, plastic, and some and more importantly, threaten human life. It is estimated that up to 2000 cancer cases per year are caused by toxic air pollution. Other effects of prolonged exposure to low doses include: chronic lung disease, neurological disorders, kidney and liver damage, birth defects, genetic damage. Even short term exposure to hazardous resulting in: rashes, nausea, severe nose and throat irritation.

The Chicago Land Conservation and Citizens for a Better Environment estimates that more than 14 million pounds of toxic air pollutants are being emitted annually into Illinois' air from the regular operation of chemical plants, water and sewage treatment plants, industrial facilities, cars and trucks and even dry cleaners and gas stations.

Indoor pollution sources include particulate matter from tobacco smoke, carbon monoxide from heating and cooling units, nitrogen dioxide from gas stoves, and formaldehyde gas from insulation, furniture and building materials.

We breathe 17,000 times each day that's 35 pounds of air, whether it's polluted or not. Every individual can contribute to cleaner air by: limiting automobile usage, take public transportation, bike or walk whenever possible, keeping cars well-tuned, minimizing pollution control equipment and complying with pollution control laws, regulations, and never burning leaves or garbage.

On a broader scale, you may wish a letter to your government representative or volunteer assistance to the Chicago Lime Association.

Harbinger

William Ramsay Harper College
1200 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-1708
(312) 397-1000

- | | |
|----------------------|--------------------|
| Editor in Chief | Larry Paulin |
| Managing Editor | Pearl Henderson |
| Business Manager | Paul Henderson |
| News Editor | Angela Ray |
| Entertainment Editor | Kim O'Connell |
| Feature Editor | Kim O'Connell |
| Sports Editor | Scott Berkson |
| Photo Editor | Tom Brennan |
| Liaison | Hilena Carr |
| Graphic Designer | Tom Brennan |
| Computer Consultant | Richard Letourneau |
| Advisor | John O'Hara |

The HARBINGER is the student publication for Harper College. It is a weekly newspaper, published weekly, except during holidays and final exams. All opinions expressed are those of the writer and are not necessarily those of the college, its administration, faculty or students. Advertisements and copy deadline is every Thursday, and copy is subject to editing. Letters to the editor must be signed, unless a student requests. For other information, call 397-1000, ext. 2180 or 2405.

RICHARD MARX at Harper

by Robyn Davis
 Entertainment Editor
 Neither marble-stoned ball nor freezing rain could keep all the "techno-females" from waiting outside for over five hours to get good seats for the sold-out Richard Marx concert last Friday, April 22.

I think the crowd was the thing that impressed me most about the show. These are some dedicated fans.

The crowd (some were in the numbers of 1,800) was very young. I would venture to guess that the average age was probably somewhere around 16 or 17. I have never seen so many mini-skirts and rent-a-lans in one place before.

The mini-skirts are what made me take note the fact that they were so dedicated. Upon talking to some of the people around me (I was in the front row), I found out that those who were lucky enough to get up front either had a great view or had been waiting outside since 2:30 in the afternoon.

Friday was a hellish nightmare weather-wise and while I was worrying about the pain job on my new car, these fans were worried about getting permanently scarred on both their faces and legs in I have mentioned, most were clad in miniskirts. If that's not dedication I don't know what is, mean, I can barely handle walking out to the parking lots on a windy day without crying.

The freezing rain didn't seem to dampen the spirits of the crowd in the least. They were so pumped up that any time someone with dark hair moved around back stage, screams could be heard "I see him!! Oh my God it's him!!"

When the lights finally dimmed, the crowd began screaming and my ears made that weird little noise that they make when the volume surpasses any human capability in sound absorption.

I don't know if anyone knew that there was an opening act because they seemed disappointed and surprised when two blondes, accompanied by their band, started singing.

Karla Vex of B96 FM introduced Chrystal recording artist "The Tami Show". The band consists of two female leads with an all-male back-up band of four. I noticed that the entire band was dressed in black.

I was wondering whether they were still mourning the death of Andy Warhol or if that's just the "cool" rock concert attire that I was dressed (primarily in black also). The head of the Program Board was wearing black. I guess that means she's in on the scene too. I guess she may be the misses Andy, I don't know. On to the real stars.

Tami's music is a conglomeration of styles. With a lot of harmony, whining guitars, and synthesizers. The best way to describe it is to relay to you the images that were conjured up. Three images came to mind: (old) Heart, the Beatles, and Fleetwood Mac. It was like a mix of these three groups.

The difference between those other groups and Tami Show is that Tami is monotonous, the others are not.

Don't get me wrong, it was good music, they are very talented artists but after the first two songs, I began asking myself "Haven't I heard this before?"

The harmony between the two girls is very good, but unnecessary in every song. Perhaps these girls are best pals and are afraid of upsetting one another. I don't know. Steve Knicks and Christer McVie got over it, so can they.

I felt sorry for Tami in a way because the crowd was less than enthusiastic at their appearance. They were there to see that bank of a man Richard Marx and then these two girls show up. Seeing as the crowd was mostly female and hell-bent on Marx, Tami didn't get the warmest of receptions.

Some of my friends at the show claimed that they enjoyed Tami's performance as much or more than Richard Marx. These are the kind of people who are into the music more so than the performers themselves.

Marx is a Top-40 band and Richard Marx is good-looking. This sells. He could have gone up there and talked about his childhood and the girls still would have gone berserk.

Marx did not talk about his childhood and he gave the people exactly what they came for. He sang the songs they wanted to hear, took off his jacket, and talked to the crowd. All of the above actions were responded to with high pitched shrieks of joy as if he were singing and talking to each one personally.

The band opened up by playing a few of the better-known songs. I noticed that the girls in the audience seemed to sing along with every song he played as though they wrote the songs themselves. Another tip-off on their dedication.

At most concerts, the songs sound unimitably live. Some, to the point that you cannot recognize the words. This was not the case last Friday.

Marx's songs although at concert volume (I can't even hear when I'm 30), sounded very album-like. It was like a live video.

Not much was changed in the transition in live performance and I was a little disappointed. A few guitar solos and drum solos would have done nicely. Like I said, give the people what they want, and this is what they wanted. To the not-so-serious music connoisseurs, loudly instrument solos tend to be boring.

During their top 3 in the nation hit, "I Don't Mean Nothing", there was a lot of audience participation. This was about the only song that they did this for.

Other popular songs played were "Have Mercy", "Remember the Nights" and their own rendition of "Lean on Me" which I might add, was very well done.

Mid-way through the performance, Rich himself introduced the band. The sax player, who was one of the best parts about their performance, is David Kas Cobbs. Jim Cliff on bass, Michael Daronia on the drums, and Paul Warren on guitar.

The other band-member who I have not yet mentioned deserves his own paragraph(s). His introduction was highly entertaining and it caused me to shudder about it throughout the remainder of the show.

Richard Marx asked the audience if they watched TV (barbaric question) and went over to the guitarist, he then asked "ever watch the Watson's?" "Ladies and gentlemen, Jason Watson!" (as he pulled the guitarist's hair back).

There on stage was the sandy-haired kid of about 30 with receding hairline-Jason Watson, aka John Walmesley. Jason is John then played a duet of the Watson's theme on his guitar.

The band then played some more songs, Richard Marx played keyboards and guitar occasionally took off some clothes and then did their stage OK were leaving, let's stand right here by the stage while you fight on your backs, we'll come out and be your horses" as I like I said, "give the people what they want."

(Photo By John McVicker)

(Photo By John McVicker)

Sail with Bill Gladstone's Chicago Sailing Club

Lessons • Rentals • Cruising Free
 Performance Boats • No Membership Fee
869-6534
 Belmont Harbor

Special Student Discount
 Basic Sailing Lessons
 $200 per student for groups of 2-4 weekday mornings and afternoons

(Photo By John McVicker)

FISHING: For the Hell of it

We all start as fish.

The mechanics of our conception closely resembles a school of frenzied salmon leaping and flying impossibly up stream, only one in a great number reaching the top and . . . spawning (can I say that?).

We are, in this sense, all salmon spawn, or, more accurately, tadpole spawn, for that's how our little bottles appear. We are the victor and he is us. There is a lesson here in the roots of competitive drive, but that's not what we're discussing, we're discussing fishes.

Little slimy, yucky, squishy fishes.

Which brings us back to us. We spend our first nine months (after the big race) as little fishes. Little fishes growing bigger and bigger, developing strong bones and healthy bodies. Swimming in a sea of . . . er. . . something, happy despite the fact that our fingers have not yet developed sufficiently to light a cigarette. Everything is going along smoothly when BAMMO!!! Lights! Forces! ACTION!!!!

Suddenly our little tank is full of latex hands and stainless steel and the . . . er. . . water is draining out and us with it! And somehow we know, deep in our tennis ball size brains, that nothing will ever be the same again, just as the fishes swim about in his liquid bliss, nothing more pressing on his pea size brain than grabbing some chow and may be fertilizing some eggs when suddenly the worm he just ate comes back to haunt him . . . snaps his head around and yanks him clear out of his fishie paradise and into an aluminum skiff where he flaps around amongst the empty beer cans until a heavy foot is pressed down upon him and he is deprived even of the meal for which he is paying so dearly.

You see the similarities? Birth trauma/turbed hook trauma? Same thing. Trust me.

And it is probably in trying to recapture our own birth, to come to terms with our first major shock, that we first turn to the sport of fishing. We are clearly trying to inflict our own long dormant frustrations on the helpless little fishes. We are soothing our own tortured psyches by running their lives.

At least I am.

WHAT YOU'LL NEED

MANDATORY

Beer

OPTIONAL

Rods, tackle, boat, clothes, etc.

MANTRA

Ooh fishie fishie fishie
Aah fishie fishie fishie
Hey fishie fishie
All night long
Hey fishie fishie
Rama lama ding dong

EQUIPMENT

We might as well get it clear at the outset: fishing requires only a stick, a length of string, a safety pin and a piece of cheese. Only in America could a multi-billion dollar industry spring up around such simple needs. Instead of a stick, they've given us the space-age carbon/boron/graphite rods that discriminating fishes demand. Instead of a length of string, they give us polystyrene non-tangling (!) lines of varying tensile strengths designed to give the fishie a chance. Lucky fishie! Instead of a safety pin they give us special alloy treble hooks and battery powered neon lures, day-glo rubber worms (Why dig the real thing out of the ground when you can pay for a cheap fake?), plastic minnows with tape recorded messages whispering "Eat me! Eat me!", expensive (Oh, always expensive!) Who wants to catch cheap fishes?! colognes that help make a worm smell like a worm; even miniature, blinking Budweiser cans to attract, ostensibly, the King of Fishes.

The list of objets d'artifice is endless, but this is no great revelation to anyone. We know when we stand at the tackle counter and order two dozen solar powered pink and orange android trout flies that they're saps, just as people standing in line for lottery tickets know we're emotionally twisted fools of a fish will happen along and say, perhaps out of pity, "Awww, what the hell. . . ?"

I've been searching for that fish for ten years.

And there are plenty of other conveniences to help the devout angler divest himself of all that nasty money. Reels are a fine example. A reel serves to hold fishing line (it's not string, dammit!). A very good reel will have features which allow string . . . line to be released and retrieved. Don't skimp, get one that does both.

It would be futile to try and list all the other features a reel can have because of the statistical likelihood that what I describe will be obsolete and need replacing by the end of this sentence. Here is a partial list of what you might look for in an up-to-date fishing reel:

Motorized Reward

Depth Gauge

Color Television

Self Casting

Telephone (w/hold)

Digital Reelout

Coffee Maker

Snake Alarm

Auto-angler Setting (doesn't need you)

Adjustable Drag

Radar Detector

Tire Gauge

Calorie Counter

Hedge Trimmers

Aimster

Bill Changer

Gauge Door Opener

And

So

On

The AnglerAide 2000™ is the Swiss Army Knife of reels, combining all of the above features as well as providing companionship on those long, cold nights. . . Be sure to shut off the hedge trimmers first, though.

It's also nice to have some tackle. The rule here is, buy two of everything and plenty of everything else and if it suddenly occurs to you that by opening the file and lever on your fingernail clippers and attaching a hook you've made a better lure than anything on the market, forget it. You're not gonna make anybody rich that way. (Hint: Stay away from products claiming to be snag proof. They usually are snag proof and you'll have a devil of a time losing them. They'll just end up saving you money.)

FAMILY

This is tricky, unless, of course, you don't have a family. Wives often disapprove of the amount of money and time fishing demands. Women are notorious for magnifying trivial matters like bankruptcy and foreclosure all out of proportion.

The best way to deal with an angry wife is to conceal the fact that you fish because you enjoy it (if, in fact, you do enjoy it). Don't come waltzing through the door six hours or six days late and expect her to share your jubilation over a trophy catch. Instead, slam the door and storm about grumbling as if your pasture were a hideous, uncontrollable addiction. Your anger must dwarf her's and make it seem insignificant. Hiss about the five flat tires, the overturned boat and the oncoming cold, and if she still believes her wrath is just, shut the dog. This will let your wife know that she's skating on thin ice. Remember to replace the dog before your next trip as this strategy can work three or four times.

Children are another part of the family that must be taken into consideration (unless, again, you don't have any). Keep photos with their names printed on them in your wallet and refer to them before pulling into the driveway. Put the children robustly (not too robustly) on their heads and try to use their names. If they ask you what you brought them, give them those rusty No. 2 hooks you were gonna throw away.

WELL DONE, WHICH!!!

Your production and performances on the two Harbinger spots were excellent in every respect.

Thank you,
Peder Sweeney

Upcoming

Harper Festival Chorus plans spring concert

For its spring concert the Harper Festival Chorus, a non-profit suburban community organization of more than 100 singers, will present Rossini's Sabba, Mass and selections from Gershwin's Porgy and Bess. The performance will take place on Sunday, May 1st, 8:00 p.m. in Building M on the Harper College Campus. The chorus, conducted by Anthony V. Mustardi, will be joined by professional soloists and orchestra.

The Harper Festival Chorus is a non-profit community musical group that draws its singers from the greater northwest suburban area. Members can earn college credit at Harper College, where the chorus rehearses and performs.

The chorus gives two concerts each year, in December and May, balancing classics with lighter selections. Among the works performed in recent years are Mendelssohn's oratorio Elijah, Vivaldi's Clitella, Handel's Massiah and Webber and Rice's Joseph, and the

AVAILABLE—Technical

Insurance
During the summer of 1988, members of the chorus toured Italy, performing in major cities, as well as at St. Peter's Basilica in the Vatican. Another European tour is scheduled for July of 1988, when concerts will be presented in Austria, Yugoslavia and Italy.

The Festival Chorus is directed by Anthony V. Mustardi, who founded the group in 1965. Born in Rome, Maestro Mustardi received his early musical training from Giovanni Berraglio. He has also studied at the American Conservatory in Chicago and received degrees from DePaul and Northern Illinois University.

Tickets for the spring concert are $6 if purchased in advance and $7 at the door. Senior citizens and students will be admitted for $4. For further information call Harper College, 507-1000, ext. 2768.

Back... By popular demand the Harper College Steel Drum Band

Performing live

Thursday...

MAY 5...

1:30 P.M...

J-Bldg...

Auditorium...

Admission Free.

"Harper College Steel Cats"

Presenting Rhythm & Moves Dance Co.'s 1988 Spring Dance Concert

The Rhythm & Moves Dance Co. of William Rainey Harper College will present their 1988 Spring Dance Concert on Friday, April 29 and Saturday, April 30 in Building J, Room 143. Tickets are on sale and can be picked up at the box office.

Registration for the summer, 1988 semester will begin with early registration in April. The following schedule indicates type and date of registration. Information has been distributed by the Student Development Faculty regarding the kind of academic advising program. Detailed registration is by appointment and class appointment cards are available beginning April 11th in the Registrar's Office at 8:00 a.m. Students are encouraged to use computers for assistance in choosing their classes.

EARLY REGISTRATION BY APPOINTMENT CARD ONLY

April 25, 26, 27, & 28 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

May 2, 3, 4, & 5 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

NO APPOINTMENT CARD NECESSARY

April 25 & 26 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

May 2 & 3 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER AND FALL

May 9, 10, 11, 12 9 a.m. to noon
1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

TUTION & FEES MUST BE PAID BY MAY 31, 1988 OR SCHEDULES WILL BE CANCELLED.

RESEARCH PAPERS

17,000 to choose from—all subjects
Lowest Prices, Largest Selection
Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or COD
Ordering Hot Line 1-800-621-5745

Or, rush $2.00 to:

Author's Research Services, Inc.
407 S. Dearborn, Room 1605
Chicago, IL 60605

Custom research also available—all levels

We have a WORLD of Opportunities!

...and our world is expanding.

If you're looking for an exciting retail opportunity, take a look at Office World—a dynamic national retailer in the discount office supply market. We're looking for cashiers, receivers, stock clerks and sales staff. As a full- or part-time employee, you'll be able to help choose your work schedule. In addition to a competitive salary based on experience, you'll be eligible for immediate in-store discounts and scheduled salary reviews in your first year. If you work more than twenty hours a week, you'll be eligible for liberal vacation, holiday and sick time benefits. Full-time employees are also eligible for a comprehensive benefits package which includes life, medical, hospitalization and dental insurance. To apply for these excellent opportunities apply in person at our store.

1414 N. Roselle Road
Schaumburg, Illinois 60196
(one block north of Golf Road)

OFFICE WORLD

Join a World-Class Organization

Faculty in the spotlight

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Harper's annual Faculty Art Show is now near its end in the corridor of second floor of C and P Bldgs. Associate Professor of Art Michael Brown says, "It has been a success for every year I've been here (16 years), and notes that more "non-art oriented" faculty seem to be contributing their works.

Asked if he had seen any changes over the years, in terms of subject matter or style, Brown could not really recall any dramatic shifts.

Any faculty member may submit anything he or she chooses, from paintings and sculptures to theater work and photographs. Furthermore, there is no judging panel, or art jury, to decide which pieces may be shown.

If one wants to take a look at what our faculty members have been doing creatively, be quick! The show ends this week.

Mussell- Automation

continued from page 2

Richard Berseem and the 12 part-time faculty members are encouraging specific application of class study for maximum long- and short-term benefits.

Most students in the technology classes are right students recalls Mussell and are predominantly male. Mussell adds, there are not enough women in the field. He doesn't know why more aren't encouraged as much, saying, "there is great potential in technology, especially in our valley."

There are some serious problems, notes Mussell, within the program, especially regarding updating the equipment. A few months ago Mussell and others put together an inclusive inventory of the department and the required updating would amount to approximately $400,000!

"I don't know what will happen," says Mussell. "The problem is, if people are interested in helping people get into service and manufacturing jobs, we (as the trainers and educators) must maintain our equipment, but our equipment is becoming outdated."

Besides teaching, Mussell writes manuals, gives presentations around the country and has "extracurricular activities, such as volunteering time at "Sudbrook YMCA and serving as an amateur radio operator (code WA0MD). His PhD in education from Ohio State University, Columbus, enables Mussell to see both the teacher's and the student's point of view.

He emphasizes the developmental efforts that he and his colleagues are putting into the fledgling automation course series as evidence of the department's desire to give students the best education possible in the shortest time, getting them in and back out into the field quickly.

Continues Mussell, "we want our graduates to be as effective as possible."

One way in which the Technology Department maintains that effectiveness is by utilizing students' feedback, primarily from January's Follow Up Study of Former Graduates of the Electronic Program, by the Office of Planning and Research.

In the study, 67.3% of the students who reported said that the program's courses prepared them "well" or "very well." Comments offered included: "Much of the training in Harper gave me a foundation to build my electronic knowledge, and Harper has a good program, but most important, their attitudes are good."

Like the College, the Electronics Department is constantly growing in complexity. With motivated teachers such as Dr. Mussell, how can it not?

(Photo By John Viscusi)

K&B Kroch's & Brentano's
THE FULL SERVICE BOOKSTORES[®]
A NEW SHOPPING EXPERIENCE

For the best in test prep guides turn to the experts at K&B

RN BOARDS REVIEW FOR NCLEX-RN 1988

edited by Alice M. Steer, R.N., M.A. & Nancy H. Jacobsen, R.N., M.S.W.
Developed by nursing instructors experienced in teaching State Board Review courses, this indispensable handbook features information on the most frequently tested areas, test-taking tips, practice exams, and more.
Paper $17.95

RN REVIEW TESTS FOR NURSING COMPETENCE FOR NCLEX-RN

edited by Martha Daniels-Wheeler et al.
Includes background information on the NCLEX-RN test along with four practice exams plus answers.
Paper $12.95

Kroch's & Brentano's
THE FULL SERVICE BOOKSTORES[®]

Windsfield Mall, Schaumburg, IL 60195 • 800-4-884-3308

barbri
Professional Review Institute

#1 THE HIGHEST SCORE
IMPROVEMENTS IN
THE NATION

Call for a free information packet:
$20 in hard cash bonus for 1988
Learners' Choice Award by Business Magazine

(312) 855-1088

Classes offered at Harper College

Rubes® By Leigh Rubin

I SILEEE

ASTRA STARDUST TRANSLATES STATEMENTS MADE BY GUYS

"SEE WITHOUT FEELINGS IS PAINFULNESS"
TRANSLATION
"LET'S GET PAINFULNESS"

"OH NO, GUYS CAN BE WEIRD, SOMETIMES"
TRANSLATION
"I'M A GUY, FIGURE IT OUT"

"JUST BECAUSE WE DON'T HAVE A COMMITMENT, IT DOESN'T MEAN I'M SELLING SOMEONE ELSE"
TRANSLATION
"I'M SLEEPING WITH YOUR BEST FRIEND"

by JON CALDARA

I SILEEE

"OH COOL IN HIS SCRAPED-UP HAIR, CHASING CHICKS"

"AND HE GETS A BARK IN HIS SHOOTS AND HE GOES IN FOR THE PUN UP"

"TO SHOW HER WHAT KIND OF CLIPS SHE CAN GET, I'LL HAVE MY HORN AT HER"

"CHECKS LOW TWS"
HONK
HONK
HONK

by JON CALDARA

Rubes® By Leigh Rubin

Rubes® By Leigh Rubin

Rubes® By Leigh Rubin

The Harbinger is looking for bright, intelligent, energetic, dedicated, dependable people. Just like yourself! The following positions are available for Fall '88 Semester

- Editor-In-Chief
- Managing Editor
- Business Manager
- Sports Editor
- Features Editor
- News Editor
- Entertainment Editor
- Writers
- Photographers
- Secretary

Candidates should meet all of the above criteria and have taken and passed Eng 101 with a C or better. All majors encouraged to apply. If you are interested or know of anyone who meets these qualifications, please call The Harbinger @ 397 3000, ext. 2460 or 61, and ask to speak with Larry or Pearl or stop by A367 and pick up an application.

Working for The Harbinger is a challenging, and interesting job. Come be a part of the excitement!

UNIFORME SERVICE

GENERAL AND AUTOMATED OFFICE LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE TODAY!

Call 980-8900

uniforce
temporary services

NO FEES EXCEPT TV

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE, SPRING, 1988

Final Exam Period	DAY SCHOOLS
	Monday May 16	Tuesday May 17	Wednesday May 18	Thursday May 19	Friday May 20
8:00-9:45	ALL ENG 101 & 102 Classes	ALL ACCOUNTING Classes	ALL PSY Classes	T-4 9:00-9:30	Faculty Judge Processing Time and Specially Arranged Exams
9:55-11:40	Music 9:55-10:50	T-8 9:55-10:50	Music 9:55-10:50	T-8 11:35-11:50	Specially Arranged Exams
11:50-1:35	Music 10:50-11:50	T-8 10:50-11:50	Music 11:00-11:50	Specially Arranged Exams	Specially Arranged Exams
1:45-3:30	Music 11:50-1:50	T-8 11:50-1:50	Music 1:00-1:15	Specially Arranged Exams	Specially Arranged Exams
3:40-5:25	Music 1:45-5:00	T-8 1:45-4:00	Music 1:30-3:45	Specially Arranged Exams	Specially Arranged Exams

EVENING SCHOOL

- Classes beginning at 4:55 pm on after school hours are listed in this schedule.
- Monday through Friday evening and Saturday classes will be held on the evening of May 16 for final examinations, to be held during regular class sessions.

ALL FINAL GRADES ARE DUE NO LATER THAN MONDAY, MAY 23 IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, A 713

NOTE TO FACULTY: If you are unable to attend the above final exam schedule, please contact the Registrar's Office to arrange alternate dates.

COMING SOON

Spring 1988 Student Development Offerings MAY

2 Career Interest Testing Part 1, 9-11 a.m., A347

Com Sci/Data Processing Info Session, 7-8 p.m., F132

4 Biology Majors (Transfer) Info Session, 7-8 p.m., F132

9 Career Interest Testing Part 2, 9-11 a.m., A347

Consultant to speak

Mr. Romano, President of Innovative Financial Concepts will be speaking on pre-requirements for educators in response to the new tax code. His seminar will cover the changing tax code recent changes in the tax code affects TSA's, how to get a share of CD's or Money Market funds, when and when not to take a lump sum distribution on your TSA, inflation the produce of the retiree and also to be discussed is a new TSA product which will allow you to borrow from your TSA at 0% net interest with instant liquidity. Romano, a past Independent Financial Consultant, is affiliated with and has access to the resources of a number of financial service organizations. He is a Financial Consultant who specializes in identifying those investment products and investment strategies that have evolved in response to the continual revisions in our tax code and changing economy. Romano has participated in seminars on campus throughout the Midwest. Among his experience are pre-retirement planning seminars for the employees of Allstate Insurance Company and various college faculties. He has also participated in a variety of seminars given for Caldwell Banker and other operators in the insurance field.

The seminar will be held at the college on Tuesday, May 24 from 7-8:30 pm in Room 200. Fee $15. Please call 764-1010 for your seat.

TRANSFER TO RAY COLLEGE DEGREE COMPLETION PROGRAMS

ADVERTISING DESIGN, ILLUSTRATION, INTERIOR DESIGN, FASHION DESIGN, FASHION MERCHANDISING, PHOTOGRAPHY

Transfer up to 60 credit hours toward a Bachelor of Arts degree in one of the above degree programs. Day and evening classes available. Starting June and September. Write or phone for catalog.

RAY COLLEGE OF DESIGN
RAYTVOBUI

Chicago Campus Phone (312) 280-3500
451 N. Westport Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60661
Woodfield Campus Phone (312) 885-3450
800 Woodfield Drive, Schaumburg, Illinois 60173

OFFICE OPPORTUNITIES DAY

SUNDAY, MAY 1
1 PM TO 5 PM

ESL Corporate Headquarters
Adjacent to Stratford Square in Bloomington

Interview Sunday for one of our full-time or flexible temporary positions and you could start your job next week! We seek each you PC word processing skills.

Full-time positions

- 100% full-time position, long-term, excellent benefits, including medical, dental, vision, life insurance, 401(k) plan, and more.
- Excellent growth opportunity.
- Competitive salary.
- Flexible work schedule.

Temp-time positions

- 100% full-time position, long-term, excellent benefits, including medical, dental, vision, life insurance, 401(k) plan, and more.
- Excellent growth opportunity.
- Competitive salary.
- Flexible work schedule.

You'll need:

- PC word processing skills
- Excellent communication skills
- Ability to work independently

For more information, please contact us at the address below. We are looking for individuals who are motivated, self-starting, and have excellent communication skills. We offer a competitive salary and excellent benefits package. If you are interested, please send your resume to the address below.

RECORD REVIEWS

NAKED RAYGUN
not another crooked politician

by Kevin Goldstein
Staff Writer

For the past four years, Naked Raygun have been one of the top bands in the rapidly growing Chicago area underground/punk movement. Now, much in the 1979 classic L.A. and a Calling, Naked Raygun's third album, Jettison, is a result of a maturing process that rounds the rough edges from their first album, 1984's Throb. Throb while keeping the spirit of the music alive.

Since then, the band has replaced former bassist Camilo Gonzalez with Peter Kirby and previous drummer Tim Colan with Eric Spicer.

Producer Ian Burgess has been retained from the previous album in musical acts, which were recorded at various times. The album opens with Spicer's Requiem with driving guitars by John Haggarty, although the bass isn't nearly as prominent as it is on Throb. Throb left Pezzati's vocals as clearer than ever.

The first time the band begins to differ from their original sound is on the third cut, "Walk in the Cold." Pezzati's vocals become suddenly smooth, almost Damned like, and for the first time we hear Haggarty's saxophone.

The lyrics portray the usual introspective items as Spicer's lyrics perfectly sum up new discoveries as one continues. With virgin eyes and heart of gold/And mind of child I swear it's not the way I thought it would be.

The band delivers their first abstract piece of the album much as they did with Throb, with the title track.

This is a 57 second exercise in noise as Pezzati screams the vocals while low voices speak in the background. The song is about living w/ebs of the ground at incredible speeds and you explode. I'm not sure if I was supposed to get anything out of this, but it is still a good title number.

"Eric Wine" slows down the pace as Pezzati grumbles the first verses before exploding into "Can you feel my pulse?" (It runs through me) could be understood if not for the "no me" while keeping tempo.

The final song on solo-ones, "The Mule," speeds up again and has the listener "hating Change" with the band.

Side two leads off with "Goldfinger," a tribute to one of the most critically acclaimed comic books of all time, Frank Miller's Ratman: The Dark Knight series.

Pezziati's vocals coming to sound smoother than previous efforts with "Bright," a song Pezzati also wrote.

Another depressing tune, "Trust yourself against love and your friends." Assume that it will end.

However, the vocals once again take on that gravel like sound on "Free Nation" as Spicer and Kirby pound out the most solid rhythms of the album.

"Hammerhead" is another abstract piece, and it's a weird one. In the background is a conversation about calling someone an asshole and every once in a while the song bursts into solid guitars as Pezzati's intonates a few good "OH" when yells, "Once again." The song is another good example of the heavy some find in industrial noise.

"Thermo Machine" is best explained as a R&B punk sound, and is a song that would go perfectly in the Krups Man sound track.

The final song was recorded live at The Riviera in Chicago, and is a remake of "Suspect Devise." This is a good example of how powerful this band is live and they will be appearing at the Cabaret Metro on May 26. It's a nice never been to a smaller venue for a show this would be a great way to start.

Rating out of 5: 4

ALIENS ATE MY BUICK
DOLBY'S BACK AND AS BIZARRE AS EVER

by Steve W. Hill
Contributing Writer

The past few years have seen Thomas Dolby doing low-profile movie soundtrack work, this after a highly successful debut record from 1982.

That record, titled "The Golden Age of Wireless," and a less successful follow up from 1984, "The Flat Earth" Dolby has now returned with a new album called "Aliens Ate My Buick."

It's almost worth the price of the album for the cover art alone. It's a great colorful 1950's style invasion movie poster featuring Dolby with his "leaking jelly" in the foreground while UFOs destroy buildings behind them and a two-headed green alien is detonating a red 1960 Buick LeSabre.

Once you get past this eye-catching work of art, you'll hear some very entertaining music.

Dolby's best known songs have always been the whimsical ones, and this album kicks off with one called "The Key to Her Ferrari." "Don't want your love, don't want your money, I just want the key to your Ferrari," sings Dolby. The punch line of course, is "because aliens ate my Buick."

Dolby's sense of humor runs strong throughout the entire album, whereas his previous album took on a more serious tone.

The second track is called "Ahead." "My friends say she's a dumb blonde, but they don't know she dyed her hair." The tracks "Hot Sauce" and "Pulp Culture" carry on the theme, with things until Dolby finally calms down and lays down some more serious tracks.

Everything here is danceable, jazz sounds (on "The Ability to Swing" while they positively overwhelm "The Key to Her Ferrari.")

Here's hoping for a few video clips to go with this album. Dolby has proven himself to be a video innovator with his "Hypnotic" clip from 1984.

If the album cover is any indication of Dolby's creativity, many more great videos may be forthcoming.

All in all, a very aptical album, the kind you put on when you are in a good mood. Unfortunately, the humor occasionally drops out the actual music, and the album as a whole suffers from it.

This one is mainly for Thomas Dolby fans. By the way, the CD has an extra track from 1985, "May the Cab Be With You."

Rating out of 5: 2 1/2

From Stephen Frears and Hans Kurlish, the innovative creators of "My Beautiful Laundrette" comes SAMMY AND ROSIE GET LAID, a wicked black comedy of Thatcher England. Cultural, sexual and generational conflicts ensue when a retired Pakistani politician visits his accountant son and his son's social worker wife.

Rah Rahman returns to London (where he lived in his youth) only to find the streets on fire with race riots. Once a revolutionary leader who led his country out of colonialism, Rah has become a tyrannical viceroy of human rights. He is an old charmer and a very dangerous man. Rah visits his rights. He is a not very successful accountant at his late 20's who is with Sammie, a not very successful accountant at his late 20's who is partners in an upper marriage with Rosie, the rebellious daughter of an upper middle class British family. Rosie and her friends are highly critical of Rah's brutal activities as a political leader. When Rah makes an attempt to reunite with Alice, the white married woman he had been in love with as a youth, he comes smack up against the consequences of a lifetime of tyranny and repression.

Intense and challenging, SAMMY AND ROSIE GET LAID is an allegorical drama of black humor, sensuality, opportunity and wit. Frears, whose "Pick Up Your Ears" generated great reviews, gives us a London teeming with life and a fascinating mixture of cultures, energies and political problems.

"AN APOCALYPTIC COMEDY OF SEXUAL MANNERS...SMART, TUMULTUOUS, AND VIVIDLY ACTED ...SEE IT TWICE."

—Los Angeles Times

Playing Tuesday May 3 at 7:30 pm in J143: $2.00 for Harper students and $3.00 for the public (free popcorn).

A Break For The Broke.

Temporary jobs for students on Spring, Summer or Winter Break. At any time you have time off, you can earn the extra dollars you need. Temporary assignments available in clerical, marketing, light industrial and even technical fields. Good pay, and valuable experience. Call us now.

Western
TEMPORARY SERVICES.

Chicago Office: 312-222-3955
Dallas Office: 214-222-3955
Houston Office: 713-222-3955
Los Angeles Office: 213-222-3955
Miami Office: 305-222-3955
New York Office: 212-222-3955
Phoenix Office: 602-222-3955
Portland Office: 503-222-3955
San Francisco Office: 415-222-3955
Seattle Office: 206-222-3955
Tampa Office: 813-222-3955
Wash. DC Office: 202-222-3955

Clerical • Marketing • Medical • Technical
Light Industrial • Sales • Photo • Videotape

© 1988 WTS

News

Controversy pervades Thompson's appointment

The Harbinger April 28, 1948

Page 12

continued from first page
 promised their names will remain confidential until finalists are named. This protects the applicants from losing their current position.

The complaint most often voiced concerned the amount of confidential information withheld from faculty, staff, students, administrators and community.

It was not until the Board began their interview process, with the open forums and luncheons, that detailed information about each candidate was made public.

"...there are enough people here with experience, knowledge, and the ability to do what we have in the past, select a president," said Keres.

One staff member commented, "If (the amount of secrecy) could go along with the college's idea of shared governance."

Larry Paulin, Editor-in-Chief of the Harbinger said, "I think while they have the right to preserve privacy, they lack it to extremes. That suggested they had something to hide."

Brown said, "I think there is always a certain amount of secrecy in order for a committee to conduct a search. I think this committee went out of their way to keep their activities secret."

Student Scott Morton, General Manager of WHCM said, "They shouldn't have announced the names until they were prepared to give all the background information."

During the course of interviewing and narrowing over 80 applicants PSAC made one progress report to the college community and the Board of Trustees sent out four memos regarding PSAC including the final submission of the five candidates.

According to Patricia Bourke, Chairperson for PSAC, the committee first narrowed their selection to eleven applicants. They then interviewed and discussed the eleven nominees.

After a two week delay resulting from a flood of applications near the deadline, PSAC released five names as finalists for Harper's presidency with two lines of biographical information about each.

"The amount of information I received was adequate. The level of confidentiality was appropriate. All the way through I was very comfortable with what they had to say, when they had to say it," said Vice President of "That suggested they had something to hide," said Paulin.

Administrative Services Vernon Manke.

Manke added, "I felt that the committee was representative of the college's internal and external community."

A college official whom wishes to remain unnamed disagrees, "I think, as do many faculty, that the committee was formed unilaterally."

One reason for this stance is that proportionately the students and faculty out number the members of other college groups and should gain more representation on the committee.

Al Dankowski, dean of the Learning Resource Center said, "Is the greatest responsibility of the Board of Trustees to select the president." He added that he is confident, considering the degree of their responsibilities, that their methods were good.

When asked about the one most productive aspect of the presidential search, P. Earl Henderson, Managing Editor of the Harbinger said, "The open forum would have been good if our opinion make any difference."

Vice President of Student Affairs Bonnie Henry commented, "I wish the Harper community could have had more time to meet with the candidates, but I think that would have been very difficult."

Finally, the necessity for an on-site campus visit of each of the candidates was questioned.

"For a chief executive position my preference would be an on site visit, was the response of an administrator who wished to remain unnamed.

"I think it is absolutely necessary in order to get a full rounded evaluation. It is not a difficult thing to accomplish. It would be a serious mistake not to," said Brown.

Keres questioned, "We didn't." When asked about the decision not to visit the campuses of the candidates Chairman of the Board of Trustees Kris Howard replied, "The Board already had extensive in depth information and besides, the search firm we employed advised us that the information we'd receive wouldn't make the trips worth while. We wouldn't learn anything new."

Eliane Steiner, director of College Relations explained, "The Board of Trustees, by state law, is charged with hiring the chief executive officer and it is their decision what method they

"Now that the selection is made we will need to work together in moving forward," added Stogner.

use in making that decision. She added, "Now that the selection is made we will need to work together in moving forward."

(Kim Orosowski and Larry Paulin also contributed to this article)

Jefferson Committee

continued from first page

"The Constitution Commission is Still in Session" was introduced by Sharon Alter, project director. Harper College Jefferson Meeting was given by Mary K. History, University of Louisville.

Bonsel said "The heat of the Jefferson Committee is to pull you back into the constitution to see what the constitution says about the issue." What really makes the constitution work is us," she said.

According to Bonsel the reading of the constitution is very important. She said that we all share a common commitment, and that the 14th amendment was the most important because it gave people strong protection of the state government. The law and the constitution are too important to be left to lawyers," Bonsel said.

After Bonsel finished her speech there was a general discussion, summary and evaluation by all of the delegates.

The Jefferson Meeting adjourned on a positive note with Howard thanking everyone involved in making the first Harper College Jefferson Committee Meeting. She also said that these meetings have been held across the country.

The project was funded in part by a grant from the Illinois Humanities Council and the National Endowment

Stunning Classical Piano performance

By Andrea Brown
 Staff Writer

The nimble fingers of Timothy Bowling admirably executed three difficult piano concertos during his recital at Harper on Sunday.

Bowling, who is the piano technician for Harper, showed his award-winning form with his powerful rendition of Edward Mac Dowell's Concerto No. 2 in D minor.

As a music student attending piano recitals in Chicago, Bowling won piano concerto contests at the Moody Bible Institute and the American Conservatory of Music, with his performances of the Mac Dowell concerto.

Dennis Moffat of the American Conservatory accompanied Bowling on the concerto by playing the orchestral score reduced to piano. Bowling says Moffat is his coach and teacher, and the similarity of playing style between the two men was evident as they performed at adjoining pianos.

Bowling showed his command of the Mac Dowell selection, easily moving through the piece with conviction. He was dynamic in his strokes and posture, emphasizing the compelling emotions of the concerto. Bowling's ability performed the difficult cross-hand playing and very quick fingering so accurately portend the sparkling and lively score.

In addition to the Mac Dowell concerto, Bowling also performed a sonata by Ravel and Mac Dowell concerto. Bowling also performed a sonata by Ravel and Sonata in C major Op. 2 No. 3 by Beethoven.

Bowling began the recital with the Beethoven sonata. At first, Bowling seemed nervous, and he had two slight missteps in the second movement.

However, by the final movement, Bowling forgot his nervousness and concentrated on the delicate lingering of the piece. Overall, Bowling's gentle treatment of the sonata accentuated its light and playful theme.

After the recital, Bowling confessed that he only had about a week to memorize the Beethoven sonata. He said he felt much more relaxed for the rest of the recital after he had the first piece "under his belt."

Bowling displayed greater versatility in his rendition of the Ravel sonata. This sonata is quiet and full of passion.

BUILD A CAREER IN THE CLOUDS.

Learn how to fly helicopters in the US Army. Not only could it be one of the greatest experiences in your life, but it could be the start of an exciting career.

The Army's Warrant Officer Candidate Flight Training Program makes it all possible. To qualify, you'll need a high school diploma and, preferably, at least 2 years of college. Before we learn to fly, you'll need to complete Army basic training and pre-flight training.

But once you complete your flight training program, you'll be an Army aviator. And you thought only birds got to wear wings.

Call your local Army Recruiter today for more information.

SFC JORDT
 353-7350
ARMY.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classifieds

Classified Ad Rates

Student non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-student classifieds (up to eight lines) are $4.50; $5.55 each additional line.

Employment

Help Wanted

LEGAL SERVICES

FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs. Include DUI personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 852-3300. Even and weekend appointments available.

SUMMER HELPS

Summer Restaurant help wanted. The Kelsey Road House, Waiters, Waitresses, Hostesses, Bartenders, Cooks, & Bussers. Write: 352 Kelsey Road, Harrington, IL, 60110 or call 312-381-3051.

Field Sales

Get Your Summer Job NOW!! The DAILY HERALD has positions for approximately 1000 people for the summer months. For more information...

- Shifts available: 5:00 to 8:30 Monday through Friday, 12:00 to 5:30 Saturday afternoons. Roselle and Rolling Meadows locations. $10 per hour to start vs commission. Transportation provided from office. Bonuses and Incentives.

DON'T DELAY - CALL TODAY!!

Ask for Matt, 870-3470 or Mark, 870-6504. (Call between 12:00 and 4:30). Please Copy 2 - Reference 101

RESUME SERVICE

Start out your job search on the right foot with a well written resume. Day/evening/weekends. call 356-5821.

SEASONAL

Lifeguards must be certified for private pool at Sheffield Towne House complex in Schaumburg. $15/hrs. apply in person at 100 N. Walnut Ln.

BEAUTY & WEALTH

Success looking for enthusiastic self-starting college students to distribute new line of skin and hair care products. These products are so good that they sell themselves with amazing results. Distributors can earn up to $5,000 in monthly commissions by the end of the first year. For more info call 865-2823.

Help Wanted

EARN EXCELLENT MONEY

at Home Assembly work. Jewelry, toys, others. Call 1-818-385-1677 ext. T154811. 24 hrs.

INSIDE SALES COORDINATOR

Growing equipment distributor needs a person to begin their sales career in the rental and sales of construction and industrial equipment. Customer relations and telemarketing interests and skills desirable in this inside marketing position. Future inside sales opportunities exist. Full-time position with fringe benefits. Monday thru Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Salary range $15,000-$18,000 plus future commission. Contact Robert Holliman, Chief Financial Officer, Wheelabrator, 4199 N. 194th St., Chicago, IL 60654.

Reasonable rent call Rose after 4:00 pm w 482-5116

FULL-TIME STUDENT wants to split rent with mother student. Need to find mutual apt. SW of SWM. Call evenings w 194-0840

FOR SALE

HOUSES FOR SALE

GOVT SIZED HOMES $100.00 Repair Tax Sales. Parclosures more! Info Reps. Listing Call 1-305-746-1000. Fax: 7-1128-2418.

GOVERNMENT HOMES

from $100.00 Repair BUY Properties for back TAXES. Info: RPH Listing 1-518-479-1346. EXT. H 16743A 24 HRS.

AUTOMOBILES

1985 FIAT 1000 4 door. MR2 red excellent condition. Asking $1,500. Call 815-344-2355.

1982 OLDS FIRENZA

Hardback Air cond. rear def. autom. pow. steering. pow. brakes AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $1,200. Excellent cond. no rust. Call 741-4999.

1977 OLD CELTIAN

Brougham 2 dr. V-8 Auto A/C, PS, RR/PW/DL, Tilt, Cruise R. Def. AM/FM plus many new items. Runs great! Asking $1,595 call 159-1263.

1977 OLDS REGENCY

Must see! excellent condition. Fully loaded. Many extras. Call Paul w 381-2400 ext 2811 or 845-1842.

CAN YOU BUY JERPS

Cars, ATVs needed in drug raids for under $100.00. Call for facts today. 612-837-1401. Fax 426.

Black Bra for Nissan Duster

NX 3 yrs old good cond all weather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 851-5063.

ATV's (Dunes Buggy)

11 Dunes/Sunburns. Hardly used. received as a gift 3 yrs ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 851-5063.

1987 FORD MUSTANG

13 Hardbacks. Stereo, cassette. AP. Fax warranty. $1,500.00. Assume $35,000 plus difference. Call 517-7143 evenings.

1987 FORD MUSTANG

4-cyl. 103,000. hard car. Box. Asking $1,550. Call Mark w 256-1810.

INSIDE SALES

Fast paced growing electronics industry representative seeking inside Salesman. Responsibilities will include inside sales by phone, inventory and warehouse duties. If you're ambitious, aggressive and enjoy working in a high stress environment, this is THE OPPORTUNITY! William Bradley Representatives 692-1842.

Home Wanted

Each time

ROOMS

FOR RENT

Place: Lake Park Shores. Cond: Beach, golf, tennis. Dog allowed, any size. Call Eugene w 182-7484.

ROOM FOR RENT/SEWER

from 10.30 p.m. until

RED HOT bargain priced dealers cars, boats, planes

Surplus Your area. Buyers Guide 711-805-687. 6000 E. 5-1013.

MUSIC ACCESSORIES

MARTIN STEEL STRING Guitar. 11 yrs old. excellent cond. Asking $400. Call Mike w 815-455-6580.

YAMAHA CLASSICAL GUITAR

Nylon strings. 16 yrs old. Asking $100. Call Mike w 815-455-6580.

ALPINE 7144

Car Stereo. AM/FM cassette. duals. hi level auto reverse and music sensor. Two pointer. T-60000. speakers. Local 1. 3 way. size. 8x9. Asking $220.00. call Laurie w 634-9471/8m or 616-610774x.

GIBSON SG

with case $400. Marshall 50 watt comb. $490. Korg PME 40X modular effects $90. DDD stereo tuner $20. Bob Thores X bass guitar w/case $250. Fender sidekick 50 watt bass amp $100. Hammond Piper Organ needs work. best offer. Call Larry w 493-3273.

FENDER GEMINI CLASSICAL

Guitar for sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted w 428-5117.

MR2 Red Gibson SG w/case

$490. Marshall 50 watt comb. $490. Korg PME 40X modular effects $90. DDD stereo tuner $20. Bob Thores X bass guitar w/case $250. Fender sidekick 50 watt bass amp $100. Hammond Piper organ needs work.

Worst best offer. Call Larry w 493-3273.

FENDER GEMINI CLASSICAL

GUITAR for sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted w 428-5117.

MISCELLANEOUS

FEMALE MODELS WANTED

EARN $300. Home photo or in person for college calendar. Mail any two photos to COFF CALENDAR POB 4348M, Tokain, IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $95.

PERSONALS

DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER?

I can clean your house, office or apartment. low rates, excellent references. Many yrs. of experience. For more information please call me w 255-8521.

BAND PHOTOGRAPHY

Essential for the future of your Band! Call Frank w 885-9585.

ADOPTION

My husband and I are interested in adopting an infant. If you know of anyone who is considering placing a child for adoption please call collect w 618-392-2618.

Walleyshall Anyone?

Let's off the wall entertainment. Volleyball, racquetball, courts, Clubs or independents willing to man (person) a team of four (4) plus alternates to play once a week. can contact Dan Koss. Intramural Director w ext. 2963.

Dear Honey Bunco

Thanks for the beautiful vase. It was soooooo sweet. Love, Bubble Eyes

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE??

$145 MILLION IN FINANCIAL AID WENT UNCLAIMED LAST YEAR. WE CAN FIND THE FUNDS YOU NEED. J.M. EDUCATIONAL SERVICES. P.O. BOX 217, PROSPECT HEIGHTS, IL 60070. (312) 705-8527.

WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____ ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____ PHONE NUMBER () _____

Photo Opinion: If you were on the Board of Trustees, who would you have chosen for College President?

By Andrew Balazs

Mike Waterman, science major:
"I think there should be no president. A bit of socialism wouldn't hurt anyone."

Laura Jacobson,
Student Trustee:
"I feel that the selection of the President was a good one. I feel that it would not be fair for me to say who I would have chosen because I did not meet all of the candidates."

Randy Buivert,
pre-med major:
"I feel that Harper should establish a King. Therefore, in the future there won't be a problem finding a replacement. The first born male would just take control."

Colleen Jennings,
biology major:
"I believe that Dr. Williams would be the best qualified candidate for President considering his experience with Harper College after being Vice President."

The Game

Location #1

(Photo by Sandy Sabatone)

Location #2

(Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Location #3

(Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Location #4

(Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Location #5

(Photo by George Mueller)

Location #6

(Photo by Andrew Balazs)

The Winner

Location #1
The bench around the lake behind building A and D.

(Photo by John McVicker)
Jerry Skapyak a Business Finance major planning to transfer to Western Illinois University next year identified most accurately all six locations. He will receive a gift certificate.

Location #2
The bird observatory by the lake behind building A and D.

Location #3
The windows upstairs between building A and C looking south.

Location #4
The art figure between building A and M, it's the left corner of it as you face building M.

Location #5
The mirror in building D by the stairs going up to the lounge.

Location #6
The art figure on the north-east side of building H.

The
Mathland Suburbs
Premier Video
Super Store
991-5950

- FREE MEMBERSHIP
- CDD TAPES
- 2 DAY RENTAL

- OPEN 7 DAYS
10 AM - 10 PM
- FRIENDLY SERVICE

Hollywood
VIDEOS

Huntington Blvd.
Holt Ave. Intersection
Hoffman Station
991-5950

• NEW RELEASES •

- Platoon
- Dirty Harry

- La Bamba
- Drynet
- Blue Cop

- Romanne
- Predator

NBA Awards and Play-off Predictions

By Scott Bordas
Sports Editor

Since the NBA play-offs are rapidly approaching, it is time for me to make my predictions and choices for various basketball awards.

MVP: Here's a hint: He is the Chicago Bulls' off-guard and franchise savior, the NBA's leading scorer, the 1988 Greatest Slam Dunk Champion and the most spectacular athlete ever to pick up a basketball.

That's right: Mr. Michael Jordan. L.A. fans may argue for Magic Johnson and Boston loyalists might choose Larry Bird. Then when they read I'm picking Jordan, they will accuse me of favoritism because I'm from Chicago, such is not the case.

I like Magic and company just as much as Jack Nicholson, if not more and I admit that Bird is the master of all skills and probably the smartest guy in the NBA.

I am really not that big of a Bulls fan either, so any accusations of favoritism are unjust. What I am, is a basketball fan and that is why I am picking Jordan.

It is not necessary to go into stats or pull out jam footage. It's obvious MIKE is the MAN!

Rookie of the Year: Mark Jackson, point-guard, New York Knicks. The former St. John's star, who holds the NBA rookie record for single-season assists, is exactly what the Knicks needed.

Coach of the Year: Doug Collins of the Bulls. You had to have followed the Bulls and sat in an empty Chicago Stadium for the past years to appreciate what this guy has done.

He might not get it (Pat Riley of L.A. probably will win), but any guy who can win 50 games with an aging center like Dave Corzine and the cast of youngsters he has deserves the award.

All-Star Team:

Magic Johnson, G
Michael Jordan, G
Akem Ojajuwon, C
Larry Bird, F
Charles Barkley, F

On the advice of two of my writers (Byron Blanchard and Kevin Goldstein) I am adding the following players:

Patrick Ewing, C, New York Knicks. He is going to be the best center within the next few years.

Karl Malone, F, Utah Jazz. We need somebody who can rebound and score in case Barkley gets kicked out of the game.

Dominique Wilkins, Atlanta Hawks. Wilkins does not have a position on my team, he is in there to dunk.

How will the Bulls do in the play-offs? They will get past Cleveland, but the Bulls better not take the Cavaliers for granted or they will get beat.

Chances are they will then run into Detroit for another classic Bulls-Pistons match-up. Hopefully, Charles Oakley will bust up Detroit's hated Bill Lamber. Lamber is really a nice guy.

Anyway, look for the San Vincent and the Bulls to upset Isiah Thomas and the Pistons in seven.

The Bulls will then face and be defeated by the Boston Celtics in the Eastern Conference Championship Series. Robert Parish, Kevin McHale and the rest of K.C.'s boys are still too tough for the Bulls.

Who is going to win it all? The Lakers will repeat. Magic will win the series MVP award after L.A. beats Boston in six.

What's up in MLB:

By Kevin Goldstein
Sports Writer

After three weeks of Major League Baseball play here are some of my comments, predictions and questions.

1. The Pirates are for real. Unfortunately so are the Cardinals. St. Louis is playing really bad and I don't see them turning things around.

2. Darryl Strawberry is off in a good start, as I predicted. He is first in slugging and on-base percentage and second in hitting.

3. What happened to Eric Davis?

4. When did the Indians starting pitchers suddenly attend the Cy Young School of Pitching?

5. I hope the Orioles continue losing until that disc jockey in Baltimore dies of exhaustion.

6. Frank Robinson will quit his managerial post with the O's within the next six weeks.

WHCM

harper college radio

Listen in Building "A" or
now AT HOME on the Cable
Access Network!

Channels:
Cablenet --- 91

American
Cable --- 21
System

Broadcasting LIVE
from the Dining Hall on Wed., May 4
from 9 am - 1 pm

Broadcast Monday - Thursday 8:00 am - 8:00 pm Friday 8:00 am - 2:00 pm.

Sports

Tennis Team Takes Second

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

The Harper tennis team took second place at the NAC Conference Championships last weekend at Rock Valley.

College of DuPage finished first with 27 points, followed by Harper (15), Rock Valley (9), Thornton (6), Moraine Valley (4), Joliet (2), Moraine Valley (0) and Trenton (0). Results were as follows:

Singles
Number One Joe Drosko won first-round 6/0, 6/0; lost second round 2/6, 1/6.

Number Two Steve Pohl Randozo won first-round 6/0, 6/0; won second-round 6/2, 2/6; lost championship 2/6, 0/6.

Number Three Bill Adams won first-round 6/2, 6/2; won second-round 6/1, 1/6, 6/3; lost championship 0/6, 6/7.

Number Four John Pichford won first-round 6/4, 6/3; won second-round 4/6, 6/6; lost championship 1/6, 0/6.

Number Five Jay Orick won first-round 6/4, 7/5; won second round 7/6, 4/6, 7/5; lost championship 1/6, 3/6.

Number Six Mark Partleson won first-round 6/2, 6/2; lost second round 0/6, 1/6.

Doubles
Number One Drosko/Randozo won first round 6/2, 6/4; won second round 6/1, 6/4; lost championship 6/4, 2/6, 4/6.

Number Two Adams/Pichford won first round 6/1, 6/4; won second round 6/4, 6/4.

lost championship 4/6, 4/6.
Number Three Orick/Partleson won first round 6/1, 6/4; lost second round 0/6, 1/6.

The Hawks defeated Sauk Valley 6-1 last Thursday at home. Scores were as follows:

Singles
Drosko won 6/0, 6/1; Randozo won 6/1, 6/4; Adams lost 4/6, 1/6; Pichford lost 4/6, 5/7; Orick won 6/4, 6/4; Partleson won 5/7, 6/1, 6/0.

Doubles
Drosko/Randozo won 6/3, 4/6, 6/6; Adams/Pichford won 6/4, 7/5; Orick/Partleson lost 1/6, 1/6.

Harper will compete in the NCA Region IV Tournament on May 6 and 7 in Rockford.

The Harbinger April 28, 1988

Page 16

Phil Randozo practices his wicked serve. (Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Softball Takes Third Wins Seventeen

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

The softball team finished their season with a 9-5 conference record, good for third place.

Harper finished behind Moraine Valley (11-3) and NAC Champion Trion (tenure) 12-0. One of Coach Myra Minick's pre-season goals was to finish either third or higher.

The Hawks' overall record now stands at 17-10. The team's 17 victories this year is the most a Harper squad has ever won; the previous high was 11, recorded in both 1985-'82.

In 1986, the coach's first year, her team recorded only three wins and in '87 they won ten. The accomplishment, the Hawks' third place goal and the new victory record, indicative of Minick's dedication to a successful softball program at Harper.

Scores and Highlights

Harper vs. Moraine Valley

Game One: Moraine Valley 9 Harper 2

The Hawks came up with only two hits and two runs. Harper's five errors, but Jenny Pylarz, who suffered the loss.

Game Two: Harper 2 Moraine Valley 1

Centerfielder Julie Rowe had two hits and scored two runs. Co-Captain Kris Foster knocked in both Harper runs. Michele Thornhill held Moraine to one run on three hits.

Harper vs. Morton

Game One: Harper 2 Morton 1

Offensively, leftfielder Jenny Baumstark and rightfielder Linda Hubers each had two hits and one RBI. Defensively, the Hawks turned two double plays.

In the third, shortstop

Jennifer Blasky grabbed a line drive then threw to first to double up Morton's base runner.

Harper's second double play came as the fourth, when catcher Connie Angel picked up a bunt and threw to first, second baseman Robin Diakley, who was covering on the play, then threw to Lynn Hoyt to nail a Morton runner at third.

Pylarz, the winner, allowed only one run on five hits.

Game Two: Harper 9 Morton 1

Again, Harper held Morton to one run on five hits. Thornhill recorded the victory.

Foster won 2 for 2, with a triple and two RBIs. In addition, Foster (who plays first) scored twice. Blasky also had two hits, two RBIs and scored two runs.

The Hawks turned a 1-3-3 double play in the bottom of the fifth.

Harper vs. Trion

Game One: Trion 5 Harper 0

Trion pitcher Beth Dabak went four full innings before allowing a Harper base runner. Angel, the only Hawk to reach base, broke Dabak's perfect game with a single in the top of the fifth. Pylarz suffered the loss.

Game Two: Trion 2 Harper 1

Harper cut her Trion seven to five, but unfortunately Trion nipped Harper by one run. Trion scored the winning run in the bottom of the fifth to beat Harper. The Hawks' lead-off hitter Rowe had three hits and batted in the Hawks' only run.

The double elimination sectional starts today. Harper starts, along with Lake County today. Other teams in the sectional include McHenry, Elgin and Rock Valley.

Baseball Squad Continues To Win

Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

The Hawks continue to rack up the victories, winning five of their last six games. Despite the wins, Coach Dan Koss offered a comment about the recent weather.

"The bad weather definitely has an effect on some of the guys," said Koss. "I've heard to play it."

Some scores and highlights of recent games are as follows:

Harper vs. Illinois Benedictine

Game One: Harper 11 IL Benedictine 8

Bill O'Grady tipped his record to 101 with the win.

Game Two: Harper 5 IL Benedictine 0

Tony Vaca, the winner, allowed only four hits and struck out nine.

Harper vs. DuPage

Game One: Harper 7 DuPage 3

Mark Kuffel, Paul O'Callaghan and Vaca each hit a home run. Al Levine was the winning pitcher.

Game Two: Harper 13 DuPage 4

The Hawks took an early lead with five runs in the first and added four more in the second. Steve Diack recorded the victory.

Harper vs. Kankakee

Game One: Kankakee 5 Harper 2

Vaca suffered his first loss of the season.

Game Two: Harper 5 Kankakee 0

WP: Bill O'Grady

Harper vs. Wright

Game One: Harper 7 Wright 2

Freshman Dave Schneider pitched and won his first game of the season.

Game Two: Harper 13 Wright 9

John Basile recorded his third win.

Harper is scoring number one in the upcoming sectional tournament. The first game of the tourney will be on May 7 against McHenry or Lake County at Harper.

Track & Field

Lopez, Word, Witsiepe and Thayer set new mark

By Scott Borden
Sports Editor

Nikki Lopez, Janice Word, Karen Witsiepe and Anne Thayer teamed up to set a new school record at the Northwestern University Relay held April 22 and 23 at Evanston.

Harper's time of 1:54.7, in the above medals, broke the previous school record of 2:02.68 set in 1986.

Results for all events were as follows:

Women's Track Individual Results:
Lopez, long jump: 179.1/2' (3)

PR: Laura Neubam, 400-meter hurdles: 76.2 (PR).

Madeline Chin, discus: 106.4 (record); 114.77 (3, PR); Karen Reichmab, discus: 76.7; Thayer, 100 m dash: 12.9.

Relays: Two-mile relay Lopez, Laura Fremgen, Janice Word, Res behind: 10.31, 400 m relay: Lopez, Thayer, Word, Witsiepe, Thayer: 52.3; Sprint medley: Lopez, Word, Witsiepe, Thayer: 1:54.77.

Men's Track
Frank Barab, long jump:

219' (3); Brian Pawlak, discus: 136 (3).

*School Record (3) Third place finish (19) Personal Record

Women's Track Coach
Renee Zeltner said "We competed against some good competition, including Loyola and North eastern, the finisher our athletes turned in represent significant effort."

The Hawks' next meet is Saturday at Elmhurst College, 10:00 pm.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 26

William Rainey Harper College

The Harbinger May 5, 1988

Tuition Increase Suggested for Spring '89

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Vice President of Administrative Services Vern Munkle suggested a three dollar per credit hour tuition increase to take effect the spring semester of 1989 at the last finance meeting.

Munkle said, "The college has encountered over the two year period (fiscal year 1986-89) a 4.8 percent reduction of state funding."

Victor Berner, dean of business services and finance added, "It seemed to me that at the last meeting there was a split; some members were for it and others against."

As part of Harper's state funding we receive a grant which is based on the total number of credit hours students enroll for. Harper receives this grant two years later.

According to Munkle, "Also compensating the drop in state revenues, we have experienced a reduction in credit hours taught" for the 1987 school year thus lowering the amount of the state grant for the fiscal year 1989.

He added, "During the two (fiscal) years the college will have lost $1,084,078 in its credit hour fundings from the state."

Harper has not had a tuition increase since the 1983-84 school year when it was raised two dollars per credit hour.

According to a random survey conducted by Harper of Illinois community colleges, eight of eighteen state colleges will be increasing their tuition for the fiscal year 1989.

Also discussed at the finance meeting was the Educational Fund budget.

Revenue based on the current tuition rate ($27 per credit hour) is estimated at $29,975,287 for the 1989 school year. Expenditures are expected to total $24,920,455.

This leaves $54,832 for capital equipment. Expenditures are expected to total $593,319 less than the amount budgeted for capital equipment in 1987.

The fiscal year 1989 buildings and grounds budget allocated $34,259 for funds. Total capital equipment totaling $389,000 of available funds.

As a result of the state cuts the committee has resolved to eliminate the Operating Room Technician certificate program and the media writer position included in last year's budget but never filled.

Observatory named class gift

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

An observatory dedicated to James J. McGrath, President of Harper College from 1976-1988, was approved by the Student Senate to be built and donated to the college as the gift from the class of '88.

The senate allotted $5,000 to the cost of the $14,000 building, designed to house a telescope and protect it from inclement weather.

The dome of the building, sold by Ash Dome company, costs approximately $7,000.

Student Senator, Linda Klapp, said the administration has been supportive of the observatory project.

The observatory is 17 and one-half feet in diameter and 16 feet tall. The walls are made either with brick or corrugated aluminum (depending on available funds).

The building is planned to be built near the lake on the north side of campus. This will prevent much of Woodfield's light from affecting the star gazing.

Funds for the observatory cannot be counted on, though Klapp, in coalition with Paul Suptera, associate professor of astronomy, are planning fund raising.

"Buy a Brick" is one method of collecting money to build the brick observatory. Continued on page 8

(Photos courtesy Harper College)
The current cash station of the First Chicago Bank of Mt. Prospect.

(Photos by Frank Schwartz)
The cash station was removed last Friday morning, because it did not receive enough transactions.

Cash Station Closed FCBM claims cause was lack of use

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Because of "an insufficient amount of transactions" the First Chicago Automated Teller Machine, owned by The First Chicago Bank of Mt. Prospect (FCBM), was removed last Friday.

Installed about five or six years ago, the machine was in jeopardy of being removed in May of 1987. The final decision to remove the cash station was made last December.

The FCBM was unwilling to continue subsidizing the machine, so the FCBM offered Harper College the opportunity to subsidize it. The cash station brings in no revenue to Harper, it is merely a convenience.

Another alternative the bank offered to Harper was if a plot of land was cleared, the FCBM would build a drive-up facility near the Algonquin road entrance and continue subsidizing the machine.

Before action is taken a study must be done to determine if traffic problems will result and the degree of security risk involved.

Currently Harper's campus is closed to public traffic after 11:00 pm. Harper public safety has the authority to stop any vehicle on the perimeter roads after this time.

According to Michael Miller, member of the Board of Trustees, the matter then must be proposed and approved by the board.

FCBM needs a way to know what Harper's decision is by September 1988.

Ash Dome observatory in Diablo Valley College Pleasant Hill, California.

INSIDE

Final Advice, how to beat the last minute cramming for final exams.

Page 2

Mom for for president? Why not? Off Her Rocker with our mom.

Page 3

Underground band Midnight Oil returns with their new album Diesel and Dust.

Page 4

What's happening around campus? The Steel Drum Band concert Final Exam schedule.

Page 6

An early look at the NFL. Predictions for the upcoming season.

Page 11

Final Strategy- Are YOU Prepared?

by Kim Ostrowski
Features Editor

Ah, yes. The semester is quickly drawing to a close, a mere week remains before the final week and finals.

What? You say you have not even begun to review all of the mountains of information you have learned this semester?

With this wonderful relaxing weather we are enjoying recently I can't imagine anybody would want to go outside (and avoid studying).

But seriously, has anyone started to review? The tutoring center, first floor F-Bldg., is available for students with questions or problems in a variety of areas. Teachers can be located outside of class for additional advice, and students self-help study groups are not uncommon sources for further brushing up sessions.

Final exams come in different guises, from the ever-present, fear-mingling "comprehensive" to the "just another test in a series" finals. The point is, most classes will have a final exam, and to most students this is a last chance to maintain a good grade or, even, to boost them over into a higher grade bracket. Hopefully, the final will not pull down the grade.

How do some sharper students deal with Finals Week and preparing or reviewing?

Comic Wolf says, "I just changed my studying habits, going from waiting until the last minute, even with finals to going through my notes and making cassette tapes of all the information in those notes."

"... summarize my notes on cassette tapes."

Comic adds, "I read through my class notes and pick out the material I think is especially important, summarize it to fill a 90- or 60-minute tape and listen to the tape while driving around in my car."

And, if the cassettes are not enough, Comic puts the notes cards she makes into her purse for "moments" when I'm waiting (and we know about waiting).

Comic evidently takes her studying very seriously and takes advantage of as much free time as is possible for her. Also, changing from her old routine has paid significant dividends, in terms of higher grades and lessened anxiety.

Put the notecards into purses or pockets for quick perusal while waiting."

Maggie Stephens says she keeps reading the text over and over, taking notes, and taking those notes to work.

Maggie, like Comic, advises using repetition for better mastery of the material. Also, Maggie takes advantage of free time, but adds that breaks are important when studying.

Counselors and tutors are helpful when it comes to a particular subject, Maggie says, but advises seeing one with whom one can get along comfortably.

"Study every Sunday."

Max Bennett and Craig Iversen bring an interesting approach to studying, advocating the utilization of every Sunday as a study session, if possible. Max takes his old tests and gives over them, as well as poring over in-class questions and a few problems. "Study all the time!" Yes, they say, for every week and for every subject.

Studying every Sunday, Hinmen. Max added, "never study late or cram a lot, you end up memorizing the material, then forgetting it after the test. I read a book on how best to keep the material in your head, and along-term studying works best. I used to cram, but not any more."

Barb Pylak smiles and says, "I haven't really started to study in earnest yet." When she really hits the books, Barb goes over her old test and writes out the things she does and does not know that well, notecards are especially helpful for her in math.

"Take the notes to work."

Like other students, Barb says, "I have to go over problems of previous tests, many times, until it really makes sense."

Again, we hear from another advocate of repetitive studying for long-term retention, especially for comprehensive finals.

John O'Connell looks over his old tests, too, stressing the importance of emphasizing those subjects that tend to have more material, such as his math and science courses, rather than English.

One student who wishes to remain anonymous says, "I haven't started studying yet, especially since spring break. I have to catch up on several chapters in a couple of different subjects before I really begin to review for finals."

This last student studies the hardest subjects first, but then studies each subject the day before its final exam. Also, the student suggests seeing teachers for help on material before going to class because "the teachers are much more familiar with the material you covered in class than are the tutors."

This student expresses a common concern among students, of catching up on material before studying.

Is it that most students are slow to complete their work, or is it that teachers actually do pile on more material toward the end of semesters? Whatever the cause of additional work and stress now, most of us students will be preparing busily (hopefully) for our final tests, be they "comprehensive" or just the final one in a series of tests during the course of the class.

- Featuring:
- Full Machine Circuits of Nautilus & Eagle Cabs
 - Free Weights
 - Computerized Exercise Bikes
 - Cardiovascular Evaluations
 - Aerobic, Low Impact, and Exercise Classes
 - Water Rehab Classes
 - Nutritional and Personalized Workout Programs
 - Tennis Courts
 - Swimming
 - Tanning Beds
 - An On-Site Nursery Service
 - Fitness Assessment Test administered by Exercise Physiologist

BE A CALORIE BURNING MACHINE.

6 Month Student Special—$99

Like advantage of our super low student special. Only $99 gives one person 6 months of fitness. With no initiation fees or monthly dues required. Call today for a complimentary workout.

1 Woodfield Lake
Office Campus
1000 E. Woodfield Rd.
Schaumburg, IL 60173
882-1200

Searching? Call us first!

- GENERAL OFFICE
- DATA ENTRY
- SECRETARIAL
- ACCOUNTING
- RECEPTIONIST
- ETC.

FULL-TIME JOB OPENINGS TODAY
CALL US!
439 0505

Free service to applicants
Full company pd. benefits
Several raises each year.

1st Choice Co.

MILAGRO BEANFIELD WAR

Early death due to unnatural causes?

by Sean Colbert
Staff Writer

Maybe "The Milagro Beanfield War" was never meant to be filmed.

Based on John Nucklet's 1974 novel of the same name, the story is set in the small New Mexico town of Milagro.

Here, the population of poverty-stricken natives are watching their land being bulldozed by the equipment belonging to a wealthy, greedy development company intent on replacing the town's rustic charm with a slick new golf course.

The owner of the company (ironically named Devine) promises that the addition of this money will bring new jobs and much needed revenue to the financially crippled area.

Some are not so sure. After all, Devine refuses to employ any locals to work on the installation of his project. In addition to no available work, a lawyer from the area warns that what the golf course will do is raise property taxes so high that the natives will be forced to move.

One man named Joe Mandragon decides he's had enough and taps into the government restricted water supply to irrigate his beanfields and, in turn, feed his family.

You can imagine how the land developers react to this. Soon you are left with a stand-off between the natives and big business.

Such conflicts were the stuff that meat and office bonanza in the pre-ecological seventies, so it was no surprise when "Milagro" was immediately snatched up with the intent of bringing it to the big screen.

Three writers later, half a dozen failed scripts and six years, the original backers gave up and abandoned the project.

Enter Robert Redford. Aside from being one of this century's most desirable actors and most vocal supporters of all things ecological, Redford had just made a splash with one of the finest directorial debuts of all time, "Ordinary People".

When he announced that he wanted "Milagro" to be his follow-up, it looked as if the day had been saved.

Unfortunately this was not so. There would be more snafus, failed screenplay attempts and another six years before Redford got the camera rolling.

Just when things were happening, unpredictable and highly hostile weather would delay the project another year and inflate the budget out of proportion.

If that wasn't enough one of the leading actresses would denounce the film as "garbage" on the eve of its release.

When the film finally did squeak into theaters in late March, critics (both hounded and Universal Studios) seemed almost ashamed to admit it was released. As it stands, the film is almost at the point of extinction already.

This is the saddest fact of all. What Redford and company have done is make a beautiful movie.

Robbie Greenberg's cinematography deserves an Oscar for the breathtaking scenery, as does actor Carlos Riquelme for his outstanding portrayal of Amaranzo, a senile old man who travels with a large pig and converses with angels and ghosts.

The cast is rounded out with excellent performances by little known actors including Chick Venery as the proud-but-stubborn Joe Mandragon and musician Ruben Blades as Milagro's humbling sheriff.

Honorable mention is mandatory for Sonia Braga (the namesake in Kiss of the Spiderwoman) who does a fantastic job with one of today's few great roles for women.

There are some flaws, however. Some of the characters are not fully developed as in the case of the town lawyer (played by John Heard) and the government appointed lawyer (Christopher Walken).

The biggest waste of time and character comes from Melanie Griffith (the mud-slinging actress) whose portrayal of the land developer's wife merely makes the film seem longer with her brief appearances.

All in all, these minor flaws put this film head and shoulders above all the pseudo-oh-his-herbal-Weapon/MTV crap invading the screen lately. I urge you to see it and save the movie industry from its mediocrity.

Maybe "The Milagro Beanfield War" was never meant to be filmed, but I'm damned glad it was!

RECORD REVIEW

underground band digs its way out

by Steve Hill
Contributing Writer

Midnight Oil
"Diesel and Dust"
Columbia Rec/Cass/CD

Midnight Oil has returned after a long absence with a new album entitled "Diesel and Dust". Their previous album, Red Sails in the Sun, was released way back in 1985 in a relatively unreciprocal American public.

Having appeared on the music scene in this country in late 1982 with their debut album, (11) 9.8.5.6.5.4.3.2.1... this hugely popular Australian band is at last making a name for themselves.

Led by Peter Garrett, the very tall and very hard lead singer, Midnight Oil also includes Peter Gillford on bass, Tim Mogue on keyboards, Martin Rossie on guitar, and Rob Hurst on drums. The album was produced by Wayne Laveeey and the band.

This is a very evocative record. I cannot think of a better word to describe it.

On first listen, the tracks may blend together without developing separate personalities, but after a few more plays, the songs entrench themselves in your mind and you understand the vast range of styles represented here.

The style changes from song to song are not as drastic as, for example, Neil Young's style changes from album to album, or Linda Ronstadt's similar style changes.

The whole album is still Midnight Oil, but while "Reds Are Burning" is a great dance track, the band also presents us with "Arctic World," a lilting melody with grace and beauty. The song "Dreamworld" definitely captures up thoughts of R.E.M.'s "Weah", a terrific slow song that reminded me quite a bit of The Slaters; and "Someones", reminiscent of "This Time" by INXS.

No matter how slow the songs get, they always keep a

continued on page 8

William Rainey Harper College
Fashion Department presents

The Best of '88
Fashion Show

19th Annual Designer
Showcase

May 13, 1988
2:00 pm Matinee
8:00 pm Evening Show
Building M,
Harper College

Tickets available at
The Box Office, Building J
399-3000 extension 2547
Visa and MasterCard accepted

Price for tickets in advance
matinee $4.50 evening $6.50

At the door
matinee $6.00 evening $8.00
$3.00 with a Student ID for both shows

William Rainey Harper College
1981 West Algonquin Road
Purdine, Illinois 60987-7198

Book Your Summer
Vacation With Us...

Debbie Temps
Corporate Office
831-314-1400

The God's honest

NEWS

BIG NEWS

TV Evangelist says...
"SEND NO MONEY!"
--Sam Drucker pushes button
HOOTERVILLE NUKES PIXLEY

Ron takes firm stand...
ON NANCY'S HEAD!

Tito tattles--

MICHAEL JACKSON HAS THREE HEADS!

--Wears one, carries one, one at cleaners!

Slippy, surgeons butcher original

Happy Sally Fields finds missing genitals!

WHERE ARE THEY NOW?

Private life hasn't treated Walter Mondale well.

San Pedro Shocked--
SISTER BATRILLE EXPLODES ON TAKEOFF!

Exclusive Interview with Carlos the Casino Owner

GIANT KOALA NEEDS LOVE

--Kills four

Thanksgiving horror--
CROSS-EYED MOM
BASTES BABY, BATHES BIRD!

FATTIES REJOICE!

Revolutionary new weightloss plan!

THE ROADKILL DIET!

Upcoming

The Harbinger May 5, 1988

Page 6

Back... By popular demand the Harper College Steel Drum Band

Performing live Thursday...
1:30 P.M. J-Bldg. MAY 5...

Admission Free.

FINAL EXAMINATION SCHEDULE, SPRING, 1988

Final Exam Period	Monday May 18	Tuesday May 19	Wednesday May 20	Thursday May 21	Friday May 22
8:00-8:45	ALL ENGLISH 700-CLASSICAL	ALL MATHEMATICS 700-CLASSICAL	ALL SCIENCE 700-CLASSICAL	ALL HISTORY 700-CLASSICAL	ALL ARTS 700-CLASSICAL
8:50-9:30	PHYSICS 100-200	CHEMISTRY 100-200	BIOLOGY 100-200	PSYCHOLOGY 100-200	POLITICAL SCIENCE 100-200
9:35-10:15	PHYSICS 300-400	CHEMISTRY 300-400	BIOLOGY 300-400	PSYCHOLOGY 300-400	POLITICAL SCIENCE 300-400
10:20-11:00	PHYSICS 500-600	CHEMISTRY 500-600	BIOLOGY 500-600	PSYCHOLOGY 500-600	POLITICAL SCIENCE 500-600
11:05-11:45	PHYSICS 700-800	CHEMISTRY 700-800	BIOLOGY 700-800	PSYCHOLOGY 700-800	POLITICAL SCIENCE 700-800
11:50-12:30	PHYSICS 900-1000	CHEMISTRY 900-1000	BIOLOGY 900-1000	PSYCHOLOGY 900-1000	POLITICAL SCIENCE 900-1000

EXEMPTIONS

CLASSIFIED AS A 3.0 or better will receive an exemption from the following examinations:
Monday through Friday morning and (1) Tuesday classes will not be held on May 18, 19, 20, 21, 22.
Students with a 3.0 or better will receive an exemption from the following examinations:
ALL FINAL EXAMS ARE TO BE HELD AT THE STUDENT UNION, 1000 S. WASHINGTON ST., CHICAGO, ILL. 60605

NOTE TO FACULTY: If you are a faculty member, please contact the Registrar's Office for more information regarding the examination schedule.

LEARN HOW TO FLY HELICOPTERS.

If you've ever wanted to fly a helicopter, learn your option today. The Army has openings now in its Warrior Officer Helicopter Training Program.

To qualify, you must have a high school diploma, be at least 17 years old, and not be past 27 years old at the time of your enlistment. You must meet certain physical and mental requirements for enrollment in the Warrior Officer Flight Training Program.

Prior to entering helicopter training, you must successfully complete basic training and one flight training.

After appointment as a Warrior Officer, you will complete your basic Army Reserve course and train one weekend a month and two weeks a year for at least 48 months.

If you'd like to see the wings of an Army aviator, contact or call SSA PICKETT 350-7350.

ARMY RESERVE. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Registration for the summer, 1988, semester will begin with early registration in April. The following schedule indicates days and time of registration. Information has been distributed by the Student Development Faculty regarding the final academic advising program. Daytime registration is by appointment card only. Appointment cards are available beginning April 11th in the Registrar's Office at 8:00 a.m. Students are encouraged to see counselors for assistance in choosing their classes.

EXTENDED EARLY REGISTRATION FOR SUMMER AND FALL

May 9, 10, 11, 12 9 a.m. to noon
13 1 p.m. to 4 p.m.

TUITION & FEES MUST BE PAID BY MAY 11, 1988, OR SCHEDULES WILL BE CANCELLED

RESEARCH PAPERS

17,000 to choose from—all subjects
Lowest Prices, Largest Selection
Order Catalog Today with Visa/MC or COD
Ordering Hot Line 1-800-621-5745
Or, rush $2.00 to:
Author's Research Services, Inc.
407 S. Dearborn, Room 1605
Chicago, IL 60605
Custom research also available—all levels

Congratulations C.I.A.D.!

Congratulations to Harper College's Illness Association (C.I.A.D.) for their high-energy car wash last Saturday. Attracting drivers by waving towels and wearing bathing suits, the club members drew more than eighty cars to the car wash held between Buildings V and M. Waiting customers were fascinated by the fast moving hands, simultaneously signing and working. The car wash was successful in raising money for the C.I.A.D. end of the year banquet which will be on Friday, May 16 at the Village Tree Apartment Clubhouse in Schaumburg. For information, contact Karen Hale or Cliff Casey at ext. 2264. C.I.A.D. would like to thank all who contributed to make the fundraiser a success.

A Break For The Broke.

Temporary jobs for students on Spring, Summer or Winter Break. Any time you have time off, you can earn the extra dollars you need. Temporary assignments available in clerical, marketing, light industrial and even technical fields. Good pay, and valuable experience. Call us now.

Western TEMPORARY SERVICES.

Chicago Dept 700-330-8888
Boston Dept 617-252-8888
Dallas Dept 214-343-8888
Denver Dept 303-733-8888
Houston Dept 713-796-8888
Los Angeles Dept 213-996-8888
Miami Dept 305-576-8888
New York Dept 212-996-8888
Philadelphia Dept 215-996-8888
Phoenix Dept 602-996-8888

Clerical • Marketing • Medical • Technical
Light Industrial • Sales • Photo • Videotape

U STREET

by JON CALDARA

E STREET

by JON CALDARA

PUZZLE

SOLUTION

1. ATALTO
 2. KESTER
 3. ENITER
 4. ENITER
 5. ENITER
 6. ENITER
 7. ENITER
 8. ENITER
 9. ENITER
 10. ENITER
 11. ENITER
 12. ENITER
 13. ENITER
 14. ENITER
 15. ENITER
 16. ENITER
 17. ENITER
 18. ENITER
 19. ENITER
 20. ENITER
 21. ENITER
 22. ENITER
 23. ENITER
 24. ENITER
 25. ENITER
 26. ENITER
 27. ENITER
 28. ENITER
 29. ENITER
 30. ENITER
 31. ENITER
 32. ENITER
 33. ENITER
 34. ENITER
 35. ENITER
 36. ENITER
 37. ENITER
 38. ENITER
 39. ENITER
 40. ENITER
 41. ENITER
 42. ENITER
 43. ENITER
 44. ENITER
 45. ENITER
 46. ENITER
 47. ENITER
 48. ENITER
 49. ENITER
 50. ENITER
 51. ENITER
 52. ENITER
 53. ENITER
 54. ENITER
 55. ENITER
 56. ENITER
 57. ENITER
 58. ENITER
 59. ENITER
 60. ENITER
 61. ENITER
 62. ENITER
 63. ENITER
 64. ENITER
 65. ENITER
 66. ENITER
 67. ENITER
 68. ENITER
 69. ENITER
 70. ENITER
 71. ENITER
 72. ENITER
 73. ENITER
 74. ENITER
 75. ENITER
 76. ENITER
 77. ENITER
 78. ENITER
 79. ENITER
 80. ENITER
 81. ENITER
 82. ENITER
 83. ENITER
 84. ENITER
 85. ENITER
 86. ENITER
 87. ENITER
 88. ENITER
 89. ENITER
 90. ENITER
 91. ENITER
 92. ENITER
 93. ENITER
 94. ENITER
 95. ENITER
 96. ENITER
 97. ENITER
 98. ENITER
 99. ENITER
 100. ENITER

LSAT GMAT

barbri

#1 THE HIGHEST SCORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NATION

Call for a free information packet. Don't miss out. Order your free barbri's copy today! $35.00 (includes shipping).

(312) 855-1088

Classes offered at Harper College

ACROSS

- 1 Sedate
- 9 Passageway
- 11 Best canonly
- 13 Smaller
- 14 Private's measure
- 15 Gassen
- 17 Physician abbr
- 18 Suitable
- 20 Seemless
- 21 The self
- 22 Measurers
- 24 Gratitude
- 25 Heptane measure
- 26 Tears
- 28 List
- 30 Shakespearean king
- 32 District in Germany

DOWN

- 33 Wandered
- 35 Wooden pins
- 37 Pines
- 38 Not distinct
- 40 Noisy as flea
- 42 Harvest goddess
- 43 Thick soup
- 45 Patches
- 46 Therefore
- 47 Far back
- 49 Symbol for benzium
- 50 Sloot
- 52 Sick twine
- 54 Slacks
- 55 Writer-athletes

DOWN

- 3 Equally
- 4 Possessive pronoun
- 1 Take unawfully
- 2 Advantage

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

- 7 Those holding office
- 8 Spangher for yes
- 9 Blockkeeper's sacred
- 10 Mistake
- 12 Disturbance
- 13 Deep view
- 16 Den
- 19 Courtship's end
- 21 Comes into view
- 22 Fan
- 25 Not the same
- 27 Evenly
- 29 Eat
- 31 Depress
- 33 Honor
- 34 Extremely terrible
- 36 Declared
- 37 Puts forth
- 38 Ancient Persian
- 41 Apparatus
- 43 Series
- 44 Lampbrush
- 47 Barter
- 48 Pigeon pea
- 51 Cotton abbr
- 53 Symbol for benzium

U STREET

by JON CALDARA

We have a WORLD of Opportunities!

... and our world is expanding.

If you're looking for an exciting retail opportunity, take a look at Office World — a dynamic national retailer in the discount office supply market. We're looking for cashiers, receivers, stock clerks and sales staff. As a full — or part-time employee, you'll be able to help choose your work schedule. In addition to a competitive salary based on experience, you'll be eligible for immediate in-store discounts and scheduled salary reviews in your first year. If you work more than twenty hours a week, you'll be eligible for liberal vacation, holiday and sick time benefits. Full-time employees are also eligible for a comprehensive benefits package which includes life, medical, hospitalization and dental insurance. To apply for these excellent opportunities apply in person at our store:

1414 N. Roselle Road
Schaumburg, Illinois 60196
(one block north of Golf Road)

OFFICE WORLD

Join a World-Class Organization

News

128 years of Dedication Seven Faculty Members Retire

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Seven faculty members who all totaled donated 128 years of service to Harper College, were approved early retirement in January. A retirement reception was held for these dedicated members on Monday.

Vice President of Academic Affairs David Williams, made some brief remarks in appreciation of the service of the following faculty members: Joe Clesner professor of chemistry who joined the staff in 1967 along with Ray De Palma professor of biology, Donovan Washlin professor of biology joined in 1968, Cheko Namhu professor of fashion design and merchandising and Gene Kinmet professor of economics who both joined in 1970, Marguerite Ewald professor of student development in 1972, and Shirley Phillips assistant professor, operating room technician in 1974.

Williams presented an aerial photo of Harper College to each faculty member and then the division dean representing each faculty member expressed their gratitude.

Vice President of Academic Affairs David Williams presents an aerial picture of Harper Campus to Gene Kinmet. Pat Bourke, dean of life sciences and human services, stands to his right. (Photo by Frank Schwartz)

Library Automation Approaches Completion

(Harper News Release) Students at Harper College will soon enjoy the same advantages of automated research available to students at a growing number of colleges and universities across the state, as well as at many public libraries.

Completion of the system will allow students to conduct highly complex research projects through a computerized on-line catalog program containing much more information than can be included in a standard card catalog.

In approving the purchase of this system, the Harper College Board of Trustees completed the automation of the College library which has been in progress since 1983, when the interlibrary loan was automated, allowing students to obtain resource materials from other college and public libraries throughout the nation.

Cataloging was automated in 1984 when the college joined On-line Computer Library Center (OCLC).

This final step in automation has been under study since the spring of 1985, and various systems were examined for capabilities to provide the on-line catalog, as well as to integrate all functions related to circulation, cataloging, customer service, acquisitions, maintenance, interlibrary loan, reserve room, periodicals, and media distribution.

The system approved was a maintenance agreement with the same company, which was cited for its "commendable" customer support system, especially in the problem solving techniques employed. The company also has a record of resolving any hardware or software and functions promptly as well as providing updated software for these systems.

The integrated system is scheduled for installation in summer and early fall and should be ready to serve patrons later in the 1988-89 academic year.

The preliminary steps to convert to a completely automated system have already been accomplished by the library faculty led by Automation Coordinator Linda Glover.

During the installation period, students and staff will still have access to the card catalog and all the systems which have already been automated.

PeBOPD Observatory gift from class of '88 under-ground band

continued from page 4
hard edge to them courtesy of lead vocalist Peter Gerrit. His voice is actually very similar to Chris Bailey of The Vains, except it is a bit clearer. Considering that they are both Australian, their accents might have something to do with them sounding similar...

The music is well played by the whole band as they shift easily and comfortably from a hard-rock sound to a pop sound to a quiet song and right back into the rockers.

An underground band from down under that is now no longer underground (thanks in part to MTV live constantly showing the clip to "Beats Are Burning"), Midnight Oil is finally getting the good reviews and attention that this album shows that they deserve.

continued from first page

People will be encouraged to buy a break for one dollar to help fund the project.

Also next semester a guest speaker, astronomer Harrison Schmitt will be coming to Harper. Klopp said it may be sold for a dinner with the guest speaker, profits could be donated to the observatory project.

The Student Senate, as a last-act measure have decided to donate $2,000 to renovation of the gas fire place in the lounge of A building. The money will be used to make the fire place electric, and consequently cut the operation costs.

STUDENTS
If you need work
TODAY'S TEMPORARY
Needs you!

All general office skills needed!
Work this summer for TODAY'S TEMPORARY and get the one big benefit you won't get at any other job. You will have a chance to win a 1989... Ford Probe; or one of 300 fabulous prizes like a trip to Jamaica, a rack stereo or a CD player.

You also could win a night at Poplar Creek!

CALL:

Sharon for details

(312) 240-9411

Rating out of 5: 3 1/2

DRIVERS NEEDED FOR SUMMER HELP

PART-TIME-FULL-TIME-ANY-TIME
Starting right away, package food delivery
Scheduled around your availability
Morning hours or Weekends
We work around your hours

CALL NOW @ 766-3336
Ask for Joe
LEE & EDDIE'S CATERING
261 Richert
WOOD DALE

HEALTH CARE CENTER, INC.

Continues to offer low cost, confidential care in all areas of women's health:

- Family Planning
- Pap Smears
- VD testing & treatment
- Pregnancy testing & referrals
- Pre-marital blood tests

WE DO PHYSICAL EXAMINATIONS FOR WORK, SCHOOL, SPORTS

For information and/or appointment call:

359-7575

553 N. Court, Suite 100, Palatine

Daytime Evening and Saturday Appointments

Classifieds

Classified Ad Rates

Student-non-commercial classifieds are free with proper identification. Non-Student classifieds (up to eight lines) are 10.50. 1.75 each additional line. Employment

Legal Services

FREE CONSULTATION for your legal needs. Include DUI, personal injury, divorce, real estate. Phone 882-3800. Even and weekend appointments available. Becker 600 N. Meacham 3rd floor Schaumburg IL 60195

Typing Service

Need your term paper typed? Call Lavonne # 651-0241

Summer Help

Summer Restaurant help wanted. The Ketchik Road House, Walters, Waitresses, Hostesses, Bartenders, Cooks & Bussers. Write: 352 Ketchik Road, Berington, IL 60810 or call 312-341-5091

SUMMER JOBS!
 We are seeking individuals for various summer positions. For more information, contact us at 312-341-5091.

Seasonal

Employees must be certified for private pool at Sheffield Towne Home complex in Schaumburg. $5/hour. Apply in person at 1000 N. Walnut St.

Summer Seasonal

Small position company seeking full time summer help. 1000 N. Walnut St. Bull M.F. # 551-5118. 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. or call 4251 after 5:00 p.m.

Beauty & Wealth

Success looking for enthusiastic self-staring college students in distribute new line of skin and hair care products. These products are in good demand. They sell themselves with amazing results. Distributors can earn up to $50K in monthly commissions by the end of the first year. For more info call 885-2624

Situation Wanted

Live in Child Care. Fil Drive area. One to five and like housekeeping and cooking. Must have car. Ideal for College Student. Call Harlene # 368-9220 or 455-4321 after 6:00 p.m.

Real Estate

Real Estate
 Call Lane

Real Estate

Real Estate
 Call Lane

Room for Rent/Sitter

Room for rent/sitter from 10:30 p.m. until reasonable rental call Renee after 8:00 p.m. # 882-5116

Red Hot Bargain!

Red Hot Bargain! Truck dealers save boat planes rep. E. Skorpion. Your area agents only. 1-800-667-8080. FAX-1051

Music Accessories

MUSIC ACCESSORIES
 MARTIN STEEL STRING GUITAR. 11 yrs old. Repto listing call 318, excellent cond. Asking 764.500. Est. 6-11828. 24 HRS. Call Mike # 815-455-6500

Government Homes

GOVERNMENT HOMES VAREL CLASSICAL GUITAR from $100.00! Repair! BUY Nylon strings 1/8 yrs old Properties for back TAXES! Asking $160. Call Mike # 318-11828. EXT. 11828-24

Automobiles

1984 TOYOTA MR2, red, excellent condition. Asking $8,500. Asking $120.00 call Laurie # 634-0373/hm or 634-6007/ks

1982 Olds Firenza

1982 Olds Firenza Hatchback. Air cond. rear def. auto. pwr. steering. pwr. brakes. AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $1210. Excellent cond. no rust. 305-541-8998

1977 Buick Wildcat

1977 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735. 1978 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735. 1979 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1978 Buick Wildcat

1978 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

CAN YOU BUY JEEPS. Cars, 4x4s needed in drug raids for under $10,000. Call for facts today. 602-837-3401 Ext. 426

Black Doctor Nissan Pulsar. 5.3 yrs old. 60,000 mi. leather. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-3061

81-84 Honda Roadstar II. Brown/Sunburst. Hardly used. received as a gift. 4 yrs ago. Call Ed weekdays after 2 p.m. and make an offer. 893-5063

1987 FORD MUSTANG. 1.3 Hatchback. Stereo. Cassette. AM/FM. 5.9% loan plus difference. Call 837-7543 evenings

1987 FORD MUSTANG. 4.6L1 stick. Need great buy. Asking $1,550. Call Mark # 259-1868

1982 CHEVY CAMARO. 4 door. 4 cyl. on. Asking $1,000.00. call 724-4429 TODAY!

RED HOT Bargain! Truck dealers save boat planes rep. E. Skorpion. Your area agents only. 1-800-667-8080. FAX-1051

1982 Olds Firenza Hatchback. Air cond. rear def. auto. pwr. steering. pwr. brakes. AM/FM stereo. 69,000 miles. Asking $1210. Excellent cond. no rust. 305-541-8998

1977 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1978 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1979 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1980 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1981 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1982 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1983 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1984 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1985 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1986 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1987 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1988 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1989 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

1990 Buick Wildcat. 4 cyl. V-6. Auto. Air. AC. 100,000 mi. 735.

25% Full James trombone. Asking $180.00. call 437-4327

882 Red Gibson SC w/ case $490 Marshall 50 watt combo $490 Korg P.M.E. 40X modular effects $100 1000 stereo Flanger $10. Hebr. ibenz X bass guitar w/ case $250 Fender Telecaster 50 watt bass amp $100 Hammond Pipe organ needs work best offer. Call Larry # 891-3273

FENDER GEMINI CLASSICAL GUITAR for sale or will trade for standard acoustic guitar. Call Ted # 428-5117

MISCELLANEOUS
 FEMALE MODELS WANTED. Earn $1000. Pose nude or in leotards for college calendar. Mail any two photos to: J.P.P. CALPINEK, Box 4154, Dekalb IL 60115. 1988 calendars available by mail for $4.95

PERSONALS
 DO YOU NEED A HOUSEKEEPER? I can clean your house office or apartment. Job sales excellent. references seven yrs. of experience. For more information please call for # 255-8321

Attention Harper students and alumni. Are you looking for a job? Why not stop in at the Harper Placement Office? We have over 1,000 jobs listed in our computer data base and we may be able to match you up with one of them. For more information call 357-3000, ext. 2720, or stop in at the Placement Office. A-147

Attention all interested bodies. The Harbinger needs you! We need writers, editors and dedicated people. The Harbinger has all of the latest equipment for desk top publishing. Skills that you can take with you when you leave Harper. If interested contact Larry or Pearl at ext. 2461 or 2400. Or just stop by.

BAND PHOTOGRAPHY
 Essential for the future of your band. Call Frank # 885-5555

Volleyball Anyone?
 If you're into the wall entertainment Volleyball on racquetball courts. Clubs or independent wishing to make important team of four 141 plus alternates to play once a week. Can contact Dan Kost. For contact Director # ext. 2863

To My Darling Matt
 I love you bunches and am proud to be the mother of your child. Your car does have the original paint, but the scissor ride was the best. Love Shirley Get Motivated!

 Stop falling behind in classes & wasting endless hours which could be used more efficiently. To attend one of my seminars call Ray & also ask about our weekend excursions to Great American children welcome

Warm bodies wanted
 Their sponsor, coach or rag swimmers in their efforts to make Harper College swimming pool accessible to disabled individuals. Monies raised will be matched by the Educational Foundation. We are approx $500 away from our goal. You can sponsor swimmers from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Thursday, May 5, A Bide. 2nd floor at the Swim-A-Ton. Friday, May 6, 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in M Bldg.

NEED CASH FOR COLLEGE??

$145 MILLION IN FINANCIAL AID WITH UNCI AID M'D LAST YEAR. WE'VE FOUND THE FUNDS YOU NEED

JM EDUCATIONAL SERVICES
 1140 BOX 217
 THUNDERBOLT HEIGHTS, IL 60070
 (512) 705-8527

WRITE FOR FREE INFORMATION

NAME _____ STATE ZIP _____
 ADDRESS _____
 PHONE NUMBER _____

(Photo By Frank Schwartz)

New Sculpture on Campus

Dalton Maroney, teacher and artist from the University of Texas, unveiled his latest work at Harper last week. Maroney came to Harper through an ongoing program which enables students to work with visiting artists from across the country. The untitled work, assembled on canvas, is displayed in the executive offices on the third floor of building A.

Student Art Show

Examples of student work, displayed at the annual Harper Student Art Exhibit, running May 2-20, in the second floor of buildings C and P. (Photo By John Stearns)

Spring Concert

(Photo By Frank Schwartz)

The Harper Festival Chorus performed last Sunday in M-hdg. The chorus which was conducted by Anthony V. Mostardo, consisted of more than 100 singers, professional soloists, and orchestra.

SUMMER JOBS AVAILABLE ALL OFFICE SKILLS NEEDED

Work close to home
earn top pay and bonuses
Call today

359-6110

Blair Temporaries

800 E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, IL 60067

Complete your 4-year degree at BARAT COLLEGE

coeducational • liberal arts • private

resident and commuter students

- 21 majors
- Day and evening classes
- Summer session
- Career planning
- Individual academic advising
- Adult re-entry services
- Daytime child care
- Convenient suburban location

Campus Preview

9:00 a.m., Saturday, June 18

Contact Barat College Admissions

700 E. Westleigh Road, Lake Forest, IL 60045
(312) 231-3000 On Saturdays (312) 296-4260

An Early Look at the NFL

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

You may be saying to yourself "What? A football article? The Cubs have not been eliminated from play off contention yet."

True, it's not August 1, but the recent NFL Draft inspired Kevin Goldstein, Byron Blanchard and I to make some early pre-season predictions. The three of us made five predictions each, some serious some not. You can figure it out.

Goldstein's Predictions

1. Bear defensive end and former LSU standout Wendal Davis makes Bears Fans forget Ron Morris ever existed and within three years takes the number one receiver position away from Willie Gault.
2. Ron Rivera does just fine.
3. The Los Angeles Raiders number one draft pick Tim Brown wins the Rookie of the Year Award and leads the league in punt returns.
4. Steve Young starts more games at quarterback for San Francisco than Joe Montana. The Sanka Coffee Boy gets hurt, traded or both.
5. The Cleveland Browns finally win the AFC

Championship Game

Blanchard's Predictions

1. William Perry leads the NFL in scoring. His younger, but not so little brother Michael Perry becomes the first 260-pound flanker to catch a 50-yard pass. Michael also subs at QB.
2. The Bears end up 0-10. Coach Mike Ditka is slain by an angry fan using a pellet gun.
3. Jim McMahon is replaced by Jim Harbaugh. Harbaugh leads the league in punting.
4. The Minnesota Vikings win the NFC Central.
5. The 49ers go to in the Super Bowl, but lose 46-10 to the Indianapolis Colts.

Bordon's Predictions

1. Eric Dickerson rushes for 2,300 yards in a break his own single-season rushing record.
 2. The Baltimore Colts, I mean Indianapolis, surprise the NFL and the world by winning Super Bowl XXIII, unlike Byron I am serious.
- Special Note: One of the big reasons I took the position of Sports Editor was to make sure someone picked the Colts to win it. You see, I've been a Colts fan for many years, even before the glory days of Bert Jones, probably since birth.

3. Kenny 'the Snake' Stabler comes out of retirement to QB the Raiders. Unfortunately his arm is rusty, but not as corroded as that of the current Raider horns. Seeing that the Snake can still scramble L.A. switches to the wideback. Bo Jackson starts at up-back.

Marcus Allen plays right half and Brown plays left half.

4. While announcing a CBS game Terry Bradshaw decides that if Stabler can do it, so can he. Bradshaw calls former teammate Lynn Swan, who is covering a Glocksporters game for ABC, and asks if Swan wants to give the NFL another try. Bradshaw and Swan show up at the Steelers' camp the following day.

5. Herchel Walker fills in for the injured Danny Ntonan at nose guard. Walker proclaims "I can do anything. I just love competition." In his first game, the former sprinter turned ballerina collects three sacks.

(Photo By Frank Schwartz)

Joe Drewke returns the ball with a powerful backhand in a recent meet against Oakton Community College. Harper beat Oakton 6-3 last Thursday at the teams. The Hawks also defeated Triton, 9-0, on Monday. Next up for the tennis team is the Region IV Tournament. The tourney is being held at Rockford and will begin at 8:30 am Friday and continue thru Saturday.

Baltimore Orioles Manager Frank Robinson

WORK WHEN YOU WANT TO WORK™

GENERAL AND AUTOMATED OFFICE LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE...TODAY!

CALL 980-8900

uniforce
temporary services
NO FEES EOE M/F/H/V

Ride the wave at Sweat Works!

Become an ARTWAVER

Be a leader in a heap of paint and you can create your very own designer sweats of fun. Choose from 20 vibrant colors of exciting brand name American made sweatshirts and tees. Add the paint. Then watch as the colors slip into a knockout effect on our exclusive ARTWAVER machine. What are you waiting for? Become an ARTWAVER today!

Fashion Shorts $4.99
Brand Name Surti Wear $7.99

Stone Washed Tees $7.99
2 for $15

Brand Name Adult Crew Neck Sweat Shirts $6.99 or 3 for $18.00
(one does not include ARTWAVER)

SPECIAL OFFER
Buy 2 Artwaves and get the 3rd FREE!

Ridge Plaza Shopping Center
Arlington Heights
392-2124

Crossroads Shopping Center
Highland Park
531-9896

Springbrook Shopping Center
Bloomington
893-3340

TM Mandy Off Price Center
Downers Grove
620-1666

Track & Field: Region IV- State Meet Approaches

Women to defend titles

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The Harper track and field team is gearing up for the Region IV- State track meet, which will be held this Friday and Saturday at the College of DuPage.

The women's team will be attempting to defend both its Region IV and State titles. Coach Renee Zellner is optimistic. "I think we are going to do great."

Zellner was named Region IV Coach of the Year in both '86 and '87 and has a solid chance to win the award this year.

Harper track superstar Vicki Lopez added, "Every athlete will be trying their hardest. I think some school records and personal bests will be broken."

Lopez, who has already qualified for Nationals at 800 meters, has a good chance to qualify in both the long jump and the 400m dash.

She needs to jump 18 feet to get to Nationals, her best this season is 17'10". Lopez is also, less than a second away from going to Nationals at 400m.

Lopez will be competing even though she broke her arm during a fall at practice last week. Janice Wood, who competes in the heptathlon, is another potential qualifier.

Harper competed at the Elmhart Relays on Saturday, April 30. The women's team placed eighth among eighteen. Results were as follows:

Women's Track

* School Record
(PR) Personal Record
(2) Second place finish
(3) Third place finish

Lopez, long jump: 16'10" (2); Irene Reuchnuth, 1500m run: 5:16.2 (PR); Madeline Olson, discus: 110'; javelin: 94'11"; Anne Thayer, 100m dash: 12.7 (PR); Karri Wittscape, javelin: 84'; Sprint

Paul Laugesen works on the hammer throw during practice at Forest View High School.

(Photo by John McVicker)

Medley- Lopez, Wittscape, Thayer, Laruta, Neubaum: 1:54.66* The women broke the old record, set two weekends ago, of 1:54.66.

Men's Track

Frank Barab, 110m high hurdles: 15.24, 100m dash: 13.15, long jump: 20'11", triple jump: 44'8" (PR), Tony Laramie, 800m: 2:07.06 (PR), Andy Lerman, shot put: 42' x 1/2"

In the preliminary round of the 110m high hurdles Barab broke both the meet and Harper school record with a time of 14.70. Team results for the Harper men were not taken.

The Hawks will start competition at the Region IV- State meet on Friday at noon.

Baseball In Sectionals

By Sandy Salvatore
Sports Writer

The Harper baseball team is preparing both physically and mentally for the sectional tournament being held this Saturday.

Head Coach Dan Kros gave his players some advice about the upcoming journey before the team's last regular season game which was played last Saturday.

"This is our last game before sectionals start, we have to concentrate on winning," said Kros.

"We have to be mentally and physically prepared for next Saturday, because sectionals are always the toughest."

When asked how he thought the team would do, Kros said, "We should do pretty well, being that we are seeded number one, but the sectionals will be a big challenge."

Some scores and highlights of recent games are as follows:

Harper 10, Illinois Valley 0

The rivalry gather did not stop the Hawks from shutting out Illinois Valley. The contest ended after five, due to the 10-run rule. Shortstop Scott Opler had two hits and scored two runs. Dave Perna and Jeff Tombs each scored three times. Pitcher Stanley Oleski, the winner.

allowed only four hits and struck out nine.

The second game was named out.

Harper 8, Moraine Valley 5

The Hawks exploded with seven runs in the first inning. John Burzawa and Tony Vaccaro hit a home run. Opler, Todd Tesin, Mark Koffel, Dean Van Dorn, Rick Crutley and Kurt Krum all scored runs in the first. Al Levine relieved Oleski and went on to get the win.

Harper 6, Moraine Valley 5

The Hawks had been held scoreless thru three. Koffel and Burzawa scored the team's first two runs on Dave Szarzynski's single in the fourth.

In the fifth, Burzawa knocked in outfielder Todd Tesin and Koffel to give the Hawks a 3-0 lead. In addition, both John Knosow and Opler to put Harper up 6-1. Moraine Valley scored two in the seventh before Levine slammed the door. Oleski recorded the victory, well over pickoff up a save.

Harper 16, Morton 1

The Hawks were to play a rare nine inning game, however the game ended after seven due to the 10 run slaughter rule. Dennis Kelsey scored three runs and Burzawa scored twice.

The Hawks play Saturdays against the winner of the game between College of Lake County and McHenry.

Softball Season Ends

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The softball season came to a surprise end when the Harper women were knocked out of the double elimination sectional tournament held at Rockford last Friday.

Harper was defeated by College of Lake County 7-6 in the first game of sectionals. The Hawks beat Rock Valley Community College 8-3 in game two but were ousted by Elgin Community College who won 3-1.

Game One, Lake County 7 Harper 6

The Hawks trailed 7-0 after five innings of play, but refused to give in. Harper did manage to score one in the sixth and added five in the seventh, however it was too little too late.

The Hawks drew 14 bases on balls, unfortunately they had only three hits and left 14 runners on base. Michelle Thrun took the loss.

Game Two Harper 8 Rock Valley 3

The Hawks were behind 3-2 at the completion of four. Harper exploded with six runs in the fifth to take the lead.

Robin Drakley, who plays second base, had two of the team's eight hits and added two RBIs. Shortstop Jennifer Blasky also provided two hits and knocked in one run. Jenny Pylitarz who scored the complete game victory allowed only five hits.

Game Three: Elgin 7 Harper 3

Elgin opened up with four runs in the first and never looked back. The Hawks were held scoreless until they scored two in the fifth. The team's other run came in the bottom of the seventh. Thrunally, who suffered the defeat, gave way to Pylitarz in the fourth inning.

The Harper softball team finished with an overall record of 18-22.

(Photo by Frank Schwartz) Al Levine recorded a victory in game one and struck up a save in the game two of the Hawks' doubleheader sweep against Moraine Valley.

Due to final exams, next week's issue of the Harbinger will be the final issue of the semester.

HARBINGER

VOL. 22 NO. 27

The Harbinger May 12, 1988

Career Placement Center Caught in the Rush

By Alissa Christend
Staff Writer and
Douglas Ray
News Editor

Since its reopening in January 1987 with Russ Mills, director of placement, at the helm the Harper College Career Planning and Placement Center has established the number of students and employers involved.

In July 1987 Mills hired his key personnel, and in October Harper's first computerized system which matches students with potential employers (jobs) began operation.

"We've been real busy," said Mills. Since March the center has been becoming increasingly busy. They now average approximately 35 job listings received by mail phone or in person every day.

At any given time students have more than 1,000 jobs to choose from. And Placement center staff are contacted by about 20 students per day searching for the right job.

Employers furnish job descriptions and minimum job requirements, which are entered into the system. The entries are active 30 days, or until the position is filled. If the employer still has a job opening after the 30 days, they must reestablish a listing with the service.

Since its beginning in October, the placement center has received 4,000 job listings into its computer system.

Students who come into the center specify the area or areas in five areas: job type, educational background, prior work experience, geographical area preference, and either part-time or full time employment.

The students receive letters from the placement center when they are matched with a job. The letter recommends the student for the job, has a job description, and identifies a contact for the job.

All Harper students and alumni are eligible for job planning and placement services. Services include assistance with resume writing, interviewing, advice and job placement.

Mills' original goals for the center were first to provide a service to students where there was none before. He wanted to educate students on how to look for a job.

Second he wanted to establish a computer system to help match students with jobs. Finally, he wanted to "make sure" students are ready for the job.

"I think we made a good start," said Mills. Mills has reached his original goals and has set new goals for the fall of 1988. Most of his goals concern involving evening students, introducing the service to them, students who wish to change job fields, and offering more seminars geared for the evening students.

In addition Mills hopes to offer the placement service through the Northwest Suburban Career Cooperative council in its district. High School students

McGrath Returns For Commencement

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Former president James J. McGrath will return to Harper College as guest speaker at May 22 graduation ceremony.

He will deliver the commencement address and give the traditional introduction of the Vice President of Academics, Affairs Dr. David Williams. Later in the ceremony Thomas Godfrey will be presenting a painting to McGrath. The painting is by Winifred Godfrey titled "Narcissus" and will become part of the Harper College Art Collection.

Graduation, which has been held in the gymnasium of M building since its construction in 1980, will consist of a typical 225 participants although 807 petitions for graduation were filed.

Suzanne Sims, student records supervisor, explained why many students will be unable to attend graduation. She said that many students leave for the college they will attend next fall early to make final arrangements.

The graduation schedule will follow its usual schedule beginning with the professional invocation and the commencement address. Also Dr. Williams' introduction, he, along with Chairperson of the Board of Trustees, Chris Howard, will proceed with the conferring of Degrees.

Following the degree recognition Howard will present the distinguished faculty member award. Three faculty members are nominated for the award and the Board of Trustees must choose one outstanding individual.

Also, Dr. Robin Hoffer, of the Education Foundation, will present the recipient of the award for excellence which will go to Elizabeth LeComau.

LeComau received her BA from Northeastern Illinois University in Clinical Thanatology. A returning student to Harper, she has been active both within the college and in the community.

She is a member of Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society and an active participant in the Student Nursing Organization.

She donates much of her time and care to patients with AIDS or other life threatening illnesses.

After Godfrey presents the painting to McGrath, Student Senate President Bob Bois will announce the class gift. The senate has approved $5,000 for the construction of an observatory which will be dedicated to James J. McGrath.

All music for the ceremony will be performed by the Harper Community/ Palatine Concert Band, which consists of many Harper students.

Student Activities Awards Banquet

Scott Bonham, Harbinger Sports Editor, awards football player Dan Martin the Harbinger Male Athlete of the Year trophy. Kim Frye of the women's basketball team was named female MVP.

Harper ORT program continues with Triton

By Douglas Ray
News Editor

Harper College and Triton College are planning to offer the Operating Room Technician (ORT) education on a cooperative basis beginning fall semester 1988.

ORT students would be admitted to Harper College and upon completion of the program will receive their certificate from Harper College, according to Patricia Bourke, dean of life sciences and human services.

Although ORT career courses will be offered at Triton College, the general educational classes will still be given at Harper.

The clinical experience would be offered through hospitals in the Harper district. For more information contact Pat Bourke at extension 2523 or the admissions office at extension 2206.

INSIDE

One of Harper's own is author of four books Kolzow provides own text for classes

A departing thanks to all those who made this possible.

Reggae band Bude Quest performs at Friday's Ice Cream Social Perfect Record reviewed Comics, The latest B Street and the Weekly Crossword Puzzle.

Harper's women track team wins region and state titles. Tennis advances to nationals.

Page 2

Page 3

Page 4

Page 8

Page 12

Features

The Harbinger May 12, 1988

Page 2

Kolzow Writes On!

Harper Director Publishes Four Books

by Alisa Chinalud
Staff Writer
and
Kris Ostrowski
Features Editor

Twenty-five years ago, Let Kolzow, presently Director of the Learning Assistance Center here at Harper, was a first grade teacher. She realized that teaching students how to read was an essential skill that she found many students lacked. After teaching for five years, Kolzow herself went back to school to investigate the field of reading instruction.

Holding a B.S. in Education from Concordia Teachers College and a M.S. in Education with an emphasis on reading and cognitive psychology from S.T.U., Kolzow discovered that the field of reading instruction deals with thinking and the whole cognitive process. In other words, she says, "reading instruction deals with how to go about really learning."

At Harper, Kolzow developed and has taught RDC (The Fundamentals of Reading), RDC (99-Developmental Reading), and RDC (105-College Reading). Many book salesmen tell Kolzow to consider their own for her classes. Even with all of the books on the market, Kolzow (like many teachers) was unable to find a book which met her teaching needs.

Finally, she says, "The salesmen started to ask me, 'well if we don't have what you want, what if you do want?' And I would always describe it to them and they'd say, 'no, we don't have what you want.' Finally, one of them from Prentice-Hall said he had talked to his editor and concluded other teachers such as myself had similar problems and that writing my own book might be the answer."

"I never had planned to write a book. I wouldn't have thought it was in my capability nor interest to do that. I did go ahead and give them a draft, though. They said it was exactly what they wanted and about eight months later I had a book out.

That first book came out in 1976 and was a solo effort, entitled Lisa Fowler. Kolzow says the goal of that book was to teach students how to problem-solve, rather than just answer multiple-choice questions. Kolzow's book was different than the other reading books on the market because most of the others had the reader read a passage and answer ten questions to see if comprehension had set in. Her goal was to teach comprehension.

Kolzow adds, "Lisa Fowler was a supplementary book for adults, it was not designed to utilize a full semester's course work."

Kolzow's second book, was designed to be a complete textbook, with a full semester's worth of work in it for students with weak reading skills. About half-way through the second book, she decided she needed a collaborator, but what she called mental support and an extra change of ideas.

Kolzow's collaborator was Jane Lehmann, reading instructor and Director of the Learning Skills Center at Egan Community College. Lehmann had an intermittent major in the same direction, with teaching reading to adults that she did.

About two thousand students were polled for their opinions on Kolzow and Lehmann's second and third books. Kolzow says the poll asked students such questions as, "What kinds of things give you trouble when you read?" "What keeps you from being a better reader?" "What kinds of things do you feel you need to have happen when you read?" and "What are you good at doing?" Overall, students responded positively to both.

For a year and a half, Kolzow and Lehmann met every Friday and Saturday to discuss their ideas and ended up educating each other. Then the two would go back and research a particular idea. After they tried an idea out, they revised it and returned to it later.

"We also exchanged computer disks (for the Apple Computer). I would type onto the disk and send it to Egan via Kolzow expects awards for fourth book about later this year.

Jane's husband, who teaches part-time here at Harper. We would edit what each other had typed into the disk.

Sigh. "Think of all of the 1980's and '90's."

The majority of the work on the second book, College Reading, Strategies for Success, was done during the summer months, while the authors simultaneously taught Kolzow and Lehmann often put in twelve-hour days to finish the book.

In 1986, the women's journal Encounter, published by Reading, was published. It was designed for students who know how to read but whose comprehension and other skills are extremely weak. It's more for students who probably don't test higher than the average seventh or eighth grader would test," says Kolzow.

Kolzow and Lehmann's fourth book, a revision of their second book, will be out later this year.

Does Kolzow see any major changing trends in reading?

"In the seventies speed-reading was popular as a theme in reading books. Today the whole field of reading has moved tremendously away from speed-reading," Kolzow notes.

Kolzow is no longer teaching, but she is still writing. "It's quite an accomplishment to see one's own book come out, it's exciting. I was at the University of Berkeley last spring and walked into the bookstore and saw my book on the shelf - that was quite an experience," said Kolzow.

"Writing is hard work... a good writer writes and rewrites and rewrites. I'd say five to ten rewrites per section are not uncommon," Kolzow adds.

What is Kolzow's plan now?

"My next goal is to get into computer-designed instruction," she says. "There is a huge market for computer-assisted instruction but very little done in reading that has any value at all," she concludes.

Well, with several books to her credit already, Kolzow is well on her way.

WOULD YOU WANT TO WORK™

GENERAL AND AUTOMATED OFFICE LIGHT INDUSTRIAL

TEMPORARY JOBS AVAILABLE TODAY!

CALL 980-8900

uniforce
TEMPORARY SERVICES

NO FEES • 800 M-F 9-5

Ride the wave at Sweat Works!

Become an ARTWAVER

All it takes is a touch of paint and you can create your very own designer sweat suits or less. Choose from 20 fashion colors of vibrantly-hued brand name American made sweatshirts and tees. Add the paint, then watch as the colors snap into a knockout effect as the exclusive ARTWAVER machine. What are you waiting for? Become an ARTWAVER today!

Fashion Shorts	Brand Name Surf Wear
$4.99	$7.99
Stone Washed Tees	Brand Name Adult Crew Neck Sweat Shirts
$7.99	$6.99 or less
2 for $15	3 for $18.00

Price may vary. ©1988 ARTWAVER. All rights reserved. See us at the Harbinger Expo Booth #101-102.

SPECIAL OFFER
Buy 2 Artwaves and get the 3rd FREE!

Offer good only on the purchase of 2 Artwaves. See us at the Harbinger Expo Booth #101-102.

Ridge Plaza Shopping Center Aurora Heights 392-2124	Crossroads Shopping Center Highland Park 831-9696	Springbrook Shopping Center Bloomington 893-3340	TM Mundy Off Price Center Downers Grove 820-1668
------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------

Editorial

The Harbinger May 12, 1988

Page 3

The thank-yous: a time for settling up.

The time has come, the walrus said, to talk of many things but mostly to hand out some well-deserved thank-yous to some pretty terrific people who not only made my job easier, but in some cases even possible.

First, of course, to the staff and our advisor, Jon (Man) Dong Ray, the Editor-in-Chief designate for next year. He has been a godsend (albeit a somewhat frenetic one). To call Dong instrumental in the daily operation of the paper is to call the Titanic a boat: accurate, but woefully understated. Wanda (Pearl) Henderson has been a tower of strength as both Managing Editor and Business Manager. And believe me, she's needed it with this bunch. Thanks Pearl.

And of course to my other editors: Tanya Brown and Robin Davis, whose sense of humor has kept things in perspective; Scott Burdon and Sam Ostrowski, whose quiet and gentle manner has been a welcome change from our normal staffer. And in Kevin Goldstein and Alex (Chin)and just few being around when needed.

And of course, there's the columnists. A real debt of gratitude is also owed to the Abbot and Costello of journalism, Peter Sweeney and Liz Brossner. Love 'em or hate 'em, people read 'em every week. What more could you ask in a weekly newspaper?

But there's two segments of the school community that sometimes get overlooked when the awards for extracurricular work get handed out.

In the teachers that have understood absences and tardies, as well as the occasional vacant stares in class when I was working on the next week's editorial. In my case (these being my thank-yous), Mary Jo Willis, John Machione, Karen Keres, and LeRoy Mottia deserve Purple Hearts for putting up with me above and beyond the call of duty.

And as far as earning a living goes, there's a special group of people who deserve a much more descriptive definition of gratitude than I could possibly give, but in lieu of that, I'll just thank them. As many students here will attest, it's sometimes impossible to make it by on your good looks and a volunteer job alone (even together if you look like me). I've worked two part-time jobs during my tenure here, and stopped them both.

Kevin Geiger, the Theatre Box Office Manager, gave me the hours I needed to work around my Harbinger schedule. Thanks Kevin.

And I currently work for a group of people whose collective attitude makes W. Clement Stone look like Ebenezer Scrooge. Not only are the people in the Testing Center cheerful, professional, and helpful, they're nice people, too. Linda Alberta, Vicki Atkinson, Diana Maykut, Sue Puchak, and Tom Testman have not only made my job easier, as at the Testing Center in the three months I've been there, but they're also good friends. Thanks, it helps a lot.

A lot of people have said a lot of nice things to us this year at the Harbinger. We've certainly had our problems, but I'm proud of the way we've handled most of them. We've met most of our goals, including the big one of putting out a better paper.

And finally, the big thank you to you, the reader. Be it ever so cliché, without the reader there is no paper. Good luck, grads, and have a great summer.

Larry Paulin
Editor-in-Chief

Can thinking feel good?

By Dennis Darby
Catholic Campus Minister

An article I read recently extols the virtues of an education that is sought after, not how ever for the degree of income it will produce. Liberal Arts is the name they give to this type of preparation for I suppose actually that's what it's meant to be. A preparation for life. Unfortunately this is not what the culture around us tells us it values too much.

According to what I think (and I could be wrong) thinking about the purpose and meaning of life, reflecting on these things, is something that school should show us how to do.

Sure people need to make a living. And the careers in finance, engineering and computer fields often generate the high salaries.

But still, there's something about working with the age old mysteries of life. They relate to but also go beyond the problems with single answer answers, which give a student in liberal arts something meaningful to meditate on as well as try to solve one's and for all. Science at the pragmatic level doesn't seem to offer that.

Independent research (not corporate) (funded) may offer some better chances for looking into pure discovery, simply for the joy of it.

All this is not to say I don't have a scientific bent. On the contrary, my mom was a nurse and dad was a metallurgist. However science preoccupied me all throughout high school and I fixate has changed as I've grown older.

As an undergraduate I didn't get that interested in the humanities. But my thinking began to change with a little more social involvement. I saw some clear scientific issues with moral overtones, as I did some reading on the environment and nuclear issues.

Also my church involvement brought me additional opportunities to see ways I could work with the less fortunate. And of course going through school as the Viet Nam war was concluding was difficult because I read too class mags obscures in the evening paper. And there but for the grace of God go I.

I can't pretend to be an authority on life. Few persons are so well evenly balanced in all facets of development. Perhaps the really wise are the elderly or others who have encountered repeated setbacks.

But I am starting to enjoy life more because I'm seeing the value in slowing down. And putting some thought behind why I do what I do. And discerning whether they are my expectations or others, that give life a direction before me.

THE MIDEAST PEACE PROCESS

A NEW VERSION OF AN OLD CHILDHOOD GAME

PRESTIGIOUS
ROCK BREAKS SCISSORS
SCISSORS CUT PAPER
PAPER CUTS ROCK
PAPER COVERS ROCK

YOU CAN PLAY FOREVER NOBODY WINS.

Harbinger

William James Harper College
1200 W. Algonquin Rd.
Palatine, IL 60067-7100
3077 Area

Editor in Chief	Larry Paulin
Managing Editor	Pearl Henderson
Business Manager	Pearl Henderson
News Editor	Dianna Ray
Entertainment Editor	Robert Davis
Finance Editor	Sam Ostrowski
Sports Editor	Kevin Goldstein
Photo Editor	Barbara Brown
Layout	Dianna Ray
Graphics	Sam Ostrowski
Computer Consultant	Richard L. Costanzo
Advisor	Jon (Man) Dong

The HARBINGER is the student publication for the Harper's college campus community, published weekly (except during holidays) and sent to those of the college, its adjacent area, faculty or student body. Advertising rates and copy deadline is noon Thursday and copy is subject to editing. All letters to the editor must be signed, names published on request. For further information call 312-384-8840, ext 2460 or 2461.

DEPARTURES

LEAVING FROM	STATUS
MEESSE JUSTICE	DELAYED
NORIEGA PANAMA	DELAYED
ISRAEL	DELAYED
RUSSIA	DELAYED
NUKES	DELAYED

WORLD'S DELAYED

Keep this film on "Permanent Record"

by Sean Colbert
Staff Writer

Another teen suicide film. An honest portrayal of the confusion, frustration and anguish suffered by remaining friends and relatives. Hey! Want the subject of a recent TV movie starring Molly Ringwald? Or, was that Chad Lowe? Charlie Sheen perhaps? (Answer: d'All of the above.)

Another teen suicide film. Great.

That's about where my head was at when I started watching "Permanent Record."

Here we have David played by Alan Boyce, possessed with good looks and promise. He's the leader of a rock band on the brink of a recording deal. He's just been accepted by the college of his dreams (no doubt aided by his 4.0 grade point average).

He's surrounded by a zodiac of admiring friends and the prettiest girl in the film has her eye on him. What could possibly be wrong?

Despite a few complaints about having too much going on at once (who doesn't?) and not getting enough sleep (who doesn't?), David is pretty much man in the subject of his problems.

But then, who can he talk to? Parents are always too apathetic in these movies to catch on, and as for his friends, they are too busy drinking, doing and listening to loud music and having casual sex to notice something is bugging their pal.

In fact, David's best friend, Chris (Kenau Reeves) seems to be little more than a barstool, a wardrobe and a cool sweater.

This all comes to a head when David leaves a party and walks over to a secluded cliff overlooking the ocean from where he never returns.

Suddenly the community is in an uproar. The kids begin to realize that all their partying isn't as effective as they thought it was. "Too good-to-be-true" he's got everything going for him." David has been taken away by a terrible accident.

The big shocker comes a few days later. Chris receives a note in the mail from his former buddy which indicates that there was no accident at all.

This is where the movie really begins and where I stop relaying the plot. It plays much better on the screen than it does on paper.

The miraculous change is due largely in part to Kenau Reeves' fantastic performance. After his friend's death, Chris sheds all his affections and becomes a caring individual as well as a very likable character.

This is the second triumph in a row for Reeves, who was equally compelling as Matt, the stoner with a conscience in last summer's "River's Edge." Now would be a good time to list Reeves by his skill at a different role.

On almost equal par is Richard Bradford, last seen as the perennation of stuffed-shirt evil in "The Milagro Beanfield War." He is equally convincing here as the sympathetic, high school principal. Surely the skill he displayed between the two highly opposite roles should make him eligible for an Oscar nomination this year.

There are in fact many good supporting performances from the ensemble cast which includes Barry Corbin, Michelle Meyrink, Jennifer Rubin and Kathy Baker, who was fantastic last year as a prostitute in "Street Smart." In this film, Baker merely has seconds as David's mother, but not a one of them is wasted.

It can be argued that there are some flaws (David's character is poorly developed) but any movie that can bring me to the brink of tears, as this one did, is a rare gem indeed. Bravo to director Marcus Siler.

One last bit of advice. See this movie before it gets away!

Ice Cream Social

(Photo By John Stanton)

The day was beautiful and the sun was out in full force to welcome students, faculty and other observers to the Program Board's 1988 Ice Cream Social. Some came for the ice cream, others came to hear the band featured at the event, "Rude Guys."

Much of the crowd consisted of kids from area high schools and from here at Harper, clad in black suits with slim trousers and thin black ties, they danced to the reggae beat directly in front of the stage.

As for the not-so-serious attendees, they could be found munching on the 25-cent sandwiches, dressed in summer attire, and enjoying the energetic sounds of "Rude Guys."

The featured band, "Rude Guys" is Chicago's very own premiere ska/reggae band. In approximately three weeks a 4-song EP will be available at area record stores.

*Stores: Turnabout, Prava Records, Record City as well as other alternative rock music stores.

TOP PAY

SUMMER JOBS COLLEGE STUDENTS...

MAKE YOUR SUMMER VACATION REALLY PAY OFF THIS YEAR!

We're Right Temporarily, with what you need and a whole lot more. We're the only temp agency in the field of business-related jobs on full-time basis. We're the only temp agency in the field of business-related jobs on full-time basis.

• GENERAL OFFICE	• TYPISTS
• WORD PROCESSORS	• CRT OPERATORS
• RECEPTIONISTS	• SWITCHBOARD

LOOP 427-3132 MAILING 429-1325
 SOUTH SIDE 383-7100 POLKING MAILING 339-3063
 MAPLEVIEW 354-7878

RIGHT TEMPORARIES

From the Coauthors of POWAQQATSI

Presented by GEORGE REDD

"A STUNNING TOUR-DE-FORCE... a visual ballet... a POWERFUL emotional experience."

—David Greig, THEATRE WORLD

"Powerful... visually... ELECTRIFYING music, stunning cinematography..."

—The Film Community MAGAZINE

The CANNON GROUP INC. Presents a COLAN GLOBUS Production
 A FRANCIS FORD COPPOLA and GEORGE LLEWIS Presentation

POWAQQATSI

Life in Transformation

OPENS MAY 13, 1988 AT THE BIOGRAPH

ATTENTION!

FINAL EXAM SCHEDULE

The Harper College Bookstore will hold its book buy back May 16 to May 21. Monday thru Thursday the hours will be 8 a.m. to 7 p.m.; from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Friday; and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Students may resell their books in the A Building Lounge.

Consultant to speak at Harper

Man Romano, President of Innovative Financial Concepts will be speaking on pre-retirement for educators, in response to the new tax code. His seminar will cover:

- The Changing Tax code & recent changes in the tax code affect TSA
- How to get a write off on CDs or Money Market Funds
- When and when not to take a lump sum distribution on your TSA
- Inflation, the predator of the return
- Also to be discussed, is a new TSA product which will allow you to borrow from your TSA at 0% net interest with instant liquidity.

Romano, as an Independent Financial Consultant, is affiliated with and has access to the resources of another of financial service organizations. He is a Financial Consultant who specializes in identifying those investment products and investment strategies that have evolved in response to the continual revision in our tax code and changing economy.

Romano has participated in seminars on campuses throughout the midwest. Among his experiences are pre-retirement planning seminars for the employees of Allstate Insurance Company and various college faculties. He has also participated in a variety of seminars given for Caldwell Banker and other corporations and institutions.

For more information please call 764-0131

SUMMER JOBS AVAILABLE. ALL OFFICE SKILLS NEEDED

Work close to home
earn top pay and bonuses
Call today
359-6110

Blair Temporaries

800 E. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, IL 60067

DAY SCHOOL

Final Exam Period	Monday May 16	Tuesday May 17	Wednesday May 18	Thursday May 19	Friday May 20
8:00-9:45	ALL ENG 101 & 102 Classes	ALL Accounting Classes	ALL Mth 102 Classes	T-R 8:00-9:15	Faculty Grade Processing Time and Specially Arranged Exams
9:55-11:40	M-W-F 9:55-11:40	T-R 9:25-10:40	M-W-F 8:00-8:50	T-R 12:15-1:30
11:50-1:35	M-W-F 10:00-10:50	T-R 10:50-12:05	M-W-F 11:00-11:50	Specially Arranged Exams
1:45-3:30	M-W-F 10:00-12:50	T-R 1:40-2:55	M-W 1:00-2:15	Specially Arranged Exams
3:40-5:25	M-W 3:45-5:00	T-R 3:05-4:20	M-W-F 2:25-3:45	Specially Arranged Exams

EVENING SCHOOL

1. Classes beginning at 6:55 pm or after will follow the evening class schedule.
2. Monday through Friday evening and Saturday classes will use the week of May 16 for final examinations, to be held during regular class periods.

ALL FINAL GRADES ARE DUE NO LATER THAN NOON MONDAY, MAY 23 IN THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE, A-213

NOTE TO FACULTY

If your class time does not fit into the above final exam schedule, please contact extension 2280 for the appropriate time period.

UPS UNITED PARCEL SERVICE

PART-TIME OPPORTUNITIES

At UPS we recognize the financial pressures associated with college life. Finding a job that fits your school schedule can be difficult. UPS has jobs that meet the college student's needs. Check our advantages:

- Excellent Pay - $8 per hour
- Convenient Hours
- Steady Employment
- Benefits
- Health Benefits
- Paid Vacations

Accepting Applications
On-campus interviewing
10 a.m. to 1 p.m. - Tuesday, May 17
Room A242

Shifts Available Monday - Friday
3:00 - 7:00 AM
5:00 - 9:00 PM
10:00 PM - 2:00 AM

United Parcel Service is an equal opportunity employer
M-F - V/H

The Sculpture of Harper College

It's easy to sit back and take pot shots at the works of art found on campus, so let's

SKIRMISH (1982)
This one is open to interpretation. It reminds me of fellatio, but then, so does a pencil sharpener

UNTITLED (1986)
Untitled? Really? May I try? How about THE RAPE OF NATURE. No interpretation here, folks, this one plays symbolically obscene right across the board.

TOWER HOUSE (1984)
Bet you've walked past this robo-crack a hundred times and never even guessed it was supposed to be art. Well, now you know it's supposed to be art.

THEY'LL NEVER CATCH HIM, SHERIFF. HE'S LIKE A CLOUD (1982)

A case of the title outpacing the piece, all the more pathetic because the title, too, sucks. The best that can be said about it is that it doesn't block too much of the view. The worst that can be said about it is that it says for itself. It is on four to Harper - get it?

LOW WATER BRIDGE 6 (1983)

An evolutionary process that was at least kind enough to spare us 1,2,3,4 and 5. What does this sculpture say to you? Does it unburden your soul and give wing to your heart? Probably not. It's ugly, right? Am I right? Tell me I'm not right. Tell me it's not ugly. I'm right. I know I am. It's ugly, isn't it? Yes, I'm sure of it.

F SHELVE

SINCE THE ADMISSION OF PROMISING SPARKETTE BY POPPY SPARK STAR, POLITICAL FIGURES HAVE COME OUT TO ADMIRE THEIR MOST CRIMES

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE JIM LARGENT ADMITTED HONORING MEMORIALS WITH DANIEL ORTEGA

by JON CALDARA

PAT ROBERTSON SAID HE USED TO BE A RICH BOY IN COLLEGE

AND BOB DOLE ADMITTED DRIVING COACHES BUSBY AT A WASHINGTON PARTY

F SHELVE

HEY BOB, I'VE BEEN STEALING THE STAR FROM YOU

SO WHAT'S YOUR SIGN? A NO THEFT SIGN

by JON CALDARA

YOU WANT TO SEE MY SIGN?

WELL, MY SIGN SAYS "I'VE BEEN STEALING THE STAR FROM YOU" GET SOME LIKE!

The Weekly Crossword Puzzle

ACROSS

- 1 Reports
- 5 Showman
- 9 Fattered cloth
- 12 Kim
- 13 Unusual
- 14 Lumber pile
- 15 Not abundant
- 17 Computer abbr.
- 18 Pome
- 19 Green letter
- 21 Bouquet
- 23 Resh
- 27 Emet
- 28 Covered with ivy
- 29 Venetian
- 31 Condemned
- 34 Symbol for helium
- 35 Siren
- 37 Waiver

DOWN

- 2 Moccasin
- 3 King of Judah
- 4 Wife
- 6 Meet in a room
- 7 Distress sign

ACROSS

- 38 Three-foot snail
- 40 Quilt
- 42 Grogginess
- 44 Encounters
- 45 Lark
- 46 Junction
- 48 Scatter
- 50 Railroad station
- 53 Beer ingredient
- 54 Guido's high note
- 55 Concerning
- 57 Insect
- 61 Vegetable
- 62 Spoken
- 64 Shore bird
- 65 Rodent
- 66 Condemner
- 67 Shear

DOWN

- 6 Sun god
- 7 Lime
- 8 Vegetable
- 9 Cleared
- 10 Assistant
- 11 Excluded valley
- 18 More frog
- 20 Slip
- 22 Slice in general
- 23 Ceremony
- 24 Siren
- 25 Roman 10's
- 26 City
- 30 Piece of worship
- 32 Drive
- 33 Scepter
- 36 Mary
- 38 Shear
- 41 Lease
- 43 Onlooker
- 45 Reformed deity
- 47 Not an
- 49 Vegetable
- 50 Lined one
- 51 Lamb's pen name
- 52 Job
- 56 Period of time
- 58 Major rice
- 59 Fatherhood
- 60 Shade time
- 63 Porcupine

© 1988 HARPER & ROW

LSAT GMAT

barbri

THE HIGHEST SCORE IMPROVEMENTS IN THE NATION

#1

Call for a free information packet 800-541-4622 or 1-800-541-4622

(313) 855-1888

Classes offered at Marjorie College

Congratulations

Class of 88

DRIVERS NEEDED FOR SUMMER HELP

PART-TIME FULL-TIME ANY-TIME

Starting right away, package food delivery

Scheduled around your availability

Morning hours or Weekends

We work around your hours

CALL NOW @ 766-3336

Ask for Joe

LEE & EDDIE'S CATERING

261 Richert

WOOD DALE

(Photo By John Saxton)

Steve Sweigert, director of the Harper College Steel Drum Band.

(Photo By John Saxton)

The band in action.

(Photo by Ted Gradowski)

Chief King enjoys some ice cream and Rude Guest.

(Photo by Ted Gradowski)

Mike Neyman ponders the success of his Ice Cream Social.

(Photo By John Saxton)

Meds thank to Rude Guest.

Searching? Call us 1st!

- *GENERAL OFFICE
- *DATA ENTRY
- *SECRETARIAL
- *ACCOUNTING
- *RECEPTIONIST
- *ETC.

FULL-TIME JOB OPENINGS TODAY
CALL US AT 439-0505

Free service to applicants.
Full company p/benefits.
Several raises each year.

1st Choice Co.

The
Northwest Suburbs
Premier Video
Super Store
991-5950

- FREE MEMBERSHIP
- 8000 TAPES
- 2 DAY RENTAL

Hollywood
VIDEOS

Humboldt in the 11600 W. Ashland
Haltom Lakes
991-5450

- OPEN 7 DAYS
10 AM - 10 PM
- FRIENDLY SERVICE

• NEW RELEASES •
BY COLUMBIA TRISTAR

- PLAZON
- Dirty Dancing

- La Bamba
- Dragonet
- Robo Cop

- Roxanne
- Predator

Sports

Indy Trials Start Saturday

By Rob "Indy" Savage
Racing Specialist
 (Speedway, IN) - The Time Trials for the 72nd Indianapolis 500, held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, are scheduled to begin on Saturday at 11:00 a.m.

Mario Andretti will be out to capture his second consecutive pole position for the May 29th classic. If successful, he will have become the first to accomplish the feat since Tom Senva did it in 1977 and '78.

Andretti will be driving a Lola powered by a Chevrolet V-8 racing engine. If the 1969 "500" champion is going in with the pole, he is going to have to beat out some tough competition. Andretti's main competition will be out of the Roger Penske stables.

Penske, who has been the winning car owner six of the last seven and three of the last four years, will be holding three PC-17 cars in this year's race. The power plants supplying the engines will also be Chevrolet.

Defending "500" champion Al Unser, '85 champ Danny Sullivan and '84 winner Rick Mears will drive for the Penske team.

Mears, who also won Indy in 1979, holds the track record for one and four lap qualifying averages with speeds of 217.518 and 216.828 mph, respectively. If Mears has the fastest four-lap average speed this Saturday, he will capture his fourth Indy pole position.

Bobby Rahal is another driver who is expected to put up a strong fight for the pole. Rahal won the "500" in 1986.

second. He will take the wheel of a Lola/Cosworth for the Vince Granado/racing team. Michael Andretti, the oldest son of Mario, will be shooting for a solid starting position. Andretti will drive a March Wheeling, IL, based Firefly team in '83, will be the driver. Fabi is back full-time after driving Formula One for four seasons.

Al Unser Jr., fresh off a victory at Long Beach last

Two veterans worthy of note are three-time winner, Johnny Rutherford and two-time champ, Gordon Johncock. Others out to prove they can run at Indy include Derek Daly, Kevin Cogan, Raul Boesel, Scott Brayton and Howdy Holmes.

A.J. Foyt, another experienced Indy racer, is ready to qualify for his 73rd Indianapolis 500. Foyt, who was rookie in '58, has won the "500" four times. He will be driving a Lola/Cosworth.

Two notable rookies out to qualify are John Andretti (nephew of Mario), and Billy Vukobich III (grandson of the '53 and '54 Indy champ Billy Vukobich Sr.). The elder Vukobich had been holding the lead in '55 up until he was killed in a car wreck.

John Jones of Canada is another rookie with his potential at Indy. He and Vukobich will be driving March 88C/Cosworths. Andretti will take the wheel of a Lola/Cosworth.

While it is hard to predict who will qualify fastest for the 72nd running of the Indianapolis 500, it is easy to say there is going to be plenty of competition and excitement.

Previous Ten Indianapolis 500 Winners

Year	Driver	Car Owner
1987	Al Unser Sr.	Roger Penske
1986	Bobby Rahal	Jim Trueman
1985	Danny Sullivan	Roger Penske
1984	Rick Mears	Roger Penske
1983	Tom Senva	George Bignotti
1982	Gordon Johncock	Pat Patrick
1981	Bobby Unser	Roger Penske
1980	Johnny Rutherford	Jim Hall
1979	Rick Mears	Roger Penske
1978	Al Unser Sr.	Jim Hall

and qualified second fastest last year. He will be driving a Lola, powered by a Judd (Honda) engine.

The sentimental favorite this year is Roberto Guerrero. Guerrero was involved in a bad accident while testing at Indianapolis last September. He spent 17 days in a coma at an Indianapolis hospital.

Since awakening, he has made a remarkable recovery. In his first race back (Phoenix, last month), Guerrero finished a solid 88C, powered by a Cosworth engine. He hopes to cash in on this chassis/engine combination, which has won the past five Indy races.

However, unlike previous years, other power plants and chassis builders are ready to knock off March and Cosworth.

Porsche Koenig is ready to make its long-awaited debut at the Brickyard. Porsche is using its own engine to power a March 88C. Tom Fabi, who captured the pole for the month, will be attempting to qualify his March 88C with a Chevrolet engine.

Another driver using the same chassis/engine combination is Emerson Fittipaldi. Both racers will be out to prove they can be competitive at Speedway.

S. O. S.

~~Days Out 500~~

Sox Onto St. Petersburg

1988 Softball Statistics

Batting

Name	AB	R	H	2B	3B	HR	RBI	SB	AVG
Julie Rowe	98	25	34	2	2	0	18	25 [†]	.366
Lynn Hoyer	89	24	20	4	0	0	16	6	.225
Kris Foster	95	27	29	2	2	0	28	3	.305
Jennifer Blasky	96	21	25	2	1	2	24	6	.260
Robin Drackley	70	15	20	0	0	0	16	3	.286
Jenny Baumstark	84	18	17	1	0	0	11	3	.244
Connie Angel	78	23	20	0	0	0	26	2	.202
Linda Hubers	84	18	17	1	0	0	11	6	.224
Gail Kummerow	49	12	11	2	0	0	14	3	.214
Jenny Pyltaz	56	11	12	0	0	0	8	3	.216
Michele Theriault	37	2	8	0	0	0	1	1	.156
Totals	779	182 [†]	200 [†]	13	5	2	173	61 [†]	.257

Pitching

Name	W	L	IP	H	R	ER	SO	BB	CG	ERA
Pyltaz	8	6	91	2/3	94	59	43	20	21	13	3.27
Theriault	10 [†]	6	98	1/3	124	77	60	32	63	12	4.27
Totals	18 [†]	12	190	218	136	103	52	84	25	3.79

† Denotes New School Record

We have a WORLD of Opportunities!

...and our world is expanding.

If you're looking for an exciting retail opportunity, take a look at Office World — a dynamic national retailer in the discount office supply market.

We're looking for cashiers, receivers, stock clerks and sales staff.

As a full- or part-time employee, you'll be able to help choose your work schedule. In addition to a competitive salary based on experience, you'll be eligible for immediate in-store discounts and scheduled salary reviews in your first year. If you work more than twenty hours a week, you'll be eligible for liberal vacation, holiday and sick time benefits. Full-time employees are also eligible for a comprehensive benefits package which includes life, medical, hospitalization and dental insurance.

To apply for these excellent opportunities apply in person at our store:

1414 N. Roselle Road
 Schaumburg, Illinois 60196
 (one block north of Golf Road)

OFFICE WORLD

Join a World-Class Organization

Bats Keep Team Alive

Hawks score 41- give up 40

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor and Sandy Nativato
Sports Writer

Despite some shaky pitching, the Harper Baseball Team (33-7 overall, 2-1 in Sectional play), continues to win. The Hawks' pitching staff gave up 40 runs, luckily the Harper bats were able to keep the team alive, as the scored 41 in the first three games of Sectionals.

The Hawks beat College of Lake County on their first game of Sectionals, but at Oakton Community in game two and knocked off Lake County in game three. Results from the Sectional Tournament are as follows:

Game One

Harper 15

Lake County 10
John Knauss, who is a known speedster, proved he can hit with power. Knauss smacked a solo-homer to lead off the top of the sixth.

Catcher Paul O'Callaghan also hit a home run and Rightfielder Todd Tena hit three hits. Tony Vaca (7-1) got the victory.

Game Two

Oakton 22

Harper 10

Harper had been held scoreless until the fourth, when outfielder Rick Coakley singled in two runs. The Hawks added eight in the fifth, but it was not enough. Mark Kuffel had a double and two RBIs. Tena and third baseman Dennis Kellner had two RBIs. Bill O'Grady suffered the loss.

Harper outfielders Rick Coakley (left) and John Knauss. Coakley had two RBIs against Oakton. Knauss hit two home runs, one in each game against Lake County.

Game Three

Harper 16

Lake County 8

Knauss, who started in left ripped another round-tripper, added double and knocked in three runs. Kellner had three hits and five RBIs and outfielder Bill Stoyilowski added three RBIs. Dave Szarzynski got the win.

Photo by Laura Bowers

Sports Update

Attention! Baseball Update: Men Advance to Regional

The Hawks advanced to the Kankakee Regional with a double header win over Oakton on Tuesday. The Hawks will start on Saturday. Other teams in the tourney include Team Thornton and Kankakee.

Tennis Advances to Nationals Takes Second at Region Meet

The Harper Tennis Team advanced to Nationals as the finished second in the Region IV Tournament at Rockford, held last Friday and Saturday. Number one singles player Jon Drewke, No. 5 man Jay Orick and No. 6 player Mark Barteloni all made it to the championship round, but were defeated. Farn Dickford (Bill Adams) also reached the finals, but was defeated. Nationals will be held at the University of Texas at Tyler on May 22-24.

Men's Track & Field Team Finishes Fourth in Region and Fifth in State

The Harper Men's Track & Field Team finished fourth in the region level and fifth at the state level in the Region IV State Meet, held last weekend at College of DuPage. C.O.D. won both the state and region titles. The Hawk athletes turned in some impressive individual results, including a first, two second and two third place finishes.

Results were as follows: (1) First place, (2) Second place, (3) Third place, Frank Barash, 100m hurdles- 18.4 (3), triple jump- 44.7 (2), Tom Davis, hammer- 125.5' (2), shot put- 46.4 (2) (1), Andy Lerman, shot put- 42.8'. Paul Lerman, hammer- 111.8' (3). The team's best meet is at North Central College on Saturday.

Athletic Department: "Thank You"

I would like to thank the entire Athletics department, coaches, players and of course the secretaries, for their much appreciated cooperation. Special thanks to Women's Basketball Coach Tom Tesner and Softball Coach Myra Minnick for all of their help, copies of the scorebook and statistics.

Scott Bordon

Track: Women Defend Titles

By Scott Bordon
Sports Editor

The Harper Women's Track and Field Team successfully defended both their region and state championship titles at the combined Region IV- State Meet held at College of DuPage (C.D.P.) last weekend.

Harper finished first at the state level with 112 points, followed by C.D.P. (74), Black Hawk East from Acwanee (53), Parkland College from Champaign (27) and Oakton Community College (21).

Region scores were: Harper (80), C.O.D. (53), Black Hawk East (28) and Oakton (10).

Coach Renee Zellner said, "It was a beautiful day, we had great weather. Zellner added, "All our athletes competed very well."

The Hawks' region victory gave Zellner the honor of being named Region IV Coach of the Year. This is the third straight year that she has received the award.

Results from the meet were as follows:
(1) First place
(2) Second place
(3) Third place

Places are at the region level.
(PR) Personal Record
(1) Laura Fremgen, 800m- 2:38.11, 1000m- 4:17.22, 1500m- 6:47.22, 2000m- 9:02.02 (1), Laura

Neubaum, 100m hurdles- 19.1 (3), 400m hurdles- 74.4 (3), Mackline Dyon, discus- 107.1 (1), javelin- 104', Jennie Reuschmuth, 800m- 2:41.1 (2), 1500m- 5:24.4 (3), Anne Thayer, long jump- 15.6 (2) (PR), 100m- 13.3 (1), Lori Wilkins, high jump- 5'3" (2) (PR), Karen Watspe, javelin- 92.4 (3) (PR), Janice Word, shot put- 30.5' (1) (PR), Two mile relay- Fremgen, Reuschmuth, Neubaum, Laper, 10:31.9 (1), 400m relay, Thayer, Word, Wilkins, Laper- 5:16 (1), 4x 100m relay, Reuschmuth, Fremgen, Wilkins, Laper- 4:24.7 (1).

The women will compete at North Central College in Wheaton on Saturday. The meet will be the last chance for the athletes to qualify for Nationals, being held at Odessa College in Texas on May 19-21.

Laper, who was selected Region IV- State Meet Most Valuable Athlete, is currently the only Harper athlete to qualify for Nationals.

The 800 meter relay of Thayer, Word, Wilkins and Laper can qualify if they can knock in a seconds off their time. Thayer also has a chance to qualify for Nationals in the 200 meter dash.

As far as other potential National qualifiers, Coach Zellner said, "You never know what might happen. It's not over until it's over."

Photo by John McVicker
Harper Track & Field Team (top row, left to right): Lori Wilkins, Tony Laraine, Steve Knox, Tom Davis, Janice Word. Bottom row: Jennie Reuschmuth, Karen Watspe, Vicki Laper, Anne Thayer, Laura Neubaum.

This is the last issue of the spring semester